

FEDERAL POWER TO CONTROL TRUSTS

Mr. Wickersham Says That Is the Only Solution of the Problem.

NO MENACE TO BUSINESS

Enactment of Some "Adequate Law of Association" Urged—Days of Small Trading Past, He Says.

St. Louis, Feb. 16.—Attorney General Wickersham, addressing members of the Commercial Club here to-night, advocated federal control of corporations as the next step to be taken in dealing with the trust problem. He began with reference to business conditions in the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries, when merchants and trade guilds created problems much like the trust questions of to-day. He traced the growth of business in this country through the period of railroad building, and described the abuses of the railroad business which led to the interstate commerce act in 1887, which, he said, resulted in a victory for the people.

"Under such a statute," he said, "there may be retained the great advantage of co-operative effort in the conduct of business—which in our day and generation must be great in volume to meet successfully the needs of the people—while at the same time protecting the people from the consequences of unrestrained association, which in the past has resulted in unfair competition and grossly unequal fortunes."

"Nothing but continued confusion can result from leaving the creation and regulation of these associations to the varying caprices of forty-eight or fifty states. Until the national government courageously faces the question and accepts the responsibility which the assertion of power involves the proper equation between business and the law cannot be adequately secured."

And the Mays had to parade up and down before them where they sat at the tables in the Taverne Louis, in the basement of the Flatiron Building, last night to introduce the new spring fashions. Says Latter Has Strayed from Real Republican Principles.

Albany, Feb. 16.—William Barnes, Jr., chairman of the Republican State Committee, addressing several hundred of his followers at the close of the fifteenth annual dinner of the Albany County Republican organization early to-day, had this to say of Theodore Roosevelt:

"No greater error could be committed at this time in the interest of the very principles to which we adhere than to revile or uphold any man, deluded though he be, in his endeavor to break down those fundamental principles of individual liberty and constitutional rights which form the foundation of our government and which must be the reality of the Republican party because, for a few hours or days, he whom we have honored and whom we have in the past given our votes has strayed through devotion to false gods from the real principles of the Republican Party."

Dix Exempts 49 Positions in Controller's Department.

PROTESTS ARE UNHEEDED

Republican Competitive Plan Overthrown and Tammany Invasion May Follow.

(By Telegraph to the Tribune.) Albany, Feb. 16.—State Controller Bonner has at last succeeded in adding to the patronage of the Democratic party the whole of the forty-nine positions which are under his control and to place which in the exempt class he made application to the Civil Service Commission about a year ago. About the first thing the Controller did after Governor Dix made the State Civil Service Commission a Democratic body was to make this application. The commission lost little time in passing resolutions granting the request, in spite of vigorous opposition on the part of the New York Civil Service Reform Association and other civic bodies, but on account of court proceedings Governor Dix has only just been able to put them into effect. Now there will probably be a grand exodus from the Controller's office of trained employees, whose places will be filled by faithful workers of Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany boss, and other Democratic bosses throughout the state.

The resolutions, signed to-day by the Governor, exempt twenty-two transfer tax appraisers, thirteen examiners of transfers of stock and eight court and trust fund examiners—forty-three positions in all. The resolutions applying to the other six positions—three prison clerks and three assistant-prison clerks—were signed about a month ago.

These positions were made competitive under Governor Hughes, and for some of them examinations were held and eligible lists established to fill vacancies which were expected when Controller Williams was appointed and begin to reform the office. After Bonner applied to the Dix commission to have them exempted the New York Civil Service Reform Association insisted on a hearing before the commission, but the board, controlled by the Democrats, had its mind already made up. Consequently, the protests of the association's speakers had little or no effect. In adopting the resolutions in March last, however, the commission agreed to ask the Governor not to sign them until after a test case had been settled in the courts. A hearing was also held before Governor Dix last summer.

STILWELL URGES BLUE LAW

Has Bill to Stop All Entertainments on Sunday.

(By Telegraph to the Tribune.) Albany, Feb. 16.—Senator Stilwell, of the Bronx, has joined the puritanical ranks of the advocates of more stringent blue laws. He introduced a bill to-day which would make Sundays come up to the ideal of the days of Cotton Mather. It is directed against Sunday entertainments. The bill makes the laws prohibiting them apply to all vaudeville and moving picture shows as well as the display of stationary pictures, and would prevent the operation of any machine producing such pictures. The measure would even reach any person, firm or corporation supplying electricity or gas to any place for use in connection with one of these forbidden exhibitions. To do so is made a misdemeanor. Senator Gittins following the line of the recommendations of the recent conference on taxation held in Buffalo. One of these provisions that automobile fees and fines for violation of the law shall be divided equally between the state and the districts where the machines were owned or the violations occurred.
