Princeton Puts on Final Football Touches for Struggle with Yale

Light Drill Winds Up Work and Men Will Leave for Greenwich To-day.

YALE TEAM ALSO READY

Pendleton to Play at Guard for the Blue, While "Red" Brann or Carter Will Be at One End.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.] Princeton, N. J., Nov. 13.—Football made its last appearance of the season in Princeton this afternoon, when a brisk, short signal drill wound up the work and added the last touches for the game with Yale at New Haven on Saturday.

Osborne Field was a desolate looking place after 5 o'clock this afternoon, with no signs of football life except those that were being rapidly demolished as the stands came down.

One of the last acts of disbanding the squad for the season was the distribution of the footballs used for practice and in games the last few weeks. Almost everybody marched home in possession of a trophy.

Little time was wasted on the last afternoon of work on the home field, but the men were on their toes for three-quarters of an hour as they ran through their plays.

It looks now as if Lambertson would be the choice of the coaches to start the Yale game at right end, with "Stew" Baker first substitute. In any case, it is probable that both men will get into the game for a time. The rest of the positions will be filled by the same men who played the Harvard game to the great satisfaction of the coaches.

Seventy-six men in all will go to New Haven at the expense of the Athletic Association. The varsity squad alone will number twenty-seven men, who will be in their togs on the side lines ready to play if called upon. Twenty-six members of the scrub will see the game without any expense to themselves, and no less than twenty-one coaches and Keene Fitzpatrick, the trainer, are included in the number.

A special train leaving here at 1:38 o'clock to-morrow will start the exodus from Princeton to New Haven by taking not only the football squad, but the soccer team, the combined musical organizations and the gun team.

The football men will not spend the night in New York, but, arriving there at 2:18 o'clock, will go to the Grand Central Station and take the 3:25 train for Greenwich, Conn. They will spend the night in Greenwich as guests of the Greenwich Country Club, and on Saturday morning will go by special train to New Haven.

No football will be included in the schedule from the practice to-day to the drill, just before the game on the Yale field, for the coaches say they will not have even so much as a signal drill at Greenwich. A brisk walk will provide all the loosening up exercise that will be needed after the travelling.

Over one thousand undergraduates are expected to make the journey from Princeton to New Haven on Saturday, and graduates from all over the country will be on hand. Confidence in the team runs high.

No Scrimmage for Yale Team.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.] New Haven, Nov. 13.—In yesterday's long scrimmage work of the Yale football eleven was so consistent and encouraging that Howard Jones decided not to take any risks this afternoon, and the regulars had only signal practice and a drill in special formations.

Pendleton, who was moved to guard yesterday, is expected to start the Princeton game in that position. Either "Red" Brann or "Nick" Carter, both of whom were in the drill to-day, will start at right end. The rest of the line-up apparently has been decided on and will be as it was this afternoon in the formations that the regulars went through against the third team.

Dunn, who has been on the basketball squad the last two seasons, is the best man on the team in hurling forward passes. They are low and accurate and he flings the ball a tremendous distance. The plays to-day went off faultlessly.

After the signal work the varsity tried stopping Princeton plays against the third team. There was no tackling, however, the men simply shifting to meet the formations that Dr. Bull has been teaching the third team. Following this Pumpy and Guernsey had a drop kicking session. Pumpy stayed at the 25-yard mark for his tries, but Guernsey went back to the 25-yard line, and got over a score of kicks from that distance.

Then Alnsworth and Nate Wheeler caught punts from Knowles and Guernsey, after which the varsity practised getting down the field after kick-offs, Marting and Warren booting the ball.

New Line Pleases Cornell Coaches.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.] Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 13.—The Cornell football team's final practice here today for the Lafayette game, Saturday, consisted of a long, hard scrimmage with the freshman eleven. The first year men took the ball, and, despite their most extended efforts, were unable to make any impression on the new varsity.

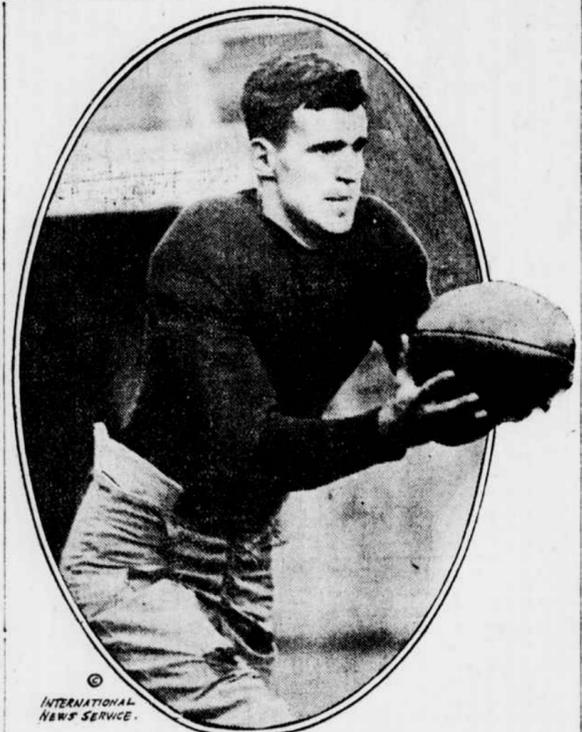

The play was snappy and fast and the defence which the first team exhibited was a source of surprise and delight to the coaches. Four veterans, the guards and tackles, were the only ones to occupy their old positions in the line-up. So far it is impossible for the coaches to estimate the true strength of the team, and it is understood that they are not too optimistic over the outcome of the Lafayette battle.

Hyland, at right guard, is not expected to be in the coming game. He received a blow in the head in yesterday's practice, and his place is filled temporarily by Munsick. Fritz at right end proves to be an able successor to O'Hearn. Charlie Barrett was replaced at quarterback, his position at left half being filled by Lahr.

N. Y. U. Eleven Faces Two Teams.

New York University had its final hard workout before the game with Wesleyan this Saturday at Ohio Field yesterday afternoon. The varsity eleven was put through a hard scrimmage against the scrubs, and was pitted later against the Morris High School team.

The ends, Waldman and Daley, showed considerable improvement on defensive play, and the whole team displayed an aggressiveness that augurs well for the

QUAKERS OUT IN DETROIT

Take Long Defensive Drill in Breaking Up Forward Pass. Detroit, Mich., Nov. 13.—The football team of the University of Pennsylvania, which arrived here to-day, practised this afternoon at the Detroit Country Club in preparation for the game on Saturday at Ann Arbor against the University of Michigan.

The regular eleven had a long defensive drill, during which the scrubs continually used the forward pass. George Brooke, the head coach, is of the opinion that if his men can stop this feature of Michigan's attack they can hold the Wolverines and eventually win.

Pennsylvania will practise here to-morrow, and on Saturday morning the squad, accompanied by a number of students, will go to Ann Arbor on a special train.

MICHIGAN LOSES GUARD

Little Chance for Traphagen to Play Against Quakers. Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 13.—Because of an injury to Traphagen, left guard, during practice this afternoon, Yost will be obliged to make at least one shift in the line-up of the University of Michigan football eleven, which is to meet Pennsylvania here on Saturday.

Traphagen's weak left ankle, which was injured earlier in the season, became strained and Yost said there was only the slightest possibility of the guard playing again this season. The coach named Cochran, who is playing his first season on the varsity, as Traphagen's understudy.

Lichter, who suffered a muscle bruise in the Cornell game, is still in poor condition, and Yost said to-night that Raymond would start at left end on Saturday.

MAYNARD WINS COURTS TITLE

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.] Williamstown, Mass., Nov. 12.—Edwin P. Maynard, Jr., 1916, of Brooklyn, N. Y., won the Williams lawn tennis championship in singles by defeating C. F. Cutler, 1915, in the final round of the college tournament by a score of 5-6, 4-6, 6-4, 6-1. A high, cold wind interfered with the play.

DARTMOUTH MEN HERE TO FACE THE INDIANS

Men Will Run Through Signal and Formation Drill at Polo Grounds To-day.

BIG DEMAND FOR TICKETS

Harvard Head Coach and Captain to See Yale in Action Against Princeton at New Haven.

The Dartmouth football eleven, thirty-three strong, accompanied by Frank Cavanaugh, the head coach, arrived at the Grand Central Station last evening and immediately went into quarters at the Hotel Cumberland.

The squad will go to the Polo Grounds this afternoon, where practice will be held in order to familiarize the men with the lights, shadows and air currents, for the game to-morrow with the Carlisle Indians. The drill will be secret, and no one who is not known will be allowed to pass the sentries at the gate.

The team left Hanover amid scenes of wildest enthusiasm. For the first time in the memory of the undergraduate wise-aces recitations were suspended from 9:55 until 10:19 o'clock, and the bargees drawing the men to White River Junction, where they entrained for New York, passed through lanes of one thousand cheering undergraduates. The long cheer was given for the team, and the students then returned to classes to dream of championship teams and All-America berths.

Hardly more than two hundred and fifty undergraduates will follow the team to-day, not because of the importance of the game fails to warrant a larger attendance, but much travelling about the country to see Princeton and Pennsylvania beaten has strained the undergraduate pocketbook to the bursting point.

Many a doting parent has been led to believe that a fullback on the football team is a drawback to the bank account. The undergraduates count on victory, but Cavanaugh has impressed on all that the Redskins are a powerful and resourceful band of players, who can be relied upon to spring the unexpected at all times.

Glenn Warner and his braves will arrive here some time this evening or late this afternoon, so they will have no chance to visit the Polo Grounds until to-morrow afternoon, just before the game. The fact that his team will have no chance to acquaint themselves with the conditions in the Brush Stadium is the least of Warner's worries. He has the most supreme confidence in his warriors.

The Indians are in the pink of condition, or, as some brave facetiously remarked, the copper of condition, and every man feels that the team will win. Word came from Carlisle that the squad ran through a formation and signal drill yesterday that fairly sizzled with snap and ginger.

After the practice was over the braves chased about in a wild game of leap frog. There was method in Warner's plan, as it furnished a lot of fun and much practice in the leap used in charging punting in the line.

Percy D. Haughton, head coach of the Harvard eleven and Captain Storer will go to New Haven on Saturday to see Yale in action against Princeton. One or two other members of the Crimson varsity also may get the treat. The Brown University eleven is not held cheaply, but a victory over Yale is the objective point.

Glenn Warner, coach of the Carlisle Indians, has been grooming Garlow for quarterback in case of injury to Captain Welch. It is seldom that a centre rush is transferred to the backfield.

Dartmouth winds up the season against Carlisle, but the Indians have two more games to play against Syracuse and Brown.

The Naval Academy football eleven beat Bucknell 10 to 7, Bucknell beat Pittsburgh 9 to 9, Pittsburgh beat the Carlisle Indians 12 to 6, the Indians tied Pennsylvania 7 to 7, Pennsylvania lost to Dartmouth 12 to 3, Dartmouth beat Princeton 6 to 6. Truly the grand old pep makes the Navy team a world beater.

More than 2,000 tickets for the Dartmouth-Carlisle game have been purchased in the advance sale, which bespeaks a big crowd.

Secretary of Daniels of the Navy Department has invited William F. McCombs, the Democratic national chairman, and Mrs. McCombs, recently married in London, to occupy seats in his box at the Army-Navy football game in this city on November 23.

The New York clubs of the University of Michigan and the University of Pennsylvania have arranged to follow the game at Ann Arbor on a board over a special wire at the Hofbräuhaus, Broadway and 30th street, to-morrow afternoon. All University of Pennsylvania men and their friends are invited. It will cost 50 cents.

Arrangements have been made to have the Harvard varsity football squad spend the night before the Harvard-Yale game at the Vesper Country Club, in Lowell.

WANT PROFESSIONAL COACH

Williams Students Vote on Baseball Situation. [By Telegraph to The Tribune.] Williamstown, Mass., Nov. 13.—About three hundred undergraduates attended the college meeting here last evening to discuss the matter of a professional coach for the Williams baseball team.

Captain Almsie presented a motion that professional coaching in baseball be done away with entirely, which was defeated by a margin of thirty votes. He believes that Williams should take the lead in abolishing professional coaching in baseball and that if this should be done that the captain should provide, so far as possible, amateur coaches for the team.

Professor C. L. Maxcy, the graduate treasurer, and Professor Doughty addressed the meeting and favored the plan, and many of the members of the team then brought forward their views on the subject. Although Almsie's motion was defeated, several alternatives of reform were brought up and will be acted upon next Wednesday.

Praise From Secretary of War

In a letter to General George W. Whiting, president of the Public Schools Athletic League, Lindley M. Garrison, Secretary of War, says: "I have read with great interest the copy of your last annual address as president of the Public Schools Athletic League, forwarded with your letter of September 21, concerning the instruction of high school boys of the country in rifle shooting, and am heartily in accord with your views as expressed therein. The great asset accruing to the country from sending out annually fifty thousand graduates of our high schools who can shoot, have strong nerves and cool self-reliance cannot be realized as the years go on."

"The high school teams mentioned in your report as winning the prizes offered by the different arms companies in 1912, viz., the Morris High School and the De Witt (Clinton High School, are to be most highly commended for their good work and interest taken in this important matter connected with the defence of the nation."

WILLIE RITCHIE HAS MUCH PRAISE FOR CROSS

Guest of Honor at Boxing Men's Dinner—Thanks the Public, Too. Willie Ritchie, the lightweight champion of the world, was guest of honor at a dinner at Billy Gibson's Criterion Restaurant, in The Bronx, last night. More than 150 guests sat flanking the board, including the local sporting writers and men prominent in the boxing world.

Ritchie, in a well-phrased speech, thanked the New York boxing enthusiasts for the royal way in which they treated him during his stay in the city, and declared that when an opponent worthy of his steel was selected he would always be glad to return and box. Ritchie said in part: "I cannot too warmly thank the New York public for the cordial way in which they treated me during my stay in this city. They showed that the oft-repeated statements of Easterners being distant and unfriendly to strangers have been grossly exaggerated. Everybody has been my friend since I came here, and I hope to visit your city often."

"I have only the warmest feeling for Leach Cross, my late opponent, now my friend. He is a great fighter, and a clean fighter as well. I can honestly say that he gave me a hard battle, quite as hard as I ever engaged in, and I found him a much more formidable man than either Rivers or Wolgast."

"On Saturday I will leave for California, where I am matched to meet Tommy Murphy in a battle for the championship, and if successful will meet all comers. I want to be recognized as a real champion. It is the duty of a title holder to fight if a legitimate challenger appears and the proper inducements are offered. I believe, without wishing to appear egotistical, that I showed the local boxing 'fans' that I am not an accidental champion, and it is my purpose to convince the world at large of my ability."

Mike Gibbons, the St. Paul wraith, and Marty Rowan, who recently outpointed Billy Papke, will meet in a ten-round bout at the Tuxford Athletic Club, in South Brooklyn, to-night.

Packey McFarland has evidently intended to drop his mask and branch out as a welterweight. He declares that he is willing to meet any man in the world at 142 pounds, weigh in at 3 o'clock.

Ed Hagan, the Seattle "hope," will meet "Gumbo" Smith at the Atlantic Garden on next Thursday night. Hagan is training with Jim Flynn, who is giving him much information, gathered first hand, as to the force of Smith's wallop.

Willie Ritchie will give a box party to his newspaper men friends at the Winter Garden to-night. Ritchie was invited to attend the show by William Montgomery and Florenz Moore, two of the stars in "The Pressure Seekers," and thought it would be a good idea to have his friends with him to thank them in a measure for the courtesies extended him during his stay.

Johnny Dundee and Charley White will meet in New Orleans on Thanksgiving Day for ten rounds. White and Dundee boxed a sensational ten-round contest in Syracuse two years ago, with honors about even.

Danny Morgan still believes Jack Britton can whip Packey McFarland. "At catch weights," he declares, "Britton can defeat Packey. When McFarland has to train hard and make weight he is unbeatable, but when he loafs in training he is not at his best. The extra weight robs him of his speed, and speed is what he relies on to win."

Perhaps, but Packey also has a right and left hand, a wonderful head and two strong, feet feet.

COLUMBIA HIRES COACHES

Davis to Take Charge of Soccer Team; Bingham, Wrestlers. The Columbia University committee on athletics announced yesterday that it had approved the contracts of William Bingham and B. F. Davis as coaches of the Columbia wrestling and soccer teams, respectively, for the coming year. Bingham coached the wrestling squad last winter with more success, and, although he is at present in Cuba, will be on hand at the end of the month to begin work with the wrestlers.

Davis, the new soccer coach, is an Englishman and played the game as a member of the Stobridge team in the Manchester League in England before coming to this country. He has been a referee in the Field Club Soccer League and the New Jersey Amateur League for some time and has already begun work with the Columbia soccer players. He is the first paid coach that Columbia has had in soccer.

The engaging of a baseball coach for next season has again been deferred by the committee because of the inability of Billy Lauder, who coached the nine last spring, to determine whether he will be able to return to New York next year. He is at present in New England engaged in a business venture. Harry Fisher, graduate manager of athletics at Columbia, is anxious to get Lauder to return.

Bright, of the Bay Ridge team, won his place among the foremost halfbacks of the scholastic gridiron by his dashing work against Manual on Wednesday. He is a speedy runner and has the knack of picking his openings and knifing through a line down to a fine art. He is master of a straight arm, too, and this has helped him gain many extra yards in hurling off tackles.

Burt Orell, the little halfback of "Poly Prep," will play only part of the game against Adelphi this afternoon. He weighs 127 pounds and is 5 feet 5 inches in height, but is pure grit to the backbone.

Members of the Carlisle and Dartmouth football teams will be the guests of the Commerce Clinton Club at the West Side Young Men's Christian Association to-night.

SCHOOL ELEVENS NOW READY FOR BIG CLASH

Adelphi a Slight Favorite Over Poly Prep. at Ebbeys Field To-day.

SOME BIG LEAGUE STUFF

Borough President Pounds to Kick Off Ball—The Mayor To Be One of Many Guests of Honor.

The elevens representing Polytechnic Preparatory School and Adelphi Academy will meet on the gridiron at Ebbeys Field this afternoon, and one of the best and most thrilling battles of the scholastic season is in prospect. In all probability a monster crowd will be on hand. Twenty-five thousand invitations have been sent out, but so great is the interest in the game that many requests for invitations have been refused.

Mayor Kline, Borough President Pounds, of Brooklyn; "Big Bill" Edwards, Street Cleaning Commissioner; Sheriff Swasey, Police Commissioner Waldo and many others too numerous to mention will occupy boxes on the side lines. Invitations have been extended to every football team in the local high schools, and the coaches have consented to give some of the regulars a day off in order that the team may be represented.

The fair co-eds have not been overlooked. Delegations from Girls' High School, Manual Training and Erasmus Hall will be on hand, while a band will dispense martial, popular and otherwise airs, beginning at 2 o'clock.

Promptly at 2:30 the teams will line up in kick-off formation, and Borough President Pounds will tee up the ball and officially start the game (big league stuff), by kicking it far down the field. At any rate he will kick it. The betting is even that he gets ten yards or better on his first attempt.

That ceremony over, he will retire to the stands and the battle will be on in earnest.

While it is the general feeling that the teams are evenly matched, Adelphi is a slight favorite with those who have followed the fortunes of both teams throughout the season. So slight is the difference, however, that the team that gets the "breaks" undoubtedly will win. Each team has lost one game, both at the hands of teams out of the metropolitan district, but in local contests have swept through all competitors.

The elevens are evenly matched in weight, for each averages 153 pounds. From tackle to tackle, however, Adelphi is heavier. With the ends even, the average of Adelphi is pulled down by a pony backfield. Don Alford, the quarterback, tips the beam at 146 pounds; his brother, Ken, weighs 150 pounds; Leysler, at left halfback, is only 137 pounds, while Love, the fullback, weighs 152 pounds. Poly will have Frank Du Tremblay, rated the peer of scholastic quarterbacks, weighing 159 pounds; Ryder and Meenan, tipping the beam at 145 and 144 pounds, respectively, and Hardenbrook, at fullback, who scales 153 pounds.

Both elevens boast several star players who have stood out above their fellows in the games thus far. Du Tremblay and Alford have played remarkably well at quarterback, and a rare battle of keen wits will be seen from the moment the whistle blows. Captain Ibbotson, the big Adelphi tackle, will be called on to hold his own with Brouder, of Poly, who will face him. Both Brouder and Ibbotson have outplayed their opponents in every game thus far. Meenan, the impetuous plunger of Poly, will have a worthy rival in Alford, and while the battle of the whole is being waged there will be several questions of individual supremacy settled, despite the outcome of the game.

The defeat of Manual Training at the hands of Bay Ridge on Wednesday has struck fresh fire to the hopes of the Commerce elevens. For more than an hour the Orange and Blue team ripped and drove through a snappy signal and formation drill at Fordham Field yesterday, will be special against Manual on Saturday at Ebbeys Field.

Ed Skisnick, the head coach; Billy McCusker, all-scholastic and two years ago, worked like leavers with the linemen, instructing them in charging, blocking and tackling. The players got into the game with plenty of vim, and some improvement was noted toward the end. The backs came in for their share of the work and labored hard and long, taking out men and getting under way quickly.

Jimmy Parks and "Sparrow" Tansil had a merry fight at guard. Tansil had the "pep," but Parks had the weight and strength. He was weak in hooking his man after putting him out of the play, and several times "Sparrow" flew on past him to nail the plays behind the line. Parkington showed a noticeable improvement in taking men out, while Gunther ran well with the ball and practically clinched the position of punter.

Clinton and Morris also put on the finishing touches for their game on Saturday. While Clinton expects to win, Hooks, the head coach, is by no means overconfident. Some of his players are nursing minor bruises, and Gilmore, his star tackle, is worried over a sore shoulder. Gilmore declared yesterday, however, that he would surely start the game. Fred Moore, who moved over to fill Gilmore's place, is showing a world of snap and dash in his work, and plunged around through the scrub line in fine style.

Bright, of the Bay Ridge team, won his place among the foremost halfbacks of the scholastic gridiron by his dashing work against Manual on Wednesday. He is a speedy runner and has the knack of picking his openings and knifing through a line down to a fine art. He is master of a straight arm, too, and this has helped him gain many extra yards in hurling off tackles.

Burt Orell, the little halfback of "Poly Prep," will play only part of the game against Adelphi this afternoon. He weighs 127 pounds and is 5 feet 5 inches in height, but is pure grit to the backbone.

Coaches Drive Elevens Till Dusk, Preparing for the Week-End Games

Harvard Works Out Plays to Meet Forward Passing Game of Brown-Dummy Drill for Varsity.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.] Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 13.—The Harvard coaches decided to take no chances by sending the varsity football men into a hard scrimmage this afternoon, but called for a dummy drill against the second eleven on both offense and defense. The Brown team being expected to play a forward passing game as well as to have a well ordered shift.

Brickley has been working harder this week on drop kicking than at any time this season. Mahan is now doing all of the punting for the team and is increasing his distance daily without losing the height that ever since the start of the season Haughton has demanded.

Three varsity men, Storer, O'Brien and Bradley, did not play to-day. They are all right, but the coaches were anxious to try some of the first substitutes in combination with the regulars.

Both Coolidge and Dana were used at the ends and Curtis had some work at tackle and Bettie in the backfield. Penock, on defense, shifted to left guard, Hitchcock playing between Gilman and Sonney. Trumbull was out to-day, but did not play, joking about the track.

This afternoon in the race for Harvard single scullers on the river Chanler, the college champion, again finished first. Captain Reynolds being in the beaten field.

Brown Brushes Up on Signals.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.] Providence, R. I., Nov. 13.—The work-out of the Brown football team was short and light, but the coaches kept the men on the jump all of the time here to-day. The afternoon was given over to brushing up on the signals and to smoothing over some of the rough spots in order that the team may present as finished an appearance as possible when it lines up in the Stadium to-morrow.

Dave Henry and Steve Bean practised punting, while the linemen loosened up running down under the kicks. The former's punts were especially good, many of them going at least fifty yards. Provided the line can be persuaded to hold, Brown should at least hold her own with the Crimson punters. A brisk half hour of signals, with the forward pass receiving a lot of attention, followed by a dummy scrimmage to give the line and backs a final drill in opening and picking holes, closed the afternoon's work. The final practice will be held to-day.

No Numbers for Yale Team

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 13.—[Captain H. H. Ketcham of the Yale football team gave out a statement to-day in which he makes known his reasons for the definite decision that the football men will not wear numbers on the back of their jerseys.

It had been suggested that each player be numbered, so that the spectators could follow the plays more closely. Captain Ketcham's statement follows: "I thoroughly disapprove of the practice of numbering football men, and we have decided not to depart from our former system. In the first place, this new step has been advocated by the newspapers for their own benefit in distinguishing the men. Football is not being conducted here for the newspapers, but for the colleges, and the players are not working to win recognition by the public, but are playing for themselves and the university."

Violet eleven in its contest on Saturday. The team is in fine condition and is ready to meet the Wesleyan men. A big mass-meeting will be held in the auditorium to-night to give the home team an enthusiastic send-off.

Wesleyan Now Ready for N. Y. U.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.] Middletown, Conn., Nov. 13.—Wesleyan held its final scrimmage before the New York University game here this afternoon and ran up four touchdowns against the scrubs. The latter was unable to make a first down.

Slocum, who was deposed from quarter after the Bowdoin game early last month, got another tryout in that position this afternoon and ran the team in fine shape. The ends showed up particularly well in to-day's practice, getting down under the punts in fine shape.

The scrubs used New York University formations in the plays, and Hutchinson was greatly pleased at the manner in which the varsity broke them up.

Williams Has Last Scrimmage.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.] Williamstown, Mass., Nov. 13.—The Williams varsity had their last hard practice of the season when they faced the freshmen on Weston Field here this afternoon. No visitors were permitted to view the workout to-day, and no definite details of the practice were announced.

After the regular elementary drill the first and second elevens ran through signals for a full hour, and then each had a chance to rip up the freshman line. For three-quarters of an hour the freshmen tried to bear up against the aggressive tactics of the regulars, but the punch and snap which the varsity exhibited were altogether too much for the youngsters.

Fred Daly used the same line-up to-day as that which was put in against Wesleyan. To-morrow afternoon the final rites before the Amherst game will be performed before a great bonfire.

Wind Up Practice at Amherst.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.] Amherst, Mass., Nov. 13.—The last practice of the year for the Amherst football team was held this afternoon at Pratt Field.
