

CITY MAY SUE SCHOOL EXPERT, REJECTS REPORT

Estimate Board's Committee Says Professor Moore's Work Is Not Worth Printing.

HIS CRITICISMS SEVERE

"Will Welcome Suit," He Reports, and Charges Committee with Seeking to Rewrite His Findings.

The investigation and report of the organization and methods of the Board of Education and functions of local boards, made under the auspices of the committee on school inquiry...

The committee on school inquiry, consisting of John Purroy Mitchell, chairman, president of the Board of Aldermen; William A. Prendergast, Controller; and Cyrus C. Miller, president of the Borough of the Bronx...

The Board of Estimate received the report of the committee, and adopted a recommendation made by it that the Corporation Counsel be instructed to investigate the law and facts in the matter and see if the amount paid Mr. Moore for his work, amounting to approximately $1,800, can be recovered.

Estimate Board Fought Facts. Professor Moore's report is one of several authorized by the city government by resolution introduced October 26, 1910. The resolution calls for the employment of experts to study the operation of the New York school system...

It has submitted the report to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment in proof of a waste of municipal funds.

Wholesale Condemnation. Mr. Moore in his report, which is on file open to the public in the offices of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, declares that "the school system of New York is an inbreeding system; there is a fence about it."

"The method by which New York City administers its schools is that of the paralyzed arm," he continues. At another point he declares: "The fiscal authorities of the city seem to hold that the school system is in all respects a subordinate department of the city government, and in fact, the schools have been almost completely annexed to the City Hall as they would have been if the proposed new charter had become the organic law of the city."

These and other statements of the special committee are detailed in its report of yesterday, declaring them valueless because unsupported by facts and specific instances. The committee also declares that errors of fact have been found in the report where it bears on other departments, and that even certain quoted tables of budget appropriations and the like are entirely incorrect.

It, therefore, considers the report both inaccurate and lacking in the proofs of facts for the accumulation of which Professor Moore was employed, hence considers that to publish the report, with the corrections which would be cast discredit on the entire investigation.

It considers Professor Moore's failure to do the work for which he was refused to answer questions which, as a matter of fact, had no bearing on his report. He has repeatedly offered to rewrite his report for him. He says his report, which the Board of Estimate has tried to suppress, will be printed and circulated in New York City. He dictated the following statement this evening:

"This is a favorite method of disposing of an unwelcome report. It has never succeeded in suppressing the truth. My investigation was made under definite instructions from Professor Hanus. My report has been examined and accepted by him. It was very carefully made, and is correct, as the questions of the Board of Estimate themselves show.

"I have repeatedly offered to re-examine any passage in it which the committee may care to have me re-investigate, on condition that they will not definitely state what they understood my instructions to be. This they refuse to do, because they want to be free to say that I refused to answer questions which, as a matter of fact, had no bearing on the report. We have refused to allow them to rewrite the report."

"There is a situation in the administrative control of the schools of New York City which is both unjust and intolerable. The City Hall is inverting the school system. Through the bill to accomplish that result failed of passage at Albany last year, the work of annexing the schools to this City Hall goes steadily forward. It is perhaps too much to expect of city officials that they will accept a report that convicts them of sin.

A report that states the facts fearlessly deserves to be printed, that the people may read it, and this one will be. As for a suit at law, judicial investigation of the matter at issue would be most welcome.

OPERA IN PHILADELPHIA Season Opens with "Aida" - New Singers Heard.

Philadelphia, Oct. 31.—The opera season opened here to-night with the performance of "Aida" by the Philadelphia-Chicago Grand Opera Company at the Metropolitan Opera House. Every seat in the house was taken.

The performance of "Aida" proved to be popular with the boxholders, and especially were they well pleased with the opportunity to hear some of the new talent of the company. This marked the first appearance of Mme. Cecilia Gagliardi, soprano, and Idello Calleja, a Spanish tenor. Of the old favorites, there were Mario Sammarco, Henri Scott, Eleonora Cisneros, Mabel Rieckman and Gustav Hildebrand.

Though the house was filled to capacity, the occasion was not so gay as some of the presentations will be later in the season, as the boxes were largely occupied by the younger members of the social set, and they were not dressed with the brilliancy of their elders. Notwithstanding this fact, the hotel dining rooms were filled after the performance. The boxes held by the Widener and Elkins families were not let out until to-day, and it was thought that they would probably remain empty throughout the early part of the season because of the death of George D. Widener and Harry Elkins Widener, his son, in the Titanic disaster.

The opera boxholders remained practically the same this season as last year. John W. Converse is the holder of Box 19 this year, and to-night he and Mrs. Converse entertained Mr. and Mrs. George Dallas Dixon, Jr., and Charles Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Charlemagne Tower had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. George F. Baer in Box 12, which they hold this season. These marked the most notable changes.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

John Cort announced yesterday that "The Gypsy," Pixley & Luber's romantic operetta, will be presented at the Park Theatre on Thursday night, November 14, instead of on Monday night, the 11th, as previously arranged.

John Cort made arrangements yesterday with Cohen & Harris whereby he will present Frederic Chapin's farce, "C. O. D.," at the Gaiety Theatre, opening on Monday night, November 11, instead of on the following night, as previously announced.

Adolf Philipp, who will open his new German-American theatre on Tuesday, November 12, with a French musical farce "Une Partie de Cartes," by Paul Hervé and music by Jean Briqueux, has received a cable from Paris announcing that Jean Briqueux will arrive in New York to witness the opening performance of "Auction Pnoché," and very likely lead the orchestra on the opening night of Adolf Philipp's new playhouse.

There will be two performances at the Winter Garden this evening, one the usual double bill, the other, coming upon the conclusion of the regular show, an invitation rehearsal. This will be the first finished performance of "The First Affair," the pantomime in which Mile. Bordoni, the French singer and actress, is to appear as an added feature of "The Passing Show of 1912," beginning to-morrow evening.

Cohan & Harris have accepted for production a new satirical comedy by Clara Lipman and Samuel Shipman.

The organization which will play "The Point of View" at Daly's Theatre, beginning next Monday, now is complete, embracing Emily Stevens, Lucile Watson, George O'Ramey, Grace Griswold, May Malloy, Helen Campbell, Ernest Glendinning, Robert Kelly and Francis Carlyle. Ballot boxes will be placed in the lobby for the reception of votes by members of the audience expressing their individual opinions of the play.

"Miss Princess," an American operetta, the third new production to be launched by John Cort within a month, will be presented for the first time on any stage at the Lyric Theatre, Allentown, Penn., to-night, with Lina Abarbanell in the title role.

A testimonial banquet in honor of Dave Montgomery and Fred Stone will be given by the members of the Friars on Sunday evening, December 1, at the Hotel Astor.

A special vaudeville performance will be given in Alhambra Hall, adjoining Kelt's Alhambra Theatre, on Election night. The full bill will play both the theatre and the hall and election returns will be read from both stages.

CAN'T BUY CHILIAN COAL

Germany Said To Be Seeking Coal Station in Far South.

EYE ON MAGELLAN STRAIT

Diplomat in Washington Says His Country Is Not in the Market as a Seller.

Punta Arenas, Chili, Oct. 31.—It is reported here that Germany is about to acquire an island in the Magellan channel to be used as a coaling station.

The German cruiser Bremen is now engaged in exploring and surveying in the vicinity. It is understood that the visit is also connected with the opening of the Panama Canal and the possibilities for German trade in South America.

Washington, Oct. 31.—Señor Suarez, Chilean Minister here, declared to-day that the report that Germany was about to buy from Chili a coaling station on one of the Magellan islands was foolish. His country, he added, was not in the market selling coaling stations to foreign governments, and would be no more willing than the United States to part with one of her ports. No coal is being mined in that part of the country, the minister explained, whereas at one or two ports up along the coast foreign vessels can buy fuel.

All the islands in the Strait of Magellan are under the sovereignty of Chili. About ten years ago, to settle a long standing dispute between Chili and the Argentine Republic as to the ownership of Patagonia and Tierra del Fuego, the large, fertile island the northern coast of which forms the southern shore of the great Strait of Magellan, an international commission drew a new boundary line attaching the greater part of Patagonia to the Argentine Republic, but conceding the title of Chili to that part of the continent below the 53d degree of latitude, with the exception of the eastern half of Terra del Fuego. All of that island east of the 68th meridian of longitude was awarded to the Argentine Republic. The result of this decision was to give Chili complete control of the Strait of Magellan and all of the numerous islands lying within the strait and at the western or Pacific entrance. While owing to the severe climate a number of these islands have been uninhabited and are visited only at intervals by fishermen and bird hunters, no serious effort has been made since the award to question the title of Chili to them.

In view of the attitude of the Chilean government when efforts were made by other nations, even including the United States, to secure leases of coaling stations, it is quite improbable that she would consent to part with any of these islands to Germany or any other country.

If, however, the project should take form it would at once devolve upon the State Department to direct the attention of the nations interested to the declaration contained in the Lodge resolution adopted at the last session of the Senate against the acquisition of any governmental or semi-governmental control of coaling stations or other properties of like character on the Western Hemisphere by any European nation.

MISS SADIE JONES MARRIED

Becomes Bride of John R. Pope at North Carolina Estate.

Wilmington, N. C., Oct. 31.—In the vine-clad chapel of Pembroke Jones's estate, Ailee-on-the-Sound, Miss Sadie G. Jones and John Russell Pope, of New York, were married to-day. By reason of the smallness of the chapel, the ceremony was witnessed by less than one hundred relatives and close friends and the negro servants of the family, who indeed would have had a cause for grief had they not seen their beloved "Miss Sadie" married.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, and was attended by Mrs. James Whitman, of New York, and Mrs. Gordon Wilson, of Baltimore. Accompanying the bridegroom as best man was Philip Ingraham, of New York. The bridesmaids were Pembroke Jones, Jr., and Lyman Delano, of New York and Wilmington. The ceremony was performed by Bishop Robert Stranah, who also officiated when the bride's parents were married.

The bride wore ivory satin, with a long court train trimmed with rare old point de France lace. A wreath of orange blossoms draped her brow, and she carried a bouquet of lilacs-of-the-valley and orchids. After the ceremony a reception was held, with many prominent society people and nearly five hundred of Wilmington's elite present. The couple departed after the reception on a special train for a honeymoon in the South.

WEDDED ON DUAL ANNIVERSARY

The wedding last night at New Rochelle of Miss Carolyn S. Kistinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Kistinger and William J. Koch, of Farmington, Me., marked the anniversaries of the weddings of both their parents.

The wedding of Adam Kistinger and Sophia Diehl, parents of the bride, took place in New Rochelle on Halloween forty years ago. The wedding of William J. Koch and Barbara Stotter, parents of the bridegroom, was also in New Rochelle on Halloween, and was forty-one years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Koch have been dead several years. The Kistinger ruby wedding was celebrated last night at the same time as the daughter's nuptials.

The Koch-Kistinger ceremony was performed in German by the Rev. Henry O. Weber, pastor of St. Luke's German Lutheran Church, of New Rochelle. Miss Mina C. Burkhardt, of West Chester, was the bride's only attendant, and J. Albert Mahlstedt, City Treasurer of New Rochelle, acted as best man.

Mr. Koch, who was at one time clerk to the New Rochelle Board of Health, owns a thousand-acre farm at Farmington, Me., near which his bride used to spend the summers. Their engagement, which existed for three years, was not announced to the bride's parents until three weeks ago. The bride's father is reputed to be rich.

CUBAN ELECTION TO-DAY

Indications Point to Orderly Affair, Despite Predictions.

ANXIETY AT WASHINGTON

Much Gratification Over Prospects of Peaceful Election in Nicaragua.

Havana, Oct. 31.—Indications to-night strongly favor an orderly election to-morrow, in spite of the recent pessimistic predictions of the leaders of both parties. There was some excitement this afternoon on account of a rumor that Orastes Ferrara, Speaker of the House of Representatives and Liberal leader, had been shot and killed at Cienfuegos. This, however, proved to be untrue.

At 10 o'clock to-night the Department of the Interior received messages from all of the provinces reporting complete tranquillity in all parts of the island, including Cienfuegos, where the municipal authorities and the leaders of both sides are working in harmony with the military officer delegated by the President to take supreme charge of the armed forces for the purpose of preserving order and assuring all citizens free access to the polls.

The government was much gratified at the report from Cienfuegos, which has been regarded as the chief danger point. The threats of the Zayistas to abstain from participation in the election apparently will not be carried into effect, thus removing the peril of a postponement of the election.

The government's precautions to preserve peace in the capital have been in no way relaxed. The President has issued a decree closing all the drinking places during the hours of voting. Nearly 4,000 armed police, rural guards and regulars will patrol the streets and guard the approaches to the polls. They will not enter the booths except at the request of the election officers.

There is practically no betting on the result. Both parties claim they will carry all six provinces. The indications are that the Zayistas will carry Pinar del Rio and Matanzas, but the probabilities incline in the direction of victory for General Mario Menocal, the Conservative candidate.

In case the voting is close, probably the result will remain doubtful until Saturday.

Washington, Oct. 31.—While the administration is apprehensive of serious trouble over the Cuban election to-morrow, there is much gratification in regard to the better conditions prevailing in Nicaragua and the prospects for a peaceful election there on Sunday.

Strong assurances have been given by the Cuban officials that every effort will be exerted to maintain order to-morrow and that precautionary steps have been taken to guard against post-election riots or a revolt, but other information reaching the Department of State from Havana is to the effect that the situation is tense, and that there are ominous indications of probable disturbances of a grave nature.

It is known here that the Liberal election in Cuba is disheartened because of drastic restrictions to the registration and that there are murmurs of discontent among the leaders notwithstanding the pact of peace and the suspension of pre-election demonstrations. Whether this feeling will crystallize into rebellion in the event of the Liberals being defeated to-morrow is a question that is causing much anxiety to the administration.

In Nicaragua President Adolfo Diaz has no opposition for re-election and there seems to be a wide popular sentiment sweeping toward his candidacy. The dispatches to the State Department state that Conservatives and Liberals alike have commended his administration in the recent revolution, and that the leaders of both political factions have expressed confidence in him.

The re-election of President Diaz will be pleasing to the officials of the State Department and other prominent officials here.

ERUPTION OF 30 VOLCANOES.

A large lake in the center of the island has dropped two feet from its normal level, according to reports received here.

FRANCE WINS BENNETT CUP

Trophy Will Fall to the Ile de France or the Picardie.

Berlin, Nov. 1.—A dispatch was received to-night from Alfred le Blanc, pilot of the French balloon Ile de France, announcing that he landed near Kaluga, Russia. He covered approximately 2,000 kilometers (1,240 miles), and remained in the air forty-five hours.

Berlin, Oct. 31.—France wins the Gordon Bennett international balloon trophy regardless of the performances of the two balloons, the Duesseldorf and the Ile de France, which have not yet reported. The first of these has been disqualified, and even should the Ile de France surpass the record flight of the Picardie the prize will still be carried off by the French.

It is thought probable that the American aeronaut will secure second place in the contest with the Uncle Sam, but the exact distances made by the balloons will be ascertainable only when their log books have been submitted to the Geographical Institute at Stuttgart.

Nothing has been heard since Sunday of the Duesseldorf, carrying the American aeronauts, John Waite and A. T. Atherholt, nor of the French balloon Ile de France, carrying Alfred le Blanc, and anxiety concerning the aeronauts is beginning to manifest itself.

In ballooning circles it is considered possible that the two balloons may have descended in remote parts of Russia, from which it is difficult to get into communication with the organizers of the race.

The Duesseldorf, which ascended after sunset on Sunday, was believed for that reason to be capable of floating a day longer than the other starters, and therefore the committee in charge of the race ruled it out of the competition.

MARRIAGE TO COST FRANK

Law May Deprive Mrs. Cleveland of Free Postage.

Washington, Oct. 31.—A technicality may deprive Mrs. Grover Cleveland of her franking privilege after her coming marriage to Professor Thomas J. Preston. Postoffice officials entertain no objection to Mrs. Cleveland retaining the privilege, but the law, which also grants the same right to Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, provides that the "autograph signature of Frances F. Cleveland, or of Anna S. Harrison," must be signed on all franked mail matter. The technicality is that Mrs. Cleveland after marriage could not sign "Frances F. Cleveland."

EDDY ESTATE APPRAISED

Personal Estate $82,843 and Realty $155,000 in Bay State.

Boston, Oct. 31.—Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, founder of the Christian Science Church, had in Massachusetts at the time of her death $82,843 in personal property and real estate valued at $155,000, according to the report of Thomas W. Streeter, Frederick E. Jennings and John W. Worthington, who were appointed to appraise the estate by the Suffolk County Probate Court. They were instructed to make return to Josiah E. Fernald, of Concord, N. H., administrator of the will of Mrs. Eddy, allowed by the courts of New Hampshire.

All the personal property goes to the Christian Science Church under the decision of the Supreme Court of New Hampshire, which sustained the will of Mrs. Eddy. The entire amount which the New Hampshire administrator will turn over to the Church is about $2,000,000.

The Massachusetts Supreme Court, which has jurisdiction only over the $155,000 of real estate within the Commonwealth, has decided that the statute bars the Christian Science Church from receiving this property as left by Mrs. Eddy's will, but that the property may be administered as a charitable trust by the trustees appointed by the court.

OBITUARY.

AMOS CLARK. [By Telegraph to the Tribune.] Elizabeth, N. J., Oct. 31.—Amos Clark, who served as a Congressman from this district, which then embraced Union and Middlesex counties, from 1872 to 1875, is dead at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Webb, in Boston.

Mr. Johnson covered a distance of 235 miles, flying over a six-mile course between Bath and Savona. The endurance was formerly held by Beatty, who won it at Chicago in 1911. Johnson's flight was witnessed by Winthrop Southworth, secretary of the Aero Club of America.

BLOSSOM SEELEY RELETS

Marquard's Vaudeville Partner Doesn't Proseude Husband.

Blossom Seeley, who appears with "Katie" Marquard in a sketch at Hammerstein's Victoria Theatre, and who on Tuesday obtained a summons for her husband, "Joe" Kane, to appear yesterday in the Jefferson Market court to answer her complaint that he had threatened her with violence, was not in court when the case was called. She had written a letter instead.

When Kane came forward as his name was called, Magistrate O'Connor told him he had received a letter from his wife, and read aloud the following communication: Magistrate Kevan O'Connor. Dear Sir: I have this day entered into legal separation with my husband, Joseph Kane, for whom I obtained a summons, who has agreed not to molest me nor in any way trouble me in the future, which paper is now in my possession. I wish to withdraw the complaint against him, owing to the ground that we have agreed to live apart. Thanking you for the courtesy shown me, I remain, very truly yours, BLOSSOM KANE.

It's Mount McKinley, Says Parker at Explorers' Dinner.

About sixty members of the Explorers' Club, of New York, gathered last night at the Hofbrau restaurant, at a dinner in honor of Professor Vilhjalmer Stefansson, who recently returned from Coronation Bay, Greenland, where he found "white Eskimaus"; Herschel C. Parker, who climbed to within 300 feet of the summit of Mount McKinley, and Belmont Brown, who accompanied Professor Parker.

Professor Stefansson, in an address, made no reference to the "white Eskimaus." He said the Eskimaus could learn only by his own observation, and illustrated by telling how he asked the pupils of the school at Point Barrow why the American Colonists revolted from British rule, he said, the answer was "because the English put tacks in their tea."

Mr. Parker said he thought Mount McKinley was the coldest spot in the world, colder even than the North Pole.
