Interned Aliens Sent To Fort Oglethorpe

19 Transferred From Ellis Island; Hecht Stays Here; Hoboken Minister Freed

Nineteen alien enemies, many of them interned for weeks on Ellis Island, started yesterday for Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia, under military guard. Rudolf Hecht, the broker, who was arrested by Federal agents, was not one of those sent to the Southern concentration camp, and rumors are current that he will be soon released from Ellis Island.

It is said that his friends are ready to offer bail in $100,000, if necessary, to obtain his freedom, and that the efforts made in his behalf by a law firm closely connected with government activities are about ready to bear fruit.

Others in the party are Hans Schwartz, Gustaf Freiberger, Paul Neuhaus and Randolph Otto.

Among those from other cities who will make up the party are Walter Schmidt, of Hartford; Frederick J. Benning, George Pender and Hans W. Kurst, of Buffalo, and Emil and Max Nadler, of Gloucester, Mass.

Those who will be taken aboard the special train along the line are Otto F. Post, of Pittsburgh; Wolfgang Berger, B. H. Nees and Leroy Snider, of Richmond, Va., and Otto Budoch, of Baltimore.

Colonel Reichmann Praised WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Army officers, testifying today before the Senate Military sub-committee investigating the alleged pro-German attitude of Colonel Carl Reichmann, highly praised his military record and personal character. It was brought out, however, that none of the witnesses had talked with Colonel Reichmann, whose nomination as brigadier general has been held up since the United States entered the war.

Pacifists to Talk Peace En Route To Minneapolis

Delegates Leave City on Thursday; Will Scatter Anti-War Circulars

Conference Saturday

Agitators Expect That 30,000 Will Be Present at Meetings

The spectacle of an eight-coach train crossing the country with 2,000 New York pacifists, furnishing pacifist demonstrations en route, flooding the country with anti-war propaganda and flaunting streamers and banners opposing the government's war plans, will be a preliminary of the peace conference which begins Saturday at Minneapolis.

The train will leave the Weehawken station of the West Shore road on Thursday at 2:30 p. m. It will carry the officials and the stenographic staff of the People's Council, the pacifist organization which started the pro-German "no annexations, no indemnities" peace movement in this country and which is responsible for the Minneapolis conference.

The council boasts that from 30,000 to 40,000 persons will be drawn to Minneapolis and that there will be 2,000 delegates sent by labor unions, church peace bodies, suffrage societies and Socialists.

Thousands of banners will be unfurled from the train windows to attract attention. The train itself will be christened "The People's Council Peace Drive—On to Minneapolis for Peace and Democracy." A large banner prepared for the occasion says, "Let's Knock the 'Moe' out of Democracy."

Another is a paraphrase from the old English song, "Auld lang syne die" and says "Shall 1,000,000 Conscripts Die? Then 100,000,000 Americans Must Know the Reason Why. Another says, "Peace Eventually—Why Not Now?"

The campaign to "stir up peace sentiment" will be enlivened by rear-end speeches. Stops will be made at Albany, Schenectady, Syracuse, Rochester, Buffalo, Erie, Ashtabula, Cleveland, Elkhart, Sandusky, Toledo, Detroit and Elkhart, where the pacifists will harangue such crowds as happen to appear. These speeches will be devoted to demanding the repeal of the conscription law and "early peace," the right of free speech and the upholding of labor standards during war time.

At Chicago, where two coaches filled with pacifists will be added to the train, there will be a thirty-minute demonstration.

The rear-end speakers will be Sara Bard Field, Lella Fay Seer, James J. Bagley, Edward Cassidy, Jacob Fanken, Charles E. Johnson, secretary of the National American Workers' Union, and Rebecca Shelly, secretary of the People's Council; Pola La Follette, daughter of Senator La Follette; Algernon Lee, one of the Socialists who was denied one of the Stockholm conference passports; and Linley Gordon, an anti-conscription agitator of Australia.

The pacifists are scheduled to arrive in Minneapolis on Saturday morning. After being welcomed by Mayor Van Lear, a sympathetic Socialist, they expect to plunge into the work of stopping the war. Louis P. Lochner, a peace expert, who helped navigate Ford's peace expedition through Europe, has been in Minneapolis for the tents and other necessities which are to accompany the pacifists as they go across the country.

Programme of First Day The kind of work the pacifists expect to do is shown in their announcement of Saturday afternoon the election of committees on terms of peace will be made, with three sections, one for the consideration of economic war, one for the consideration of military and naval organization to maintain peace. Committees on American liberties and constitutional rights, including democratic control and conscription, taxation, and high cost of living. One to consider plans for the permanent organization of the People's Council, which will also consist of anti-militarist committees of the nation.

On Saturday night will be devoted to a reception, which, according to Mr. Lochner, will be attended by thousands of people from Minneapolis, St. Paul and the surrounding country. Sunday morning the assembly will hear the reports of committees and then will follow the assembly which will hear the proposed of Pope Benedict XV, who addressed the belligerent nations on a plan to end the war, and the stand of President Wilson, who will be thoroughly discussed.

Bookbinders Refuse to Attend Local Union No. 3 of the International Brotherhood of Bookbinders, 180 National Street, in reply to an invitation to attend the conference, yesterday sent a letter to the People's Council inviting it to the "water basket."

The American Alliance for Labor and Democracy, 280 Broadway, which will hold an anti-pacifist conference in Minneapolis, beginning on September 5, yesterday announced that its delegates would leave in a special train next Sunday.

Ontario to Establish Colony for Farmers

The Minister of Lands, Forests and Mines of Ontario announced during a visit to Port Arthur that the province will soon undertake to establish an agricultural colony in this vicinity.

The plan is already being drawn at one point, where thirty or forty farm buildings will be grouped in one community. About September 1 the buildings will be ready for use.

Separate houses are built for single men. It is hoped that there will be a demand for more buildings as the community develops.

The government clears ten acres of land and advances a $500 loan on the improvement, charging 6 per cent interest. No payments are required during the first three years, and the loan expires in twenty years. The farmers are to be allowed five years to make certain improvements and develop the farms.—Commerce Reports.

Enemies Within

Chicago German Language Papers Openly Attack American Government and Praise Germany; Assail Wilson and Cabinet for Their Course in War

(Copyright, 1917, by The Tribune Association.)

"The Illinois Staats-Zeitung," published in Chicago, is one of the German language papers that are least covert in their attacks on the government. It publishes articles in both English and German print, and in both languages does not hesitate to attack America and praise Germany. Its editorial on "The Red, White and Blue Book" published by the government to give the history of the entry of America in the war is one long attack on President Wilson and the Cabinet at Washington, plentifully sprinkled with defence and praise of Germany.

In its introduction to the editorial, which is printed in English, "The Illinois Staats-Zeitung" says: "The Administration of the United States, in publishing the first of a series of official statements, which, when complete, will form the American Red, White and Blue Book, deviates from the unicolor custom and, besides, does not only publish documents as actually exchanged, but an argument to show why America is in the war, prepared by Secretaries Lan-man government has the right to interfere in any manner that pleases it in the domestic affairs of the United States so long as it does not attack directly the United States government. This is the open attack made in English on the government of the United States by "The Illinois Staats-Zeitung." There are other German language publications that attack by cartoons. One such is the "Eulenspiegel," formerly the "Zeppel," published in New York, which in its issue for July had as a back page illustration the Monster Hunger, reaching out to seize the Allies, while the caption was, "Damn it, we had sent him to Germany!"

"The Seattle German Press" is one of those German language papers that like to do their propaganda by the indirect method. Headline is one of its favorite means. Its issue of July 10 spread across the first page in two lines of large type "GERMANY CAN WIN IF SHE HOLDS OUT." On another day its top head was "FRANCO-BRITISH OFFENSIVE ENDED." Again it said, "FRANTIC CRY FOR HELP

"DAMN IT, WE HAD SENT HIM TO GERMANY!"

Back page of the "Eulenspiegel" for July.

ing, Baker and Daniels, and apparently with the aid of the President." The paper is printed in both English and German. In the English columns its habit is to quote from other papers, taking things that can be twisted into pro-German or are directly pro-German. In its original English matter it is usually very careful not to overstep the line. A fine contrast between its English and German print is to be found in a collection of editorials on the German-Americans.

Says Germany Is Slandered In its editorial in English it said: "DOWN WITH THE SKUNK" "The press of this country is paying little attention to President Wilson's statement that this government is not making war on the German people, but on the German government. The majority of the American papers are making war on the German people, the German-Americans, imaginary German spies and fanciful German plotters. If it is the intention of these papers to drive the German-Americans out of the country, they certainly have chosen the right way. No self-respecting American of German, Austrian and Hungarian descent will remain in a country where a corrupt and depraved press is permitted to heap the vilest slander on his father and brothers, who are defending their national existence against fearful odds.

"There is no more war arguing. It is up to the government to act. If this government intends to drive the men and women of German extraction out of the country there is no need of any action on the part of the authorities. If, however, this government intends to fulfill its duties toward those citizens who are of German descent, if President Wilson intends to keep the solemn promises he made in his war proclamation—and we have no reason to doubt him—the authorities must stop the pernicious activity of the professional slanderer."

Asserts Germans Will Be Victorious So ran the editorial in English. Now for the editorial in German on the same subject: "NOTHING CAN HAPPEN TO YOU!" "Fete" Rosegger, the renowned poet of Steyermark, says somewhere in his works: 'Nothing can happen to you.' It is a good saying, a saying of consolation and strength for every one who has a good conscience, and this article is concerned only with such people.

"To whom can the message of the mountain poet be more welcome than to the men and women of German extraction in the United States of America? We need such a strong saying. We are at war with Germany. As yet there are no American soldiers at the front. It will probably be months before the government sends an expeditionary army to Europe, if it does send one, but the depraved and corrupted Anglo press is busily engaged slandering and belittling everything that is dear to us. Like a river full of stinking rubbish, the filthiness flows through the columns of these papers, which in a hundred variations are forever singing in the same old dissonant tone. The perverse fantasy of these paid calumniators exhibits itself with the true voluptuousness and with the most insane frightfulness in the most loathsome and horrible descriptions, in order to create in the minds of Americans a desolate caricature of the German army, of the German people and of German culture, and to render obnoxious everything which bears the name 'German.' Would that some one might rise in holy wrath and spit in the face of the rascal who with a shameless hand destroys everything near and dear to us since childhood; that some one might in despair proclaim to the world: 'What the blackguard serves up to you is not true. It is all lies and fraud.'

"But be calm. Nothing can happen to you. And when the world spits fire and would rage against us, it will not succeed in vanquishing us. The right and the truth must conquer. In this struggle German realism will prove itself victorious, and esteem and honor will attend the German name in every corner of the world, when the rabble which has sought to defame it by pen and press is long forgotten. Patience, therefore; nothing can happen to you."

Nests of German Intrigue Found In Northern Iowa

United States Marshal Fears Uprising of Loyal Citizens

Five Arrests Are Made

Lutheran Ministers Said to Have Spread Anti-American Feeling

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Aug. 27.—Returning today from a drive on pro-Germans in fifteen counties of Northern Iowa, United States Marshal E. R. Moore, Chief Deputy M. L. Healy and a force of deputies report conditions in some of the German communities as dangerous to the nation. Mr. Healy makes the prediction that an uprising of loyal citizens may be expected in Gladbrook and Hubbard if the pro-Germans are not curbed. One hundred towns were visited, and five arrests were made on the trip.

The situation at Hubbard was so serious last week that the efforts of the marshal and his deputies were required to prevent the loyal citizens from lynching William Schwartz, who is charged with making incendiary remarks. After the peace meeting at Hubbard, which turned into a loyal meeting, he says, the crowds surrounded Schwartz and insisted he should be lynched, and all the persons present of the marshals were required to keep the crowd at bay. Finally Schwartz was hustled into a cab and sent home.

Before John and Edward Wird were arrested at Hubbard, the American women of the town heard they had made derogatory remarks about them. The marshals prevailed on them to keep quiet.

There is a restaurant named the Kaiserhof at Hubbard, which is the meeting place of the pro-German element. The loyal meeting, August 27, closed off the restaurant. The marshals interviewed the proprietors and the place was closed the following day.

At Grundy Centre, county seat of Grundy county, the marshals learned that a prominent pro-German had offered $1,000 to have his son exempted from the army, and another had offered $50. These cases are being investigated. At Luverne the marshals literally covered the walls of the Kaiserhof and German propaganda. The proprietor was made to tear the stuff down and burn it in the public square, and then apologize to the citizens.

At Hubbard an effort was made to raise $50,000 to help pay the expenses of a so-called peace league. Forty persons had signed the petition when the marshals arrived. Many of them drew their names, and several agreed to subscribe to the Red Cross fund.

The marshals say the German Lutheran ministers are responsible for the "Evangelical League" which is a great deal of the anti-American feeling. The names of the ministers will be presented to the next Federal grand jury.

Hoboken Woman Gives Seven Sons For the War

Two With British, 2 With Canadians, 2 With U. S. and One Is Drafted

Hoboken again comes to the fore with the claim of the most patriotic family, Mrs. W. J. Tisdall, a widow of 1123 Garden Street, has six sons in service and one drafted who passed and did not claim exemption. The sons are: William Ottway Tisdall, twenty-nine, and Mark Anthony Tisdall, thirty-two, in the English army; Henry William Tisdall, thirty-six, and John, thirty-four, in the Canadian army; Tracers Hastings Tisdall, thirty-five, and Victor Tisdall, thirty, in the American army, and Edward, thirty-two, in the army, drafted.

William Ottway Tisdall, the father, who is dead, saw service in the English army. Mrs. Tisdall's father, Thomas McMunday, was an officer in the battle of Waterloo; her brother, Samuel McMunday, was killed at the battle of Aden in the Egyptian war.

Texans Ask Wilson To Move Black Troops

Houston Quiet and Investigation Is Proceeding Rapidly

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—A petition asking withdrawal of all negro troops from Texas, signed by all the members of the Texas delegation in Congress, was presented at the White House today by Senator Sheppard and laid before President Wilson. White House officials did not indicate whether the petition would be acted upon. An official report to Secretary Baker today said that the situation at Houston was normal and that the investigation of the rioting by negro troops last week by army officers was proceeding rapidly.

Indications are that soldiers found to have been involved in the outbreak, which cost seventeen lives, will be tried by a military court. Secretary Baker today made no statement as to the future policy of the War Department toward sending colored regiments into Texas or other Southern states for training.
