New Star Surprises Lawn Tennis World

Miss Anne Sheafe, of Boston, Decisively Defeats Miss Clare Cassel.

WILL FACE MISS BURSTEDT TO-DAY

Mrs. Weaver, of Boston, Lose in Straight Sets to Miss Blagden and Miss Lindley.

By FRED HAWTHORNE.

A new star flitted brilliantly across the lawn tennis horizon down at Forest Hills yesterday, when Miss Anne Sheafe, of the Longwood Club, defeated the Longwood Club's Clare Cassel, runner-up in the first round of the annual women's metropolitan championship tournament, on a score of 6-3, 6-5.

Miss Sheafe will face her greatest test at 11 o'clock this morning, when she meets Miss Molla Bjurstedt, national indoor champion, for a place in the semi-final.

Miss Bjurstedt, for her part, fully appreciated the reputation she has made since coming to this country, sweeping all before her by a score of 6-0, 6-0. The French and Norwegian champion has won all her best straight sets and has lost only three games during the tournament.

A notable upset occurred in the second round of this division, when Mrs. S. Fullerton Weaver and Miss Blagden defeated Miss Marion Blagden and Miss E. C. Lindley in the first set.

Surprise for Miss Wagner. Miss Marion Vanderhoef was pitted against Miss Marie Wagner, the New York State champion, in the third round, and electrified the onlookers by taking the first set from her famous opponent by a score of 6-4.

In the first set, however, Miss Vanderhoef clearly outplayed the state holder, trading her drive with her forehand and occasionally finishing the points by excursions to the net.

The match that held the attention of all, however, from the time it started, was the last stroke has been played, and the ball has been struck, and the ball has been struck, and the ball has been struck.

Miss Sheafe assumed the lead at the start and never relinquished it. Taking the ball with a decided backhand stroke, she was her best, and she was her best, and she was her best.

It was pretty lawn tennis to watch, and P. A. Valie, the authority on the stroke of properly executing backhand strokes, exhorted with glee as he watched the Boston girl perform.

Midwest, Conn., May 11.—New York University defeated Wesleyan, the conquerors of Williams, on Andrus Field this afternoon in a loosely played game by a score of 5 to 2.

THE SPORTLIGHT by Grantland Rice

A Prayer at the Line.

Father, upon our shield the staining rust Has gathered deep; Upon our scabbard we have let the dust Through long days creep;

Father, our prayer within the red-flecked year Whose sun-shafts stream— Give us to know, beyond the reach of fear The old, brave dream;

With stainless shield and spotless sword to meet The trust we hold along the future beat Where in the forefront of the tramping feet Our standards gleam.

"Germany stands cleared of any wrongdoing in the Lusitania tragedy," comments a German paper. Or, as Mr. Kipling wrote some years ago: "Cleared—honorable gentlemen—be thankful it's no more—"

The widow's curse is on your head—the dead are at your door; On you the shame of open shame—on you from north to south

The Reds presented a much braver front than any one figured they would ever present again after that lurid finish last summer. They looked to be beyond the pale then, but Herzog has brought them back by a process known as hard work, and he has had a first class lieutenant to help the cause along.

The only local talent that was torpedoed and sunk yesterday included Giants, Yanks, Dodgers and Brookfords. Beyond this it was a wonderful day for the cause of Grantland Manhattan along the byways of sport.

While the Giants still have eighteen games left at home before leaving, it is hard to forget that out of their first twelve games at home they have won three and dropped nine. Which is nothing to sneeze at over or propel an outburst of cheers.

On Preparation. We send our ball clubs South early to get in condition. It is admitted that only a long, hard training siege will give them a chance to compete in the scheduled contests later on—to compete at even terms.

COLUMBIA TRACK TEAM MAY SUFFER

Graham Out of Navy Meet on Account of Falling Over a Hurdle.

Columbia lost its star hurdler and broad jumper for a few days yesterday, when S. E. Graham was told by Dr. George L. Meylan, director of the gymnasium, that a severe cut on his knee, which he sustained by a fall in a dual meet with Brown on Saturday, showed signs of becoming infected.

He won both hurdles in the dual meet with Wesleyan and also scored against Brown. It was while clearing the last hurdle in the furlong race at Providence that he stumbled and fell.

Mrs. H. Reeve Stockton Carries Off Two of the Three Prizes Offered.

SCORES WELL OVER MONTCLAIR LINKS

Miss Hollins and Mrs. Rogers Also Show to Advantage in One-Day Tournament.

Displaying a brand of golf which, although a trifle erratic, they felt to make her a power on the links this year, Mrs. H. Reeve Stockton, of Plainfield, practically swept the field in the first one-day tournament of the season yesterday at the Montclair Golf by Mrs. H. Reeve Stockton, of Plainfield, who carried off two of the three prizes offered.

Subsequent to the handicap there was a putting contest over the practice course, and Mrs. L. L. Blake, of Cranford, proved the winner after 27 holes, Mrs. J. C. Rogers, of Montclair, was second, with 57.

The popularity of these one-day fixtures under the direction of the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association again was shown, as a record field of more than a hundred starters drove off.

Mrs. Stockton's start was not auspicious, as she lost her first drive at the first hole, where she slipped out of bounds and she took 6 for an easy 4 hole. After that, however, she went along smoothly to the turn. On the thirteenth hole she was out of bounds, and again on the fifteenth, while a bad lie on the seventeenth caused her to miss up that hole. Even so, she needed a four on the home hole to equal the course record of 63, made by Miss Georgianna M. Bishop.

Miss Marion Hollins, formerly the metropolitan champion, was second, so far as gross scores were concerned, with 90, in the making of which she took many extra strokes on the greens. This net score was made up of 10 on the tenth, eleventh and fifteenth holes. Her driving was long, as usual.

Mrs. N. Pendleton Rogers, of Baltusrol, who played rarely last season, was third, with a net score of 92. This sterling golf, whose two sons are as ardently devoted to the game, is on her mettle and intends appearing more frequently this year.

The date set for the next one-day tournament, and the place assigned is the Apawamis Club, at Rye.

The summary of the play yesterday follows:

Table with 3 columns: Name and club, Gross Score, Net Score. Includes Mrs. H. Reeve Stockton, Miss Marion Hollins, Mrs. N. Pendleton Rogers, etc.

BOBBIE HANDICAP. Mrs. H. Reeve Stockton, Plainfield, 90; Miss Marion Hollins, Westfield, 92; Mrs. N. Pendleton Rogers, Baltusrol, 92.
