

RECIPROcity DEBATE ON Asher Hinds, Former Parliamentarian, Attacks Agreement. KITCHIN SUPPORTS IT

North Carolina Democrat Sarcastic at Expense of "Stand-patters" and Insurgents. (From The Tribune Bureau.)

"Strange things we are seeing to-day," Mr. Kitchin said. "We find my friend Mr. Dalzell suddenly interested in the welfare of the farmer. We find the insurgents who have been howling for tariff revision joining hands with him. They have placed in the middle of the ring, and now they are practicing around him, singing, 'Glory, glory' while they pull together to defeat this meritorious measure. I never expected to see it."

Kitchin had charged with representing the lumber interests, "if you will vote for free sugar." "All right," said Mr. Kitchin. "I'll vote for both of them."

Washington, April 15.—(From The Tribune Bureau.) DEMOCRATIC "FOUR-FLEETING." Having heralded to the country their determination to save thousands of dollars by a curtailment of the patronage of the House, and having failed thus far to make good their promise, the Democrats to-day declared on a wholesale scale, in the House of Representatives, that they are convinced are holders of extravagance, if not of graft.

heat of the debate had gone to Mr. Kitchin's head. Finally the sergeant-at-arms noted the situation and advanced to speak a few kind words of advice to the lanky and inexperienced member. He folded up his legs, replaced the thermometer in his pocket, and soon retired to the rear of the chamber.

"SANE PROGRESSIVENESS" Roosevelt Makes Distinction in Wisconsin Speech. Madison, Wis., April 15.—Theodore Roosevelt, in an address before the joint session of the State Legislature to-day, said the Legislatures of Wisconsin had done much for this state, and in doing so had put merely the state but the entire nation under a heavy weight of obligation. He continued:

LINCOLN DEAD 46 YEARS Flag on House in Washington Where Died Marks Day. Washington, April 15.—Further than the flying of the American flag from the window of the house in which Abraham Lincoln died, there was little outward indication here that to-day was the forty-sixth anniversary of the War President's death.

THE AWKWARD SQUAD. Drawn from the original photographs taken in 1861, during our Civil War, showing the awfully mottled boys of an "awkward squad" of the Union Army. It is impossible to reproduce these photographs in a newspaper to give you any idea of the beauty and crispness of the original photographs.

The One Undying Witness of Our Civil War

In the last half century the men who fought in the Civil War have grown old and many of them have died. The torn-up battlefields are covered with cotton and wheat. The guns have rusted, the fortifications have rotted away, the ruined cities have come back to more vigorous life; even the bitter feelings that caused brother to fight brother have faded away.
