

GREEKS COMMAND THE DARDANELLES

Continued from first page. session of the mountain pass leading to that city. Military authorities suggest that King Ferdinand will not attempt to rush the fortress of Adrianople, but will mask it and move forward to the east or the west. The reported intention of the Bulgarian army to give Adrianople the go by and to head direct for Constantinople is dismissed as impracticable by military men, who remark that the distance is the same as that from Dalny to Mukden, in Manchuria, which took the Japanese army a year to cover.

REPORTS BULGARIAN ROUT

Constantinople Hears of "Irresistible" Turkish Advance. Constantinople, Oct. 22.—A dispatch from Adrianople to-day says that heavy artillery fire was heard in the direction of Mustapha Pacha. Engagements are occurring all along the Bulgarian frontier. According to official information orders were given this morning to the eastern army concentrated at Kirk-Kiliseh to advance east to the village of Tundja. The troops encountered the enemy in force, and heavy firing ensued. The Bulgarians finally gave way before the impetus of the Turkish assault. The Bulgarian loss was heavy. A second Turkish column came into contact with the Bulgarians west of Kallimandja and was equally successful. The fight continued until midnight and the Turkish advance was irresistible. Greek warships have been bombarding the Turkish port of Prevesa since yesterday, according to a report received here. Prevesa is situated at the entrance of the Gulf of Arta, the opposite side of which is Greek territory. Two hundred Bulgarian prisoners arrived here from Adrianople to-day. They were arrested on suspicion of espionage and brigandage. The same train brought fifty wounded Turkish soldiers and a number of refugees from the frontier.

SOFIA REPORTS VICTORIES

Tells of Capture of Hundreds of Turks and Three Guns. Sofia, Oct. 22.—The newspapers report that the Bulgarians have captured several important positions around Adrianople and Djumbala after severe fighting, but official confirmation is lacking. These accounts represent that the Turks are retreating from the three forts adjacent to Adrianople. A Bulgarian force attacked the Turks retreating from Djumbala, which is due south of Sofia on the Struma River. Many Turks were killed, hundreds were taken prisoners and three Gatling guns were captured. The Turks were caught between the Bulgarian troops and a band of Bulgarian irregulars, and were unable to escape owing to the irregulars dynamiting a bridge over the Struma, between Djumbala and Novrokop. The Council of Ministers has directed the Agricultural Bank to take needful measures to prevent an increase in the price of bread by purchasing wheat and selling it to the bakers at cost price. Throughout the day a Turkish squadron has been cruising off Cape Kall Akra, in the Black Sea, to the north of Varna. The ships fired a few shells, which did no damage.

FINES IN $1,000 A DAY

Penalty Incurred by Canadian Shoe Machinery Company. Ottawa, Oct. 22.—The board of investigation, constituted under the combines investigation act, in its report to the government, made public to-day, finds that the United Shoe Machinery Company of Canada, the parent company of which has headquarters in Boston, is a "combine," and that the clauses of its leases restricting the use of leased machinery operate in restraint of trade. The board, however, in view of all the circumstances, recommends that the fine of $1,000 a day provided for such cases shall not come into effect for six months, instead of at the end of ten days after the publication of the judgment.

25 TEACHERS FINED

French Unions Must Be Disbanded, Says Tribunal. Paris, Oct. 22.—Twenty-five members of the Teachers' Union, of Paris, were today sentenced by the Correctional Court to the payment of $10 fine each and all costs for refusing to disband, by order of the government. The court ordered the dissolution of the union. Because of the action of the Congress of Teachers' Societies, held at Chambery last August, when resolutions approving anti-militarism were adopted, the prefects of the different departments, under instructions from the government, ordered the societies to disband before September 10. All save the Paris union obeyed this order.

MASSACRE OF CHRISTIANS

Atrocities Reported at Kotschana—Kumanova Attacked. Belgrade, Oct. 22.—The first column of the second Serbian army has captured the town of Kotschana, forty-five miles to the east of Uskub. One report has it that before retreating the Turks massacred many of the Christian inhabitants. The first Serbian army began an attack to-day on Kumanova, ten miles to the north of Uskub, and expect to capture it without great difficulty. The first convoy of wounded reached Belgrade to-day. It consisted of about one hundred and fifty men, the majority of whom were suffering from only slight wounds. King Peter yesterday crossed the border in an automobile, and was enthusiastically received by the troops.

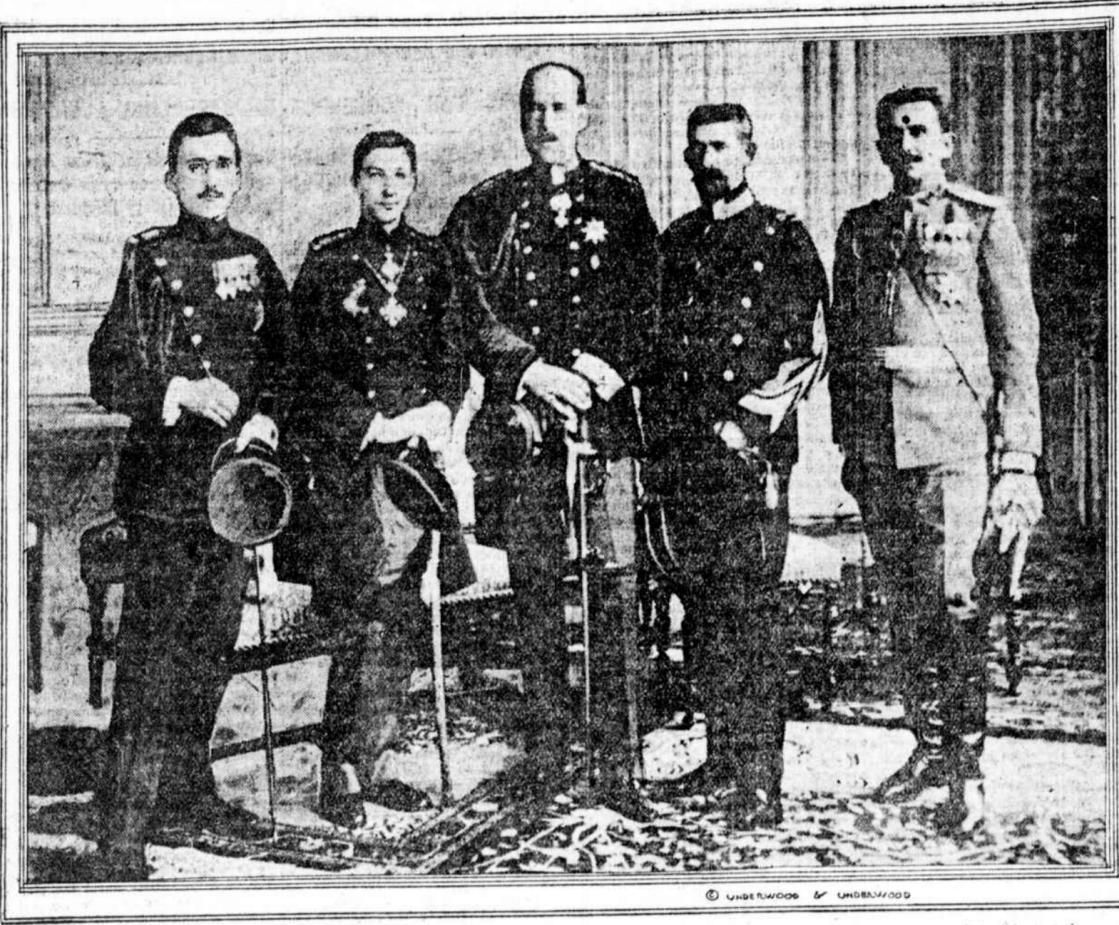

CZAR CALLS OUT TROOPS

Summons Reserve Forces and Cossack Town Rebels. [By Cable to The Tribune.] St. Petersburg, Oct. 22.—In spite of official denials, the Russian reserves in the Northern Caucasus, including Cossacks, and in Trans-Caucasia, have been called out for service. A mutiny occurred on October 17 among the reservists of the second levy at Armavir and the Cossack town of Kavaski, in the Kuban district. The pathetic appeal of old Kiamil Pacha to Europe to prevent Russia from striking Turkey in the back while it is fighting for its life in Macedonia arises from the Grand Vizier's knowledge of the concentration of Russian troops, which has been pointed out in cable dispatches on several occasions.

TURKEY FEARS RUSSIA

Will Consolidate Her Forces to Protect Constantinople. [By Cable to The Tribune.] Constantinople, Oct. 22.—Turkey's disposition of its military resources is governed not only by the attack of the Balkan allies, but by the menace of Russian aggression in Asia Minor. The whole Ottoman army in Asia cannot be transferred to Europe lest the two Russian army corps at Kars and Ardahan cross the Turkish frontier. Herein lies the explanation of the Turkish retreat along the extended line of war. Out-

THE FIVE CROWN PRINCES OF THE WARRING STATES. Alexander of Servia, Boris of Bulgaria, Constantine of Greece, Ferdinand of Rumania and Danilo of Montenegro.

A cable dispatch to The Tribune, printed yesterday, related that the Balkan League was conceived and became an accomplished fact at the meeting of the five crown princes of the Balkan States which took place in Sofia last February. The above photograph, taken on that occasion, shows Prince Ferdinand of Rumania to have been of the party, and suggests a strong probability the privacy of Rumania to the formation of the league, the latter fact having been successfully kept from the cognizance of the great powers until last month.

FIGHTING DESPERATE OVER A WIDE AREA

French Military Critics Believe Bulgarians Intend to Strike at Constantinople Before Reducing Adrianople. [By Cable to The Tribune.] London, Oct. 23.—Desperate fighting is proceeding over a wide area in the Balkans. Yesterday it was reported that Kirk-Kiliseh had been taken by the Bulgarians, but the latest dispatches to hand show that a great battle is now being fought there, 120,000 Bulgarians, under General Dimitroff, attacking 140,000 Turks, under Mukhatas Pasha. The Bulgarian onslaught, it is said, was fiery, almost reckless. Up to the present the Bulgarians have lost two thousand killed and four thousand wounded. No mention is made of the number of Turkish casualties, but it is believed that they are very heavy. The Turks are making a stubborn defence. Constantinople messages speak of the Turks advancing and of the Bulgarians retreating, while Sofia dispatches expect the defenders soon to capitulate, and the Turkish line to be broken through. The pass of Kresna is reported captured and three guns taken. It is now recognized that the Bulgarians intend making Kirk-Kiliseh a vital point of attack, and a strong opinion prevails, in French military circles notably, that the Bulgarians if they succeed in capturing Kirk-Kiliseh intend to strike straight for Constantinople, leaving a force to cover Adrianople. The Bulgarian eastern column, which made its way across wooded mountains from Tirnova, is believed to be larger than that which is attacking Adrianople by the Maritza Valley. Kirk Kiliseh possesses only three permanent forts, but during the last few months a number of field works have been thrown up under German guidance, forming a circle twelve miles in circumference and equipped with 120 guns. Its garrison is estimated at ten thousand. Some of these outer works are already reported captured, though at great loss to the Bulgarians, who are apparently attempting to take the town by storm without waiting for the arrival of their siege artillery. The Bulgarian campaign resembles that fought eight years ago in Manchuria, the attack on Adrianople and Kirk Kiliseh being similar to the Japanese movement against Liao-Yang. In other directions the Bulgarian armies continue their successful advance. One force has advanced along the Struma River, and the country between this stream and the Mesta River and its tributary, the Bregalnitza, on the eastern borders of the vilayet of Kossovo, is also occupied. In the same direction over the Rhodope Mountains the village of Mehomia, in the narrowest part of the valley between two rivers, close to the town of Banya, has been captured, together with two companies of Turkish regulars, with arms and baggage. Another village, Dioplan, shared the same fate, and in it were taken forty-five prisoners, four cases of shells, eighty Mausers and ammunition and stores. At the town of Kirdjab, in the district of the same name, the Turks are probably concentrating in order to advance on Philippopolis and cut off the main Bulgarian army. These plans, however, will be found to be frustrated, as the Pomaks, or Bulgarian Moslems,

FINE IS $1,000 A DAY

Penalty Incurred by Canadian Shoe Machinery Company. Ottawa, Oct. 22.—The board of investigation, constituted under the combines investigation act, in its report to the government, made public to-day, finds that the United Shoe Machinery Company of Canada, the parent company of which has headquarters in Boston, is a "combine," and that the clauses of its leases restricting the use of leased machinery operate in restraint of trade. The board, however, in view of all the circumstances, recommends that the fine of $1,000 a day provided for such cases shall not come into effect for six months, instead of at the end of ten days after the publication of the judgment.

25 TEACHERS FINED

French Unions Must Be Disbanded, Says Tribunal. Paris, Oct. 22.—Twenty-five members of the Teachers' Union, of Paris, were today sentenced by the Correctional Court to the payment of $10 fine each and all costs for refusing to disband, by order of the government. The court ordered the dissolution of the union. Because of the action of the Congress of Teachers' Societies, held at Chambery last August, when resolutions approving anti-militarism were adopted, the prefects of the different departments, under instructions from the government, ordered the societies to disband before September 10. All save the Paris union obeyed this order.

MASSACRE OF CHRISTIANS

Atrocities Reported at Kotschana—Kumanova Attacked. Belgrade, Oct. 22.—The first column of the second Serbian army has captured the town of Kotschana, forty-five miles to the east of Uskub. One report has it that before retreating the Turks massacred many of the Christian inhabitants. The first Serbian army began an attack to-day on Kumanova, ten miles to the north of Uskub, and expect to capture it without great difficulty. The first convoy of wounded reached Belgrade to-day. It consisted of about one hundred and fifty men, the majority of whom were suffering from only slight wounds. King Peter yesterday crossed the border in an automobile, and was enthusiastically received by the troops.

CZAR CALLS OUT TROOPS

Summons Reserve Forces and Cossack Town Rebels. [By Cable to The Tribune.] St. Petersburg, Oct. 22.—In spite of official denials, the Russian reserves in the Northern Caucasus, including Cossacks, and in Trans-Caucasia, have been called out for service. A mutiny occurred on October 17 among the reservists of the second levy at Armavir and the Cossack town of Kavaski, in the Kuban district. The pathetic appeal of old Kiamil Pacha to Europe to prevent Russia from striking Turkey in the back while it is fighting for its life in Macedonia arises from the Grand Vizier's knowledge of the concentration of Russian troops, which has been pointed out in cable dispatches on several occasions.

TURKEY FEARS RUSSIA

Will Consolidate Her Forces to Protect Constantinople. [By Cable to The Tribune.] Constantinople, Oct. 22.—Turkey's disposition of its military resources is governed not only by the attack of the Balkan allies, but by the menace of Russian aggression in Asia Minor. The whole Ottoman army in Asia cannot be transferred to Europe lest the two Russian army corps at Kars and Ardahan cross the Turkish frontier. Herein lies the explanation of the Turkish retreat along the extended line of war. Out-

FIGHTING DESPERATE OVER A WIDE AREA

French Military Critics Believe Bulgarians Intend to Strike at Constantinople Before Reducing Adrianople. [By Cable to The Tribune.] London, Oct. 23.—Desperate fighting is proceeding over a wide area in the Balkans. Yesterday it was reported that Kirk-Kiliseh had been taken by the Bulgarians, but the latest dispatches to hand show that a great battle is now being fought there, 120,000 Bulgarians, under General Dimitroff, attacking 140,000 Turks, under Mukhatas Pasha. The Bulgarian onslaught, it is said, was fiery, almost reckless. Up to the present the Bulgarians have lost two thousand killed and four thousand wounded. No mention is made of the number of Turkish casualties, but it is believed that they are very heavy. The Turks are making a stubborn defence. Constantinople messages speak of the Turks advancing and of the Bulgarians retreating, while Sofia dispatches expect the defenders soon to capitulate, and the Turkish line to be broken through. The pass of Kresna is reported captured and three guns taken. It is now recognized that the Bulgarians intend making Kirk-Kiliseh a vital point of attack, and a strong opinion prevails, in French military circles notably, that the Bulgarians if they succeed in capturing Kirk-Kiliseh intend to strike straight for Constantinople, leaving a force to cover Adrianople. The Bulgarian eastern column, which made its way across wooded mountains from Tirnova, is believed to be larger than that which is attacking Adrianople by the Maritza Valley. Kirk Kiliseh possesses only three permanent forts, but during the last few months a number of field works have been thrown up under German guidance, forming a circle twelve miles in circumference and equipped with 120 guns. Its garrison is estimated at ten thousand. Some of these outer works are already reported captured, though at great loss to the Bulgarians, who are apparently attempting to take the town by storm without waiting for the arrival of their siege artillery. The Bulgarian campaign resembles that fought eight years ago in Manchuria, the attack on Adrianople and Kirk Kiliseh being similar to the Japanese movement against Liao-Yang. In other directions the Bulgarian armies continue their successful advance. One force has advanced along the Struma River, and the country between this stream and the Mesta River and its tributary, the Bregalnitza, on the eastern borders of the vilayet of Kossovo, is also occupied. In the same direction over the Rhodope Mountains the village of Mehomia, in the narrowest part of the valley between two rivers, close to the town of Banya, has been captured, together with two companies of Turkish regulars, with arms and baggage. Another village, Dioplan, shared the same fate, and in it were taken forty-five prisoners, four cases of shells, eighty Mausers and ammunition and stores. At the town of Kirdjab, in the district of the same name, the Turks are probably concentrating in order to advance on Philippopolis and cut off the main Bulgarian army. These plans, however, will be found to be frustrated, as the Pomaks, or Bulgarian Moslems,

FINES IN $1,000 A DAY

Penalty Incurred by Canadian Shoe Machinery Company. Ottawa, Oct. 22.—The board of investigation, constituted under the combines investigation act, in its report to the government, made public to-day, finds that the United Shoe Machinery Company of Canada, the parent company of which has headquarters in Boston, is a "combine," and that the clauses of its leases restricting the use of leased machinery operate in restraint of trade. The board, however, in view of all the circumstances, recommends that the fine of $1,000 a day provided for such cases shall not come into effect for six months, instead of at the end of ten days after the publication of the judgment.

25 TEACHERS FINED

French Unions Must Be Disbanded, Says Tribunal. Paris, Oct. 22.—Twenty-five members of the Teachers' Union, of Paris, were today sentenced by the Correctional Court to the payment of $10 fine each and all costs for refusing to disband, by order of the government. The court ordered the dissolution of the union. Because of the action of the Congress of Teachers' Societies, held at Chambery last August, when resolutions approving anti-militarism were adopted, the prefects of the different departments, under instructions from the government, ordered the societies to disband before September 10. All save the Paris union obeyed this order.

MASSACRE OF CHRISTIANS

Atrocities Reported at Kotschana—Kumanova Attacked. Belgrade, Oct. 22.—The first column of the second Serbian army has captured the town of Kotschana, forty-five miles to the east of Uskub. One report has it that before retreating the Turks massacred many of the Christian inhabitants. The first Serbian army began an attack to-day on Kumanova, ten miles to the north of Uskub, and expect to capture it without great difficulty. The first convoy of wounded reached Belgrade to-day. It consisted of about one hundred and fifty men, the majority of whom were suffering from only slight wounds. King Peter yesterday crossed the border in an automobile, and was enthusiastically received by the troops.

CZAR CALLS OUT TROOPS

Summons Reserve Forces and Cossack Town Rebels. [By Cable to The Tribune.] St. Petersburg, Oct. 22.—In spite of official denials, the Russian reserves in the Northern Caucasus, including Cossacks, and in Trans-Caucasia, have been called out for service. A mutiny occurred on October 17 among the reservists of the second levy at Armavir and the Cossack town of Kavaski, in the Kuban district. The pathetic appeal of old Kiamil Pacha to Europe to prevent Russia from striking Turkey in the back while it is fighting for its life in Macedonia arises from the Grand Vizier's knowledge of the concentration of Russian troops, which has been pointed out in cable dispatches on several occasions.

TURKEY FEARS RUSSIA

Will Consolidate Her Forces to Protect Constantinople. [By Cable to The Tribune.] Constantinople, Oct. 22.—Turkey's disposition of its military resources is governed not only by the attack of the Balkan allies, but by the menace of Russian aggression in Asia Minor. The whole Ottoman army in Asia cannot be transferred to Europe lest the two Russian army corps at Kars and Ardahan cross the Turkish frontier. Herein lies the explanation of the Turkish retreat along the extended line of war. Out-

MILITIA STOP RACES

Drive Horses Back to Track Stables with Bayonets. Chicago, Oct. 22.—Two companies of the Indiana State militia shortly after noon to-day took charge of the Mineral Springs racetrack and prevented any of the races on the card from being run. When the horses were brought out for the first race Captain Kimball ordered his men to fix bayonets, and the horses with their jockeys were driven back into the stables. The citizen soldiers had been ordered out by Governor Marshall with instructions to close the track. The soldiers pitched their tents within the enclosure. They kept every one from entering, and those who were in the enclosure they held. More than fifty women, who had arrived in anticipation of seeing the races, as this was ladies' day, were not permitted to leave the track. The owners and promoters of the course also are in the enclosure. A special train from here, carrying a large number of passengers, arrived just after the guard appeared. It returned to Chicago with its passengers.

CHILDREN HEARD IN COURT

Little Victim's Playmates Witnessed at Murder Trial. Half a dozen boys and girls, playmates of little Sigrid Eckstrom, took the witness stand yesterday against Joseph J. McKenna, the big ex-infantryman who is on trial before Judge Rosalsky in General Sessions for the murder of Sigrid. The little girl's father and mother also were on the stand and witness after witness was called by Charles C. Nott, Jr., the Assistant District Attorney. McKenna sat at the counsel table and twisted and untwisted a handkerchief as the bits of circumstantial evidence slipped into place. Arthur Wolf, who lived in the same house with the Eckstroms, was the first youthful witness. He is eight and one-half years old, as he announced to the court with some pride. He plodded sturdily down the aisle and found his way to the witness stand without help from any of the court attendants. Questions put to him by Judge Rosalsky as to what school and Sunday school he attended and what he had been taught regarding boys who told untruths were answered so readily and so intelligently that Judge Rosalsky was inclined to put him under oath. Counsel for the defence objected, however, and his statement was taken. Arthur's piping voice carried bravely and McKenna dropped his eyes as the boy stared straight at him. Catherine Grady, fifteen years old; Francis Sullivan, twelve years old; Chester Roxby, nine years old, and Rita Grady, a little miss of eight, who advanced timidly holding a big straw hat before her as a shield, were some of the others. Mrs. Elsa Eckstrom, Sigrid's mother, began to cry when she was asked to identify the clothing her little girl had worn. A few golden hairs still cling to the little red sweater. She said she had not seen Sigrid's body until two days after it was found, when it was ready for burial. She added that she remembered seeing McKenna seated on the curb on the night of June 6, when she was searching for the little girl, who at the time lay dead in the cellar. Her husband told of carrying the body upstairs and laying it on the bed in Sigrid's room, where he watched by it all night. Mrs. Margaret A. Sullivan said that when she approached the cellar in her search for Sigrid, McKenna, who was on the street, told her "It's all boarded up there." Bernard Carl Wunke, who has a saloon across the street, said that when the ambulance arrived that night McKenna ran into his place and called for whiskey. "He was in a hurry," said Wunke; "his hand trembled when he poured the drink and he left without paying for it." Dr. James Ewing, a pathologist on the faculty of the Cornell Medical School, was another witness.

COMMISSION BEATEN AT POLLS.

East St. Louis, Ill., Oct. 22.—The commission form of government was defeated to-day by a vote of 4,618 to 3,304. A SHORT CUT. For a list of furnished rooms in New York consult The Tribune's Room and Board Register.—Adv.

GREAT BRITAIN RUSHES WARSHIPS TO LEVANT

To Sail Without Filling Bunkers and to Replenish at Gibraltar—Lord Roberts Warns Nation Against Germany. [By Cable to The Tribune.] London, Oct. 23.—England is nervous about the probable development of the war. Following her declaration of neutrality, reported last night, the third battle squadron, which was under orders to proceed at the end of the month to the Mediterranean for a twelve weeks' cruise, will start to-day unexpectedly. Orders had been given for the ships to coal and leave on Sunday, but it is now stated that they will start without taking in coal or oil fuel, and put in at Gibraltar to replenish their bunkers before proceeding to the Levant. It is understood that General French, Chief of the British General Staff, who went to America on leave three weeks ago, reached Denver when he was recalled to London by cablegram, and it is believed that this curtailing of General French's leave is in connection with the war in the Balkans. General French knows the Balkans intimately. Some years ago he studied the country on the spot, and said then that it would soon be the theatre of a disastrous war. In these circumstances much interest attaches to an impressive speech made by Lord Roberts, at Manchester, yesterday. He affirmed once more that a nation in arms was the only sure bulwark of empire, and gave this message as his ultimate counsel to the nation: "Arm and prepare! Quit yourselves like men for the time of your ordeal is at hand." Now, he said, just as in 1800 and in 1870, war will take place the instant German forces by land and sea are by their superiority at every point as certain of victory as anything in human calculation can make them certain. Germany strikes when Germany's hour has struck. That is the time honored policy of her Foreign Office. It is her policy at the present hour.

MANY ILLS IF TREATED FREE

Visitor to Health Department Finds Vaccination and Information Cheap. On learning he could be vaccinated free of charge, a negro who came to the Department of Health yesterday, seeking "medical information," wanted to know if he could also have a tooth pulled and his feet "fixed."

When the searcher for "medical information" had finished naming the things he would like to have done to himself while there, he was informed by a department attendant that teeth were not extracted at the department headquarters.

"But you can get vaccinated," said the attendant. Then the negro wanted to know if he could get any free medical treatment for his feet.

"You'll have to go to Bellevue," said the attendant. "If you want a hair cut, too, there's a barber shop in the next block."

The negro said he would "be back" to get vaccinated to-day.

BROKER GETS JAIL TERM

A. B. Young, of New York, Attacks Photographer on Way to Court. Baltimore, Oct. 22.—A. B. Young, a New York stockbroker, the only one of the seven defendants in the case of the government against the Potomac Refining Company found guilty of misuse of the mails in connection with the sale of the company's stock, was sentenced today to thirty days in jail and to pay a fine of $1,000.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Young attacked a newspaper photographer who attempted to take a snapshot, and his appearance in the federal court was delayed until his counsel could make arrangements for his release from the police station.

Strong Fiction Brilliant Articles Advertised Politics SUNDAY MAGAZINE Well Worth Reading The fiction is by S. Ten Eyck Bourke, Charles Francis Bourke, John Kendrick Bangs, Ann Mazzanovich, Grace Duffie Boylan and Gordon Holmes. The articles are by "A Famous Lawyer" and others. The advertised politics is contributed by Chairman Hilles, of the Republican National Committee, and by Woodrow Wilson, whom the Democratic party wants to make President. The Great Court By A Famous Lawyer Not fiction, but more interesting in its way. How many thrilling cases never reach a public trial, being settled by the right kind of lawyers in their private offices. Advertised Politics We don't usually advertise our advertisements, but the contributions by Chairman Hilles and Dr. Wilson are so unusual and so interesting that many people in both parties will be glad to know of them in advance. Each party uses an entire page of our next number, at regular advertising rates, to advocate its politics. Read both sides. The Law of the Beach By S. TEN EYCK BOURKE and CHARLES FRANCIS BOURKE is a rattling tale of lifesaving by the aid of an aeroplane at Barnegat Beach. One of the best ever. The Road to Albuquerque By ANN MAZZANOVICH and GRACE DUFFIE BOYLAN A tale of a white school teacher's experience with an insane telegraph operator in the land of the red men. Love Letters of A. Noodle, Esq. By JOHN KENDRICK BANGS narrates in Mr. Bangs's most humorous vein how a clever lawyer saved a client in a desperate breach of promise case. No Other Way By GORDON HOLMES Another fine instalment of this great mystery story. The Cover Design By FRANCES ROGERS is an unusually clever and artistic conception. ALL IN THE NEXT Magazine Section OF THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE For a list of furnished rooms in New York consult The Tribune's Room and Board Register.—Adv.