Boxing RITCHIE BEATS CROSS IN A SAVAGE BOUT

Proves Himself Every Inch a Champion in the Ten Slashing Rounds. KNOCKS LEACH DOWN TWICE Third Period the Turning Point of Battle, Although the Victor Fails to Come Out Unscathed.

Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion of the world and every inch the monarch of his class, defeated Leach Cross, of this city, in ten rounds of boxing at Madison Square Garden last night.

The bout was one of the greatest ever seen in this city, and if defeated Cross was by no means disgraced. In every round, just as long as boxing of the most savage description was a physical possibility, he stood to his guns in most approved style, and tried his best to turn the tide with one desperate punch.

That desperate punch never landed. With the eye of an eagle and perfect coordination between mind and muscle, Ritchie was always able to remove himself from the danger zone. It must not be thought that Ritchie escaped unscathed. Cross landed often and with terrific force, and Ritchie was hit from several cuts, but was always strong, and might have boxed on for an indefinite period.

He knocked Cross down with a short right hand jolt on the jaw in the second round, and although Leach regained his feet before the fatal ten seconds had been counted he was in such a groggy condition that he fell when Ritchie pushed him away, seeking an opening through which to shoot a telling punch. It was not that the East Side boy purposely avoided the issue, he was incapable of holding his feet. The wonder was that Ritchie did not stop him then and there.

OFFICERS OF SEVEN NATIONS TO RIDE LAWLEY & SON TO BUILD CUP DEFENDER

Contests Galore for Cavalrymen at the Horse Show Next Week.

The make-up of the military teams which are to compete next week at the horse show for international honors have been announced. All of the officers except the Canadians and some from the United States are in town. The Canadians will reach here on Friday ready with their horses for the opening of the show on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Madison Square Garden.

M'LEAN NO MEAN BOWLER

To Roll in Two Matches with Stars of the Alleys.

Like many other prominent baseball stars, Larry McLean, one of the catchers for the Giants, is a bowler. He will show his prowess to-morrow and Thursday nights at the Grand Central Academy, in Brooklyn, in five games against Gus Wilson, total pins to count. On Thursday McLean will meet Henry Weiss, who toppled the timber for 300 weeks or two ago on these drives.

MORE CHANGES IN BALTUSROL LINKS

Shifting of Three Bunkers and Road Puts Premium on Two Fine Shots.

TO ENLARGE EIGHTH GREEN

Alterations Now Under Way at First Hole to Be Finished Before the Snow Flies.

Several changes will be made in the links of the Baltusrol Golf Club this winter, in addition to alterations already under way at the first hole. This club is one of the most up to date in the East, consequently a change at Baltusrol is of more than ordinary interest.

Formerly three bunkers crossed the fairway at the first hole, parallel to the Shunkline Road, and so placed as to catch many drives of medium length. These trouble makers have been torn down. The old road which ran over toward the cottage has been filled up, and a new one of a curved formation has been built thirty yards nearer the green.

At the short left hand corner of the putting green, with grassy hollows, have been put in, so that a long second a trifle pulled will get into them. It is proposed to enlarge the eighth green by taking on the space available on the upper side of the putting surface and making it one of the double deck variety.

The new section will be joined to the old by means of a terrace made out of the present bank, while the contour of the hillside will be largely followed. Undulations also will be put in.

Although the ninth green was improved last year, the increasing liveliness of the new balls makes it almost impossible to hold it with its present slope. The pitch will be made less pronounced and undulations will be installed, so that if the ball should get a kick other rolls would catch it.

During the winter months the regular course will be in use on dry and frosty days, while a long nine-hole course will be put in commission when the weather is snowy or wet.

The Great Neck Golf Club, organized but a little more than a year ago, has put into commission nine additional holes, giving a full course of something more than 6,000 yards.

Rather a profitable business has been built up by an English house painter who lives near a links. He has a rough haired terrier which has been trained to retrieve golf balls. The terrier has rooted out as many as ten on a Sunday night, and in a week has brought home twenty-two.

Two widely different sections claim to have developed youthful wonders in golf, much the same as Francis Ouimet. Harold Hilton tells of a youngster named Whitcombe, of Dorchester, who has done a few things at Walton Heath. The boy put up a great game against the famous George Duncan and is said to have beaten him in a match.

Many Novelties Featured on Bills for the Week.

LILLIAN LORRAINE is the featured attraction at the Palace this week with some new songs and gowns. Others are Bert Clark and Mabel Hamilton, the musical comedy stars; Charles Ross and Mabel Penton, old vaudeville favorites; Charles Kellner, the California naturalist and nature singer, with his "Dancing Flame," a blade of fire which he is able to extinguish by the sound of his voice; the four Fords, dancers; Ida O'Day, in her original "sonalogue"; Joseph Herbert, Jr., and Lillian Goldsmith, in their novelty singing and dancing act; Edwards and Herbert, and Mile. Storey and company, with their "Dance of the Flirt."

"DON'T DO THAT," a one act farce presented by Jack Devereaux and his company under the management of William Elliott, is the headline attraction at the Union Square Theatre this week. It is by Jeanette Norden Shields, and tells an interesting story of home life full of amusing complications. Another laughable farce was called "Ward 22," presented by a company of five players. Kajiyama, a clever Japanese artist, who writes upside down, backward, with both hands and in every other conceivable way, is another feature. Other numbers were the four Bards, with acrobatic feats; Marie and Billy Hart in "The Circus Girl"; Ruth Rowe, with new songs; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Barry, in their skit, "The Rub"; the Meredith Sisters, in songs, and Sprague and McNeese, in a roller skating exhibition.

EMMET CORRIGAN made his vaudeville debut yesterday at the Fifth Avenue Theatre in "An Eye for an Eye," the playlet which scored a hit at the recent Lamb's Gambol. Another feature is Jesse L. Lasky's presentation of "Three Types," attractive girls in a series of artistic poses. Others appearing are Julius Tannen, with his chatterbox style monologue; Walter Lawrence and Frances Cameron with songs; Stepp, Goodrich and King, rathskeller performers; W. H. St. James and company, in "Stockings"; Lawrence Semon with his cartoons; John and Winnie Hennings, de Lasesso Troupe, and the Upside Down Zerbalds, with acrobatic feats.

ADELE RITCHEE heads the bill at Hammerstein's Victoria this week with a new repertory of songs and some stunning gowns. Others are Lydia Barry, a singing comedienne; Will Murphy and Blanche Nichols present "A School for Acting"; Mile Gabrielle, the "half woman"; Fatima, the Oriental dancer; Harry Carter, making his debut as a single entertainer; Hankoff and Gille, dancers; Ball and West, Cartmell and Harris, Arthur Deagan, Five Mowatts, Hickey Brothers, Loney Haskell, Grand and West, the Richards, Salla Brothers and Tom Robin.

CICILIA LOFTUS is the headline attraction at the Alhambra this week, with her impersonations of American and European stage celebrities. Others are James and Bonnie Thornton, "The Emperor and Empress of Song and Story"; Valerie Berzere and company, in "A Buxery Camille"; Raymond and Mervyn, the singing comedians; Jed and Ethel Dooley, entertainers; Bert Erroll, the lady (?) with the Teatrainsi juggler, and Charles Weber, the eccentric juggler.

DOUGLASS FAIRBANKS is appearing at the Colonial Theatre this week as the headline attraction in the comedy sketch, "A Regular Business Man." This will be his only vaudeville appearance prior to his starting tour with William H. Crane and Amelia Binham. Jesse L. Lasky yesterday presented for the first time in New York an elaborate musical comedy, "The Red Heels," featuring James H. Carson and a number of attractive girls. The balance of the bill includes Ray Cox in a series of original characterizations; Dainty Marie, in a singing, comedy and tap dance specialty; Sidney Jarvis and Virginia Dare, with a singing and dancing act; Lola Merrill and Frank Otto in "Her Daddy's Friend"; McDevitt, Kelly and Lucy, as "The Piano Movers and the Actress"; Dagwell Sisters, in a song repertory, and the Azard Brothers, equilibristas.

STOCK AND ONE WEEK HOUSES. "The Volunteer Organist" is the attraction for the week at the Academy of Music. Priscilla Knowlton and Coris Giles head the cast.

"The Blindness of Virtue," by Cosmo Hamilton, began its last week at the Manhattan Opera House yesterday. After filling an engagement of one week at Washington, the production goes on tour through the South.

"The Doll Girl," with Richard Carle, Hattie Williams and the same production presented at the Globe Theatre, is the attraction at the Grand Opera House this week.

"The Blue Bird," in the original New Theatre production and the Century cast of a hundred adult actors and children, is the attraction at the West End Theatre this week. Among the many features of interest are the eleven scenes of the pantomime illusions, the orchestral music and the symbolic dances. Master Burford Hampden will play the role of Tyltyl. Among others in the cast are W. H. Denny, Cecil Yapp, Dore Davidson, Ethel Brandon, Alice Mutter, Harriet Sterling, Helene Lackaye, Margaret Fairleigh and Margaret Millette. It is the farewell American tour of the San Francisco next spring on a trip around the world.

"Forty-five Minutes from Broadway," one of George M. Cohan's most successful productions, is the attraction at the Harlem Opera House this week. Ramsey Wallace, the new leading man, and Lotta Lintinham are the leading roles. The Keeney Players, at the Metropolitan Theatre, present for the week "Darkest Russia," a four act play by Sydney R. Ellis. Matinees will be given daily at the usual popular prices.

Lightweights in the Main Bout at Brown's Gymnasium.

Jimmy Coffey, the Bronx lightweight, who declares he is an Indian, will cross gloves with "Sailor" Dahaney, the newest sensation from New Jersey, at Brown's Gymnasium to-night. It is said that Dahaney can hit like a sledgehammer, unable to make the best use of his natural ability.

HANDICAP HELPS ZVIRIN

Columbia Senior Wins in a Cross-Country Run.

E. Zvirin, a senior and a veteran member of the Columbia "cross-country" squad, was an easy winner in the gun for the Van Amringe cup, held over the Riverside Drive course yesterday, by reason of his handicap of 2 minutes. Zvirin, 19, won in actual time for the five and one-half miles was 38 minutes 40 seconds, which was rather slow on account of the hard wind on the course. Christian Martin, a sophomore, second, with a handicap of 20 seconds, and M. Gertz, '16, the scratch man, both did better time. Gertz's time, 27 minutes 3 seconds, being the best for the day.
