Prepare Rules for U.S.-German Trade

Officials at Washington Expect to Issue Full Regulations Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, July 6—Belief is universal that Berlin will accept American tariffs which are to be proposed for marketing trade with Germany. The conference between the late Mr. Schacht, with whom the American delegation was present, and Dr. Hymans, and the imperially-appointed British representatives in Berlin, have already been brought to a small issue at the present time.

A War Procedure Is Followed

An article by Mr. Schacht appears to indicate that the conference has already been brought to a small issue at the present time. The conference between the late Mr. Schacht, with whom the American delegation was present, and Dr. Hymans, and the imperially-appointed British representatives in Berlin, have already been brought to a small issue at the present time.

The War Procedure Is Followed

A war procedure is followed in the negotiations, and the American delegation, therefore, is not prepared to offer any concessions. Berlin is determined to insist on a reversal of all its previous policy and to accept American tariffs, which it is believed the American delegation will accept.

The Conference was Held at the Later Mr. Schacht's Request

The conference, which was held at the later Mr. Schacht's request, is believed to have been concluded in a friendly spirit. It is considered that the American delegation will accept the American tariffs, which it is believed the American delegation has already accepted.

A War Procedure Is Followed

A war procedure is followed in the negotiations, and the American delegation, therefore, is not prepared to offer any concessions. Berlin is determined to insist on a reversal of all its previous policy and to accept American tariffs, which it is believed the American delegation will accept.