

DRAPER $870,000 FOR FREE LIBRARY

Widow of Noted Scholar
Benefits Many Local Institutions.

FUND FOR HARVARD IN HUSBAND'S MEMORY

Famous Collections to Public
While Relatives Share Well
in $2,000,000 Estate.

The will of Mrs. Mary Anna Palmer Draper, filed in the Surrogate's Court yesterday, disposes of about $2,000,000, of which $870,000 is left to public institutions, the largest beneficiary in the latter class being the New York Public Library, which receives $450,000 and engravings, prints, portraits and other articles. The next largest public bequest is $150,000 to Harvard University to create a fund to be known as the "Henry Draper Memorial Fund," in memory of Henry Draper, her husband, who occupied the chair of astronomy at Harvard University.

Mrs. Draper provided in her will that the income of $500,000 of the bequest to the New York Public Library was to be used to assist library employees who are ill or otherwise disabled. Another bequest of $200,000 to the same institution, the testatrix said, are to create the "John S. Billings Memorial Fund," "in grateful recognition of the services and character of John S. Billings," the late director of the library. Each book, print or pamphlet purchased from this fund is to have a bookplate showing that it was purchased out of this fund. Mrs. Draper also left the residue of her estate to the library, providing this residuary does not amount to more than $200,000. In case there is more than $200,000 in the residue, then out of the excess the New York Association for the Blind, Debs Ferry Hospital Association and the Debs Ferry Free Library are to receive $25,000 each. And if anything then remains Mrs. Draper provided it shall be divided into eight equal parts, of which Courtlandt Palmer, nephew, and Mary Ann Suydam, niece, are equal to receive three parts, and the New York Public Library the remaining two-eighths.

Mrs. Draper gave to the library all of her husband's diplomas, certificates and testimonials, a medal presented by the United States government, also engravings and coins, antique cylinders and seals and a table screen of antique Chinese carvings, all of which are said to have a great value. The collection also includes engravings, etchings, prints, charms, amulets and other articles relating to religion, history and superstition.

To the Metropolitan Museum of Art Mrs. Draper left two large imperial Chinese yellow vases and the contents of her Empire drawing room, consisting of furniture, tapestries and miniatures and other decorative objects. In this collection are included two mosaic pictures and an antique opalescent glass from Syria. The American Museum of Natural History has the choice of the museum heads, those not chosen by the museum to go to Dr. John W. Draper Maury. Other public bequests in the will are: To Smithsonian Institution, $25,000; Polytechnic Hospital, $50,000 and $25,000 each to Children's Aid Society, Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, Skin and Cancer Hospital and the laboratory of surgical research of New York University.

The last clause of the will of Mrs. Draper disposes of all her silver not otherwise bequeathed, her wine and $40,000 to some unnamed beneficiary to be indicated in a letter which the testatrix said she would leave for the executor.

The largest private bequest made by Mrs. Draper was $300,000 to her niece, Mary Ann Suydam Palmer, and a similar amount to her nephew, Courtlandt Palmer. Miss Mary Ingersoll, her secretary, receives $10,000. She created a trust fund of $100,000, the income for life to go to Mrs. Charles B. Palmer, the widow of Charles P. Palmer, a brother of the testatrix, and on the death of the life tenant the trust fund goes into the residue. Mrs. Draper also liberally remembered numerous other relatives and friends.

George W. Wickesham, former Attorney General of the United States, and Edward J. Hancy are the executors of the will.

VETERAN LEGION ELECTS

Installation To Be Followed by Campfire and Smoker.

Encampment 38, Union Veteran Legion, Brooklyn, has elected these officers for 1915: Jeremiah T. Lockwood, colonel; Wilders Verner, lieutenant colonel; John J. Fagan, major; Robert B. McCully, chaplain; William Patton Griffith, quartermaster; M. S. Roberts, M. D., surgeon; Henry C. Rogers, officer of the day; John J. Sheridan, officer of the guard; and J. J. Tuttle, treasurer for three years.

These officers will be installed at the headquarters on January 20 by General Benjamin N. Woodruff, former adjutant general, assisted by General Edward Donnelly, of Jersey City, and Morgan L. Bogart, former adjutant general. A smoker and campfire will follow.

MRS. BRECK THOUGHT TO BE IN KENTUCKY

Chicago Man Writes Apathia
Victim, Answering Her Description, Is Held There.

Orange, N. J., Dec. 19.—Renewed hope that Mrs. Walter W. Breck, who disappeared fifteen days ago, may be in care of a family in Kentucky was aroused to-day, when Police Chief O'Neill of East Orange, turned over to her family a letter he received from Chicago.

Chief O'Neill was so impressed that he talked to the sender of the letter by telephone and satisfied himself he was not dealing with a crank, but with a man who believed he might be able to shed light on the mystery.

The writer was Edward Edwards, associated with the steward's department of the Hotel La Salle, Chicago. He read a Kentucky paper which stated that in a small town, on December 12 or 13, a woman suffering from loss of memory had appeared among the townspeople. She mentioned only the names of places in the East, and a family took her in and cared for her. The Kentucky authorities will be communicated with.

Maternity Attire
Dresses, Coats, Suits, Skirts, Corsets
Please good outlines during this period. Ready to wear or made to measure at very moderate price.
"Bookie" "M" made out of town fees.
LANE BRYANT, 48 West 39th St., N. Y.

HONEYMOON IN SLEIGH

Morris Park Couple Celebrate
Golden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Smith, of 115 South Elm st., Morris Park, Queens, have been married fifty years to-day, but they decided to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary yesterday, so that those who wished to dance might not have to break the Sabbath.

Mrs. Smith was unable to dance or to take any active part in the festivities because of an injury she received some weeks ago, when she sustained a fall. Her spirit is as young as ever, however.

The bride of fifty years was Miss Abbie A. Jones, and the wedding took place at Coldspring Harbor, where she lived. The wedding journey was made in a sleigh drawn by four horses.

PRIEST GETS PROMOTION

Father Blaber To Be Rector of Big Brooklyn Parish.

East Hampton, Long Island, Dec. 19.—The Rev. Louis M. Blaber, for years rector of the Church of St. Philomena here, will become to-morrow rector of the large parish of St. Ambrose, on Tompkins av., Brooklyn, succeeding the late Father Thomas E. McGreene.

Father Blaber came here from St. Agnes' Church, in Hoyt st., Brooklyn, where he had been assistant to Monsignor Duffy. He endeavored himself his parishioners in many ways, and his departure is regretted by the people of East Hampton.

The rectorship of St. Philomena parish will be assumed to-morrow by the Rev. John Geary, who has been associate rector of the Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel, Putnam av., Brooklyn.

PLEADS FOR FAIR PLAY FOR POLICE

First Deputy at City Club
Luncheon Urges a System of Probation.

The discussion at the second Saturday luncheon of the City Club yesterday was on the subject of the Police Department. Commissioner Woods was expected to speak, but was unable to attend. He sent three of his deputies, Leon G. Godley, Lawrence B. Dunham and Edgar V. O'Daniel, in his place.

First Deputy Commissioner Godley made a strong plea for fair play for policemen, not only on the part of the general public, but also from the magistrates and judges in court cases. "All the policeman wants is fair play," said Mr. Godley. "He doesn't mind being punished when he has done wrong, but he wants to see the other fellow punished who has done wrong, too. If the courts don't stand behind the policeman they become discouraged. They go out and do their work honestly and well, and often come into court with a clear case, and the case is thrown out. The policeman gets to the point where he says, 'Oh, what's the use?' That is one of the contributing causes of graft."

Commissioner Godley said there was too much legislation and too many rules in the Police Department. He said that he had found when he sat as a trial commissioner the men to whom he had been lenient appreciated the kindness and rarely erred again. He recommended a system of probation for the offenders and said that the chances of promotion should be bettered.

Clement J. Driscoll, former Deputy Police Commissioner, said that the gangmen would never be eliminated from the city until a Police Commissioner was permitted to hold office long enough to overcome the political influences that stood back of the gangmen in the districts in which they lived and thrived. The efficiency which the public wanted in the Police Department would never be obtained, he said, unless a Police Commissioner was kept in office long enough to formulate and carry out definite and progressive policies of police administration.

A Police Commissioner barely had time to inaugurate a fixed policy, when he went out of office and his successor came in with entirely different points of view, he said.

Dr. Woods Hutchinson and John A. Kingsbury, Commissioner of Public Charities, were among the other speakers. Frederick H. Whitin, chairman of the club's committee on police, presided.

CAMP FIRERS DINE IN IMITATION WOOD

Discard Electricity for Candles,
Eat Off Tin Plates and Tell
Yarns of Hunt.

Amid typical camp life surroundings the Camp Fire Club had its annual dinner last night in the Casca ballroom of the Hotel Baltimore. About 400 members and friends sat down.

The guests, the majority of whom wore buskins, occupied seats at pine top tables, lighted by candles stuck in the center. The menu, composed of dishes made in true camp fire style, was served on tin and brought in by waiters dressed as campers.

Other features to give camp life atmosphere were decorations of sagebrush, animal skins, bark and bay trees, transforming the ballroom into a miniature woodland.

Julius Seymour acted as toastmaster. Dr. Woods Hutchinson talked on camp hygiene, camp surgery and camp cookery. Jack Trumbull, who has a record as one of the greatest big game hunters in the country, showed 5,000 feet of motion pictures of mountain and ranch life, and gave a talk on life and sport in the Rockies. Colonel Farrer Stranahan told stories of French-Canadian hunters.

There was also an interesting exhibition of talking motion pictures.

FLUSHING TO GRILL P. S. C.

Citizens Get Rid of Supreme Court in Railway Fight.

Residents of Flushing carried their fight to obtain better accommodations on the lines of the New York & Queens County Railway Company to the Supreme Court in New York County yesterday, where Attorney John Hollister, Jr., obtained a writ from Justice Newberger directing the members of the Public Service Commission to answer before Justice Gieriech Tuesday.

The order directs every member of the Public Service Commission in this city to appear and show cause why an order issued by the commission on November 20 should not be carried into effect Friday, but the company obtained a stay and asked that it be given until February and that the number of additional cars which must be operated be reduced to twenty.

The Flushing residents assert that the Public Service Commission has no right to stay or modify an order once issued without a public hearing.

INDIAN WILL SING AT TREE OF LIGHT

Oskenton's Big Bass to Help on Christmas
Eve in Square.

Oskenton, the "neutral singer," a full-blooded Mohawk Indian, will take the leading singing part, dressed in the feathered regalia of his tribe, at the ceremonies around the eighty-foot Christmas tree in Madison Square Christmas Eve.

This year will mark the third time the Tree of Light has been erected and the ceremonies in connection with it have been held in Madison Square. All the arrangements are in the hands of an anonymous committee, and even to the committee most of the contributors are unknown.

"We wanted to be as neutral as we could," the chairman of the committee said yesterday in announcing the full plans, "and we thought a North American Indian was about as neutral a person as we could find. Oskenton has a bass voice of wonderful quality. He will sing an Indian song, and then 'Joy, Brothers, Joy,' written for the occasion by Arthur Farwell."

The call will summon the great volunteer chorus held in waiting in Dr. Parkhurst's church. The four trumpeters, dressed in white and gold, will lead the procession.

The chorus will be swelled by members of the St. Cecilia Society, in charge of Victor Harris, who will lead the entire chorus; the Singers' Society, under Frank Hastings; the Oratorio Society, under Louis Koennenich; the Metropolitan Life Glee Club, under Mr. Adams; and, in addition, every church in the city has been asked to send choristers.

The chorus will sing carols for half an hour. Then will come the reces-

sional, followed by the Indian "neutral singer."

From 7 until 9 o'clock there will be an intermission. At 9 a second fanfare of trumpets will be sounded, and be followed by a band concert until 10.

From that hour until 11, the Negro Choral Society of New York will give a concert and from 11 until midnight Oskenton will lead the crowd in singing well known airs.

The committee has invited the Salvation Army to give an evening of music Monday, December 28. The army chorus will be dressed in Santa Claus costumes. New Year's Eve, from 11 to 12 o'clock, friends of Jacob Riis will sing in his memory, and in token of the fact that he started the same singing New Year's celebration two years ago. In case of rain the Christmas Eve singing will be held in Dr. Parkhurst's church.

According to the programme announced yesterday, the exercises will begin at 6:30 p. m. with a fanfare of trumpets, giving the Parsifal call. At the same time the star on the tree will burst into light.

The call will summon the great volunteer chorus held in waiting in Dr. Parkhurst's church. The four trumpeters, dressed in white and gold, will lead the procession.

The chorus will be swelled by members of the St. Cecilia Society, in charge of Victor Harris, who will lead the entire chorus; the Singers' Society, under Frank Hastings; the Oratorio Society, under Louis Koennenich; the Metropolitan Life Glee Club, under Mr. Adams; and, in addition, every church in the city has been asked to send choristers.

The chorus will sing carols for half an hour. Then will come the reces-

sional, followed by the Indian "neutral singer."

From 7 until 9 o'clock there will be an intermission. At 9 a second fanfare of trumpets will be sounded, and be followed by a band concert until 10.

From that hour until 11, the Negro Choral Society of New York will give a concert and from 11 until midnight Oskenton will lead the crowd in singing well known airs.

The committee has invited the Salvation Army to give an evening of music Monday, December 28. The army chorus will be dressed in Santa Claus costumes. New Year's Eve, from 11 to 12 o'clock, friends of Jacob Riis will sing in his memory, and in token of the fact that he started the same singing New Year's celebration two years ago. In case of rain the Christmas Eve singing will be held in Dr. Parkhurst's church.

According to the programme announced yesterday, the exercises will begin at 6:30 p. m. with a fanfare of trumpets, giving the Parsifal call. At the same time the star on the tree will burst into light.

The call will summon the great volunteer chorus held in waiting in Dr. Parkhurst's church. The four trumpeters, dressed in white and gold, will lead the procession.

The chorus will be swelled by members of the St. Cecilia Society, in charge of Victor Harris, who will lead the entire chorus; the Singers' Society, under Frank Hastings; the Oratorio Society, under Louis Koennenich; the Metropolitan Life Glee Club, under Mr. Adams; and, in addition, every church in the city has been asked to send choristers.

The chorus will sing carols for half an hour. Then will come the reces-

sional, followed by the Indian "neutral singer."

From 7 until 9 o'clock there will be an intermission. At 9 a second fanfare of trumpets will be sounded, and be followed by a band concert until 10.

From that hour until 11, the Negro Choral Society of New York will give a concert and from 11 until midnight Oskenton will lead the crowd in singing well known airs.

The committee has invited the Salvation Army to give an evening of music Monday, December 28. The army chorus will be dressed in Santa Claus costumes. New Year's Eve, from 11 to 12 o'clock, friends of Jacob Riis will sing in his memory, and in token of the fact that he started the same singing New Year's celebration two years ago. In case of rain the Christmas Eve singing will be held in Dr. Parkhurst's church.

According to the programme announced yesterday, the exercises will begin at 6:30 p. m. with a fanfare of trumpets, giving the Parsifal call. At the same time the star on the tree will burst into light.

The call will summon the great volunteer chorus held in waiting in Dr. Parkhurst's church. The four trumpeters, dressed in white and gold, will lead the procession.

The chorus will be swelled by members of the St. Cecilia Society, in charge of Victor Harris, who will lead the entire chorus; the Singers' Society, under Frank Hastings; the Oratorio Society, under Louis Koennenich; the Metropolitan Life Glee Club, under Mr. Adams; and, in addition, every church in the city has been asked to send choristers.

The chorus will sing carols for half an hour. Then will come the reces-

REPUBLICANS PICK PAPER

Select "Flushing Times" as Official Organ for 1915.

Richmond Hill, Long Island, Dec. 19. During a lively discussion as to the naming of the official Republican paper for Queens Borough for the coming year, precipitated at a meeting of the Queens County Republican Committee in the Richmond Hill Republican Club's house here last evening, William F. Leonard, editor of "The Flushing Times," said that his paper had turned back $3,000 to the Republican party out of the $10,000 received from its designation last year.

"Well, the organization got only $1,000 of that money. I'd like to know where the rest of it went!" shouted one of the committeemen. The 219 delegates were all talking at once, but no one volunteered to inform the meeting of the whereabouts of the $2,000.

In spite of the arguments of George F. Vreeland, proprietor of "The Argus," of Rockaway Beach, that his paper should be named, "The Flushing Times" was selected as the official Republican organ by a vote of 111 to 108.

N. Y. U. to Help The Bronx.
Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University, have been elected to The Bronx Board of Trade. Chancellor Brown is anxious to widen the scope of the university's service to the city. He has placed at the disposal of the Bronx board an expert service that the university can offer.

Chancellor Elmer E. Brown and Dean Archibald L. Bouton of New York University,