Washington and Jefferson Passing Attack a Big Shock.

TEAM AFFECTED BY LOSS OF BRICKLEY

Crimson Scrapes Through by a Point by Rally in the Final Period.

Harvard, without the services of the mighty Charles E. Brickley, who was expected to make an appearance yesterday, was hard pressed to defeat the first fighting Washington and Jefferson eleven in the Stadium. Lehigh, although tucked under by a score of 20 to 3, gave Yale a merry battle of it before striking her colors, while Princeton, fought to a standstill, was just able to come out Syracuse, Pennsylvania, after her defeat of last week, was held to a scoreless tie by Lafayette.

Pittsburgh justified its victory over Cornell by tearing into the Navy eleven and winning by a score of 13 to 6 after leading throughout. The Cornell eleven found cause for jubilation for "the bird team" rose from the ashes of defeat by Pittsburgh and Colgate to wallop the Carlisle Indians. A surprise was sprung when Amherst fought Brown to a scoreless tie, and when Union defeated Western, New York University defeated Hamilton, the Army beat Rutgers, and Colgate defeated Massachusetts Agricultural College.

SCORELESS TIE ON QUAKER GRIDIRON

Pennsylvania Gains More Ground than Lafayette, but to No Avail.

Philadelphia, Oct. 10.—Although held to a 9 to 9 score today by Lafayette, the University of Pennsylvania football team played much better football than at any time this season. Only once did the Lafayette team make a first down. That was in the last period, and even then the visitors couldn't rush the ball into their own territory. Pennsylvania on the other hand had the ball within striking distance of Lafayette's goal five times, twice within the 15-yard line. But penalties and mistakes in signals proved fatal.

At the beginning of the game the Quakers got the ball through a fumble on Lafayette's 65-yard line. In seven plays the ball was rushed inside the 15-yard line. Then the Quakers were set back five yards for offense, and next a forward pass hit the ground. Rushing tactics failed and Matthews was called in to try for a goal from field, but the kick was blocked.

In the second quarter Pennsylvania carried the ball straight down the field from its 23-yard line by magnificent running on fake kicks and double passes by Tucker and Vreeland. A fumble was made on the 10-yard line, but the 10-yard line although recovered, cost the Quakers nine yards. Then a forward pass, which was tried to make up this distance, went to Lafayette.

The Quakers got another chance in the third period when they fumbled Avery's punt out of bounds and Harris recovered the ball for the Red and Blue on Lafayette's 28-yard line. But mistakes and forward passes, which refused to go right, made a short kick necessary. It was again Lafayette's ball.

MICHIGAN VICTOR OVER VANDERBILT

Ann Arbor Eleven Piles Up Good Score Against Southern Team.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 10.—Playing through a rainstorm, which was responsible for fumbles galore, the Michigan eleven of the University of Michigan defeated Vanderbilt here today by a score of 23 to 3. The Southerners, handicapped by a green backfield, put up a fierce fight, especially during the last half. The game was rough and tumbled.

During the last period play was halted while Captain Rainford, of Michigan, protested against alleged unfair tactics by Cody, of Vanderbilt. The official, however, decided Cody had not committed any act for which he should be removed. A few moments later a substitute replaced the aggressive tackle.

Maubetsch, of Michigan, and Captain Sikes, of Vanderbilt, were the powerful ground gainers. The former was worked overtime, and probably advanced the pigskin more than any other player. Sikes, after recovering Michigan fumbles, kept the score down. On four occasions the ball dropped from a Michigan man's arms when he was tearing toward a touchdown.

PRINCETON TRIUMPHS TO BEAT SYRACUSE

Fumbles and Intercepted Forward Passes Prove Costly to Losers.

THROW AWAY FIVE CHANCES TO SCORE

Tigers, However, Show Considerable Improvement Over Earlier Games of Season.

(By Telegraph to The Tribune.) Princeton, N. J., Oct. 10.—None of the possible thrills of modern football were omitted on Unity Field this afternoon, when Princeton defeated Syracuse by a score of 12 to 7. Again the Tigers just managed to get through by the narrowest margin and fight of a team that the statistics prove to have been the aggressor for the greater part of the game.

Nothing but sheer determination not to give up at the darkest moments and the serious blunders of opponents saved Princeton from defeat, for Syracuse gained more than twice as much ground as the Tigers and put a total of only 70 yards. The visitors gained 293 yards by rushing, to Princeton's 103.

Plays that might be called luck by some and watchfulness by others carried the ball back and forth from one end of the field to the other in jumps, keeping both players and spectators at the utmost pitch of uncertainty to the last whistle.

Syracuse outdistanced Princeton in the gains made by forward passes by 89 yards to 63, but intercepted forward passes and fumbles decided the game, and the Tigers held a decided advantage in just those things.

Five times Syracuse rushed the ball to the danger point in Princeton's territory, only to be repulsed by having a pass intercepted. This happened to Princeton twice.

Syracuse lost the ball in her own territory twice in fumbles, which a Tiger gathered in, while Princeton was handicapped once in this way. Two of Princeton's scores started from these recovered fumbles and the Orange players failed to make the opportunity count because of an intercepted pass on the 15-yard line.

Syracuse would have had little trouble in trouncing the Tigers, could it have faced this season the Tiger team that they met in Princeton. Against a far stronger team than they had faced this season the Tiger team was more around by rushing than against the weaker teams, and though results do not show it, they showed more fight and better form.

The spot in the line through which the Syracuse players forced most of their gains was apparently weakened by the style of play to which the center of the Tiger line is trained.

The tackles and guards played some distance apart, affording a chance for a quick-starting interference, and Wilkinson tore through time after time. He easily defeated the visitors' play, with Kingsley and Seymour good seconds.

Ames played his first game at quarter for Princeton, and showed his plays with good judgment, but he was not nearly so effective in running back kicks or intercepted passes as any of the other quarterbacks who have been used.

Tibbitt played for only a small part of the last period, but made a splendid interception on his own 23-yard line, which he returned to the 10-yard line, and tossed the ball to the next play and tossed the ball to the Syracuse man when he was tackled, a score would probably have resulted.

RUTGERS ALMOST A MATCH FOR ARMY

Holds Cadets Until Near End, When Strong Attack Forces 2 Touchdowns.

(By Telegraph to The Tribune.) West Point, N. Y., Oct. 10.—Foster Sanford's Rutgers team proved a latet for the Army today, the cadets finally winning by a score of 13 to 0, but only after one of the hardest fights that was ever held in the "Plains."

Rutgers presented a team which outweighed the Army and held the cadets at bay until the third quarter. Hodgson's line kicking work kept the Rutgers men away from the Army goal during the early periods, but until the second half opened the play was all in West Point territory.

The Army had trouble in solving Sanford's Rutgers team, which tried to start an Nash and Tallman were used with telling effect until the Army sized up the play. After that the Army secondary defense broke up the play time and again and Rutgers settled back to a defensive game which tried the Army's attack to the limit.

Britton's alertness in following the ball counted in the third quarter, when he got down under one of Hodgson's punts which Archer muffed on the Rutgers 10-yard line, falling on the oval for the Army. Benedict took it over in two line plunges for the touchdown, but failed to kick the goal.

The second score came soon afterward, when Lambertson scooped up the fumble of one of the Rutgers players and went to the 25 before being stopped. A pass from Law to Higley went to the 4-yard mark, and from there Ames went through on the fourth down for a touchdown. Law failed to kick the goal.

Syracuse worked the ball back into the Tiger grounds, and Wilkinson attempted a goal from placement on the 45-yard line. It hit the post, but did not go over the bar, and Law punted out.

DARTMOUTH ELEVEN CATCHES A TARTAR

Williams Holds Green Team in Check Till Final Period.

(By Telegraph to The Tribune.) Williamstown, Mass., Oct. 10.—Williams put up a fine exhibition against the powerful Dartmouth team on Weston Field this afternoon. Although Dartmouth finally won by a score of 21 to 3, it was unable to overcome the purple team until the beginning of the fourth period.

Williams led in the scoring until the final period. Toward the end of the first half a 55-yard punt by Eels and an end run by Toolan for 24 yards brought the touchdowns, the second coming after Cannon had gone through right tackle for twenty yards. Pudrith kicked the goals.

In the final period, the Williams line slightly weakened and the strong trio of Dartmouth ploughed through the tackle positions at will. Curtis scored in the first touchdown, the second coming after Cannon had gone through right tackle for twenty yards. Pudrith kicked the goals.

WESLEYAN ELEVEN BEATEN BY UNION

Sole Touchdown Follows Jenkins's 48-Yard Run, After Fumble.

(By Telegraph to The Tribune.) Middletown, Conn., Oct. 10.—Union won its annual game, with Wesleyan on Andrus Field this afternoon by a score of 7 to 0, a fumble by Johnson, Wesleyan's right half, allowing Jenkins, right tackle for Union, to pick up the ball and run forty-eight yards for a touchdown. Girling kicked the goal.

Aside from this game was almost featureless, both sides constantly making an error in yardage for downs but once. The nearest Wesleyan got to the visitors' goal line was in the first period, when they lost the ball on the 14-yard line on an intercepted forward pass.

A short time before this Captain Kenan had missed a drop kick from the Union 27-yard line. Union tried two drop kicks and a goal from placement, but all three failed.

Captain Kenan of Wesleyan broke his collar bone during the first half and was taken out of the game at the end of the second period. His absence weakened the Wesleyan play considerably.

Union's expected line showing in open play was not much in evidence, the Wesleyan ends generally managing to hold the visitors' yard tracks. Girling had the better of the punting duel with Captain Kenan and Hingey, who later took his place. Girling, Jenkins and Hokers were the strongest of the eleven, but Captain Kenan, Talbot and Gordon excelled for Wesleyan.

During the rest of the quarter Cornell suffered heavily from penalties for fouls. The total penalties for Cornell were 75 yards against 15 for Carlisle.

By the beginning of the last quarter not one man who started the game for Cornell remained in the line-up. Apparently this had little effect on the strength of the eleven, for Shuler broke through Pratt from the 17-yard line for the last touchdown.

PITTSBURGH WINS FROM NAVY ELEVEN

Both Teams Make Good Use of Forward Pass in Lively Game.

(By Telegraph to The Tribune.) Annapolis, Md., Oct. 10.—The University of Pittsburgh won from the midshipmen here today by a score of 13 to 5. Both teams made good use of the forward pass, but honors were with the visitors.

Both teams made good use of the forward pass, and both had halfbacks who could make steady gains by means of line plunging. Pittsburgh, however, excelled in the fast running game. Alexander was put in the Navy's backfield during the latter part of the game, and was by far the most successful runner with the ball that the midshipmen used.

The Navy started with Felling, Blodgett and Harrison, all weighing upward of 180 pounds, in the backfield, and attempted to overpower the Pittsburgh line. In the first minutes of the game they were quite successful, but Blodgett's fumble on the 15-yard line gave the ball to the enemy, and Williamson made a mighty punt down the field.
