The succeeding happenings are subject to dispute. If a rooter lived in New York he would undoubtedly say that Rucker use himself by asserting that did not know what was expected of plicit directions, even taking the trouble stand into which he might drive the ball. Hickory Johnson fanned.

Nap Rucker looked a bit crestfallen he failed to shut out the Giants, but, as he explained after the game, the stunt of whitewashing McGraw's men is being overdone. Anyway, shut-outs bring no socks, cigars or fine cut plug, as home uns do, although it must be admitted that they make a nice display in a pitch-
