

PICK 300 TALESMEN FOR BECKER TRIAL

Last 100 Chosen—Names Rosenthal and Becker Both on List.

WHITMAN SUBPENAS PEOPLE'S WITNESSES

Won't Discuss Rumored Defence Fund—Manton Calls It Silly—Begin Case Wednesday.

The drawing of the last hundred names on the special panel of 300 talesmen from which the jury for the second trial of Charles Becker will be selected was completed yesterday by Thomas W. Allison, Commissioner of Jurors.

Several of the men drawn are bankers and brokers, while a diversity of other occupations and professions are represented. There is one farmer, one student, a bird importer, several artists, engineers, architects, merchants, publishers, editors and "writers."

Becker's second trial begins before Justice Seabury, in the Criminal Branch of the Supreme Court, Wednesday. The first trial covered a period of seventeen days, from October 7 to 24, 1912. It took three court days and part of the fourth to fill the jury box.

Only one juror was selected the first day. Justice Goff held court until 10:40 p. m. the second day when he adjourned. It took all the third day to choose two jurors as substitutes for two who were withdrawn.

Whitman Subpenas Witnesses. District Attorney Whitman sent out subpoenas yesterday for all the people named as witnesses for the second trial.

Some of the more prominent names which appear on the special panel list of 300 members, are the following: George G. Brainerd, insurance, 50 John st.; Charles L. Baugher, Jr., secretary, 215 Fifth st.; Leopold B. W. Wadsworth, 215 Fourth st.; Lee B. Davis, lawyer for Altmann, 54th st. and Fifth av.; Ancklman, 100 West 10th st.; and Jacob S. Rosenthal, of 209 West 95th st.

Commissioner and a former police inspector were coupled with the report. Most of Becker's former friends in the Police Department are understood to have deserted him since he was convicted, and his agents, according to the report, have threatened that Becker would take the witness stand and expose their connection with gambling and other graft unless they come to his assistance.

Becker's friends say that he is in straits financially, and that he couldn't raise $20,000 in cash if he should realize upon all his present worldly possessions. The expense of his first trial and his fight afterward for a new trial practically wiped him out, it was said.

MAHONEY TRIED TO MURDER CARNEGIE

"Almost Got Him, Too," Says Man Who Aimed at Mayor and Hit Polk.

WOULD-BE SLAYER DECLARED INSANE

Commissioner's Verdict Ready, and Demented Prisoner Will Be Sent to Matteawan.

Michael P. Mahoney, who in an attempt to shoot Mayor Mitchell April 7 wounded Corporation Counsel Polk, was pronounced insane yesterday by the Insanity Commission that has had him under examination for the last week.

It developed in the examination yesterday that Mahoney once tried to kill Andrew Carnegie, but was prevented from carrying out his design. This fact was disclosed by Dr. M. S. Gregory, of the psychopathic ward at Bellevue Hospital, who made an examination of Mahoney several days ago in the Tombs.

"Don't talk that way. Tell my side of the story," Mahoney shouted as Dr. Gregory was testifying.

"That's my business," Mahoney snapped back. Later he added: "I almost got him."

It required several attendants to restrain Mahoney, who was enraged because he was not allowed to make running comments on Dr. Gregory's testimony. He said he believed every one present to be a member of the Masons.

SENDS CHECK FOR $845,478 Pennsylvania Railroad One of First to Pay Taxes.

Although they are not due until to-day, payments for taxes on personal and real property began to come in to the Receiver of Taxes yesterday. Some of the large taxpayers, taking advantage of the rebate allowed, paid for the entire year, although only taxes for the first six months are due.

The largest check was received from the Pennsylvania Railroad. It included the franchise as well as the realty tax and was for $845,478. The next largest payment was from the estate of William Waldorf Astor. It was $507,467. George Ehrhart paid $229,557, and the estate of Amos R. Enos $109,000.

TOT FALLS DOWN CHIMNEY Wonders How Santa Could Get In and Climb to Roof.

Burlington, N. J. April 30.—Looking at a new house under construction near his home, four-year-old James O'Grady wondered how Santa Claus and a pack of toys could get through so small a chimney as that on the new building.

The little fellow, evading the workmen, climbed to the roof of the new house to investigate. He was peering down the chimney, when he lost his balance and fell in head first.

Carpenters heard his cries just before he plunged through the eaves into an open fireplace on the lower floor. He was unconscious from concussion of the brain, and his condition is critical.

AMERICAN A SUICIDE IN LONDON HOTEL

Henry C. Fitzgerald, Long an Expatriate, Was Knoken as "Major."

London, April 30.—An American, Henry C. Fitzgerald, who had lived abroad for ten years and was known as "Major," shot himself in the head in the Charing Cross Hotel to-day, and died from his wound shortly after he had been removed to a hospital.

Fitzgerald, who was about fifty years old, and who had always dressed and lived well, spent the last year in France. He arrived in London on Tuesday and registered at the hotel, together with an English friend, William Merant, who to-day declared that he thought Fitzgerald's suicide was the result of financial difficulties.

The antecedents and the claim to the rank of major of Fitzgerald are unknown. An inquest is to be held on Friday.

WARDEN CLANCY TO STICK TO SING SING

Reconsiders Resignation When Tammany Pressure Is Removed.

HIS REFORMS TO BE THOROUGHLY TESTED

Superintendent of Prisons Believes It His Duty to Continue in Office.

James M. Clancy, the warden of Sing Sing Prison, who tendered his resignation two months ago, to take effect today, has been prevailed upon to reconsider his decision. It is regarded as likely that he will remain in office until the close of Governor Glynn's administration.

This, at least, was the opinion of the philanthropists interested in prison reform work when they learned last night that Superintendent of Prisons Riley had issued a statement in which he said that Clancy ought to continue as Sing Sing head until certain reforms instituted by the warden had been thoroughly tested.

Clancy's sudden change of mind, as those who are familiar with prison conditions in this state, means but one thing, that he and the reformers behind him have won their first skirmish in the war on the Tammany-controlled prison system.

Those who know the warden stated last night that the only consideration that could have induced him to stay was assurance that he would not be hampered by the Westchester wing of Tammany Hall in his efforts to better conditions at Sing Sing.

It was because of this interference that he sent in his resignation. His refusal to take dictation from Tammany and allies was a sore spot in the side of adherents of the 14th street organization and they began to plot to get him out.

Before word came from Albany last night that Clancy was going to remain, O. F. Lewis, secretary of the Prison Association of New York, of which both Greer and other leading citizens of the state are members, said:

"If Governor Glynn continues the appointment of Mr. Clancy he will keep office a man who has done his duty fully."

In an interview in Albany last night Superintendent Riley said:

"I think it is his duty to remain until certain reforms and matters of discipline that he instituted are definitely settled."
