

Saks & Company

Broadway at 34th Street

Saks Straw Hats for Men

Appeal both to the smart dresser and the economist, because everything new in straw hats can be found at Saks, and the price is always right. We are exclusive agents for

"Crownlet" Sennit and Split Straws at $3.00

These fine hats are thoroughly cravenetted by the Priestley process, which greatly increases their wearing quality.

Cinelli Italian Straw Hats are the easiest-fitting straws made.

We have a large selection of these hats, made especially to our order. Most of them have patented "Bon Ton" ivy leather bands, which prevent the hat from blowing off in the strongest wind. They are in the very newest shapes.

Priced at $2, $3, $4 and $5

Today—in the Men's Shoe Department

A Sale of Men's Oxfords at $3.45

These shoes are discontinued lines from our regular stock, which sell from $5 to $6.

They are made over stylish lasts, and may be obtained in gun metal calf, patent coltskin, and tan Russia calf, some with cloth or buckskin tops.

Not all sizes in each style, but your size in one of the many models shown.

FOR TODAY ONLY

A Sale of Men's Fine Union Suits

In styles and materials for Summer wear

Striped Lisle Union Suits, $1.45

Reg. stock price $2

Perfect fitting, closed crotch garments. Sleeveless knee-length, and quarter-sleeve three-quarter leg models.

White Lisle Union Suits, $1.95

Reg. stock price $2.50

Made of fine quality Swiss ribbed lisle. In athletic, knee-length sleeveless models, with closed crotch.

Silk Athletic Union Suits, $2.35

Reg. stock price $3.50

Beautifully made and finished. In knee-length sleeveless models, with the famous "Trowser" seat.

U. P. PRESIDENT RESIGNS

A. L. Mohler to Retire on July 1 as Head of Railroad.

Omaha, May 19.—Resignation of A. L. Mohler, president of the Union Pacific Railroad, was announced here to-night. In a statement, Mr. Mohler said his action was due to "disability" caused by a fall while skating on the ice in a municipal park in Omaha last winter. The resignation is effective July 1.

He reached this country in November, but his wife did not learn of his arrival for three weeks. Several clerks testified yesterday that McMechen had been by a "pretty red-haired woman" had been living at the Arlington and Stratford hotels. Justice Giegerich reserved decision.

The Luxury of Tecla Pearls

The difference between Tecla Pearls and Oriental Pearls is the difference between luxury and extravagance.

For most women, Oriental Pearls, like the grapes in the fable, are out of reach, whereas Tecla Pearls hang lower on the vine.

And to pursue the analogy further, Tecla Pearls and Oriental Pearls are, indeed, as like each other as grapes from the same vine, differing only in that Oriental Pearls come from the vineyard of Nature, while Tecla Pearls come from the vineyard of the mind.

But the wine of their beauty is indistinguishably equal

Tecla Necklace $75 to $350

T E C L A

THREE NINETY-EIGHT FIFTH AVE., NEW YORK

Women acquainted with Fownes quality in ALL kinds of gloves, are demanding Fownes silk gloves,—with reason.

Smartest, most satisfactory.—but they cost no more.

All lengths, sizes and shades.

Double-tipped? —Of course!

Ask your dealer.

STRIKERS' ARMS SEIZED BY POLICE

Prompt Action in Ansonia Prevents Attack on Plant, It Is Believed.

RESERVES QUELL RIOT IN WILLIAMSBURG

Trenton's Brief Car War Settled —Citizens and Employes Elated at Result.

A large shipment of arms and ammunition for the strikers in Ansonia, Conn., was seized by the Ansonia police last night. Following the death yesterday of Charles Lallo, one of the five strikers shot on Thursday when the plant of the Ansonia Manufacturing Company was attacked, it was expected a second riot among the men on strike would occur. Guards rushed from New York and Boston were quickly armed and stationed about the plant. But the attack did not come, due, the police believe, to the failure of the arms and ammunition to arrive on time.

The four men wounded with Lallo will recover. After ascertaining their condition yesterday, Prosecuting Attorney A. R. McOrmond began a rigid inquiry to determine who ordered the guards to fire on the strikers. Police believe there are many more wounded hiding in their homes.

The Ansonia company manufactures munitions. Only two of its departments are shut down owing to the strike. A meeting between officials and a representative of the strikers was held yesterday, and it is believed a settlement will be quickly reached.

Car Strike Ends. Settlement of the streetcar strike that has made Trenton, N. J., walk to and from work for twenty-four hours was announced at midnight. Although the details have not yet been worked out, it is agreed that the men will receive a new scale of wages and that the fourteen days' strike of the trolley company's money will be reinstated.

The executive committee of the trolley men's union and the officials of the trolley company were in session until midnight, when it was finally agreed that all the questions at issue should be settled by a joint commission, to be made up of representatives of employees and men.

Police Quell Williamsburg Riot. Police reserves quelled a riot in Williamsburg between strikers and employees of the S. W. Fisher brass and copper plant, in South Fifth Street, near Driggs Avenue. Three men were arrested. Fifty men who had refused to join the strike were attacked as they were leaving the plant. Several were hurt.

It was announced at the office of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, 402 West Broadway, that a settlement with independent manufacturers in the present lockout. The independents will meet to-day to organize an association, Sunday night at the Labor Forum, in Washington Irving High School, representatives of the manufacturers and employees will present their sides of the lockout question. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, is expected to deliver an address at a meeting in Beethoven Hall, 210 Fifth Street, Sunday morning.

Eight thousand milk drivers affiliated with the International Brotherhood of Teamsters have submitted demands for an increase of wages and shorter hours. Assistant Secretary Morris Belmont, who has many of the milk drivers connected, is authority for the statement that if demands are not met a general strike will result.

The committee representing the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America submitted an ultimatum yesterday to the Western Union Telegraph Company to the effect that unless the ten operators discharged in Boston reinstated immediately a general strike would take place in Boston, which would force a sympathetic strike among operators all over the country.

A resolution of protest was passed yesterday by the National Consumers' League, of which Secretary of the War Department Baker is president, against the arbitrary stand taken by the Wool, Suit and Skirt Manufacturers' Protective Association. It advises individual leagues to protest to the association against the present lockout.

BARBERS, DO IT NOW! SING SING NEEDS YOU

Prison Suffering from Shortage of Tonsorial Artists.

If there are any barbers in this city who must commit crime, won't they arrange to be convicted soon and relieve a serious situation in Sing Sing prison?

For the first time in many years there is a shortage of barbers in Sing Sing. Many of the men of that trade who have been sojourning there have gone home, and for months there has not been a barber sentenced to that institution. In other years the supply of barbers was far in excess of the demand, several arriving in a single week. Then only the most skillful were put to work.

Now any man who can use a razor or shears is welcome, and the term "prison cut" has come to have a real meaning.

MRS. CLARA PECK WAITE.

Wife Who Will Face Accused Dentist at His Trial Monday.

CONVICT WAITE, IS WIFE'S AIM

Undaunted and Indifferent, She Will Meet Mrs. Horton at Trial.

HIS LIFE REVEALED AS SERIES OF LIES

Victim's Daughter Says He "Couldn't Play a Note," in Answer to Studio Stories.

Mrs. Clara Peck Waite will face Mrs. Margaret Horton next week, for the first time, in the courtroom when Dr. Arthur Warren Waite is on trial for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. John Peck, his father and mother in law. The wife, now so far separated from her husband that she only speaks of him as "Waite," believes that he should be punished to the full extent of the law, and will take the stand as a witness for the state.

His "studio companion" has said that she will take the stand. Whatever emotions Mrs. Horton may feel on seeing Mrs. Waite, the latter will remain absolutely indifferent in her presence.

"Mrs. Horton will mean nothing more to me than any of the other witnesses," Mrs. Waite said yesterday, in speaking of the trial. "My purpose in coming to New York was to be a witness for the state."

Naturally, I never heard of Mrs. Horton before the horrible truth of the cause of my parents' death became known. I think, however, that I have talked with her on the telephone. A woman who said she was a nurse for a doctor with whom Waite was experimenting with germs called up once or twice to say that the doctor wanted to see him at a certain time. I think that was Mrs. Horton.

Once I read in the paper about a nurse being found dead, under peculiar circumstances, in an apartment in West Eleventh Street. When I remarked on it Waite said: "That's funny. I was down in West Eleventh Street just this afternoon. I had a case down there." To-day I learned that the apartment house where the nurse was found was the very one in which the Hortons live.

"The day Waite returned to New York after my father's funeral I went to the station in Grand Rapids with him. I left before the train went and he called up the house to learn if I had returned safely. In the meantime he wired Mrs. Horton, asking her to meet him at the station in New York, or, if that wasn't possible, he would come to the Plaza. Then he added: "Something must have aroused his suspicion during the trip, for immediately on his arrival he called her up and asked her to meet him."

For another thing, he is friendly with the man who was arrested in connection with the case of the other man, and it was natural that, while seeking one, we should shadow the other. We did, also putting a watch on his home in West Eleventh Street. That's just one of the reasons, although sufficient in itself.

Rofrano was smart enough to know we'd trail his brothers and his friends. He's been careful not to connect with them. For another thing, he is friendly with the man who was arrested in connection with the case of the other man, and it was natural that, while seeking one, we should shadow the other. We did, also putting a watch on his home in West Eleventh Street. That's just one of the reasons, although sufficient in itself.

"Rofrano was smart enough to know we'd trail his brothers and his friends. He's been careful not to connect with them. For another thing, he is friendly with the man who was arrested in connection with the case of the other man, and it was natural that, while seeking one, we should shadow the other. We did, also putting a watch on his home in West Eleventh Street. That's just one of the reasons, although sufficient in itself.

"On his birthday I had a pair of lavender silk pajamas made for him. Now I learn that they were found at the Plaza."

Mrs. Waite is firm in her conviction that her father realized that he was the victim of his son-in-law before he died. Waite has confessed that in his last moments Mr. Peck suffered so intensely that he administered chloroform on a handkerchief. "Father was a druggist and I am sure that he recognized the odor of chloroform," Mrs. Waite said. "I am also sure that he called for me and struggled and that it was then that Waite held him down and put a pillow over his face—to ease his sufferings," he says.

I have just been reading that his mother is too sick to come on for the trial. I feel very sorry for her, and particularly so for his brother Frank, who lives here in New York. He is a good, honest man.

Prepared for Trial Ordeal. "My family never for a minute thought of doing an insanity defense. What kind of a daughter would I be to support such a proceeding? The trial will be a terrible ordeal for me, but I shall go through it for my parents."

Mrs. Waite is daily receiving letters from strangers, some of them sympathizing with her in her trouble, others of the frank variety, offering suggestions for her future.

While Mrs. Waite does not know who sent the famous "K. Adams" telegram, she feels sure that it came from a relative.

SAYS WOMEN OF WEST ARE NOT FOR WILSON

Suffrage Traveller Found No One Who Praised His Policy.

PROVIDES $4,535,000 FOR PANAMA DEFENCE

Sundry Civil Bill Carries $16,800,000 for Canal Work.

Washington, May 19.—Appropriations of $16,800,000 for continuing construction and operation of the Panama Canal and a fund of $4,535,000 for its fortification are among the large items in the sundry civil bill reported to the House to-day by the Appropriations Committee.

The bill carries an aggregate of $127,237,221, almost $21,000,000 less than the Executive estimates. It authorizes construction of a dock at Cristobal at a cost not exceeding $1,500,000; appropriates $500,000 for a government powder plant on a site to be acquired by purchase, condemnation or gift; authorizes facilities at Rock Island Arsenal for manufacturing field artillery ammunition at a total cost not to exceed $1,250,000, and provides $1,127,000 for construction of infantry barracks in Hawaii.

The measure appropriates $6,247,000 for the railroad in Alaska which the Federal government is building. More than $445,000 is provided for the Federal Trade Commission, which has asked for more clerks. The Interstate Commerce Commission gets $5,440,000, an increase of $675,000, and $160,200 is provided for the prevention of deposits in New York Harbor.

SAY POSTOFFICE MAN APPROPRIATED $3,300

Inspectors Investigate Career of Manning, Who Is Arrested.

Joseph J. Manning, former assistant postmaster at Port Richmond, Staten Island, was arrested by United States Marshal James M. Power, of Brooklyn, last night, charged with appropriating $3,300 of government funds. He was locked up at the Adams Street police station, pending a hearing this morning before United States Commissioner James M. Gray.

The arrest of Manning followed a lengthy investigation by postal inspectors. They found, according to the statements made to Assistant District Attorney Cuff, that the proceeds of the sale of money orders and stamps, to that total, had been removed from the postoffice safe and that accounts had been juggled to conceal the thefts.

Manning announced that he would make good any shortage found by the inspectors when they first told him that there were numerous discrepancies in his accounts. He is credited with saying he would go to Washington and obtain the money from influential friends there. As far as could be learned last night, the trip was never made.

CALLS CANAL DEFENCE GOOD

Chief Engineer Denies Fortifications Are Inadequate.

The fortifications at the Panama Canal are adequate for defence, in the opinion of William Parsons, chief engineer at the Gatun locks, who returned yesterday on the United Fruit liner Zela. Denying reports that have been brought by most travellers from the Canal Zone, he said visitors were not allowed to inspect the defences and were unable to present fair criticisms of them.

Juan Ortega, Guatemalan Minister to Mexico, and Francisco Latour, Guatemalan secretary to Washington, came on the Zela after a sixty-one day trip as members of the customs conference in South America.

Other arrests growing out of the expedition are expected to follow disclosures at this morning's hearing.

J. Sterling Drake, real estate dealer, of 29 Broadway, who has sold the site for the garbage plant to the contractor, and is now disputing its title with Edward P. Doyle, said yesterday: "We accomplished our purpose. That's all I am at liberty to say."

PRALL ISLAND RAIDERS FACE COURT TO-DAY

"Accomplished Our Purpose," Is Drake's Comment.

The fifteen "buccanniers" who on Wednesday night took possession of Prall's Island, Arthur Kill, after two aged guards had been kidnapped, will face a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Evans at New Brighton, Staten Island, this morning. The raid, and subsequent arrest of the men, marks the latest chapter in Staten Island's fight against the garbage disposal plant which the city proposes to erect on Arthur Kill.

Other arrests growing out of the expedition are expected to follow disclosures at this morning's hearing.

J. Sterling Drake, real estate dealer, of 29 Broadway, who has sold the site for the garbage plant to the contractor, and is now disputing its title with Edward P. Doyle, said yesterday: "We accomplished our purpose. That's all I am at liberty to say."

Chinese General Assassinated. San Francisco, May 19.—General Chen Chi-Nel, a high official of the Chinese revolutionary party, was assassinated by three alleged Yuan Shih-kai supporters in Shanghai last night, according to the Chinese Republic Association stated to-day. Two of the assassins were caught.

SAYS ENO FORGOT REQUESTS IN WILL

Train Asserts He Was Ever Calling for Copies to Refresh His Memory.

TESTATOR COMPETENT ACCORDING TO CLERK

Metz Testifies That Millionaire Read Document and Signed It Voluntarily.

Arthur C. Train, of counsel for the contestants of the will of Amos F. Eno, concluded his address to the jury yesterday in the Surrogate's Court.

"We shall prove," said Mr. Train, "that Mr. Eno's memory was such that he could not remember what the provisions of his will were and he was constantly sending for copies of it to refresh his memory." Since Mr. Beers, one of Mr. Eno's executors, could not have himself named as residuary legatee, the contestants' counsel continued, the next best thing was to have Mr. Eno leave his residuary estate, valued at about $7,000,000, to Columbia University.

"There was a big estate and fat fees," said Metz, he went to Mr. Eno's home. Beers asked Mr. Eno if he knew what the document was, and the testator replied, "It is my last will and testament." Mr. Eno read the last clause.

Austin M. Fox, chief counsel for the executors, asked the witness: "In your opinion, was Mr. Eno of sound mind and capable of making a will when the document purporting to be his last will was executed?"

"He was," Metz replied, adding that Mr. Eno was under restraint and signed voluntarily.

Ell G. Partridge, head of the real estate department of Lord, Day & Lord, was the next to take the stand. He was a witness to the will and was signing when he executed his will. He, too, had known Mr. Eno for a long time. Mr. Partridge told of seeing Mr. Eno in his library about twenty feet from where the witness was sitting at the time. He was sure the paper Mr. Eno was reading was the will in dispute.

Ex-Surrogate Charles H. Beckett, cross-examining the witness, asked, "Do you mean to identify this paper as the same you saw Mr. Eno have in his hand fifteen or twenty feet away?" Partridge was sure. He could identify it by the seals. Then Mr. Beckett held the contested will and the 1914 will side by side. They were identical from the outside. Partridge said he could not tell them apart. He was certain, however, that he saw only one paper that day. Partridge said Mr. Eno asked Mr. Beers to take the will and have a copy made.

THINK ENO WAS COMPETENT

"He was," Metz replied, adding that Mr. Eno was under restraint and signed voluntarily.

Ell G. Partridge, head of the real estate department of Lord, Day & Lord, was the next to take the stand. He was a witness to the will and was signing when he executed his will. He, too, had known Mr. Eno for a long time. Mr. Partridge told of seeing Mr. Eno in his library about twenty feet from where the witness was sitting at the time. He was sure the paper Mr. Eno was reading was the will in dispute.

Ex-Surrogate Charles H. Beckett, cross-examining the witness, asked, "Do you mean to identify this paper as the same you saw Mr. Eno have in his hand fifteen or twenty feet away?" Partridge was sure. He could identify it by the seals. Then Mr. Beckett held the contested will and the 1914 will side by side. They were identical from the outside. Partridge said he could not tell them apart. He was certain, however, that he saw only one paper that day. Partridge said Mr. Eno asked Mr. Beers to take the will and have a copy made.

PRALL ISLAND RAIDERS FACE COURT TO-DAY

"Accomplished Our Purpose," Is Drake's Comment.

The fifteen "buccanniers" who on Wednesday night took possession of Prall's Island, Arthur Kill, after two aged guards had been kidnapped, will face a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Evans at New Brighton, Staten Island, this morning. The raid, and subsequent arrest of the men, marks the latest chapter in Staten Island's fight against the garbage disposal plant which the city proposes to erect on Arthur Kill.

Other arrests growing out of the expedition are expected to follow disclosures at this morning's hearing.

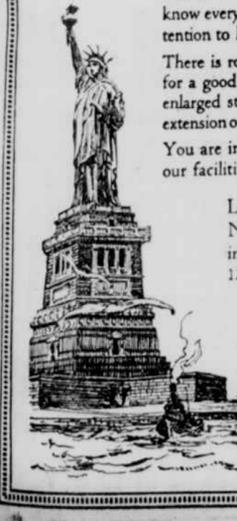

J. Sterling Drake, real estate dealer, of 29 Broadway, who has sold the site for the garbage plant to the contractor, and is now disputing its title with Edward P. Doyle, said yesterday: "We accomplished our purpose. That's all I am at liberty to say."

THINK ENO WAS COMPETENT

"He was," Metz replied, adding that Mr. Eno was under restraint and signed voluntarily.

Ell G. Partridge, head of the real estate department of Lord, Day & Lord, was the next to take the stand. He was a witness to the will and was signing when he executed his will. He, too, had known Mr. Eno for a long time. Mr. Partridge told of seeing Mr. Eno in his library about twenty feet from where the witness was sitting at the time. He was sure the paper Mr. Eno was reading was the will in dispute.

Ex-Surrogate Charles H. Beckett, cross-examining the witness, asked, "Do you mean to identify this paper as the same you saw Mr. Eno have in his hand fifteen or twenty feet away?" Partridge was sure. He could identify it by the seals. Then Mr. Beckett held the contested will and the 1914 will side by side. They were identical from the outside. Partridge said he could not tell them apart. He was certain, however, that he saw only one paper that day. Partridge said Mr. Eno asked Mr. Beers to take the will and have a copy made.

One of the conditions peculiar to the Liberty Bank which is much appreciated by the Depositor

There are only slightly over 2000 depositors—with $60,000,000 deposits—at THE LIBERTY at the present time. This means that it is entirely possible for the senior, as well as the junior, officers of the bank to know every depositor and to give personal attention to his particular banking needs.

There is room in our "family of depositors" for a good many more members, because our extended staff and facilities now permit of the extension of this personal service of our officers. You are invited to make an investigation of our facilities and service.

LIBERTY NATIONAL BANK in the Equitable Building 120 Broadway, at Cedar St.