

F. D. Weir's Hendrie, in Field of Three, Captures the Quogue Handicap

Belmont Park Racing Meet Closes To-day

John Likely To Be Favorite in Feature Event of This Afternoon

By W. J. Macbeth
The spring meeting at the picturesque Belmont Park track will be concluded with to-day's programme of six races. Turf patrons have been furnished an unusually pleasant three weeks' sport at this popular course.

Five high class three-year-olds have been named for this classic, and all will face the starter if the weather remains fair. In that event there is also the possibility of one or more other eligibles being added.

Gloomy Gus Is Outrun
Hendrie, the five-year-old chestnut horse of F. D. Weir, admirably ridden by jockey Johnny Loftus, won the Quogue Handicap at a mile and a sixteenth, the feature race at Belmont Park track yesterday afternoon.

Hendrie, however, was not to be easily won, for within a couple of lengths of Sunflash 2d from the barrier rose.

Hyde Park Furnishes Surprise
The Hyde Park, a sprint over the six furlongs straight course for three-year-olds and upward, developed one of the most exciting races of the season.

Favorite Victor in Third
Nominee, one of the most heavily played on the day, showed the way home over the mile and a sixteenth, the third event. Stich in Time set the early pace but did not last long.

Belmont Entries
FIRST RACE—Three-year-olds and upward, selling; six and one-half furlongs, main course.

Facts and Fancies Out of the Pill Box

THE world's most temperamental baseball manager has quit. He is Fielder Jones, who will return to his lumber properties in Oregon. His retirement may be ascribed to nerves. A splendid baseball tactician, Jones fretted and fumed and fussed and found fault with everything and everybody when things broke badly.

Lefty Ross and Sicking, of old San Antonio, are to join the Giants. You'll be glad to meet Ross in a Giant uniform. Looks promising, too. When the Giants were in San Antonio this spring Ross pitched the first game against them and did well.

There'll be no more chance for the U. S. G. A. to distinguish itself in a reverse English sense over Francis Ouimet. The firm of Ouimet & Sullivan in Boston has been absorbed by another sporting goods house and by the terms of sale Ouimet & Sullivan promised not to again engage in the golf supply business for a number of years.

It's always a pleasure to receive contributions, even when they're addressed to Leon Ames, now with the Cards—no matter. Joe Wellington and Johnny Dundee are to box six rounds in the carnival of slug to be conducted under the auspices of the War Hospital Entertainment Association.

Fanny Durack, Australian swimming queen, has had trouble with the prospective manager of her United States tour. He is William Umack, of San Francisco. Seems that Miss Durack demands expense money, the amount of which Umack considers all out of proportion to the spirit of amateurism.

The only scandal in racing is that which is withheld from the public through fear of scandal per se. We understand a dinner at Healy's at which an owner and several jockeys acted as host and guests, respectively, played its part in the activities of Suburban day.

The majority of those who quit on the Giants now are the same babies who, six weeks ago, were demanding an investigation by the National Commission any time the Giants lost. In the end class will tell and what is to be will be.

"Chick" Evans, of Chicago, the favorite golfer of a good many thousands of players, will play in the East Sunday when he and Jerry Travers take on Hagen and Barnes at Sivanoy in a game for the benefit of the Red Cross. Raymond Hitchcock, comedian, will auction the golf balls played in the match.

Walter Camp, of Yale, always has been foremost in constructively applying sport to life. As a success in both he best appreciates the advantageous relation of the one to the other. Now he hopes to save the lives of our aviators in training by careful physical training.

In the fight to the end had A. Collins been able to keep his mount straight. Frank Robinson won the brackets with Princes, favorite of the last race. He laid off the early pace of Daedalus, fighting it out with Jusqu' au Bout, meanwhile until well around the turn.

G. D. Widener sold two of his jumpers, Nutmeg and Trumpator, to Herbert L. Pratt at a private sale. A. R. Bressler bid up Nominee, winner of the third race, to $2,600, which was $500 advances on the entered price.

Latonia Results
First race (purse $500; maidens; two-year-olds; four and half furlongs)—Tide White, 112 (Gentry), $7.50 and $2.50, won; Amer. Light, 112 (Metzler), $3 and $2.50, second; Colonel Light, 112 (Gentry), $2.50, third. Time, 1:04.4.

Second race (purse $500; three-year-olds and upward; six furlongs)—Kama, 100 (Lynch), $5 and $2.50, won; Skilful Knob, 111 (Howell), $3 and $2.50, second; The Doctor, 112 (Gentry), $2.50, third. Time, 1:15.2-5.

Third race (purse $500; three-year-olds and upward; six furlongs)—Stich in Time, 112 (Gentry), $7.50 and $2.50, won; Amer. Light, 112 (Metzler), $3 and $2.50, second; Colonel Light, 112 (Gentry), $2.50, third. Time, 1:04.4.

Miss Bjurstedt And Miss Goss Win to Final

Will Meet To-day for Women's Metropolitan Tennis Title

By Fred Hawthorne
Miss Mollie Bjurstedt, playing-through champion in the annual women's Metropolitan lawn tennis championship singles, will meet Miss Eleanor Goss, finalist in the national indoor championship last March, in the final round of the tournament at 2 o'clock this afternoon on the turf courts of the West Side Tennis Club, at Forest Hills, L. I.

Miss Bjurstedt defeated Mrs. Rawson L. Wood, former Florida title holder, in the semi-final round of the singles yesterday afternoon, by a score of 6-1, 7-5, while Miss Goss won two matches, first eliminating Miss Bessie Holden, of New Rochelle, at 6-2, 6-1, and then conquering Miss Helene Pollak by a score of 6-2, 6-1, never being in danger at any time in either match, although Miss Pollak was looked upon as a possible winner before the girls went out upon the court.

Miss Goss played with all confidence from the start, ripping hard fore and backhand drives through the opposite court and rushing to the net with great frequency, so that her opponent was always on the defensive.

Two pairs reached into the semi-final round in the mixed doubles, Miss Marion Zinderstein, of Boston, and Walter Merrill Hall, defeating Miss Edith White and Harold Taylor at 6-3, 6-4, and Miss Bjurstedt and Frederick B. Alexander advancing through their defeat of Miss Pauline Davies and Harvey L. O'Boyle by a score of 6-1, 6-1 in the fourth round.

The weather was far from what lawn tennis players consider respectable yesterday, most of the matches being played between showers and thunder claps, and the turf was not only heavy but made very treacherous footing for those not provided with spikes in their shoes.

Those who saw Miss Pollak defeat Miss Zinderstein on Thursday would not understand how she had accomplished this feat, for she had accomplished it in a manner in which Miss Goss took her measure. Perhaps it was the wet courts that militated against Miss Pollak's chances yesterday, but at any rate she never threatened Miss Goss.

Miss Goss played with all confidence from the start, ripping hard fore and backhand drives through the opposite court and rushing to the net with great frequency, so that her opponent was always on the defensive.

Women's doubles (semi-final)—Miss Clara Cassel and Miss Marie Wagner defeated Mrs. Johan Rogge and Miss Bessie Holden, of New Rochelle, at 6-2, 6-1, and Miss Bjurstedt and Frederick B. Alexander advanced through their defeat of Miss Pauline Davies and Harvey L. O'Boyle by a score of 6-1, 6-1 in the fourth round.

Mixed doubles (third round)—Miss M. Curry and C. G. Heyman defeated Mrs. Candee and R. W. Gifford, 6-4, 6-0; Miss Bjurstedt and F. B. Alexander defeated Mrs. Spencer Falkner Weaver and Mr. Gifford, 6-3, 6-3; Miss Bessie Holden and H. C. Worth won from Mrs. Rawson Wood and Harold L. Taylor, 6-2, 6-1.

Cotton
The cotton market was irregular yesterday. At times trading was fairly active, but the day's business was not large, and the trade seemed to be vacillating between the new crop progress, which indicated a fall in prices, and the character of immediate spot advice, combined with the possibility of less favorable crop accounts later on, which gave encouragement to those who expected prices to rise.

Metals
Copper interests still retain hope of a revision upward of the fixed price of the metal to meet the 25 per cent rise in transportation. The demand for copper continues to be extremely large. The inquiry for lead was big yesterday, but the offerings were smaller than usual.

Grain
The action of the corn market gave further evidence that sentiment that prices will go up is waning. Price changes were feverish and there was fair buying at times, but the demand was less aggressive than during the recent advance, and final figures were 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cent lower.

MRS DE FOREST CANDEE, one of the local stars of the courts, who, paired with Mrs. Theodore C. Cassebeer, meets Miss Clara Cassel and Miss Marie Wagner in the final round of the women's lawn tennis doubles this afternoon, on the turf courts of the West Side Tennis Club, at Forest Hills, Long Island, for the metropolitan championship.

and sharp volleying that brought applause from the gallery. The summaries follow: Women's metropolitan championship singles (fourth round)—Miss Eleanor Goss defeated Miss Bessie Holden, 6-2, 6-1; Miss Bjurstedt defeated Mrs. Rawson L. Wood, 6-1, 7-5; Miss Eleanor Goss defeated Miss Helene Pollak, 6-2, 6-1.

Women's doubles (semi-final)—Miss Clara Cassel and Miss Marie Wagner defeated Mrs. Johan Rogge and Miss Bessie Holden, of New Rochelle, at 6-2, 6-1, and Miss Bjurstedt and Frederick B. Alexander advanced through their defeat of Miss Pauline Davies and Harvey L. O'Boyle by a score of 6-1, 6-1 in the fourth round.
