

A British Big Gun Factory in War Time—The immense plant of Sir W. C. Armstrong, Whitworth & Co., Manchester, is operated day and night to supply the demand for heavy guns. ©International Film Service.

Amusing Wounded Tommies—An exciting moment in the egg and spoon race at King's College Hospital. Janet M. Cummings.

In the Attitude of Napoleon—Beginning his speech at a fete at Chelmsford on behalf of the Scottish Prisoners' War Fund, Winston Churchill assumed, perhaps unconsciously, a pose of Napoleon. ©International Film Service.

What if the String Should Break?—The Duchess of Sutherland plays tennis at a hospital fete. ©International Film Service.