

SOCIETY QUITS THE SEASIDE FOR THE CITY

Outdoor Attractions Draw Social World

Hunt Meets, Horse and Dog Shows and Country Fairs Fill Fall Calendar—Many Brilliant Weddings Last Week.

NOW that the season has been brought to a close at the many of the summer resorts, society will spend its time between now and the opening of opera at the Metropolitan, which inaugurates the social activities in New York, at country places on Long Island, in Westchester County, over in New Jersey, at Tuxedo, Lenox, Hot Springs, White Sulphur Springs, etc.

For those who remain in and near New York there will be innumerable attractions in the suburbs, with racing, horse and dog shows, fairs, etc., and weddings, of course, will come in for a large share of attention. The racing season on Long Island was opened yesterday at the Belmont Park Terminal, and will be followed next Saturday by races at the same place, and then on Thursday, Friday and Saturday will come the Mineola Horse Show at the Fair grounds, in conjunction with the annual fair of the Agricultural Society of Queens-Nassau counties.

The races yesterday at the Terminal attracted for this time of the year, an unusually large number of socially prominent persons, and nearly all the owners of large estates on the island were represented in the gathering. The Piping Rock Racing Club, which opened the latter half of the season over the week-end, and they motored over to the track with their guests after luncheon and enjoyed the sport from the grandstand. A few had luncheon at the Turf and Field Club, opposite the course.

The entries for the Mineola Horse Show number 375, an increase of 100 over last year. The women exhibitors include Mrs. Thomas Hitchcock, Mrs. Thomas Hastings, Mrs. Francis E. Gardner, Mrs. Payne Whitney, Harvey S. Ladew, Howard Phipps, W. Goadby Grace, Harry T. Peters, John S. Phipps, Mrs. A. M. Tinker, Mrs. A. Butler Scott, Burden, Mrs. A. Butler Duncan, Mrs. Joseph E. Davis, Miss Vera A. H. Cravath, Miss Barbara Loew, Miss Margaret R. Trimble, Miss Elizabeth Kirin and others.

One of the most interesting weddings of the last week was that of Miss Emily Sloane, daughter of Henry T. Sloane, to Baron Amaury de la Trange, at Wednesday noon in the Church of Saint Honoré d'Eylau, with the civil marriage taking place half an hour earlier in the mairie of the arrondissement. Only about a dozen relatives and brother officers of the bridegroom were present at the ceremonies, most of them in uniform. The bride's witnesses were R. W. Bliss, secretary of the American Embassy, and a young woman who accompanied her from New York. The bridegroom's witnesses were Comte Chaumont de Guilly and the Comtesse de Brisac.

Indoors and Outdoors On Staten Island

Miss Edna Barbara Spindler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Spindler, of Wright Street, Stapleton, and Arthur Thompson, of the firm of James Thompson & Sons, lumber merchants of Stapleton, were married last Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Oliver Paul Marshall, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Stapleton, under a huge bell suspended from the ceiling of the living room, and was witnessed by only the members of the immediate family. The house was prettily decorated with flowers throughout. Miss Spindler's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Dorothy Nixon, and George Thompson was his brother's best man. After a small reception the young couple left for a tour of a few weeks in the Catskills.

Many people were present last Tuesday afternoon at the golf tea at the Richmond County Country Club at which Mrs. Ernest Flagg was the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Miss Betty Flagg. A clock golf putting competition was also held during the afternoon and was won by Miss Florence Van Rensselaer. The prize was a pretty bracelet presented by Mrs. Flagg. Other who competed were Mrs. Charles Devar Simons, Jr., Mrs. James G. Clarke, Miss Gertrude Walker, Miss Adelaide Irving, Mrs. Albert Kavanagh, Mrs. Nathan Smythe, Mrs. Abby Fowler, Mrs. Bertha Wempie, Miss Claire Van Cleaf and Mrs. Edward McSweeney. Others present during the afternoon were Mrs. Kinsley Twining, Mrs. John A. Morton, Mrs. Arthur Kavanagh, Miss Wynne Kavanagh, Miss Belle O'Brien, Mrs. Albert Hart, Miss Valerie Cushman, Miss Bertha Irving, Miss Isabelle Stettinius, Miss Constance Lord, Mrs. Herbert Woods, Mrs. G. S. Schroeder, Mrs. Waldron Belmont, Miss Louise Lee, Mrs. N. Y. Mr. Trude von Briesen, Miss Dorothea Kavanagh, Miss Madeline Lee, Mrs. John Whitall, Mrs. Alfred Coxo and Mrs. John Primrose.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Stettinius, of New York, who have been in West New Brighton, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Jane Regina, to Ralph Albert Hoerle, of Port Richmond. No date has been set for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Nichols and Miss Maryland Nichols entertained a large party over the week end at their summer home, Oakington Hill, Princess Bay. Some of the guests were Mrs. S. B. Mann, Miss Edith S. Mann and Miss Bessie Knox, of Manhattan, and the Misses Mabel Taylor and Helen McLester, of Bloomfield, N. J.

The usual round robin doubles hand-heap tennis tournament was held last Friday afternoon on the grounds of the Richmond County Country Club, Dungen Hills, on Wednesday, September 22, and the following days. Cups for singles and doubles have been presented by Mrs. Stanley C. Richmond and C. Allen Blythe, Jr. The consolation tournaments will be open to all contestants beaten in their first match played. In all contests matches will be the best two in three advantage sets. Play will begin at 2:30 p. m. each day, and players not answering when called may be defaulted. Games may be called in the morning if necessary. Entries should be made with Mrs. Kinsley Twining, before September 14. The privileges of the clubhouse will be extended to all contestants.

Dances and Weddings Fill Berkshire Days

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. French and Mr. and Mrs. de Heredia Hosts for Terpsichore—Ice Glen Parade Revives Stockbridge Indian Tradition.

Lenox, Sept. 18.—This has been a week of diverting amusements, given by the Daniel Chester French family in honor of their daughter, Miss Margaret French, another by Mr. and Mrs. Carlos M. de Heredia, both fancy dress affairs, and a third by the Board of Governors. Also of interest was the Ice Glen parade, a revival of an old custom of marching through a wild gorge with torches, and the Italian custom back in 1724, when the white man first arrived in Stockbridge. This week there were a hundred or more in fancy costumes, headed by a brass band, and the parade, and later the dance played for an Indian war dance about a bonfire in the village park.

Miss Margaret French and Arthur M. Walker headed the parade. Mr. Walker represented Konkopet, the chief of the Stockbridge Indians, and Miss French wore the garb of a Gypsy. Mr. and Mrs. de Heredia's fancy dress affair was a grand one, and a grand one for the electric illumination of the grounds. Only the women came in dominoes, men being admitted without fancy dress. An elaborate supper was served on the porch.

Mr. and Mrs. de Heredia also entertained the Garden Club on Monday afternoon at their villa, where Dr. William Gilman Thompson spoke on plants and their relation to medicine. Professor Charles F. Chandler, of New York, a guest, also addressed the company. Mrs. de Heredia served tea, assisted by Mrs. W. Roscoe Bond and Mrs. William E. S. Griswold. Another afternoon social affair was the concert at Fernbrook, given in the Shields market studio, for the benefit of the families of the French and Belgian artists who are fighting in the trenches. The programme was by the Misses Dorothy Rosalind and Cynthia Fuller, of England, who sang folk songs. A dialogue, a selection from one of the poems of James Russell Lowell, was given by Miss Edith Luckett and Ivan Simpson, of the Metropolitan Opera House, and a tour of the United States there will be twelve of these ballets. They will be given not for a part of the evening, but as diversions, but as an entire representation of the same treatment, but will vary from the Turkish to the Anamese and Javanese, from the Russian to the purely old fashioned.

White Sulphur Springs, Sept. 18.—The latest form of amusement taken up here is early morning fox hunting with the Greenbrier hounds. Several during the last week have been drag hunts over a four-mile field, with many jumps; but on one or two occasions the hounds have gone out for a real hunt and have met with success. Riding in these parties have been Mrs. Thornton L. Lewis, Miss Mercer French and Mr. Edward S. Buckley, 3d, of Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt entertained here during the week, and were motored from Baltimore to Mrs. Vanne Vanderbilt will be here for several weeks. Mr. Vanderbilt comes down for the week end. Mrs. Vanderbilt and Miss Anne T. Morgan are out on the golf links daily, and also ride a great deal. Miss Morgan is here with her friends, Miss Elsie de Wolfe and Miss Elizabeth Marbury, and will stay until the last week in September.

Among the social events of the week which New Yorkers have been interested were a tea at the Log Cabin, given by Mrs. James Speyer, of New York, who entertained for Mrs. Barclay Warburton and Miss Mary Warburton, and Misses Dorothy and Marbury. Mrs. James A. Blair and Mrs. C. Ledgard Blair have both given several delightful luncheons and teas at the Greenbrier and at their cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Charles Burnham Squires reached here from the Profile House this week, and will remain through October. Mrs. James H. Haggin (Margaret S. V. Haggin) has closed her country place at Versailles, Ky., and will be at the Greenbrier for the season. Mrs. Haggin is very much interested in the world's best polo in Kentucky, and has spent much of her time there since Mr. Haggin's death, at the Villa Rosa, New York, in 1912.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robinson Smith (Jeanie P. Steele), who has been at Sandwich, Mass., for the summer, reached here this week with Count Vincent de Wierzbicki, of Paris. Miss Gertrude Smith, who went abroad in May, is still in Paris, and is interested in the war relief work there.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Schenck (Anna L. Baker) and Miss Claire Schenck motored down this week for the balance of the season. Miss Julia Berwind and her niece, Miss Margaret Dunlap, of Philadelphia, who spent the summer at Newport, are in the city for a month. Mrs. W. S. Motor arrivals from New York this week include Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Nichols, Messrs. A. N. Belding and C. C. Warren, and Miss Annie Burr Jennings, who are here at the Hotel Marlborough. Mrs. Charles King and Miss Gladys Lord, Miss Kitty McCreery and Miss Clara Macaulay, Miss Constance Lord and Miss Mildred Walker, Miss Dorothea McGreevy, and Miss Frances Lyden, Miss Margaret Chambers and Miss Alice Gill and Miss Elizabeth Irving and Miss Emily White.

Atlantic City Reaps Lot Wave Harvest

Atlantic City, Sept. 18.—The straw hat and the bathing suit took a new lease of life on the Boardwalk and beach this week. Thousands of new hats were made, and the lot wave harvest in the cities and took to the ocean with all the enthusiasm of mid-summer visitors. Added to these were something like 20,000 delegates to a conference or more of conventions, many of which were held in the city until after they had taken plunges in the breakers, and lifeguards were sent back on extra duty to look after the bathing.

Women's styles took a slump because there was a wall from maids and matrons who had sent home their thin summer frocks during the cool snap of the early month. Travel by boat from New York about a hundred came down by sea to escape city heat. Conventions alone would have given Atlantic City the busiest September week in its history. Elks, Shriners, Knights, and other fraternal organizations came with bands and paraded under parasols, and the largest delegation in the history of the Army and Navy Union has been here all week. A dozen business conventions are in progress, and the city is a hive of activity. Yachting parties were in high favor as social affairs. Mrs. Albert Hartz, of New York, entertained aboard the yacht Emma, her guests being Mrs. G. H. Cramer, Mrs. Florence Garnett, Mrs. Clara H. Hagen, Mrs. J. D. George, J. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. David L. Luke, C. O. Woodhouse, J. S. Whiting, Miss F. Van Loan, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Van Buren, Mrs. H. Conroy Green and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Potter.

New 18-Hole Course For Placid Golfers

Lake Placid, N. Y., Sept. 18.—Laying out another golf course was begun this week, making a total of five that will be in readiness for the fall season. The new course, which is to have eighteen holes, is to be under the control of the Lake Placid Golf Club, with headquarters at the Stevens House, and has been staked out under the supervision of John D. Dunn, of New York. It will occupy a tract of over 180 acres, given by George A. Stevens. The eighteen holes comprise a rustic half-way house is to be built. The course crosses the outlet of Lake Placid and rustic bridges will be constructed for the use of players. It abounds in natural beauties and is pronounced by Mr. Dunn one of the best courses in the country. The present short course of nine holes at the Stevens will be maintained for players who do not care for the longer one. The new eighteen-hole course is the second announced to be in readiness for next season, work having already been started on a new nine-hole course for Whiteface Inn.

Recent New York arrivals at the Placid include F. Marsh, W. L. Marsh, D. W. Miller, John H. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Amos S. Bell, H. C. and K. C. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Dodge and Mrs. C. E. Haggin. Mrs. White, who has been spending the summer at Camp Inwood at Whiteface Inn, plan to return to Washington several days ago. Included in a party of mountain climbers from Whiteface Inn, making the ascent of Mount Whiteface, were J. G. Mills, F. Mortimer and Frank Regan, of New York. Mrs. W. E. Parsons, of Ardsley-on-Hudson; Miss Miner and Miss Darling, of New York; Mrs. J. D. Haggin, J. H. G. Mills, F. Mortimer and Frank Regan, of New York. Mrs. W. E. Parsons, of Ardsley-on-Hudson; Miss Miner and Miss Darling, of New York; Mrs. J. D. Haggin, J. H. G. Mills, F. Mortimer and Frank Regan, of New York.

Channel Bass Draw Fishermen to Asbury

Asbury Park, N. J., Sept. 18.—September visitors fill the main hotels that have remained open this year and the resort is looking forward to the best late season yet. The weather is extreme warm, and the fishing has been taken than at any time this season. Dances in the arcade, in conjunction with the Pryor concerts, continue to attract the younger element, and the attendance at the recitals on Wednesday and Thursday. Several hundred trophies and medals will be won outright at this show, while every club in the country is offering trophies and specials for its members. The Scottish Building Club, of Dunfermline, has sent in trophies. For this year's show the judges include Miss Margaret Forsyth, Charles G. Hopton, F. J. Casey, Edward Throckmorton, Mrs. A. McClure, H. H. Hermon, H. B. O'Rourke, H. D. Hoffman, John S. Walters, E. P. Ford and Charles Ludwig.

The annual "Merchants' Holiday" will take place next Thursday. This is a unique holiday, instituted several years ago, when every business house in Asbury Park and Ocean Grove closes for the day. As all branches of trade are too busy to celebrate the Fourth of July and August 1st, this day is given to their pleasure. Excursions to Coney Island and to the Elks' convention at Atlantic City will attract most of the vacationists.

FRENCH CAST STRONG Many Stars to Play Here This Season.

Among the actors who will appear at the Theatre Francais this season are: Capellani, Raymond, Frouse, Mervin, Verley, George Renavert, Jeanne Provost, Andre Merv, Lillian Greuze, Rene Duss, Madeleine Revoire, Guarané, Miss Disks, etc.
