HEIGHTS CASINO AND HARVARD MEN WIN AT SQUASH

Cordier Leads Former Team to Victory Over Princeton Club Players.

EASY FOR CRIMSON, TOO

Marvin Only One to Score for Columbia in the Second Round of Tourney.

The champion squash tennis team of the Heights Casino, of Brooklyn, and the former holder of the title, the team of the Harvard Club, were the winners in the second series of matches in the inter-club championship tournament yesterday.

The Casino team, led by A. J. Cordier, the former Yale captain, who captured the national handicap honors, defeated the team of the Princeton University Club by a score of 6 matches to 1.

Harvard placed a full team of seven players in the field against the Columbia team and defeated the latter by a score of 6 matches to 1.

Princeton sent its team across the bridge to Brooklyn, with S. Himman Bird, the club champion, as leader.

Bird was equal to the task imposed upon him, for he led off with a slashing victory against J. Harvey Williams of St. Paul's.

Unfortunately H. G. Stearns, R. Ely, R. U. Barr and J. Taylor, the others of the Princeton organization, did not find the safe spots in the courts. Cordier defeated Barr at 15-0, 15-3, in easy fashion, and George Abbott smothered Ely under a fusillade of volleys at 15-0, 15-4.

Columbia's team was the visitor at the Harvard Club, and out of the seven men on the list A. L. Marvin was the only one to score for the Blue and White.

Marvin, at that, had all he could do to make a younger brother of the famous Malcolm D. Whitman. The youngster, E. E. Whitman, fought Marvin through the three furiously played games to lose at 8-15, 15-17, 15-11.

The loser made more scores than the winner by 43 to 1.

Dr. Alfred Stillman, 20, the former national champion, played an interesting match against Reginald E. Wignam. The latter proved unusually clever. He compelled Dr. Stillman to lift his game to its highest flights to win at 15-3, 15-1.

Louis du Pont Irving, the Harvard champion, engaged Frederick S. Keeler in a stiff session at rallying that lasted through three games before Irving won at 6-15, 15-9, 15-12.

By a strange coincidence, the ace tally balanced at 36 for each of the players.

Heights Casino vs. Princeton Club—S. Himman Bird, Princeton, defeated J. H. Williams, Casino, 15-0, 15-3; Rudolph Goppel, Casino, defeated H. G. Stearns, Princeton, 15-0, 15-1; George Abbott, Casino, defeated R. Ely, Princeton, 15-0, 15-4; A. J. Cordier, Casino, defeated R. U. Barr, Princeton, 15-0, 15-3; Royal P. T. Higgins, Casino, defeated J. Taylor, Princeton, 15-0, 15-1.

Harvard Club vs. Columbia Club—Louis du Pont Irving, Harvard, defeated Frederick S. Keeler, Columbia, 15-3, 15-9, 15-12; William H. Y. Hackett, Harvard, defeated H. Duncan Bullock, Columbia, 15-0, 15-3; P. H. Davis, Harvard, defeated Lyle D. Mallan, Columbia, 15-0, 15-12; Dr. Alfred Stillman, Harvard, defeated E. E. Whitman, Columbia, 15-8, 15-17, 15-11; Dr. Alfred Stillman, Harvard, defeated Reginald E. Wignam, Columbia, 15-3, 15-1; G. F. Waterbury, Harvard, defeated R. White, Columbia, by default.

Hobey Baker Still Team in Himself on the Ice

Leads Princeton Hockey Seven to Victory Over St. Paul's School Players.

SCORES MOST OF THE GOALS

Big Crowd Cheers Prep. Boys, Who Put Up Lively Game Against the Tigers.

Hobey Baker, together with six other students from Princeton University, had no great difficulty in defeating St. Paul's School, of Concord, N. H., in the opening game of the hockey season at the St. Nicholas Skating Rink, last night.

The final score was 8 to 3. Baker shot six of the goals and assisted in the making of the other two points for the Nassau players. At the end of the first half the score was 4 to 2 in favor of the victoriously seven.

St. Paul's School is one of the most popular institutions that plays hockey in New York. The youngsters always manage to put up a good game, and last night was no exception to the rule.

Although they were considerably younger than the Princeton players, they were almost as heavy, and skated as well.

Had it not been for Baker, who formerly went to St. Paul's, the Concord lads might have won the game. Their team work and all-around play were equal to those of the Tigers. However, they lacked the scoring ability that marked the work of the older students.

One of the largest crowds that ever passed the doors of the St. Nicholas rink saw the contest. It was not the usual crowd that attends a hockey game. More than one-half of the men were in evening clothes, giving the rink an appearance seldom seen at a hockey match.

Automobiles thronged outside of the building in a way that reminded one of the Horse Show or a night at the opera.

For the first time in the history of the sport a score board was used. It carried the names of the players. Unfortunately the names did not agree with the correct line-up. Still, no one really cared, as all in the rink knew Hobey Baker, Captain Kuhn and Klinger also did well for Princeton. The latter is a big fellow, who has an excellent shot, and ought to do well at winter. Sharpless and Henriques were the best of the St. Paul players.

Hardly had the game started than Baker got in his fine work and tallied the first goal. It was the result of a pretty bit of combination play between the star of the Tiger aggregation and G. Peacock. The goal was shot inside of the first five minutes of play.

The next tally also was by Baker. It ended one of those dazzling individual runs that the great Princeton athlete makes both on the gridiron and in the hockey rink. There was no stopping the dash, which was made after 11.17 minutes of exciting play. The third tally also was made by the same player on a good shot from the side.

Although St. Paul's was badly outclassed the youngsters were doing good work, and on a pass from the side Sharpless managed to tally a pretty goal. Inside of another minute Baker made another one of his individual runs, and, aided, recorded the fourth tally for the Princeton team. During a scrimmage just as the period was ending Henriques made the second point for the players from Concord. The half was exceptionally clean.

In the second period the schoolboys began to tire. One minute and thirty-two seconds after the half had begun Baker made another one of his long runs, and again shot the puck past Schall. A few minutes later Klinger scored on an off-side play that was not allowed. Princeton continued to bombard the St. Paul's goal. Once Baker almost registered another tally. The shot, however, hit the goal post and bounded back on the ice.

St. Paul's third tally was made by Sharpless, who took the puck away from Baker, and dodging two more of the Tiger players, scored a goal on a shot that never left the ice. The tally was made after ten minutes of play. Kuhn made the sixth goal for Princeton, and Baker was responsible for the seventh. The last point was shot by Klinger. Not a player was ruled out or warned during the second period.

The line-up follows: Princeton (8): Position. St. Paul's (7): Winants, Forward; Schell, Goal; Peacock, Forward; Schell, Goal; Emmons, Forward; Sharpless, Forward; Kuhn, Forward; Henriques, Forward; Peacock, Forward; W. W. Morgan, Forward; Klinger, Forward; B. W. W. Morgan, Forward.

Substitutes: Young for Gould, Princeton; Referee—Russell, Hockey Club; Assistant Referee—H. Harmon, St. Paul's; Goal umpires—H. Wall, St. Paul's, and J. Fortescue, Princeton; Timers—G. F. Stephens, Crescent A. C., and W. J. Croker, Vandergrift.

Goalie—First period: Baker, 4-5; Baker, 11-17; Baker, 15-22; Sharpless, 17-21; Baker, 18-25; Second period: Peacock, 1-12; Klinger, 13-18; Baker, 19-20, and Klinger, 19-20.

TO PASS ON LAWN TENNIS RANKINGS

National Association Committee to Present New Amateur Rule at Meeting.

Members of the executive committee of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association will pass upon the ranking list and take joint action with the committee upon the framing of a new amateur status and a service rule at a meeting to be held to-night at the Waldorf-Astoria. The ranking list of one hundred players will be issued for publication in the newspapers on Sunday.

The rating of the players for the eventful season just closed has created considerable discussion. Miles E. Charlock, of the Crescent Athletic Club, the chairman of the committee, stated yesterday that he regarded the findings of the committee the most comprehensive that have ever been worked out. Charles M. Bull, Jr., of the Crescent Athletic Club, and George T. Adee, of the Country Club of Westchester, have so scientifically charted the results that the ratings afford little opportunity for dispute.

The committee on the amateur rule, which includes Palmer E. Freeling, of Boston, chairman; Dwight F. Davis, of St. Louis; Isaac W. Lewis, of Philadelphia; George Peabody Gardner, Jr., of Boston; and Robert Le Roy, of New York, will debate the proposed rule which it will have with the members of the executive committee. It is understood that the new amateur rule meets the requirements of the all-powerful European federation on the point of a player accepting expense money for playing in a tournament.

Harold H. Hackett, the chairman of the committee entrusted with the drafting of a new service rule, together with Karl H. Behr and William J. Clothier, will also report.

From the present indications the meeting promises to bring together every officer of the association, the list including Robert D. Wrenn, president; Henry W. Slocum, vice-president; A. L. Hoskins, secretary; and Richard Stevens, treasurer. The executive committee consists of Palmer E. Freabrey, Boston; E. F. Torrey, Clinton; F. G. Colston, Baltimore; R. W. Holterhoff, Cincinnati; L. D. Scott, Atlanta; J. H. Waldner, Chicago; W. C. Burton, Minneapolis; E. L. Scott, Dallas; O. J. Salisbury, Salt Lake City; Dr. Sumner Hardy, San Francisco, and the delegates at large—W. A. Larned and R. D. Craig, New York; W. J. Clothier and Craik Biddle, Philadelphia; George T. Adee, New York, and J. O. Ames, Providence.

WOMEN AT ODDS OVER SAFETY PLAN

Miss Strauss Refuses To Be Led by Mere Men in Speed Crusade.

SHE SEES RAP AT SUFFRAGE CAUSE

Meeting Is Held, However, and Work Outlined to Halt Reckless Driving.

The Safety First Committee, which is cheerfully setting out to control joy riders, auto mail trucks, fire engines, trolley cars, motorcycles, motor stages, railway engines on unguarded tracks and other menaces to life and limb, was nearly thrown out of gear yesterday by an unexpected collision with Miss Henrietta Strauss, suffragist.

Miss Strauss did some spirited talking at the conference which the committee held at the Hotel Astor in the afternoon. She did a lot more talking in the hall outside the room where the committee was meeting. The gist of her remarks was that, whereas Mrs. Robert Francis Cartwright, chairman of the public safety committee of the New York City Federation of Women's Clubs, appeared to be willing to take a back seat to the men on the Safety First Committee, she (Miss Strauss) was not.

"I am a suffragist," said Miss Strauss (this was outside, to some stray men from the meeting), "and I do not think that women should ever accept a place second to men. It vexes me to find that Mrs. Cartwright is ready to do so. Of course, she is an anti-suffragist."

Miss Strauss explained that she began the agitation for protection against reckless drivers, etc., and she was quite surprised that she had not been appointed a member of the committee from the women's clubs to co-operate with the Safety First Committee.

"Having been until recently recording secretary of the City Federation of Women's Clubs," she said, "I am insulted at not being consulted."

Meanwhile Mrs. Cartwright, inside the committee room, was making her position clear to reporters and male members of the committee.

"I feel that women have an honorable place in this work," she said. "And I do not think that suffragists are going to get the vote or anything else in the way of some of them go at it. I am a vice-chairman on the Safety First Committee, and that is all I desire, for I want it distinctly understood that while I feel myself better than men in many ways, I have not as much brains as they have."

Miss Cartwright said she supposed that Mrs. Strauss was annoyed because she, Mrs. Cartwright, has not made her secretary of the "Fed's" public safety committee.

"It is too bad to bring personal matters into this great cause," she observed. "The meeting was rather a small one, though Mrs. A. M. Palmer, President of the Safety First, who is an active member of the other safety committee, the one formed by Miss Edith Reifferts, kindly constituted herself 'barker' for the affair and sat by the elevator around the corner, directing people that way."

"Do go to that poor safety meeting in there," she told one and all. "They will welcome you with open arms. Our organization? Oh, yes, we'll have a meeting at the Berkeley to-night."

Timothy Healy, representing the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen, enlivened the conference with some remarks. The first thing to do, he said, was to "sit down hard on the joy riders." The chairman of the conference said afterward that when he asked Mr. Healy to speak he forgot that he has just been elected coroner.

Among the societies represented were the Fifth Avenue Automobile Engineers, the Travel Club, the National Civic Federation, the Bureau of Municipal Reform and the Lackawanna Railroad, the Brooklyn Rapid Transit System, the Fifth Avenue Coach Company and other transportation companies also took part.

Some of the speakers were Carl Hanson, W. C. Wilson, of the Lackawanna, and W. D. Benedict. The committee will elect at once an executive committee of twenty-one members, and enter upon a campaign of education through the schools, advertisements in street cars, theatre lobbies and other places and public meetings.

OUTLINES ROWING POLICY OF YALE

Armstrong To Be in Charge—Aids to Fit Stroke to Material on Hand.

New Haven, Dec. 18.—Official announcement was made at Yale today of the policy to be followed by the recently selected triumvirate of crew coaches. Richard Armstrong, '35, S, who was appointed as resident graduate in charge of rowing, "will act largely as an organizer, diplomat, and probably will not take an active part in the coaching. His position will be that of a coach rather than an active coach. The actual coaching will be done by Guy Nickalls, the English coach, assisted by C. F. Gianinni, of New York."

In this connection it is explained that Nickalls, with Gianinni, believes in fitting the stroke to the material in hand, rather than in attempting to teach something impossible, and is therefore "prejudiced in favor of the English stroke."

The belief is expressed that the combination will prove vastly superior to any single coach, as it will combine "the advantages of hyperprofessional experience with graduate control."

Cathedral College Five Winner

The Cathedral College defeated St. Peter's College on the latter's court in Jersey City yesterday by a score of 30 to 15.

The New York five held an advantage of 15 to 7 at the end of the first half, and easily increased it in the second. Breen and Boyle each shot four field goals, while the former also scored five foul baskets.

The line-up follows: CATHEDRAL: ST. PETER'S: F. G. P. P. Garrett, F. G. P. P. Lee, F. G. P. P. Norton, F. G. P. P. Breen, F. G. P. P. O'Sullivan, F. G. P. P. O'Sullivan, F. G. P. P. Murphy, F. G. P. P. Total—12 4 20 Total—12 4 11 Referee—Earl, St. Peter's. Time—Halves of fifteen minutes.

BROOKLYN SOCCER ELEVEN PENALIZED

Central Y. M. C. A. Played an Eligible and Loses Two Points in Standing.

J. W. MacPhee, secretary of the Field Club Soccer League of New York and New Jersey, made public yesterday the decision of the executive committee to penalize the team which represents the Central Young Men's Christian Association of Brooklyn for playing a member who was ineligible under the rules of the league.

The player in question was Frank G. Danielson, at one time a star for Manual Training High School, of Brooklyn, later a player for the Brooklyn Football Club, last season and part of this with the Centrals and now in Sweden.

It appears that Danielson also played last season with the Jersey Athletic Club, of Jersey City, which belongs to the National League, and signed a professional blank. This duly came to the attention of the Field Soccer League, but upon being faxed with it he maintained that he had signed as an amateur, but on a professional form. He had erased the word, professional, so he said, but evidently he was mistaken, because the form has been unearthed and shows that no change was made.

The Centrals played him in good faith, as was shown to the satisfaction of the league committee. Nevertheless, according to the secretary, the matter could not be ignored and a penalty had to be imposed. Danielson played in five of the games, but under the lenientness the league was disposed to be lenient and was content to deduct two points from the Centrals' total.

Last week the Centrals dropped to second place with 16 points, the Crescents going into first with 17 points. Deducting two points as penalty, the Centrals now have a total of only 14 points, with three more games to play, while the Crescents, who have to meet Richmond County twice, have only two games left to play. In case the Crescents should succeed in winning both of these they will have a total of 21 points and be safe against pursuit.

INSURES WRIST IN BOUT

Carroll Hurt in First Round of Amateur Boxing Tourney.

Two of the final bouts in the amateur boxing tournament at New York Athletic Club, in its gymnasium, last night were of short duration. One terminated because of an accident and the other because the humble gladiator conceded that he had enough.

G. Carroll, of the Ozanam A. A., battling a home in his right wrist while he defended a home in the 198-pound A. C., in the final of the 198-pound class. He was unable to continue after the first round.

In the semi-final Carroll beat a Tartar from Boston, L. C. Boydick, of the Walnut Athletic Club. It was a slashing contest, and it had Louis Mann, the noted Broadway theatrical star who wears collars that can fit him twice, applauding like he is applauded after each act.
