

Penn Beats Cornell 23 to 3 Colgate Blanks Brown W. and J. Defeats Rutgers

Shiverick's Drop Kick Cornell's Only Score

Quakers Swamp Ithacans—Miller Stars in Mud on Franklin Field

Philadelphia, Nov. 30.—Pennsylvania plastered Cornell all over the sludgy, soggy turf at Franklin Field today. The final score was Penn, 23; Shiverick, 3.

The Cornell team, as a whole, did not figure very extensively in the afternoon's proceedings. Cornell's largest gain was not due to any meritorious action on the part of the Ithacans, but to reticence on the part of Pennsylvania substitutes, who were thrown in in the last quarter to get their letters.

Henry Miller Stars in Second Quarter by Brilliant Forward Pass

It was Henry Miller who initiated the second quarter by taking a forward pass thrown by Bell for a distance of thirty yards. He was a good mudder, was Miller. The sludgy, soggy ground seemed to be just where he belonged. One-half of him was tadpole and the other half was fish.

Ground Gains in Penn-Cornell Game

Table with 2 columns: Statistic and Value. Includes: Number of rushes (27 P. C. 31), Ground gained by rushing (59 81 24 112), First downs by rushing (3 4 0 5), Number of punts (4 2 7 7), Average distance of punts (33 47 35 40), Forward passes attempted (1 9 10 2), Forward passes completed (1 5 3 1), Ground gained by forward passes (9 89 65 23), Forward passes intercepted (0 2 5 1), Running back punts in yards (32 26 29 18), Penalties (0 2 2 5), Ground lost, penalties (0 20 30 45), Fumbles (2 0 3 2), Ground lost, fumbles (yards) (4 0 0 0), Ball lost, fumbles (1 0 0 0), Fumbles recovered (1 0 3 2).

Line-Up and Figures of Penn-Cornell Game

Line-up table for Penn (23) vs Cornell (3). Penn players: Urquhart, L. E., Ryerson, Mathews, L. T., Gilles, Henning, L. G., P. Miller, L. Wray, C., Garry, Erstrvaag, R. T., Anderson, L. D., R. G., Jewett, H. Miller, R. E., Eckley, Bell, Q. B., Shiverick, Derr, L. H. B., Hoffman, Light, R. H. B., Speed, Berry, F. B., Mueller.

SCORE BY PERIODS: Pennsylvania 7 3 13 0-23; Cornell 0 0 0 0-3. Referee—McCarty, Germantown Academy. Empire—Fultz, Brown. Field judge—Okeson, Lehigh. Head linesman—Crowell, Swarthmore. Time of periods, 15 minutes each.

Penalties: Pennsylvania—Quigley for Light, Williams for Derr, Tittel for Mathews, Robinson for Erstrvaag, Raffetto for Robinson, Ross for Williams, Crane for Urquhart, Clothier for Crane, Young for Miller, Wagoner for Raffetto, Bryant for Bell, A. Wray for L. Wray, Swan for Henning, Cornell—Benedict for Hoffman, Tilley for P. Miller, Bard for Anderson, Zander for Eckley, Brown for Garry, Eilenberger for Zander.

Henry Miller Stars in Second Quarter by Brilliant Forward Pass

Henry Miller, the ubiquitous Henry, had to be in, of course. The major part of the game was played in the mud. Derr to Miller. Henry caught the ball and skinned lightly over the soggy ground to the Cornell 5-yard line, where Shiverick nailed Miller. Henry kicked the rest. Derr taking the ball over for the touchdown. Berry missed the goal.

Ground Gains in Penn-Cornell Game

Table with 2 columns: Statistic and Value. Includes: Number of rushes (27 P. C. 31), Ground gained by rushing (59 81 24 112), First downs by rushing (3 4 0 5), Number of punts (4 2 7 7), Average distance of punts (33 47 35 40), Forward passes attempted (1 9 10 2), Forward passes completed (1 5 3 1), Ground gained by forward passes (9 89 65 23), Forward passes intercepted (0 2 5 1), Running back punts in yards (32 26 29 18), Penalties (0 2 2 5), Ground lost, penalties (0 20 30 45), Fumbles (2 0 3 2), Ground lost, fumbles (yards) (4 0 0 0), Ball lost, fumbles (1 0 0 0), Fumbles recovered (1 0 3 2).

Kelly—Last Ball, Unpopular Player's Shot, Alive, a Set-Up and Biggest Pot

FORDHAM SINKS VILLANOVA IN BATTLE OF MUD

Early Jump Gives Maroon Chance for Belated Revenge—Score, 14 to 7

Followers of Fordham University's football team enjoyed their Thanksgiving dinner last night with a marked relish. The sauce that made the turkey such a delicacy to the Maroon adherents came in the shape of a 14-7 victory over the Villanova eleven on Fordham Field, yesterday afternoon.

This victory, from the viewpoint of the score, was not an impressive one and probably does not reflect the true caliber of the rival elevens in a game contested under more favorable football conditions. But it afforded the Maroon students their first opportunity in eight years of doing the Thanksgiving Day serpentine dance of victory on the Fordham gridiron.

McCreight Sprint Ruins Rutgers' Hopes at Finish

Washington and Jefferson, with the mighty Lloyd McCreight at fullback, defeated Rutgers' heavy eleven at the Polo Grounds yesterday by a score of 12 to 9. McCreight kicked two field goals in the first half from placement and ran eighty yards to a sensational touchdown in the third period, thus scoring every point for his team.

Hazel, the big Rutgers left guard, accounted for his team's total. He scored a touchdown in the second period, when he caught a forward pass from Wittpen that went over the goal line, and added three points on a field goal from Foster Sanford's famous multiple kick formation in the third period.

W. & J. Star's Touchdown and Field Goals Beat Hazel's Effort

Washington and Jefferson, with the mighty Lloyd McCreight at fullback, defeated Rutgers' heavy eleven at the Polo Grounds yesterday by a score of 12 to 9.

Washington and Jefferson, with the mighty Lloyd McCreight at fullback, defeated Rutgers' heavy eleven at the Polo Grounds yesterday by a score of 12 to 9. McCreight kicked two field goals in the first half from placement and ran eighty yards to a sensational touchdown in the third period, thus scoring every point for his team.

Hazel, the big Rutgers left guard, accounted for his team's total. He scored a touchdown in the second period, when he caught a forward pass from Wittpen that went over the goal line, and added three points on a field goal from Foster Sanford's famous multiple kick formation in the third period.

McCreight Dashes Rutgers' Hopes at Finish

Washington and Jefferson, with the mighty Lloyd McCreight at fullback, defeated Rutgers' heavy eleven at the Polo Grounds yesterday by a score of 12 to 9. McCreight kicked two field goals in the first half from placement and ran eighty yards to a sensational touchdown in the third period, thus scoring every point for his team.

Line-Up of Teams at Polo Grounds

W. & J. (12) Position Rutgers (9) Carroll, L. E., Storck, Henry, L. T., Robeson, Wimberley, L. G., Hazel, Guy, C., Mason, Drew, R. G., Bursch, Loucks, R. T., Rendall, Tressell, R. E., Garrett, Stobbs, Q. B., Scarr, Nuss, L. H. B., Wittpen, Ruble, R. H. B., Whitehill, McCreight, F. B., Elliott.

Score by periods: W. and J. 6 0 6 0-12; Rutgers 0 0 3 0-9. Touchdowns—Hazel, McCreight. Field goals—McCreight (2), Hazel. Substitutions: For W. and J.—Crawford for Ruble, Wuckerham for Carroll, Pixler for Nuss. For Rutgers—Bracher for Elliott, Sliker for Bursch, Wallace for Whitehill, Hauser for Wallace. Referee—Nathan A. Tufts, Brown. Empire—F. W. Murphy, Harvard. Linesman—Tom Thorp, Columbia. Field Judge—Carl Marshall, Pennsylvania. Time of periods—15 minutes each.

Washington and Jefferson, with the mighty Lloyd McCreight at fullback, defeated Rutgers' heavy eleven at the Polo Grounds yesterday by a score of 12 to 9. McCreight kicked two field goals in the first half from placement and ran eighty yards to a sensational touchdown in the third period, thus scoring every point for his team.

McCreight Dashes Rutgers' Hopes at Finish

Washington and Jefferson, with the mighty Lloyd McCreight at fullback, defeated Rutgers' heavy eleven at the Polo Grounds yesterday by a score of 12 to 9. McCreight kicked two field goals in the first half from placement and ran eighty yards to a sensational touchdown in the third period, thus scoring every point for his team.

MANHASSET BAY CHALLENGE CUP GOES TO NAHMA

A. G. Hanan's Ahmeek Found 930 Pounds Light After Long-Drawn Protest

After a controversy extending over a period of nearly three months, the Manhasset Bay Challenge Cup, for the East Orange High School, Long Island Sound this night, has been awarded to the Indian Harbor Yacht Club. According to the current issue of the "Rudder," the sloop Ahmeek, the winner of the series of races, was measured and found to be 930 pounds light. This error made that yacht rate 31.25, and as 31 rating is the limit of the class, she was automatically disqualified.

Under the existing situation some members of the Indian Harbor Yacht Club are inclined to the belief that a measurement was taken on the protest of Addison G. Hanan, the owner of the Nahma, the error was found. "It seems hard to understand," says the "Rudder," "how there should have been such a large difference, 930 pounds means nearly 15 cubic feet of error. However, Ahmeek being out of the contest, the Nahma, having scored the largest number of points, was declared the winner. The committee has not yet rendered any decisions on the other protests."

JERSEY SCHOOL TITLE REWARD OF BARRINGER

East Orange, N. J., Nov. 30.—Barringer High School's football team today won the Jersey School Title by defeating the East Orange High School players today this morning by a score of 9 to 0. The game was played on a field covered with mud and water, and although it was a mean day, more than 3,000 turned out to see the game. Barringer by winning also won the football championship of the New Jersey Interscholastic League and is conceded the state championship honors.

Colgate Routs Brown On a Muddy Gridiron

Outplays Conqueror of Yale and Harvard in Every Department

By FRANK O'NEILL. Providence, Nov. 30.—Colgate swamped Brown on the soaking gridiron at Andrew's Field this afternoon, and the so-called Eastern football championship is in a delightful muddle. The Providence eleven, jauntily wearing the laurels won in bitter conflicts with Yale and Harvard, was smashed to flinders, pried apart, bent backward, and scattered in disorganized rout by a team which proved itself truly great. The score was 23 to 0.

Colgate rose to the greatest heights in football. There was a precision in every move, a drive in every play that swept the Brown defence to one side and ripped through for first down after first down. Plunging over a field that was two inches deep in water at spots, the Maroon backed held their feet, and ran at a speed truly remarkable. Around the ends, off the tackles, or through the centre trio of that vaunted line of Brown, the Colgate tandems sped unstoppered.

Four touchdowns, one in each period, and the attending goal from each told the tale. Only five minutes had elapsed in the first period when Anderson crashed through Captain Farnum for the first touchdown, crowning a march of sixty yards that used up a dozen plays and two penalties. In the second quarter a blocked punt gave Colgate the ball on Brown's 28-yard line, and after Anderson and Spencer had gained half a dozen yards in two bucks, Nelson caught a forward pass from Anderson and stepped over the line for the second score, only to be another blocked punt.

Another short punt gave the Hamilton eleven a chance to strike in third period, and it was a simple matter to trudge along the thirty-eight yards for the third score, with Hubbell carrying the ball for a 23-yard run. Then in the final period West recovered a fumble by the dusky Fred Pollard, and raced twenty-eight yards for the fourth score. Each time West kicked the goal to make a perfect total for the day.

So, briefly, has the story of the scoring been told, but it is yet to be related how three times Colgate had scored, and how three times they were held by their vicious, space devouring attack halted by fumbles or penalties. One fumble by the mighty Hubbell lost the ball on Brown's 10-yard line, Pollard falling on it. That was in the third period.

Pollard Never Has a Chance to Shine On Attack but is Strong on Defense

Pollard, as related, was covered perfectly and never had a chance to break loose, but, failing to shine offensively, he proved his worth as a defensive back. Times almost without number he hit Colgate runners and brought them down. Had it not been for him, the score probably would have mounted still higher. Weeks was another Brown man who stood out, but even his position was turned behind a perfect screen of interference that picked off man after man with truly Prussian accuracy. Annan, a substitute who got into the game late in the fourth period, made the longest gain for Brown. It was a dodging, twisting run of 30 yards. He simply faded before the clutch of Colgate tacklers as he squirmed back and forth through the broken field. But a team of individuals cannot prevail against a balanced combination. With Pollard taken care of, there was no other Brown back on whom to depend. The line was powerless. Consider Colgate. From tackle to tackle were five men, who fought like berserkers, ripping in with a smashing charge that carried all before it. West and Barton made Captain Farnum look like the veriest tyro, and his position was an open avenue for first downs. Paul Castellanos bowed Williams so easily that all the crowd wondered. On the left side of the line, Captain Horning and Good held forth, and when Anderson wearied of slamming the backs through Farnum, he sent them crashing past Wade and Devitts or around Marshall.

How Colgate Clashed with Brown Eleven

Castellanos (28), Pos. Brown (0), Colgate (23), Pos. Brown (0), Marshall West, L. T., Devitts, Barton, L. G., Wade, Carroll, R. G., Sprague, Good, C. C., Farnum, Horning (Cpt), R. T., Williams, Nielsen, R. E., Weeks, Anderson, Q. B., Jemall, Hubbell, R. H. B., Pollard, Gillo, F. B., Birkhouse.

Score by periods: Colgate 7 7 7 7-28; Brown 0 0 0 0-0. Referee—E. J. O'Brien, of Dartmouth. Empire—Barleigh, of Exeter. Head linesman—J. J. Halloran. Time of periods—15 minutes. Colgate scoring—Touchdowns: Anderson, Nielsen, Hubbell and West. Goals from touchdowns: West, 4. Substitutions—Colgate: Watkins for Spencer, Scott for Watkins, Woodman for Barton, Frye for Castellanos, Beck for Hubbell, Laird for Gillo, Watkins for Beck, Harrison for Nielsen, Cravatt for Anderson, Hayes for Harris, Brown: Conroy for Jemall, Spagna for Farnum, Farnum for Williams, Bowman for Sprague, Brooks for Pollard, Murphy for Purdy, Teets for Spagna, Nichols for Farnum, Jemall for Conroy, Annan for Jemall, Brace for Bowman, Zeiler for Devitts.

waded through Yale and Harvard, it was thought that the beating of Colgate would be a matter of mere detail. But the solid manner in which the students beat their money off entering odds bespoke the confidence of every man in Providence. The great Fred Pollard, they figured, would never fail, and Captain Farnum would lead the way.

Perhaps it was the wet field. Probably it was just Colgate. In any event Pollard was so completely covered by the Colgate defence that he never had a chance to break loose. His longest run was ten yards on a buck of tackle in which he cleverly reversed the field. On a dry day the score might have been lower, but as the elevens played, Colgate was immeasurably better.

Only once in the wet, but thrilling hour of play did Brown have even a remote chance to score. That was in the second period when Weeks intercepted a forward pass and dashed over to the side line to speed on down the field. He was tackled on a buck of tackle, and stumbled over a team mate and fell. Before he could get up he was seized by eager arms wearing the Maroon, and pinned in the mud and puddles. Never was the ball advanced into Colgate territory.

Yesterday's Football Results

Table with 2 columns: Location and Score. Includes: At Pittsburgh—U. of P., 31; P. S., 0; At Richmond—N. C., 7; Virginia, 0; At N. Y.—Rutgers, 9; W. and J., 12; At Allentown—Muhl, 7; Ursinus, 0; At Philadelphia—U. of P., 23; Cornell, 3; At Providence—Colgate, 23; Brown, 0; At Cincinnati—Miami, 34; U. of C., 6; At Cleveland—W. R., 27; Case C., 6; At Rochester—Vermont, 6; Roch., 10; At N. Y.—Fordham, 14; Villanova, 9; At Washington—G. W. U., 7; G'n. G., 47; Lancaster—E. & M., 20; Gett., 13; At Nashville—Van Hill, 0; Swannee, 0; At Raleigh—W. & L., 21; N. C. Ag., 4; At Chester—Penn. M. C., 24; Alb., 7; At Newark—Del.—St. M., 22; D. C. I., University of So. California, 7.

City College Five Prepared

The City College basketball team will open its season Saturday night against the St. John's combination. The game will take place in the C. C. N. Y. gymnasium. City College is represented by an exceptionally fast combination this year. The squad is captained by "Lefty" Lefkowitz, star of last year's team.