

Gay and Giddy Life of Modern Domestic Workers

Tommy, Mrs. X's, she was told, "we were very disappointed for all the other maids had had parties to which they could ask everybody at once, and our little household had to have more than twenty at a time. You told us that we could have our friends in a few at a time, but that does not give any one a good time. So the day you were in town we telephoned and asked them all; now we have several word that the maids are going away next week."

"How many did you invite?" asked the mistress. "Seventy-eight that we like and about thirty more we don't care so much for. You and Mr. X go to their mistress's house and tell her we had to be polite." It ended in a compromise. The ones who were going away were invited for an evening and the mistress arranged to stop at dinner that night. It was also stipulated that the affair must end at 12 o'clock.

HEALTH NOTES

How to Keep Well in Summer.

By Dr. Jocelyn Van Vleet Manning.

Do not hurry in eating, dressing or catching the train.

Avoid airless places; a man at work in an unventilated ice house may develop heat prostration.

Reduce clothing to the minimum. Discard restrictive clothing, stays, weighty caps, etc.

Take your daily coffee to one breakfast cup; tea to one tumbler, food, at lunch. Use lemonade, limeade, or one pint of dry wine at dinner and pass up the dem-tasse. Reason: One cup of coffee (five grains of caffeine) at breakfast sufficiently stimulates the morning elimination, while caffeine and thins taken in larger quantities overstimulate until they are eliminated from the system.

Drink freely of pure or distilled water, hot, cold or iced, on rising, at midday meals, and at bedtime.

Bath once or twice daily. The acid salts of perspiration which adhere to the skin are irritating and a common cause of "heat rash." A handful of baking soda is an excellent addition to the bath water.

Lighten your meat diet. Broiled smoked meats, fowls and fresh fish may well replace the red meats through the heated term. The food, however, should be adjusted to the finished output, mental or physical, which is required.

Buttermilk is a satisfactory substitute for the malted alcohols, being more bland to the overworked kidneys, and lessening rather than increasing arterial tension.

Take a daily vacation, an air bath in your chamber, a lounge with your favorite author, or a retreat under the stars on the roof.

Take a minimum amount of exercise and that without haste.

Give careful heed to eliminative functions and see that an occasional week end for a "charmed home treatment," thus becoming the peer of royalty.

Wife Still Loves Grace

Hopes to Rejoin Man Who Accused Her of Shooting Him.

Philadelphia, Aug. 9.—Mrs. Daisy Ulrich Ople Grace, recently acquitted of shooting her husband, Eugene H. Grace, in Atlanta, arrived here today on the steamship Frederick from Savannah.

Mrs. Grace, who was accompanied by her mother, remained in her cabin when the boat docked until all the other passengers had landed.

A taxicab was waiting at the pier for Mrs. Grace and her mother, and when the crowd departed the pair hurried away to the home of Mrs. Grace's sister, in West Philadelphia, where Mrs. Grace's blind son awaited her return home.

The boy sat on the porch all morning waiting for his mother, whom he thinks is returning to him after a severe illness.

Mrs. Grace on her arrival said that she wishes to return to her husband. In the next moment Mrs. Martha Ulrich, mother of the acquitted woman, and who sat beside her daughter during the trial and accompanied her home, confided to a friend that she expected to have a second grandchild in a very short time.

"I still love Eugene," said Mrs. Grace. "No matter what he may have said about me or what he has charged me with doing, I love him. I simply can't help it. I believe that if his family would help us along we would live together happily. Perhaps we may find some place where we may hide ourselves and still be happy."

Mrs. Grace emphatically refused to discuss the statement of Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey, of Atlanta, who prosecuted her and who declared yesterday that he had heard the shot which entered the body of Grace and that it was fired at 11 o'clock as Mrs. Grace had declared.

"I don't care what Mr. Dorsey said," Mrs. Grace said. "So long as I am concerned, I never wish to discuss my trial again."

Gov. Baldwin Will Run Again—Republicans in View.

Gov. Baldwin Will Run Again—Republicans in View.

New Haven, Aug. 9.—Politics in Connecticut is "mixed," as it is everywhere else this year, but the leading Republicans are fully confident of carrying the state. President Taft is strong with the people, and the perplexing question is as to the state ticket. The Democrats will, of course, renominate Governor Baldwin. It is true, that a good many of his present party are not enthusiastic for him. Some of his mistakes, such as forbidding the use of the Torrington Army as a temporary hospital during the typhoid epidemic, will cost him many votes. It must be remembered also that in 1910 he owed his election to a serious split in the Republican party, and that he alone was elected of the Democrats who were running. At the same time he is one of the state's most eminent citizens, such as they used to choose for governors, and a good many Republicans are moved to vote for him.

It is up to the Republican party to pit against him a really strong candidate. So far the only man in the running has been Lieutenant-Governor Blakely, of this city, but the prospect is that before August is much older other candidates will be seriously discussed. Already "the machine," so called, is being criticized for letting things drift. But it may be surmised that it has done this for a purpose, for at other times, as "The Hartford Courant" pointed out the other day, it has been criticized for having a candidate.

Judge Holcomb Doesn't Want It.

It is pretty safe to say that Judge Marcus H. Holcomb, of Southington, will have the nomination if he would take it; but he has refused in other years, saying the office was not one he had any desire to fill, and this year his friends point out that he would have to sacrifice an honorable life position if he consented to go after what he doesn't want. There has been a feeling, too, that Governor Weeks, of Middletown, who succeeded to the office on Governor Lile's death, should receive the compliment of a direct election to it. He is recognized as popular, especially since he beat Colonel C. C. Tillyman, the Republican dictator of this city, at the state convention as a candidate for delegate-at-large to Chicago last April. At the same time it is remembered that he vetoed a liberal Sunday law, and just now, particularly here, where so many votes are agitation is on for a modification of our dishonored Sunday laws. Moreover, there is no assurance that Governor Weeks wants to be nominated.

Among those likely to be considered for the nomination is Dr. George H. Kellogg, of Salisbury. He has been a member of the last two legislatures, and has a wide acquaintance and a popularity to match it. A while ago his friends thought they owed it to him, when there was a general demand that he should be a candidate, to leave him in quiet, as his health was poor. For that reason he dropped out of sight as a possibility. But things have taken a turn for the better with him, and he is now in excellent condition, and the very friends who asked that he be considered then are now saying that he is just the man for the occasion, and that his nomination would help the Taft campaign.

The third party would probably put up a full state ticket. The strength of this element is problematical. When anybody "runs" the fact is heralded as of great significance, but it wouldn't have any body if some didn't go to it. Rumor says that Herbert Knox Smith is likely to be the nominee for Governor. Mr. Smith has lived so long in Washington, drawing a salary as a part of the Republican administration, that his individual strength has fallen away, and there is, too, a feeling that he ought to have quit earlier if he felt about the Republican party as he says he does. Like Roosevelt, he seems to have discovered the unworthiness of it only when it refused to nominate the bellicose colonel.

Many Democrats for Taft.

A number of clergymen have joined the Roosevelt party, but the strongest men, such as Dr. Newman Smyth, of this city, and Dr. Twichell and Dr. Parker, of Hartford, are heartily for Taft. It is interesting to note that, while Republicans here and there are declaring for Wilson or Roosevelt, a good many Democrats are letting their friends know that Taft is good enough for them. Wilson, selection was not popular in Connecticut. The great majority of the Democrats were in Republican circles is that Taft is gaining more and more in popularity. There will be lively times in the Congress districts. The redistricting by the last Legislature has left everybody uncertain. The Naugatuck Valley on one side and Middlesex County on the other have been cut out from this county. Tolland County has been cut out from Hartford County, and Tolland and Middlesex counties have been joined to New London and Windham counties, while Fairfield County has been cut out from Fairfield County and hitched up with the Naugatuck Valley. Representative Henry, now of the First District, has let it be known that he is not a candidate, and so has Mr. Higgins, of the old Third. The district in which this city is already has a Democrat in "Tom" Reilly, of Meriden, against whom Congressman-at-large Tilton will undoubtedly run. In Fairfield County the Democrats will do their best to beat Mr. Hill, who will no longer have the support of a fifth of the county, a strong Republican region. But he is a great vote getter, and is regarded on all sides as the strongest and most active member of the state delegation in Washington.

Nominations in the other districts are still in the making. The Congress conventions will be held September 14, so far as any have yet been called. The state convention will be at Hartford, September 10 to 11, and the Democratic convention will be there September 11 to 12.

AIDS BOY HIT BY HER AUTO

Long Island Woman Binds Deep Gash in Young Victim's Leg.

After her automobile, which she was driving, had knocked down and injured five-year-old Frank Hammer, of No. 49 Larch street, Queens, at Jamaica and Queens avenue, last evening, Mrs. G. K. Morrow, a rich resident of Melba, Long Island, stopped and bound up a deep gash in the child's leg with handkerchiefs. With the aid of a friend she then carried the boy to Flushing Hospital. He also suffered from abrasions of the head.

The woman's action saved the child from losing much blood, the doctor in charge said. The child ran in front of the car while at play.

Suffragist 'Joy Riders' Confronted Politics

Rockland County Will Be In- vaded by Fast Motor Boat.

Well, it is some fun to be a suffragist nowadays. They certainly do get some joy rides sandwiched in with their hard work. There is the Woman's Political Union going to have one of the fastest motor boats on the Hudson for its speakers and some other suffragists to course up and down in all next Wednesday between their speaking points.

That is one of the days of the great Rockland County campaign. It begins on August 12, and until the end of the week Miss Caroline Lexow, executive secretary of the union, and her coworkers will labor without ceasing to set Rockland County afire with suffrage zeal.

And Automobiles, Too.

Kenneth Crawford, a resident of the city, has promised them the loan of a motor car, and Walter Hamilton will provide another. But the great event will be Wednesday, when the beflagged and behorned motor boat will flaunt its voters-for-women colors up and down the Hudson.

The boat belongs to Edmund B. Walker, of Nyack, who lends it to the cause. There will be a meeting in the opera house at Haverstraw on Tuesday night.

Early Wednesday morning the motor-boat will call for the campaigners, and take them to Tompkins Cove, where they will hold a meeting. Then back they will go down the river to Piermont, where there will be a meeting in the town hall at 4 o'clock.

After the meeting at Nyack, where the motor boat will rest from its exertions while the indefatigable suffragists hold an evening rally in the school house.

It is a disappointment to the union that it cannot have some meetings on the pier along its route, but it was feared that they might interfere with the traffic, and suffragists are law-abiding.

Mrs. Tompkins Organizes.

The campaign is organized by Mrs. Calvin Tompkins, wife of the Cook Commissioner. The speakers, besides Miss Lexow, are Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth Cook, Mrs. Sarah S. Hatch, Mrs. William L. Colt, Mrs. John Rogers, Jr., Mrs. Elizabeth Valentine London, Miss Adelaide Stirling, Mrs. Florence M. Coley and Mrs. Frances N. Bjorkman.

Men will not be lacking from the platform, for various officials of the district have consented to act as chairmen. Beveridge Dunlap will introduce the speakers at the Spring Valley meeting on Monday night.

Assemblyman George A. Blauvelt will open the meeting at Monsey on Friday night, which is very polite of him, because the union is from Rockland County, of being Senator from Rockland County, just because he did not favor their bill.

Rutledge I. Odell, former Assemblyman and chairman of the Republican County Committee, will occupy the chair at the Tompkins Cove meeting Tuesday noon.

Daring Climb by Girl

American the First to Ascend Treacherous Pacific Peak.

San Francisco, Aug. 9.—Passengers on the steamer Aorangi brought the news today that Miss Katherine M. Douglas, a teacher of modern languages at Fresno, has performed a feat never before accomplished—scaling of Mount Morea, a precipitous peak 7,000 feet high on the island of Morea, in the Tablitan group.

For hundreds of years natives of the island have looked upon "Old Morea" with fear, and travelers with a premonition of mountain climbing looked askance upon any attempt to scale its precipitous height. It remained for intrepid Miss Douglas to cast fear to the breeze of the South Pacific and brave the treachery of the peak.

After many hours of climbing Miss Douglas and her native guide reached a point two-thirds to the summit, when the guide refused to ascend further. Determined to accomplish the ascent to the very peak of the mountain, Miss Douglas snatched from the hand of the guide the hatchet which had been used to hew footholds in the rock and continued the ascent.

Two hours later, after having explored the summit and taken photographs, she returned to the point on the mountain side where she had left her guide.

After the dangerous climb Miss Douglas slept for an hour and descended to the plain. Her friends received her with great enthusiasm.

ANSWERS "WIFE WANTED"

Applicant Fails to Appear, but Job Is Still Open.

Richard L. Shaw, of Oceanside, Long Island, who advertised recently that he desired a middle-aged woman as a housekeeper, "matrimony considered if satisfactory" had a reply, and he is going about his home village tucked out in his best, for he does not know at what moment his prospective future wife may arrive.

Shaw is an herb doctor. Since his first wife died, four years ago, he has been living alone. His first wife was procured through the medium of a "wife wanted" advertisement, and the venture proved so successful that he resolved to get himself a new helpmate the same way.

A few days ago he received a reply from Miss Margaret Quinn, of No. 212 51st street, Brooklyn. She offered herself as twenty-six years old and a willing worker in search of a good home. She immediately wrote to him, enclosing a list of the trains to Oceanside. He expected her to arrive yesterday and he drove into Rockville Centre to meet her. He had supposed of the long beard that made him look even older than his fifty-seven years, washed his buggy and put a check rein on his horse. Before he left home, he said, he cleaned house and moved his lawn.

Much to Shaw's disappointment Miss Quinn did not arrive yesterday. After meeting all the afternoon trains Shaw said he would return to his home, believing that she might have postponed her trip on account of the threatening weather.

REVELATION AT TRIAL OF WOMAN HELD FOR MURDER.

Chicago, Aug. 9.—Revelations of a supposed attempt at jury tampering marked the opening of the trial here today of Mrs. Florence Bernstein, twenty-two years old, charged with the murder of her husband and facing the death penalty if convicted.

Two ventriloquists from the jury box that mysterious strangers had mingled with them and with other ventriloquists and had discussed the Bernstein case. Judge Honore had the doors of the courtroom locked, and ordered one of the ventriloquists, George S. Greenwood, to go through the courtroom in an effort to identify the man suspected.

Greenwood failed to find the men, but gave such an accurate description that halliffs said they recognized the men as being "runners" attached to the office of a well known criminal lawyer. Four jurors were accepted by the state today.

Mrs. Bernstein shot and killed her husband, a prosperous traveling salesman, in their home. Before dying he made a statement declaring the woman had shot him while he slept. Her defense is that he was about to shoot her, and in the struggle for the possession of the revolver it exploded. Mrs. Bernstein is the fourth Chicago woman to face trial this year on a charge of killing her husband.

Penitentiary sentences were sought for Mrs. Louise Vermilya, Mrs. Jane Quinn and Mrs. Rene B. Moore. The last two were freed by jury. The jury which tried Mrs. Vermilya disagreed.

JUDGE FINED FOR SPEEDING

Greenwich Man Finds No Favor in New York Court.

Greenwich, Conn., Aug. 9.—The Greenwich borough court over which Judge Charles D. Burnes presides today opened as usual this morning because Judge Burnes had been summoned to New York to appear in court for automobile speeding in Seventh avenue while going to the ball game with friends Thursday afternoon. Dr. Paul M. Bitterfield, of New York, arrested here yesterday, using his muffler cut-out, came from the city this morning to answer to the charge and found no court in session.

As he was to start on a month's tour this afternoon, it was arranged that his appearance should be by proxy and the case was nolle. Judge Burnes was not so lucky. He was fined $10 in the New York court.

MUST OBEY THEIR MOTHER

Butcher Leaves $1,000 Each to His Nine Children on This Condition.

Cleveland, Aug. 9.—Added inducement to the Scriptural injunction of obedience to parents is offered to the children of Feliks Majewski, a wealthy butcher, whose will was filed for probate today. To his five daughters and four sons he left $1,000 each, on condition that they obey their mother, with a provision that they shall receive only $5 if disobedient. A part of the will provides that any child who leaves home before attaining majority without the consent of the mother shall forfeit his or her inheritance.

Stewart, who is said to be an Englishman, came to the United States and entered the ministry. He is identified with a church in Chicago, and could not go to New Zealand for his bride.

SAYS WOMEN MADE GOOD

Roosevelt Thanks Jane Addams for "Seconding Me."

Chicago, Aug. 9.—Miss Jane Addams, of Hull House, today received the following telegram from Colonel Roosevelt:

I wished to see you in person to thank you for seconding me. No it now instead. I prize your action not only because of what you are and stand for, but because of what it symbolizes for the new movement. In this great national convention of the new party women have thereby been given to have their place to fill precisely as men have and on an absolute equality.

It is idle now to argue whether women can play their part in politics, because in this convention we saw the accomplished fact, and moreover, the women who have actively participated in this work of launching the new party represent all that we are most proud to associate with American womanhood.

My earnest hope is to see the Progressive party movement in all its state and local divisions recognize this fact, precisely as it has been recognized at the national convention. Our party stands for social and industrial justice, and we have a right to expect that women and men will be within the ranks of the cause with the same high sincerity of purpose and with like efficiency.

I trust that the national committee and I trust that there will be a full representation of them on every state and county committee. While the judge Hitchcock's assurance that it will be done in the State of New York, and I very much hope that it will be done in the other states.

WIFE STILL LOVES GRACE

Hopes to Rejoin Man Who Accused Her of Shooting Him.

Philadelphia, Aug. 9.—Mrs. Daisy Ulrich Ople Grace, recently acquitted of shooting her husband, Eugene H. Grace, in Atlanta, arrived here today on the steamship Frederick from Savannah.

Mrs. Grace, who was accompanied by her mother, remained in her cabin when the boat docked until all the other passengers had landed.

A taxicab was waiting at the pier for Mrs. Grace and her mother, and when the crowd departed the pair hurried away to the home of Mrs. Grace's sister, in West Philadelphia, where Mrs. Grace's blind son awaited her return home.

The boy sat on the porch all morning waiting for his mother, whom he thinks is returning to him after a severe illness.

Mrs. Grace on her arrival said that she wishes to return to her husband. In the next moment Mrs. Martha Ulrich, mother of the acquitted woman, and who sat beside her daughter during the trial and accompanied her home, confided to a friend that she expected to have a second grandchild in a very short time.

"I still love Eugene," said Mrs. Grace. "No matter what he may have said about me or what he has charged me with doing, I love him. I simply can't help it. I believe that if his family would help us along we would live together happily. Perhaps we may find some place where we may hide ourselves and still be happy."

Mrs. Grace emphatically refused to discuss the statement of Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey, of Atlanta, who prosecuted her and who declared yesterday that he had heard the shot which entered the body of Grace and that it was fired at 11 o'clock as Mrs. Grace had declared.

"I don't care what Mr. Dorsey said," Mrs. Grace said. "So long as I am concerned, I never wish to discuss my trial again."

DEPORT MOTHER AND SON

They Must Return to England, Leaving Rest of Family Here.

Washington, Aug. 9.—Stanley Stewart, nine years old, and his mother, of England, appealing for permission to cross the threshold of the United States to join other members of their family and become American citizens, were ordered deported today.

A special medical board at Quebec pronounced the little fellow feeble minded. The mother must return to England with him as an accompanying alien, but three other children were admitted to go to their father at Omaha.

Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, made the thousand-mile trip from Washington to Quebec to see if the surrendering of family ties could be prevented. He is said to have been satisfied that no other course was open.

MRS. McNAMARA AT HOME

Woman Whose Trip to Europe was Stopped Here Goes to San Mateo.

San Francisco, Aug. 9.—Mrs. Margaret McNamara, who recently fled from her San Mateo home, taking two children, a woman companion and a man servant, and succeeded in reaching New York on a projected trip to Europe before her husband checked her flight with the aid of the police, is at San Mateo today.

Mrs. McNamara arrived last night, a day after her husband, Nicholas J. McNamara, had reached New York with a San Francisco detective to prosecute extradition proceedings against Mrs. Ira L. Perkins and Frederick H. Patterson, who are charged by McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.

Another chapter in the case of Mrs. Clara M. Perkins, arrested not long ago on complaint of McNamara with stealing his automobile and despoiling with his wife for a tour of Europe. When Mrs. McNamara reached San Mateo she was taken in an invalid chair to her home.