

Marjorie Wood shows how "It Pays to Advertise," at the Cohan Theatre.

Photo by White

Actresses Whose Wit and Charm Are Making Tired New York Laugh and Listen

Irene Haisman, in "Twin Beds," occupies only one, but she makes fun enough for two.

May Vokes, in "A Full House," is the tired business man's best friend.

Photo by White

Bessie Clayton, assisted by Lester Sheehan, whose charming dances delight at the Jardin de Dance.

Photo by White

Laura Walker with Louis Mann chasing "The Bubble" at the Booth Theatre.

Photo by White

Pearl Franklyn, of the Winter Garden Nine, in "The Passing Show of 1915."

Photo by White

Ina Claire, who sings a star part in the "Ziegfeld Follies" at the New Amsterdam.

© Ira L. Hill