

Union Heads Revoke Strike Order After Senate Passes 8-Hour Bill

GREEK THRONE TOTTERING AS REVOLT GROWS

Allied Fleet Seizes Teuton Ships in Port of Athens.

NATION MAY JOIN WAR IN 24 HOURS

Martial Law Proclaimed in Capital and Other Cities.

London, Sept. 2.—While the revolt in Greece is spreading, Athens is in a ferment. Confronted on the one hand by internal dissension that looms larger hourly and on the other by Allied pressure, the government is trembling. The question of intervention may be settled in the next twenty-four hours.

Under command of a French admiral, a big Allied fleet crises before the Piræus, the port of Athens. The flag of France was raised to-day on four German and three Austrian ships interned in the harbor. Boarding parties from the Entente warships seized the vessels, Athens reports.

Other Allied sailors landed to-day and seized the wireless apparatus at the Greek arsenal. No news is allowed to trickle out of Greece into Germany. The shadow of the Entente hand grows bigger every day, and it is believed King Constantine cannot hold out much longer.

Regulars Join Uprising.

The uprising, which Greek regulars have now joined, is spreading. All Northern Greece is affected and dispatches say that martial law has been proclaimed in Athens, the Piræus and other cities. This revolt may sweep the King out of power at any moment.

At Salonica the revolutionaries have proclaimed a provisional government and issued a manifesto calling on the people to combine with the Allies to drive the Bulgars out of Greece. Dispatches long delayed said that a general mobilization in Macedonia was to have been decreed last Wednesday night.

The diplomatic situation continues to be of prime importance. A Reuter dispatch from Athens, dated Friday, says that the Entente ministers at the capital have drafted a note for presentation to Premier Zaimis. This assures the government, it is reported, that the naval demonstration and other measures are not directed against Greece.

King Holds Conferences.

King Constantine has been holding many conferences with the Entente ministers. London understands that the threat of revolt has been pointed out to him as proof that the time has come to act definitely for the Entente and to break completely with the Germans. If the King continues to be vacillating, it is reported, that the Entente will be in a turmoil.

Hammers of Clyde To Spike Foe's Guns

Noyes Foresees Germany's Downfall as He Watches English Legions Build Fleets of Lusitania Avengers.

By ALFRED NOYES.

To-day I heard the unending rattle and roar of the machine guns that are defeating Germany; but there were no bullets apparent and no casualties. It was the sound of the pneumatic riveting hammers, ringing upon a hundred ships in the forest-like yards of the Clyde. The scene from the deck of our launch as we glided from dock to dock and from reach to gleaming reach of the smoke-wreathed river was one of epic grandeur. And here, too, I was strangely reminded of the boyhood of Drake, when he was taken by his father to live on that disused hulk rotting in Chatham Reach to dream his dreams and grow up in a grim nursery, among ropes and masts and cannon.

And all around them, as he heard
The clang and clatter of shipwright hammers rang,
And hour by hour upon his vision rose
In solid oak reality new ships
As lion rose to music, ships of war,
The visible shapes and symbols of his dream,
Unconscious yet, but growing as they grew,
A wondrous incarnation, hour by hour,
Till with their towering masts they stood complete,
Embodied thoughts, in God's own dockyards built,
For Drake ere long to lead against the world.

It was ten years ago that I wrote these lines—unconsciously also of their possible future application—but the new experience brought them back to me as I watched these great new ships arising and saw my old instinctive experience there before me, like a recollection of a former existence. I could not help wondering whether more thoughts were "in the air" for me then than I knew.

Here, like the ribs of an unimaginably huge leviathan, lay the shipyard in which the Lusitania was born, and all around it

KING CONSTANTINE IN SERIOUS CONDITION

Greek Ruler Has Never Regained Health After Operation.

Rome, Sept. 2.—The condition of King Constantine of Greece is reported to be very serious.

King Constantine has been in ill health for several months, never having recovered from an operation for pleurisy. A short time ago a second operation was performed, but there have been no previous indications that the King's condition was serious.

BRINGS $5,000 SUIT FOR Y. M. C. A. DUCKING

Dumped Into Lake Oscawana at 2 A. M., Charges Camper.

Charles Roth believes it is worth $5,000 to be dragged from one's bed at 2 a. m. and dumped into Lake Oscawana. Yesterday he filed suit with the Supreme Court for that amount against the Young Men's Christian Association and three individuals, Edward McCormack, Daniel Holland and John B. Brittain.

He alleges that on July 25 he was aroused from his sleep in the Young Men's Christian Association camp at Lake Oscawana by those mentioned in the complaint and others, who "pushed, dragged and pulled" him to the lake and, "at the expense of his dignity and to his mortification," threw him in. He says the immersion caused him to suffer from a cold.

HIGHER WAGES LURE NAVY YARD WORKERS

New Dreadnought Held Up by Lack of Skilled Labor.

Lack of skilled labor will make it impossible for the new dreadnought New Mexico to be launched in November the time set. Nearly 1,200 men are needed at once if the battleship is to be completed at her specified time, and the navy yard cannot find them.

Usually there is a long waiting list of workmen, but just now there is no list, and officers in charge of the construction work are in despair.

RUMANIANS HURL ENEMY ACROSS CERNA

Orsova Near Capture As Austrians Retreat Over River.

LOSE IN FIERCE 5-DAY BATTLE

Mackenson's Flank Is Impenetrable by Enemy's Successful Drive.

London, Sept. 2.—The Rumanians have won the upper hand in the battle for Orsova, the Austrian bastion on the Danube. After five days of furious fighting the Teuton troops have been forced to retire to the west bank of the Cerna River.

In Transylvania the Rumanian advance is unchecked. The Austrians, who have decided to shorten their line, are offering little resistance. The important city of Hermannstadt, fifteen miles from the border, and territory north of Kronstadt have been abandoned to the invader. On the Northern front, in the Gyergo Mountain sector, the Rumanians have begun a new attack.

The victory at Orsova is of prime importance to the Rumanians. When the Austrian retreat from Transylvania has been completed, shortening the line, Orsova will form the southern bulwark of the second system of defence. A Teuton defeat there would put the Rumanians in position for turning the new Austrian line.

RUSSIANS GIVE VALUABLE AID

On the Northern front, where the Russians are fighting with the Rumanians, steady progress continues. In this movement the czar's army in the Carpathians is offering valuable assistance. The forces succeeded to-day in winning a series of heights near Korosmezo, bordering on the Jablonitz pass.

Day's Official Reports of Fighting in Balkans

Paris, Sept. 2.—The official announcement issued to-day follows:

On the Struma front and in the region of Lake Doiran there was intermittent cannonading. Our artillery

PEACE TALK WINS WILSON MOST CHEERS

Defies Hyphens and Has No Apologies in Acceptance

PREPAREDNESS GETS A SENTENCE

Defends His Mexican Actions—Makes Bid for Progressives.

Long Branch, N. J., Sept. 2.—In a setting of stately lawns and towering trees, President Wilson gave formal address at Shadow Lawn this afternoon to the Democratic campaign slogans of "Peace and prosperity." In a terse speech he accepted the renomination of his party. He made no apologies, acknowledged a few "mistakes" with regard to Mexico, and then announced the platform on which he stood for reelection.

Every measure and policy on which the Administration has been attacked received a spirited defence from the President. He stood by his foreign policies, and declared that the rights of all American citizens had been upheld. He justified his course with reference to Mexico, denounced again the "unspeakable Huerta," and declared that so long as he had anything to do with the government here would be no intervention in Mexico.

NO QUARTER FOR HYPHENS

Even more uncompromising was the President's attack on the "hyphens." He condemned the interference of "certain active groups and combinations of men amongst us who were born under foreign flags, injecting the poison of disloyalty into our own most critical affairs." He declared that the election this year must serve as an effective rebuke to their activities.

"It is part of the business of this year," declared the President, with a gesture that brought applause, "to speak plainly and act with unmistakable purpose in rebuke of these things in order that they may be forever hereafter impossible. I am the candidate of a party, but I am, above all else, an American citizen. I neither seek the favor nor fear the displeasure of that small alien element among us which puts loyalty to any foreign power before loyalty to the United States."

Peace Wins Applause

Peace was prominently the sentiment of the mixed crowd of holiday makers and politicians who gathered about the south portico of the White House. They applauded every reference to it, not only by the President, but even more by Senator Ollie James.

WILSON TO SIGN BILL AT 7:30 THIS MORNING

Long Branch, N. J., Sept. 2.—Announcement was made here to-night that President Wilson would sign the eight-hour bill passed by Congress at 7:30 to-morrow morning.

When President Wilson was told that the eight-hour bill was ready for his signature he said: "It is the climax of a very happy day."

LONDON'S GUNS DROP ZEPPELIN

Huge German Airship Shot Down in War's Greatest Raid.

London, Sept. 3.—Zeppelins, in greater number than ever raided England before, attacked London and the eastern counties late last night. One of the raiders was brought down in flames in the suburbs of London.

The attack on the metropolis was beaten back by Sir John French's anti-aircraft guns.

The dirigibles dropped many bombs, but at an early hour this morning the number of casualties was unknown.

The text of the official statement says: "The attack to-night was made by a larger number of airships than ever previously raided England. The eastern counties of London apparently were their objective. The attack on London was beaten off, and one raider was brought down in flames."

"Many bombs were dropped in widely separated localities, but no reports of casualties or damage have been received as yet."

An earlier statement said: "Shortly before 11 o'clock in the evening our eastern coasts were attacked by several hostile airships. Bombs have already been dropped on a few places. No details have been received as regards the number of raiders or their objective. The raid is still progressing."

The German Zeppelin brought down in the latest night raid is the second one to meet with disaster in attempted attacks on London this year. On March 31 last the Zeppelin L-15 was damaged in a raid on the eastern coast, and during the night came down off the Thames estuary. The British captured seventeen men of the crew. The Zeppelin was taken in flames and the patrol boat she subsequently broke up and sank.

On January 31, 1914, the Zeppelin L-19 was lost in the North Sea. She was believed to have been damaged by English coast batteries. On February 2 the L-19 was seen in the North Sea in a sinking condition by the crew of the steamship King Stephen, who refused to save the crew of the airship, but that she would be overpowered by the numerical superiority of the raider's crew.

Another Lost in Snow Storm.

The Zeppelin L-3 was lost in a snowstorm off the coast of Denmark February 18, 1915, after participating in a raid on Norfolk, England, and was burned on Danish soil and was airship landed on Danish soil and was burned by her crew, fourteen of whom were interned in Denmark.

The total number of Zeppelins lost by Germany in the war is uncertain, but probably aggregates thirty.

Following the last Zeppelin raid on August 25, which was the second in two nights, Lord Montagu, former vice-chairman of the joint naval and military board, warned the residents of London that they must expect many more raids this fall. He said the Germans had prepared for an air campaign proceeding far beyond anything that had been planned for the new super-Zeppelins would be used.

A super-Zeppelin is believed to have been among the aircraft which took part in the raid of August 25, in which eight persons were killed and thirty-seven wounded on the east coast and outskirts of the city. This was the second raid in two nights.

UNION OPENLY DICTATES COURSE OF LEGISLATION

Wilson's Plea Stops Threat Not to Call Off Tie-Up Till Bill Is Signed.

PRESIDENT TO AFFIX HIS SIGNATURE TO-DAY

Republicans Vote Solidly Against Surrender and Only Two Democrats Join Them—Underwood Amendment Beaten.

Washington, Sept. 2.—A nation-wide railroad strike has been averted. Messages rescinding the order that fixed the time of the tie-up for Monday morning were wired to-night to the 640 general chairmen of the four train service brotherhoods. These dispatches are spreading far and wide throughout the country until every one of the 400,000 trainmen who expected to quit has received the word to remain at his post.

The bill already passed by the House of Representatives granting train service employees ten hours' pay for eight hours work and pro rata pay for over time was approved by the Senate a few minutes after 6 o'clock this evening by a vote of 43 to 28. President Wilson will find it waiting for his signature to-morrow morning when he returns from the notification ceremonies at Shadow Lawn.

The four brotherhood chiefs announced immediately after the passage of the emergency measure that they would not rescind the strike order until the bill became a law with the President's signature attached. They intend to wait for a few scratches of the President's pen that would completely dispel the shadow of the strike that has menaced the country for many weeks.

GERMAN HELD AS FAY ESCAPED BOMB PLOTTER

Corinth, Miss., Authorities Await Fuller Identification.

Corinth, Miss., Sept. 2.—A German answering in a general way the description of Lieutenant Robert Fay, the bomb plotter, who recently escaped from the Atlanta penitentiary, is under arrest here. He is being held while an answer is awaited from prison officials, who have sent photographs and a detailed description of the man.

RAILROAD MAPS MAY LOSE POCANTICO HILLS

Wealthy Want Stage Line for Present Route.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Many of the older residents of Pocantico Hills are aroused over efforts of a number of the more wealthy to wipe the village from the railroad map by the elimination of the loop of the Putnam Railroad. This cuts the centre of the John D. Rockefeller estate.

A petition is being circulated to have the road, which connects Pocantico Hills with Eastview, supplanted by a stage line. Besides Mr. Rockefeller, some of those who object to the noise of pulling freight engines making the heavy grade on the horsehoe turn are Dr. Charles C. Brace, Samuel Ullmann, Mrs. Harry Allen Grant, James Butler and Mrs. David L. Milton.

VILLA AND 1,000 MEN REPORTED ADVANCING

Gen. Bell Hears Bandit Seized Train Near Santa Ysabel.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 2.—Brigadier General George Bell admitted to-day Villa's strength was growing more rapidly than he had supposed. He said his agents had obtained information Villa had 1,000 men and had captured a train in the vicinity of Santa Ysabel. He was said to be moving west from Chihuahua in the direction of the places evacuated by the American troops.

A revolt among the Carranza troops at Ascension and Madera is reported by General Gonzales.

Columbus, N. M., Sept. 2.—"I have received reports concerning Villa and his followers moving from several points in the direction of our lines, but have been unable to verify them," said Brigadier General J. J. Pershing, who is here inspecting the base camp. He declined to discuss the proposed withdrawal of his forces.

Contents—and Contentment

If one of your favorite Sunday sports is reading, then sink into that easy chair, open up The Sunday Tribune, and forget your worries. Here is an outline of the contents, to indicate how you may spend a contented day:

Part I—The Main News Section.	Part III—Editorial Reports, Financial.	Part V—The Tribune Magazine.
Part II—Sporting Section.	Part IV—Theatre, Music, The Tribune Institute.	Part VI—The Tribune Graphic (two sections of 8 big pages each).

To have any part is good; but to have all is better, for to have the whole Sunday Tribune is to have the best of everything. Check the list over and tell us if any section has been lost in the handling. We'll replace it.

The Sunday Tribune
First to Last—the Truth:
News · Editorials · Advertisements.
Member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.