

YOUNG COUPLE, DRUG VICTIMS, GET COURT AID

Sent to Blackwell's Hospital at Own Request. Magistrate Green of the Washington Heights court was about to leave for his home yesterday when a well-dressed man, accompanied by an attractive young woman, walked up to his bench. The woman bowed her head and began to weep when the man spoke. "I want you to send us to an asylum where we may be cured of the morphine habit," said the man. To reply to questions the man said he was George Blair, that he was an expert accountant and lived at 530 Manhattan Avenue. He said the woman with him was his wife, Dorothy Blair, and that they had two children in a convent in Illinois. Mr. Blair explained his wife became addicted to the drug two years ago, following an operation, and that he began to take morphine soon afterward to get relief from stomach trouble. He said he was thirty-six years old and his wife thirty-two, and that both were helpless to fight the drug habit by themselves. Magistrate Green sent them to the hospital on Blackwell's Island.

RICH BRIDEGROOM, 70, ENDS LIFE IN CREEK

Letter to Friend Told Where the Body Could Be Found. Trenton, N. J., Oct. 7.—The body of William Bullus, a wealthy retired lumberman, seventy years old and a bridegroom of a week, was recovered early to-day from San Hican Creek near here. Bullus's bride was Miss Lydia R. Flood, of Atlantic City, forty years his junior. Bullus wrote a letter to Gardner Cain, a friend, telling where his body might be found and asking Cain to administer the estate. No reason for suicide was assigned. SLACKERS. The American Duchess of Marlborough has a sharp wit, which she turned recently, as an American diplomat reports, according to an exchange, on the unmarried slackers—on the young men who have rushed into war work to escape the trenches. The occasion was a London dinner party and a young girl said to the duchess: "I want to do something for my country. What do you advise me, duchess, to take up?" "I'd go into an ammunition factory if I were you, my dear. That's where all the single men are."

RECORD THROUGH AT PIPING ROCK

Society Gathering at Races Most Brilliant in Club's History.

MANY LUNCHEONS PRECEDE EVENTS

Week-End Parties Motor to Course—Others Come by Special Train.

From a society standpoint the first session of the autumn meeting of the Piping Rock Racing Association at the Piping Rock Country Club, Locust Valley, Long Island, yesterday afternoon, was the most notable since the opening of the club several years ago. The weather conditions were perfect, and, as a result, the attendance was large and brilliant. Many arrived early and had luncheon on the piazza of the clubhouse, while others came later in automobiles from the country estates on Long Island and by special trains from the city.

Among those who had luncheon at the club were Mr. and Mrs. James R. McKee, Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Reisinger, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Winmill, J. 2 NATIONS HELP MAN GET CHINESE BRIDE

Californian Dodges Exclusion Act by Marriage in Mexico.

San Diego, Cal., Oct. 7.—Mexican and United States officials smoothed the way for the culmination of the romance of William C. Wyatt, an American, and Miss Daisy Joe, daughter of a wealthy Chinese merchant of San Francisco, and to-day the two, husband and wife, are back from Ensenada, Lower California, whither they sailed several days ago to be married. The bride's father and a lawyer of Los Angeles accompanied the couple to Ensenada, the trip to Mexico being necessitated because California's laws prohibit the intermarriage of whites and Orientals. It was feared that the Asiatic exclusion law in force at Ensenada would prevent the girl from landing there.

but Governor Esteban Cantu of Lower California ordered the port officials to permit the couple to land for the ceremony, which was witnessed by an American hotel keeper and his wife. The immigration authorities here, convinced of the bride's American citizenship, offered no objection to her return from Lower California.

PLUMS UBER ALLES. Have you any idea of the space food occupies in the mind of the man at the front? Yesterday I was crossing a bullet-swept orchard with another officer when I noticed plums. Terrified lest my partner should see them I suggested that we leave quickly as the place was too unhealthy, writes Captain Louis Keene in "Cartoons Magazine." So we crawled away. That night in the light of a big moon my cook and I stole into the orchard and gathered two sand bags full of plums. The bullets whistling through the trees hurried the picking.

Sample Shoes for Simple Souls

Strange, indeed, is the potpourri of real and near leather offered the trusting public as "bargains in gen-u-wine samples." From the factory "rejects" bin, from ten-year-old "clean up" sales, from any place, seemingly, but the salesman's sample case, come the assembly of foot junk peddled in the "sample stores."

Samuel Hopkins Adams

The Ad-Visor of The Tribune, humorously exposed a number of these precious fakes. They are shown up again in a book just off the press. This article on the scarce sample is one of the twelve specially selected from Mr. Adams's writings in The Tribune, and now brought together in book form.

Some of the other articles are "Pale Pink Coaxing to Houses of Hoaxing," "New Facts on Old Type-writers," and "Private Garages That Take in the Public."

Mighty interesting, all of them, and well worth reading, too. Names and addresses mentioned freely, so you'll know where not to buy.

Better wrap a quarter in the coupon below and get this guide to unsatisfactory shopping, before you forget it. Oh, of course, your money back if you want it. Just tear the coupon now.
