

A RISING IN MINDANAO

Several Planters, Including an American, Killed by Natives.

TROOPS SENT TO REGION

General Pershing in Command—Washington Not Alarmed by the Reports.

Manila, Oct. 26.—Two bands of Manobo tribesmen have risen on the west coast of Davao, in Mindanao Island, and have killed several planters, including Earl Gerr, an American. All available troops were ordered to the scene to-day.

Brigadier General John J. Pershing, commanding the Department of Mindanao, has left his headquarters at Zamboanga, in the province of that name, to take charge of the operations. The Manobos state that they intend to drive all foreigners and Filipinos from the district.

Washington, Oct. 26.—No word has reached the War Department of the reported uprising of the Manobos tribesmen in Davao, and the department could not establish the identity of Earl Gerr, the American said to have been killed. It is surmised, however, that Gerr may be one of the many American soldiers who have retired and become planters in that section.

No particular significance is attached to the uprising, as there is a battalion of constabulary and a company of the 23rd Infantry stationed in Davao, while reinforcements are scattered near by.

Mindanao is the southernmost, and after Luzon, is the largest of the Philippine Islands. It has a population of about five hundred thousand. Davao forms the southern division of the island. Manobo is in the southwestern part of Davao. Zamboanga, the military headquarters, is in the extreme west of the island, some two hundred miles by sea from the scene of the present rising.

REFORMS IN PORTUGAL

Modest Salary for President—Corruption Reported.

Lisbon, Oct. 26.—Josef Relvas, Minister of Finance, in an interview to-day said that he was appalled at the corruption of the old regime which his investigation is revealing. For the future, he said, it would be war to the knife against special privilege abuses. It was against unnecessary wages that all the old government employees would be dismissed.

The King's civil list of $300,000, the minister said, would be replaced by a modest presidential salary. Taxes on necessities would be reduced and those on luxuries increased. The richer classes, who hitherto had been evading taxes, would be closely watched.

In conclusion Senhor Relvas expressed the opinion that the separation of the Church and State would be accomplished within a month.

San Juan, P. R., Oct. 26.—The steamship Arkadia, of the United States and Puerto Rico Navigation Company's line, which sailed from New Orleans on October 11 for San Juan, has not yet arrived here. The steamer, which is now ten days overdue, carried a crew of thirty-four and three passengers. She is commanded by Captain Griffiths.

The steamship Massapequa, which arrived here to-day, left New Orleans on October 20. She reports having seen or heard nothing of the Arkadia.

SEVENTY LIVES LOST.

Ten Haytian Generals Killed in Explosion on Gunboat.

Port-au-Prince, Hayti, Oct. 26.—The Haytian gunboat Liberté has been lost at sea off Port de Paix, following an explosion on board. It is estimated that seventy persons were either killed or drowned. Twenty of the crew were rescued.

The Liberté sailed from this port on Monday last, having on board ninety persons. So far as known, only twenty escaped. Among the seventy men lost were ten Haytian generals, who were on their way to take command of the troops in the Department of the North.

AN APPEAL FOR CRIPPEN

Counsel's Announcement—Prisoner Seems Cheerful.

London, Oct. 26.—Counsel for Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, who was sentenced to death on October 22 for the murder of his wife, has decided to appeal the case to the Home Secretary.

This determination was announced after a long conference to-day between Crippen and Arthur Newton, one of his lawyers, at the Pentonville prison.

At this conference Crippen appeared to be cheerful, and expressed great satisfaction that Miss Lenoir had been acquitted.

NO WAR IN MOROCCO

Spanish Premier Denies Charges of Socialists.

Madrid, Oct. 26.—The Socialists in the Chamber of Deputies renewed their attacks on the government to-day, charging that it was the government's intention to bring about another war in Morocco.

Premier Canalejas indignantly denied this, saying that the North African question would be settled before November 25. He stigmatized the Socialists' campaign as anti-patriotic.

ROME'S MAYOR ANSWERS ATTACKS

Rome, Oct. 26.—Mayor Nathan replied to-day to critics of him by the Archbishop of Montreal and other attacks in the form of resolutions adopted by Catholic bodies in America, which constituted protests against the anti-clerical speech made by the Mayor on September 29, the occasion of the fortieth anniversary of the fall of temporal power.

Mayor Nathan asserts a profound belief in religion and denies the accusation of irreverence toward the Divinity. His utterances, he says, had regard only to the Papal organization as a political power which opposes modern progress.

POLITICAL WAR IN CUBA

Grave Anxiety Caused by the Shooting of Pino Guerra.

Havana, Oct. 26.—The Havana newspapers continue an active discussion of the attempted assassination of Major General Pino Guerra, commander of the General Army, and are becoming more outspoken in their intimations that the crime was the result of a plot in which the highest officials in the government are implicated.

The "Lucha" says editorially that it is incumbent on all lovers of their country who are in possession of any information bearing on the subject to come forward and make their declarations. It insists that justice shall be done, no matter who is hurt.

The date of the trial of General Guerra's assassin has not yet been fixed. The general's condition is reported to be improving.

The newspapers also highly approve the resumption of the duties of Chief of Police by General Riva, who, after being ordered to go to the United States, ostensibly on a diplomatic mission, was instructed to return to his official post. Credit for the revocation of his criminal orders is given to the American Minister, John B. Jackson, who protested to President Gomez on the ground that General Riva's presence would add materially to the assurance of a fair election.

WILL REPLY TO CHARGES

Sleeper, Director General, and Charles Landis, Director for Washington on November 4. They will take with them all the records bearing on the controversy over the friar lands in the Philippines.

Messrs. Worcester and Carpenter have been charged with having bought and leased friar lands, and they will be prepared to appear as witnesses in any investigation that Congress may decide to hold.

M. VIVIANI MAY RESIGN

Trouble Reported Over Terms to Present Strikes in France.

Paris, Oct. 26.—Although the Cabinet will stand together before the attacks of the Socialists in Parliament on the government's attitude toward the recent railway strike, it was stated semi-officially to-day that divergence of views was likely on legislative measures designed to prevent similar strike crises and that the resignation of René Viviani, the Minister of Labor, who is a Socialist member of the Chamber of Deputies for Paris, was a probability.

"La Liberté" says that M. Viviani is plotting with M. Jaures, the Socialist leader in the Chamber of Deputies, and former Premier Combes to overthrow the Briand Ministry by announcing to the chamber his resignation from the Cabinet on the ground that he is unable to adhere to a programme of social reaction.

TURKEY MAY ENTER PERSIA

Rumor of Attempt to Block Britain and Russia.

Berlin, Oct. 26.—A dispatch to the "Collegio Gazette" from Constantinople says that in view of the developments in Persia, the government has under discussion a plan to send into Persia Turkish troops equal in numbers to those sent into the country by Russia and Great Britain, in order to protect Turkish subjects.

It is also rumored that Turkish interests are disinclined to tolerate a division of Persia between Russia and Great Britain.

CALEB POWERS TALKS

Innocent, but Tempted to Accept Pardon, He Says.

Louisville, Oct. 26.—Caleb Powers gave his personal version of his troubles and triumphs here to-day.

"To start with," he told a newspaper friend, "if you now believe, or have ever believed, that I had anything to do with the murder of Goebel, for God's sake, in fairness to an innocent man, dismiss even the suspicion. I freely confess that I had made up my mind to go to any extremes to hold my office, short of physical violence, and further, but as for murder, that never entered my mind or designs.

"The first thing that confronted me when I took my office was a conspiracy to rob me of the high position my people had given me. It was my temper and my purpose to fight to the last ditch for my rights when Goebel was killed, but his assassination was as much a surprise to me as it was to anybody living.

"As to the pardon I accepted from Governor Wilson, I will tell you right now that that was the hardest thing I ever had to do in my life. Many times, as I lay in my cell, cut off from God's sunlight, from liberty, the ambitions of my youth and the possibility of usefulness to society, I determined that I would lie there and rot before I would accept the pardon Governor Wilson was ready to hand me. Finally the knowledge of my innocence here down upon me, and then the temptations of all things that lay outside of the prison bars appealed to me, and the opportunity to vindicate myself before the world and my accusers overcame me, and I accepted the pardon."

TESTIFY AGAINST PATROLMAN

Barber and Surgeon Say He Was Drunk When He Fired.

When Patrolman William F. Waddell, of the East 10th street station, was arraigned yesterday in the Harlem Court, Magistrate House intimated that he believed that the "system" was trying to protect the accused patrolman from prosecution.

According to Captain Corcoran, Waddell was intoxicated, and Police Surgeon Corneley swore that he found the patrolman to be drunk ten hours after the shooting. Tony Pizzello, proprietor of a barber shop, testified that the patrolman sent five bullets into a partition in his shop after he had told him that he could not have any whiskey there. This statement was corroborated by the proprietor's son.

Louis B. Grant, of counsel for Waddell, told the court that the patrolman might have been suffering from a narcotic taken possibly as medicine, but this was not discussed at length. Magistrate House adjourned the case until to-day.

HIGH OFFICE FOR NEGRO

Mr. Taft to Appoint W. H. Lewis Assistant Attorney General.

NOTED FOOTBALL PLAYER

So Popular at Amherst and Harvard That Students Forgot the Color Line.

Washington, Oct. 26.—President Taft has decided to appoint a negro to the highest office in an executive branch of the government ever held by a member of that race. William H. Lewis, at present an assistant district attorney at Boston, is to be made an Assistant Attorney General of the United States.

The appointment has been agreed upon by the President and Attorney General Wickard. Just what duties will be assigned to the new assistant when he takes office have not been decided.

The appointment of Lewis is in line with President Taft's policy of recognizing negroes in the government service, but taking these appointments as far as possible out of the Southern States, where friction has been caused in the past by negro federal officeholders.

Another important appointment now under consideration is that of Charles A. Cottrell, of Toledo, to be Collector of Customs at Honolulu. Mr. Cottrell, who is a negro, is well known in Ohio and has occupied public positions in the service of his state. It is believed that his appointment will be made some time after the election.

William H. Lewis, whether playing football or politics, has won by headwork and lightninglike energy. He has "hit the line hard" and he has never lost his head or his energy. Not even recognition as Harvard's greatest center rush was able to enlarge the one or relax the other.

And this new honor, so unusual in going to a member of his race, will doubtless also find him still the big, modest chap who made Amherst and Harvard forget the color line and declare him one of their most popular students.

His father was a poor minister. He had no means of giving the son a higher education, but the boy had his mind made up to go to college. He went. It was a hard struggle, but he won. He waited on table to help pay expenses. At the same time he worked at his books, worked to such advantage that Amherst graduated him with high standing and a reputation as an orator. Then he passed to the Harvard Law School, where again he worked his way and stood well to the front in his classes.

But he was not waiting on table or studying all the while. He found time, too, to play endless football, and he did not merely play it, he worked at it. Football to him was a serious study. He was one of the founders of the present Harvard school of football, first as a player and afterward as a coach. He believed that not enough had hitherto been made of the center position. He surprised the coaches of Harvard by tackling out on the ends

JUSTICE AS PEACEMAKER

Tries to Reconcile Husband and Wife in Separation Suit.

HOPEFUL OF THE RESULT

Wife, in Tears, Agrees to Talk It Over—"Outside Parties" Made Trouble, Lawyer Says.

Justice Gerard, in the Supreme Court, used his best efforts and his soundest philosophy yesterday to reconcile an unhappy young couple who were in court as the principals of a separation suit. The litigants were Mrs. Nellie Patterson, plaintiff, and Edward H. Patterson, Jr., defendant. The usual order of court procedure was reversed, and the justice pleaded hard with the plaintiff to try and settle her differences with her husband, for the sake of their child, if for no other reason.

After Justice Gerard had expended much eloquence and used great persuasion, Mrs. Patterson consented to have a conference with Patterson in an unoccupied room. The conference was still on when the hour of adjournment arrived, and there was strong hope that this morning a reconciliation will be reported.

Patterson was a Columbia student when he married his wife, four years ago. His father, who lives in Mount Vernon, is a director of several banks and a manufacturer of varnishes. He was opposed to his son's marriage, and cut him off. The young couple went to live with the wife's parents. Mrs. Patterson's family insisted that Patterson provide a home for his wife. He promised to do so, and to show the stuff he was made of he got a job in the Pennsylvania tunnel as a "sand box" where he got the bends.

Mrs. Patterson brought suit on the ground of cruelty. The plaintiff finished her case yesterday. Her father, Robert Classen, a diamond cutter, was one of her witnesses. He testified to ordering Patterson from his home one night, after he had assaulted his wife.

Then W. Bernard Vause, counsel for the defendant, addressed the court and suggested reconciliation. He said all the trouble between husband and wife was due to the interference of "outside parties."

Justice Gerard called the lawyers to the bench, and after a conference he called Mrs. Patterson. In soothing voice he asked her to talk the matter over with her husband to see if they could not make up their differences.

The young wife shook her head, saying:

PLUCKY SKIPPER IS SAFE

Captain Walls Rescued After Drifting Ten Days in the Gulf.

Wrecked and Waterlogged Four-Master Holliswood, Was Heard from Last Night by Pendleton Brothers, Owners of the Vessel, and Is Now Safe at Galveston.

Another important appointment now under consideration is that of Charles A. Cottrell, of Toledo, to be Collector of Customs at Honolulu. Mr. Cottrell, who is a negro, is well known in Ohio and has occupied public positions in the service of his state. It is believed that his appointment will be made some time after the election.

The Harald sent out a small boat to take off Captain Walls and his men, but the skipper said he would stay with the wreck and take his chances. For ten days he drifted about the Gulf alone on his half-sunken craft. The Holliswood was picked up by the British steamship Parkwood, which towed her safely into Galveston last night. The Holliswood had been stripped of her canvas and demasted by the recent West Indian hurricane.

Captain Walls telegraphed the owners that the schooner could be saved, and that apart from the deckload of lumber which was washed away her cargo was intact.

CHAUFFEUR FOR DUKE FINED

Patrolman Said Driver for Tobacco Man Was Reckless with His Car.

Racoul Anstineff, chauffeur for Brodie N. Duke, the tobacco man, was in the men's night court last night on a charge of reckless driving and also for not having a chauffeur's license. He was arrested on Fifth avenue by Patrolman McGrath, of Traffic Squad C, who told Magistrate Krotel that the chauffeur dashed his machine in and out between other vehicles.

Anstineff explained to Magistrate Krotel that he had been in this country only two weeks and that he had applied for a license, but had not yet received it. He was fined $5 for reckless driving.

REQUEST FOR BENEFACTRESS

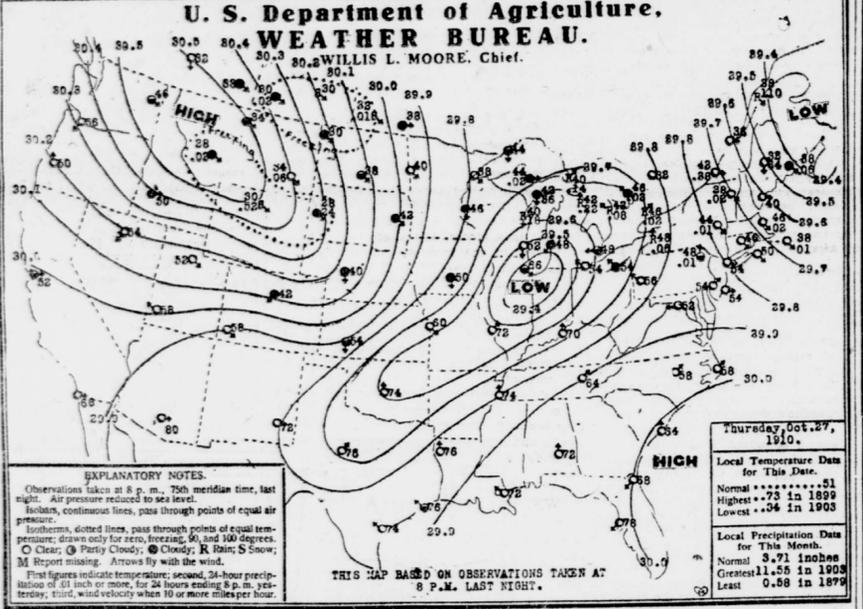

Decedent Says in Will She Was Abandoned by All Her Family.

For reasons that do not appear, Mrs. Elizabeth Wolf, who died on September 20 at the home of a friend, Mrs. Matilda Martin, at No. 238 West 123d street, was abandoned by all her family, according to Mrs. Wolf's will, which was filed in the Surrogate's office yesterday.

"I make this devise and bequest to the said Matilda Martin," said a clause in the will, "or, in case of her death, to her children, in token and recognition of the devotion with which she has taken care of me in this my long, lingering illness. I had been abandoned by all my relatives and she took me into her home, gave me all the comforts and consolations of this world and so made my last days less hard to bear."

The bequest referred to by the testatrix was the residue of the estate after the payment to her brother, George Groom, of sums which he advanced to her from January to August for her support. This money, amounting to $200, is to be paid back to Groom out of his sister's share in the estate of an uncle of which Green is executor. Mrs. Wolf stipulated also that her brother is to have the proceeds from two insurance policies providing he pays for her funeral.

The real estate of the testatrix is estimated at $1,300 and her personal property at $25,000. Mrs. Wolf had a husband living, and also another brother, but neither is mentioned in her will.
