

Johnston or Williams In Final Net Round

McLaughlin Disappoints Gallery at Newport—Big Tourney Now On.

By FRED HAWTHORNE.

Newport, Rhode Island, Aug. 14.—This tennis revival of the second annual Newport tennis tournament of the Newport Casino Lawn Tennis Association began, with an entrance list of fifty-four players. Among the greatest names of three of America's greatest players, William M. Johnston, present national champion; R. Norris Williams, national champion of 1914, and Maurice E. McLaughlin, who reigned supreme before Williams sent him down to defeat, stood out most prominently.

The great Coast comet did not appear on the courts at either morning or afternoon session, although there were many anxious inquiries for Masury the Red, always a favorite on the historic Casino courts. Craig Biddle, of the tournament committee, said that the champion would probably be the former to-morrow afternoon. It appears that McLaughlin's appearance at Newport hinges on the result of his match in the elimination doubles at Chicago to-day. Biddle declared that if the comet and Ward Dawson, his partner, were defeated, Mac had made arrangements to hop a train immediately afterward and enter in the Casino tourney.

Play on Opposite Sides.

Johnston and Williams both played, they are on opposite sides of the draw, and both were easily successful against opponents who were always outclassed. Should McLaughlin fail to enter, it seems almost certain that it will be Johnston and Williams in the final round, for there is nobody else who would have a chance against either. The possibility of R. Lindley Murray, the California meteor, who entered, but is also among the absentees is date.

Back in the misty area when all the tennis world in America, centered in Newport and its famous all-comers' tournament, had held their year after year, and society considered its duty only half done if the matches between the country's greatest were not religiously attended.

Then, in 1915, the blue ribbon event of the courts went to the West Side Tennis Club, at Forest Hills, N. Y., and Newport was robbed of its heritage. Newport was held here for it for thirty-three consecutive years. Last year an annual invitation tournament was substituted for the all-comers', and Newport again pays its homage, though in a more subdued spirit, to the knights of the court.

Tom Pettit, the Casino professional, had his beloved turf clipped and rolled and groomed until it was a thing of beauty to look at and to play upon. The bounds were true and the footing lightning fast, and to complete the setting, the day dawned brightly, with just enough snap in the breeze to spur the players on.

Lesser Lights on Hand.

The lesser lights among the tennis stars were on hand early, and the matches went off with scheduled celerity, with no upsets to set the gallery gasping. Watson M. Washburn advanced by a default, Wallace Johnson, the cut throat artist from Philadelphia, baffled Donald Lambert with his entirely bounding ball, and Fred Lemaux took the measure of V. H. Godfrey at 6-1, 6-2, 6-1.

Ichijo Kumagae, the little Japanese, and Hachisuro Mikami, his partner, won their matches in the opening round. Kumagae vanquished J. S. O'Neal, of New York, in straight sets at 6-1, 6-3, 6-3, earning his points by pretty passing shots down the side lines as his opponent charged for the net. Mikami sailed merrily along against Silas W. Merrihue, winning at 6-1, 6-2, 6-1.

Other early winners were C. M. Bull, Jr., Richard Harris, Nat Niles, Craig Biddle, Clarence J. Griffin, Roland Roberts and W. Merrill Hall. Only one Californian of the five entered was eliminated, H. Van Dyke Johns sublimating to the powerful deep driving game of Hall, who was going better than for some time.

Williams Draws Waters.

Williams was drawn against A. A. Waters, and the pair were assigned to the court in front of the theatre building. Although just off the train, Williams got going without a moment's delay, shooting always for the line or an inch over the net, in the immitable Williams way. So fast did he whip the ball over the net and so true did he bowl to the lines that Waters was hardly able to get his racket on the ball, and the former champion marched straight through the first four games without allowing his hapless opponent a single point. The fifth game went to Waters after Williams had tossed the points away by finding the net, and then the Philadelphian took the last two games and the first set at 6-1. Williams began trying to see how much closer he could skim the net and nick the lines, and Waters got two games before Williams closed the second set at 6-2.

The third round found Dick going even faster, and he went straight through to victory without the loss of a game. The man who conquered Johnston at Forest Hills two weeks ago was full of spirits to-day and seemed to revel in the exercise.

Johnston took the court with Douglas Champlin just back of Williams and the gallery was soon split into two divisions. The national champion did not strike his stride until after Champlin had won the first two games of the match, and then Johnston doubled faulted in the first game and thereafter points away when his terrific forehand drives dove into the net.

In the final set the champion alternated periods of lightning fast tennis with bits of wildness, but when he thought the occasion demanded it he hammered out his points with wonderful sharpness and precision and took the last session at 6-3. From the opening set, twice Johnston and Waters fought in the first game and thereafter points away when his terrific forehand drives dove into the net.

Newport Invitation singles (first round)—Watson M. Washburn won from E. C. Ingram by default. R. N. Davis defeated F. H. Wilson, 6-2, 6-4, 6-1. Wallace Johnson defeated Donald Lambert, 6-2, 6-1. Ichijo Kumagae defeated H. Van Dyke Johns, 6-1, 6-3, 6-3. Fred C. Lemaux defeated V. H. Godfrey, 6-1, 6-2, 6-1. Robert Lerry defeated J. S. O'Neal, 6-1, 6-3, 6-3. Joseph J. Armstrong defeated Peter B. Foster, 6-1, 6-2, 6-1. Nathaniel W. Niles defeated H. Van Dyke Johns, 6-1, 6-3, 6-3. Douglas S. Waters defeated J. S. O'Neal, 6-1, 6-3, 6-3. Douglas S. Waters defeated J. Bill Ready for Bout.

Johnny Gill, the new middleweight contender who makes his debut at the Harlem Sporting Club on Friday night against Nero Chink, the Porto Rico middleweight, arrived here last night from his home in York, Penn. Mixed bouts of six and four affairs will, as usual, open the bill.

CHICAGO TENNIS PLAYER MEETS CHURCH TO-DAY

Heath Byford Works Way to Challenge Round for Western Title.

Lake Forest, Ill., Aug. 14.—Heath Byford, of Chicago, won the right to meet George M. Church, of Tenafly, N. J. here to-morrow in the challenge round for the men's Western singles title, in the final match to-day, 6-1, 8-10, 6-1, 6-3.

The first two sets were hard fought, but the last two went to the younger player down in the long duce set, and he did it much his own way after that.

Miss Katherine Voorhees and Miss Miriam Stever, Chicago, won the women's doubles championship by defeating Miss Carrie B. Neely and Miss Dorothy Higbie, of Chicago, 6-2, 6-1.

Pairing for the national doubles preliminaries, which start here to-morrow to select a team to meet Johnston and Griffin on August 28 at New York, for the national championship, were announced this evening.

In the first round Seiforde Stellwagen and Trafford Jayne, Minneapolis, Northwestern champions, meet Nat Emerson and Lew Hardy, Memphis, of the Southern section; Ward Dawson and Maurice McLaughlin, Los Angeles, Pacific Coast title holders, meet A. J. Hingray, Chicago, and Jack Cannon, Kansas City, Missouri Valley; George M. Church, Tenafly, N. J., and Willis E. Davis, San Francisco, Eastern title holders, draw a bye through the draw; Conrad B. Doyle and George Breck, of Washington, the Middle Atlantic title holders, and F. H. Wright and Clarence Hogue, Dallas, Tex., southwestern section champions, meet Walter Hayes and Ralph Burdick, Chicago, Western champions.

CORINTHIANS ENTER ATLANTIC Y. C. RACES

For the first time in the history of the sport, the Corinthians, who sail on Jamaica Bay have entered yachts in the annual races of the Atlantic Yacht Club which begin on August 11. The boats include Surprise of the Bell Harbor Yacht Club; Clinco and Curlew, from the Jamaica Bay Yacht Club; Clara May and Sindbad from the Canarsie Yacht Club, Six from the Rockaway Point Yacht Club and Zia from the Bergen Beach Yacht Club.

The entry of the Jamaica Bay yachts in the low water regatta is principally due to the work of C. H. Merritt, who is in close touch with the yachting situation on both bays. Captain Merritt states that the Jamaica Bay yachtsmen will make their headquarters at the Bensonhurst Yacht Club and will sail in special classes each day. He believes that three or four more yachts will enter before next Monday.

Jeannette on Willard Trail.

Joe Jeannette, the negro heavyweight, intends to return to the game and meet all the white heavyweights, in hopes of eventually obtaining a match with Jess Willard. On Saturday night, at Washington Park, Brooklyn, Jeannette will meet Soldier Kearn, This will be the star attraction of an all star bill. In the second ten rounds Johnny Howard clashes with George Ashe.

Pitcher Fans Twenty-five.

Marinette, Wis., Aug. 14.—What is believed to be a record in baseball was made yesterday, when Pitcher Ewick, of a Crivitz baseball team, in an eleven-inning game with Marinette, struck out twenty-five men. Crivitz won, 2 to 1, in usual, open the bill.

Freebooters Lose To Wanderers At Point Judith

Alex Brown Makes First Appearance of Season on Polo Field.

Narragansett Pier, R. I., Aug. 14.—As a curtain raiser for the Atlantic Cup match to-morrow a special game at the Point Judith Club to-day brought out some fine polo under regular weather conditions. In the regular game the Wanderers beat the Freebooters by 13 to 4.

There also was a match between picked teams later to fill in the afternoon, the Whites, who lined up with Mrs. Philip Stevenson, Rodman Wannamaker, P. S. Randolph and M. C. Fleischman, opposing the Reds, who were Miss Eleanor Sears, S. H. Freeman, Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., and G. M. Heckscher. Both Mrs. Stevenson and Miss Sears struck goals. The score at the fourth period was 6 to 2 in favor of the Reds.

In the special game both the Wanderers and Freebooters gained two goals in the first period, but after that the first named team was the stronger in each period. Alex Brown made his first appearance of the season at back. The line up follows:

WANDERERS	Freebooters
Y. Hitchcock, 11	G. M. Heckscher, 11
W. H. Haddock, 11	W. H. Haddock, 11
W. P. Hubert, 11	M. C. Fleischman, 11
Jack D. Burden, 11	Harold A. Brown, 11

Running Races Popular Sport at Red Bank

Red Bank, N. J., Aug. 14.—Running races will be a popular sport innovation at the Monmouth Fair this year. An attractive programme of six races has been arranged by Horace P. Murphy, racing secretary, for Labor Day at the fair, the rules of the Jockey Club to govern all races.

The programme of running races follows: First race—Monmouth Fair, 1916, for 250 lbs. not exceeding 15 hands; purse, $100, of which $25 to second horse and $10 to third horse, weight, 120 pounds, winners to 124 to carry three pounds additional for each race won; gentlemen riders. About five favorites.

Second race—The Red Bank, for all ages; purse, $100, of which $25 to second, $10 to third, two-year-olds to carry 120 pounds, gentlemen riders for 3 years carry 125 pounds; four-year-olds and upward carry 140 pounds; professional riders for 3 years carry 150 pounds; four-year-olds and upward carry 175 to three years, 180 pounds; over a year and upward, 180 pounds; over a year and upward, 180 pounds; over a year and upward, 180 pounds.

Third race—Sturdivant Farm, for three-year-olds and upward; purse, $150, of which $25 to second and $15 to third weight, 140 pounds; professional riders, 3 pounds additional; about six favorites.

Fourth race—Farmers' race, for pole ponies owned by Monmouth County and regularly poked at the Monmouth Club and Red Bank Club, ridden by their owners, 120 pounds; a place of plate for first, second and third horses. About five favorites.

Fifth race—Polo pony event; for polo ponies owned by Monmouth County and regularly poked at the Monmouth Club and Red Bank Club, ridden by their owners, 120 pounds; a place of plate for first, second and third horses. About five favorites.

Sixth race—For all ages; purse, $150, of which $25 to second horse and $10 to third horse, two-year-olds to carry 110 pounds, three-year-olds to carry 120 pounds, four-year-olds and upward 140 pounds; winners in 1914 of one race to carry five pounds extra; of two or more races to carry 10 extra. About six favorites.

Tigers Buy Outfielder.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 14.—The Vancouver club of the Northwestern Baseball League has sold Jack Calvo, the Cuban outfielder, to the Detroit Americans. Calvo will finish the present season with San Francisco, and report to Detroit in the spring.

Pitcher Fans Twenty-five.

Marinette, Wis., Aug. 14.—What is believed to be a record in baseball was made yesterday, when Pitcher Ewick, of a Crivitz baseball team, in an eleven-inning game with Marinette, struck out twenty-five men. Crivitz won, 2 to 1, in usual, open the bill.

The Sportlight by Grand Rice

Of the old $100,000 or the $200,000 infel, you hear less about him than any of the others.

He never batted .300 in his life. He has batted over .260 but three times in nine years. His present mark is under .220. When the old infield was broken up he brought the cheapest price, selling for less than half the others.

And yet for all-around value—for clean, hard, aggressive playing, for helping to hold a club together, for wonderful defensive power—John J. Barry, the Holy Cross flag hunter and the Red Sox star, is second to very, very few.

The J. J. Family.

In the first place, Barry's name gave him a running start in sport, for he is a member of the J. J. family that embraces J. J. McGraw, J. J. Evers, J. J. Corbett, J. J. Jeffries and a number of others that we haven't time to think about now.

In the second place, beyond his physical abilities, Barry has a wonderful baseball instinct of the alert, intelligent, aggressive sort. His head is always up and his eyes are always open for the main chance. He has the knack, too, of inspiring a world of confidence among his mates.

Another Point.

Barry belongs with success. He belongs to the winning species of the game. There are now just two ball players who have taken part in five world series and who have their chance for sixth shot at the October kale.

Both are John J.'s, both are second basemen and both play for a Boston club. This may not be a coincidence, but whatever it is, the parallel can be further continued, for both are about the same brainy, alert lines.

World Series Returns.

If the Red Sox finish first again this year, Barry's full return from his six world series ventures will be around $15,000, for he has been on four world series winners out of five starts, showing that his success has not been limited to pennant play.

He is one of the most valuable types that a ball club can carry, and if he were only a consistent .300 hitter he would be listed to-day as one of the greatest stars of all time. He deserves all the more credit for the place he has achieved with a .250 batting eye, for it belongs to very few to reach the heights without the old .300 wallop attached.

World Series Types.

No wonder that old Mackian machine was considered invincible, a sure winner back in April. Not even the once renowned Cubs were able to produce as many championship types.

There is Barry helping the Red Sox in their upward drive, a vital figure in his club's success. There is Collins poised as another vital figure in the White Sox dash to the top. There is Plank helping the Browns to try and achieve a pennant destiny, one of the most important figures in the Jones machine.

There is Coombs, with a pitching percentage of .597 and a world of keen advice for the Brooklyn march. So at least four of the old machine are helping four different clubs in two of the greatest pennant fights of many years.

Old Cubs vs. Old Mackmen.

Outside of Evers, none of the old Cubs when turned adrift or sold were of any surpassing advantage to other machines. But here is a ball club that when scattered helped to make five pennant winners or contenders in the different leagues.

Ten Years Ago.

Which suggests another thought. Ten years ago, when we were raking together a few odds and ends of dope in Cleveland, we recall a Western winner of Mack's club. It was one of the big jokes of the year. His old machine had just saved in and he was trying to build up another.

Loud and merry laughter went around the landscape when Connie solemnly stated one afternoon when he had lost about fourteen out of fifteen games as a joke line-up that he would soon be back in the hunt.

But the laughter wasn't quite so loud nor quite so merry a season or two later on, when Collins, Barry, Baker, Melnis, Stank, Coombs and a few others joined Bender, Plank and Harry Davis, the last of his old guard.

So it might be said that Connie Mack was a prevalent factor in putting the Red Sox, White Sox, Browns and Brooklyn where they are. But for the men that Connie had found, developed and sold there would have been a different yarn to spin.

Port-to-Port Runs of South Bay Yacht Race

Louis Smyth, who had charge of the motor boat racing on the annual cruise of the Yacht Racing Association of the Great South Bay, has secured the times of the various craft in the port-to-port race. The winners in the first race, from Amityville to Babylon, were the Edith S., the Twin B, and the Aloha in the sailing divisions and the Junior and the Crivitz, in the motor divisions. In the first squadron race for the screw driven craft, on August 10, from Bay Shore to Sayville, the winner was the cruiser Florence, and among the high speed craft, to the Detroit American by the Ace IV. On corrected time the winner among the cruisers in the second race was the Gramill, while the Hestiation was the only high speed craft to cover the course.

The boats were measured on Sunday and to-day the announcement of the results was made by Chairman Smyth. The summary of the runs giving the three leading yachts follows:

CLASS	YACHT	START	FINISH	TIME
CRUISERS—START	10.21 A. M.
Edith S.	10.21	10.21	10.21	10.21

Kentucky Horse Carries Away Kentucky Stakes

Katenka Wins from Storm Nymph and Mary Odile—Bonny Laddy Victor.

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 14.—Katenka, from the stable of J. O. Keene, won the Kentucky Stakes this afternoon from Storm Nymph and Marie Odile. After the finish Katenka was purchased by E. A. Burke. She had been entered to be sold for $1,500, and when Burke boosted her to $5,000 she was surrendered.

It was rather a good day for the West, for Katenka came on from Kentucky, and her victory was followed by a triumph for John W. Schorr, the Memphis horseman, in the mile handicap. His winner was Hank O'Day.

Bonny Laddy, the $12,000 jumper, made his first appearance of the season and was an easy victor in the steeplechase over Skibberen and Emerald Isle, the only other starters. While he won handsily he hardly performed like a $12,000 horse, but it may have been because he will only do what is required.

Katenka was not the only victim of the halter race. After Kats had won a maiden race for Gifford A. Cochran he was boosted from $600 to $1,700 and sold at that price to J. L. McGinnis. Then in the last race Cliff Field, the winner was boosted from $1,200 to $1,600 by Hedrick, but he was bought in by his owner, L. J. Carey.

Racing Notes.

Jockey H. Shillineau was suspended for five days by Starter Cassidy for disobedience at the post on Bally in the first race.

Word was received at the track that seventeen yearlings purchased by A. K. Macomber from J. B. Joel in England left for this country yesterday.

Sam Slick was claimed from the Cleveland Stable after the running of the last race Saturday.

Joseph E. Widener recently completed a most important purchase of foreign thoroughbreds when he took three head from Lord Eddisbury's breeding farm. In the lot there are represented such famous stallions as Ajax, Flying Fox and Verwood. Jerry Welsh will break the youngsters in France and they will be brought to this country and turned over to Thomas Welsh in the fall.

FAVORITES MEET DEFEAT IN GRAND CIRCUIT RACES

Russell Boy and The Lark Distanced—Derby Custer Easy Winner.

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 14.—Two first choices, Russell Boy and The Lark, were distanced in second heats of their races to-day at the opening of the Columbus Grand Circuit meeting. The other favorite, Derby Custer, won his event in straight heats.

Russell Boy was slightly favored over Judge Ormond for the 2:05 pace, but the winner turned up in Lelia Patchen, of the Snow Stable. It was all Russell Boy in the first heat, but he made a fatal break turning into the stretch in the second mile and was outside the flag when it fell.

Judge Ormond won this heat and the next, but was unable to stand Lelia Patchen's rush in the fourth mile, the time being 2:04 1/4, or the best of the race, which was the first six-heat one of the Grand Circuit season. Snow's mare won the next two heats about as she pleased.

Straight Sail, a four-year-old mare, owned by J. C. Small, of Cincinnati, came on the Grand Circuit to-day for the first time and was always in front in the three heats of the 2:18 trot. At no time did The Lark act well. The Derby Custer, Murray driver, was never in trouble during the 2:15 pace, and the real competition in this race was between Wampatuck, Contention B, and Willis Woodland for second place.
