

RAIN AND WIND FAIL TO CHECK SUFFRAGE PARADE

Five Thousand March Through Chicago Streets Despite the Storm.

SLOGANS IMPRESS MANY DELEGATES

Great Demonstration Reveals to Them the Strength of the Suffrage Cause.

LEADERS OF WOMEN'S PARTY CONVENTION.

From a Staff Correspondent of The Tribune. Chicago, June 7. In a downpour of chilly rain driven by a strong north wind 5,000 enthusiastic women marched here to-day in one of the most remarkable suffrage parades ever held in the United States. It was remarked by friends of the women that men would not have turned out in as great numbers and with the same enthusiasm as did the women. It was most significant and most impressive. Many of the women scorned umbrellas. Thousands formed a second and impromptu parade after the line of march had been covered and countermarched down Michigan Boulevard the second time, cheering, singing and waving flags, handkerchiefs and banners.

A group of vivacious girls from Iowa, where woman suffrage failed to carry off before yesterday, dressed and painted as Indian squaws, carried a banner which reminded the onlookers that on May 13, 1916, 180 Sioux Indians were granted the franchise by Uncle Sam, and just behind this banner marched two girls bearing the legend: "Give a Woman an Indian's Chance!"

Banners reminding the spectators that "U. S. Means Us as Well as You," and other unanswerable messages swept by so rapidly that there was hardly time to read them.

Keynote at the End. The real keynote, however, came last. Belasco could not have arranged things any more skillfully than these determined women. Realizing that preparedness was the uppermost thought in the minds of all men and women, they kept their preparedness banner for the end.

"Do You Believe in Preparedness?" it asked in bold letters. "Then Get Ready for the Votes of 4,000,000 Women."

That shot went home. Many a Republican delegate turned away after reading that solemn warning with the conviction that the time had arrived to get aboard the woman suffrage bandwagon before it passed rapidly out of sight.

There were spectacular features, including a small baby elephant, "Suffrage Plank," gaily decorated with yellow, which marched in the parade.

While the women were assembling and marching a delegation of women headed by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt appeared before the Resolutions Committee at an open hearing in the Coliseum.

The committee is struggling to-night with this and fifty-seven other kinds of planks.

"Suffrage First" Luncheon. More than 1,000 women assembled this noon at the Auditorium Hotel for the "suffrage first" luncheon of the Congressional Union, to celebrate the birth of the new organization the woman's party. Hundreds were turned away unable to get seats. As high as $10 was offered for luncheon seats, but several days ago every seat had been sold.

The speakers were Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, Mrs. Inez Milholland Boissevain, Miss Helen Keller, Miss Crystal Eastman, Mrs. Rheta Childe Dorr, Mrs. A. H. Hopkins and Mrs. W. D. Ascoug.

Men in all the hotels were earnestly discussing the remarkable meeting last night in the Blackstone Theatre, where Governor Osborn and John Hays Hammond spoke for the Republican party.

Allan C. Benson for the Socialists, Gifford Pinchot and Victor Murdock for the Progressives, Daniel Polling for the Prohibitionists and Dudley Field Malone for the Democrats.

WOMEN DEMAND SUFFRAGE PLANK

Thousands Invade Hearing of G. O. P. Resolutions Committee.

Coliseum, Chicago, June 7.—Several thousand suffragists, sporting yellow sashes and handbags, poured into the Coliseum late to-day to urge that Senator Lodge and other members of the Republican committee on resolutions insert a "votes for women" plank in the G. O. P. platform.

Mr. Chapman Catt, president of the National American Woman's Suffrage Association, presented a memorial to the committee, and Mrs. Harriot Stanton Blatch, late of New York, and now of Kansas, reinforced Mrs. Catt's plea.

"You stood by the black men in the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments," said Mrs. Blatch. "Now we want you to stand by the women."

The anti's had their innings, too. Mrs. Alice Hill Chittenden, of the New York organization, told the committee that suffrage was a controversial question, saying that it would probably break up the party and the times were too serious to stir up internal dissension.

Just as she began to speak some one asked Senator Lodge to allow a body of pro-suffrage paraders outside to enter the big hall. The Senator refused, saying that it would probably break up the hearing. As the anti's concluded their arguments, however, the doors were opened and the paraders streamed in. A few hastily stuffed hisses greeted the anti's as they left the platform, and the hearing went on.

Mrs. Catt's memorial, adopted at the meeting yesterday, asked for the following plank in the platform: "The Republican party, reaffirming its faith in government of the people, by the people, for the people, favors the extension of the suffrage to women, the adult people of justice to one-half of our population."

Mrs. Catt made a brief speech supporting the memorial and then presented Mrs. Abbie E. Krebs, delegate at large from California, to the Republican convention. Mrs. Krebs told the committee that the Republican party would never regret a woman's suffrage plank in the platform.

Mrs. Krebs was followed by Mrs. Ella Meredith Clement, for four years a commissioner of elections in Colorado; Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout, a former president of the Illinois Woman's Suffrage Association, and Mrs. Frank M. Roessing, of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Woman Suffrage Association's Congressional Committee, in brief speeches.

The National Association opposed to woman's suffrage then was given a hearing. Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge, of New York, president of the National Association, introducing the speakers, Mrs. Dodge said the organization she represented had members in twenty-four states.

Representatives of the Woman's Party, organized by members of the Congressional Union for Woman's Suffrage, included Miss Anne Martin, of Nevada, national chairman of the Woman's Party; Mrs. Sara Bard Field, of Oregon, president of the party; Mrs. Blatch and Miss Mabel Vernon, of Nevada, national secretary of the Woman's Party.

The committee also listened to Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Frank Morrison, secretary, who asked planks pledging the party to maintain the Federal law, securing to the workers the legal right of voluntary association for mutual protection and welfare; protecting their rights against unwarrantable issuance of writs of injunction and guaranteeing the right of trial by jury in all cases committed outside the presence of courts.

Among other things asked by the Federation was the enactment and enforcement of a Federal child labor law.

Former Governor Foss of Massachusetts headed a committee that asked for a national prohibition plank.

MOOSE PLATFORM IS PREPAREDNESS

Continued from page 1. The supreme duty of civilization to create conditions which will make peace permanent. Our country must be able and ready to take its part in that work. The peace which we desire for our country is not the peace of submission and cowardice, but the peace of justice. War and its evils will not be done away with by suffering injustice to ourselves or others, nor by pledging ourselves to drastic action for international right if we do not prepare the force which will sustain such action.

"We can perform our rightful part in promoting permanent international peace only by a willingness and a prepared ability to defend our own rights and the rights of other nations. We earnestly desire to keep the peace. But there are higher things that we must keep, as Washington and Lincoln kept them for us.

"Adequate provision for the common defense has become the task of foremost national concern. We must be ready in spirit, arms and industry. Preparedness is our requirement.

"A navy once more second in battle efficiency.

"A regular army of 250,000 men, fully armed and trained, as a first line of land defense.

"We therefore desire that the women of the country, who bear and rear its soldiers and make and keep its homes, shall have the full political right of suffrage.

"Arms alone cannot maintain a nation. Of far greater permanent importance must stand a national industry efficient for the general welfare, a prosperity justly distributed, a national life centered in all points for national ends.

"Four years ago this party was born of a nation's awakened sense of these fundamental truths. In the platform then adopted we set forth our position on public questions. We have made these declarations. They are made on national issues.

"A nation to survive must stand for the principles of social and industrial justice. We cannot permit the oppression of any class, and we must stand for high ideals of patriotism. A country must be worth living in to be worth dying for.

"To make possible social justice, to maintain our position in peace and war, we must insure business and industrial prosperity. This can be done only by a just distribution of its returns.

"By a conservation and development of our national resources, human and material.

"By making a new standard of governmental efficiency through a complete civil service system, a national budget and the destruction of pork barrel legislation.

Protective Tariff Essential. "By the creation of a permanent, expert tariff commission.

"The protective system is essential to our national prosperity. Tremendous new pressures will be thrown upon our industries after the war by the highly mobilized production of Europe. At all times conditions of competition must be equalized between our own and foreign countries. We can only get the protection we need through the use of exact and complete knowledge, unaffected by prejudice or politics. We can only secure that knowledge at all times and when needed through such a commission.

"We have set forth in this platform the plain essentials of national existence with which most men agree, which any man can propose. They are not new in principle. Our urgent and immediate need is for their performance. We have had ample experience with the promiser, with words and the bitter taste of words retracted. We must find a man who not alone by words, but by past deeds, gives guarantee that he can and will make these ideals good.

"The issue is one of men. In the midst of world changes unparalleled in history we cannot forecast the problems which will confront our government during the war and at its end. We, therefore, need as President a leader who knows the nations, a man who acts. If we continue longer to stand for hope above facts, we shall receive and merit the fate that surely awaits the man or people who do not face the truth.

"We will meet and work with any man or party who sees the nation's need and puts forward a leader fit to meet it. We will accept no less, in plan, or in the man, and we hereby solemnly charge upon those who place partisan politics above country the responsibility for a nation's future, sacrificed to self-interest and spoils."

Formal approval of the platform, tentatively drawn by Dean William Draper Lewis, of the University of Pennsylvania, and other leaders, was postponed until to-morrow by the resolutions committee.

Dean Lewis was elected chairman and Herbert Knox Smith, of Connecticut, former Commissioner of Corporations, secretary at the organization meeting this afternoon. The preliminary draft was read to the full committee, and to-night the committee heard many delegations and individuals advocating insertion of special planks.

A separate woman suffrage plank was urged, but it was stated that the suffrage question probably would be included in the blanket plank on national preparedness—social, economic, military and industrial.

Consideration of the platform, which will be presented to the convention tomorrow afternoon after permanent organization is effected, was expected to be the principal business at to-morrow's session.

G. O. P. RUSHES ORGANIZATION

the Republican party's allegiance to a protective tariff and national defence. He closed with a peroration on Americanism and Republicanism, which was marked with applause lasting less than a minute.

The delegates rose to their feet, some cheered, some hats were thrown in the air, and there was some waving of handkerchiefs, but they settled down quickly and the temporary chairman recognized in rapid succession speakers from the floor who offered the customary resolutions for perfecting the temporary organization.

That was quickly over with, the meeting places of the committees were announced, and at 1:25 o'clock the convention was declared adjourned until 11 o'clock to-morrow morning.

The delegates filed out into the driving rain, where they found 1,000 automobiles furnished by Mayor Thompson's reception committee waiting for them.

The committee members assembled in hotels and the resolutions committee returned later to the Coliseum to give a public hearing to any one who wanted to suggest planks in the platform. The first day's work ended quickly, and comparatively quietly, with every one talking about the placid, matter-of-fact way things had started off.

Next the temporary officers will become permanent officers when the convention assembles to-morrow. That makes Senator Harding, of Ohio, permanent chairman. The motion to make all the temporary officers permanent was carried without a dissenting vote in the committee on permanent organization.
