

WANT TO PAY $2.50 FOR JOBS ON "L" UNION MEN SAY

John Doe Proceedings Will Sift Charges Involving Contractors.

ONE SALOONKEEPER GOT WORK FOR 50

Admits Many Have Joined His Club, but Denies He Tried to Coerce Any.

Affidavits by four members of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters will form the basis for John Doe proceedings by Deputy Assistant District Attorney Skinner in the Harlem Court on Wednesday.

All four applied for work within the last ten days to the foreman in charge on Eighth Avenue.

When they went there, the makers of the affidavits charge, they were informed that unless they paid $2.50 they would not be allowed to go to work.

Charged Money Was Asked. When they went there, the makers of the affidavits charge, they were informed that unless they paid $2.50 they would not be allowed to go to work.

Both union and non-union men are now engaged on the construction work, where the carpenters receive $5 a day. The job is being rushed as fast as possible, and three shifts of men are employed.

Many Join His Club. Terp said that of the fifty men he had recommended for places all of whom were hired, probably fifteen had joined the Andrew Gilmore Association, a social club, which meets weekly at 152d Street and Eighth Avenue, and of which he is sergeant-at-arms.

This association, he declared, was not a political club, but a social group, with members of different political beliefs might affiliate themselves. The dues are $2.50 a year, which many of the men have paid as soon as they became members.

It was said at the attorney's office that a charge of violating the labor laws might follow Wednesday's hearings or that one of maintaining an employment agency without paying a license fee might be made.

"I have rheumatism and couldn't walk," was the excuse of Patrolman Sheridan, of Summit, N. J., who was charged with riding in a taxi to a hotel after it had been established that the man had committed suicide.

Mayor Breen of Summit, N. J., determined that the Roosevelt shooting of strikers will not be repeated, has notified the owners of a silk factory whose employees are on strike that he will arrest any man imported as a detective.

Olean, N. Y., Adds Number 7 to the Girl Friends of Mayo

SUSIE WAHLERS AND HER BABY HAZEL, WHOSE FATHER SHE SAYS IS VIRGINIUS J. MAYO.

Radiator Man Said to Have Taken Young Woman with Him on Trip to South and Left His Promise of Marriage When He Flew from Exposure.

Virginius J. Mayo's amours were traced yesterday even further back in his spectacular career than previous reports indicated.

At that time Mayo was employed by Clark Brothers, in Olean. His relations with the Belmont woman aroused the firm's suspicions. They examined his books, and he disappeared.

Mayo next appeared in Binghamton, where Miss Florence Weeks insists he married her. His first wife, he admits, had recently died, leaving one daughter, Miss Weeks, now known in Scranton, Penn., as the widow of Virginius J. Mayo, became the mother of three girls.

SEE FRENCH PLOT IN WIRELESS SUIT

Owners Say Fight to Get Tuckerton Plant Is Plan to Isolate Germany.

Trenton, March 20.—Charging that the suit brought by a French corporation to obtain possession of the high powered wireless station at Tuckerton, N. J., has only one object, and that is to hamper and prejudice the government and people of Germany, the defendants to this suit to-day filed an answer in the Court of Chancery.

It is freely charged that the war has brought the litigation about and that the Court of Chancery would violate the neutrality of the United States in its relations toward the complainants. This litigation requires the Jersey court to decide what is probably the most delicate international question it has ever had to deal with, and its findings on the subject or the other would be of incalculable benefit to the victorious nation.

The suit was filed by the Campagne Universelle de Telephonie et de Telegraphie Sans Fil, corporation of the Republic of France, against the United States Wireless Corporation, Hochfrequenz-Maschinen Aktiengesellschaft, formerly of Germany, and the Tuckerton station and also of the high powered wireless station at Elilve, Hanover, Prussia, to the French corporation. This contract was made previous to the outbreak of hostilities, and it was claimed that the defendant companies refused to carry out the provisions of the alleged agreement.

The United States Wireless Corporation and Mayer both filed disclaimers with the court to-day, setting out that they had absolutely no right or title in the radio telegraphic station at Tuckerton, and asked to be dismissed from the litigation as parties. The principal German corporation which is referred to in the litigation as "Homag" has filed an answer, in which it is set out that the real object of the suit is to get possession of the two stations, one at Tuckerton and the other at Elilve, and bring about the entire cessation of communication between the United States and Germany and thus to hamper and prejudice the government and the people of Germany.

The answer is filed by McCarter & English, representing Homag and the defendant, Goldschmidt. The defendant's answer that they could not, in view of their obligations to the law and in interest of Germany, convey any property to the French concern without violating the laws of France during the existence of this war. It is argued that even in the event of the decree of the Court of Chancery such a decree could not excuse either the defendants or complainants from a violation of the laws of their respective countries.
