

Leonard Wood To Help Restore T. R.'s Birthplace

General Will Speak Here Friday at Carnegie Hall. When Women Open Campaign to Raise $1,000,000

General Leonard Wood, Colonel Roosevelt's comrade in arms in 1898, will come here Friday to assist in the movement of the Woman's Roosevelt Memorial Association to raise $1,000,000 for the restoration of the former President's birthplace, 28 East Twentieth Street, as Roosevelt House, a center of Americanism. He will make the principal address at the Carnegie Hall mass meeting Friday evening, which will inaugurate a national canvass for the fund.

Restoration of the Roosevelt home is the special mission of the woman's memorial association. Its president, Mrs. John Henry Hammond, and other officials will explain at the meeting how the organization proposes to carry out the plan.

Mrs. Douglas Robinson, Colonel Roosevelt's sister, will read her poem "Sagamore" at the meeting. Twenty members of the Roosevelt Rough Riders, led by Captain Arthur Cosby, will present a large American flag to the association, and William Webster Ellsworth, former president of the Century Company, in an illustrated lecture on "Theodore Roosevelt—American" will tell of his relations with the former President during the '80s when Colonel Roosevelt published his first book, "Ranch Life and the Hunting Trails." The 22d Infantry Band, from Fort Jay, will render a musical programme.

There also will be motion pictures of "Theodore Roosevelt in Action," with comments by Professor W. A. Braun, of Columbia.

The membership campaign, which is a drive for funds, will be from October 20 to 27, which will be designated as Roosevelt Week. There will be no "stunts" to feature the campaign, and the only outdoor displays will be the decorations individual owners of buildings or stores may desire. The progress of the campaign will be shown by the "flight of the flag" across the state from Buffalo to O. ster Bay.

The memorial association has arranged to record the names of all donors of $1 or more in a book of donors which will be kept for all time in Roosevelt House. The association was founded a few days after Colonel Roosevelt's death, and has already enrolled 5,000 members who have contributed $75,000. Headquarters have been established at 1 East Fifty-seventh Street.

It is proposed to restore the interior of the building at 28 East Twentieth Street with the original furnishings, and to house not only a Roosevelt museum and library, but classrooms for the teaching of English, the language of America, and the principles of Americanism for which Colonel Roosevelt stood.

Mrs. Leonard Wood is the honorary president of the association, and the honorary vice-presidents are Mrs. Robert Bacon, Mrs. Joseph H. Choate, Mrs. Ethel Root, Mrs. William Bayard Cutting, Mrs. James T. Leavitt, Mrs. Thomas Jex Preston, jr., Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, Mrs. James Roosevelt, Miss Louisa Leo Schuyler and Mrs. Robert Winthrop.

On the board of directors are Mrs. John Henry Hammond, president; Mrs. Henry A. Alexander, Mrs. William Curtis Demore, Mrs. James Russell Parsons, Mrs. Henry A. W. Wood and Mrs. Vladimir Simkhovitch, vice-presidents; Mrs. Charles A. Bryan, secretary, and Mrs. A. Barton Hepburn, treasurer.

Tickets for the Carnegie Hall meeting may be obtained from national headquarters of the Woman's Roosevelt Memorial Association, 1 East Fifty-seventh street.

Bandits Kill Laborer And Take Life Savings

Bandits waylaid Joseph Caraciolo driver of a Street Cleaning Department ash cart, yesterday afternoon within a stone's throw of Queens Boulevard, Richmond Hill, along which scores of automobiles were passing. They killed him and robbed him of his savings, thought to be $2,000, with which he was planning to bring his wife and three children here from Italy.

Caraciolo's body was discovered about 5:30 p. m. His grazing horses had strayed only a few feet from where their driver lay. Although so near Queens Boulevard, the spot was not within sight of any house and was not frequented, either by vehicles or pedestrians, being near a municipal dump behind Maple Grove Cemetery.

The driver's skull had been fractured, and his right hip pocket had been turned wrong side out. There was no indication that the search had been extended to his other pockets. Caraciolo was thirty-nine years old and lived at 457 Wickes Street, Richmond Hill.

Six Cities in Race for Republican Convention

San Francisco Making Vigorous Campaign; Upham Favors Chicago

Chicago, San Francisco, St. Louis, De Moines, Minneapolis and Milwaukee are all in the race to obtain the Republican National Convention in 1920. At present San Francisco is making the most strenuous efforts to induce the Republican National Committee, when it meets in Washington in December, to choose a convention city, to go clear to the coast. Frederick B. Upham, treasurer of the national committee, was quoted in a Chicago paper this week as saying that of course Chicago would be chosen, but this is not official. Mr. Upham is a resident of Chicago.

The business interests of San Francisco are offering glowing inducements, urging that when the delegates once set in a Pullman a matter of two or three days, extra riding is of no consequence, provided the facilities offered are attractive. Chicago and St. Louis have the advantage of being centrally located. At the meeting of the national committee not only the choice of the convention city, but the general campaign policy of the Republican party for 1920 will be up for discussion.

It is expected that by the time the committee assembles, the league of nations treaty will have been disposed of, leaving the political situation nearer normal, and enabling the committee to outline a policy that is likely to carry through 1920, without substantial change.

Livingston Predicts Republicans Will Win Kings County

Victory Only a Forecast of Triumph in State and Nation, He Says; Blames Democrats for Disorder

Jacob A. Livingston, chairman of the Republican County Executive Committee in Kings, basing his judgment in part on the increased registration in a review of the political situation last night predicted a Republican victory in Kings County "as a forecast of what the voters are going to do in the state and nation next year."

"The Democratic party is in full control in nation, state, city and county, and is justly held responsible for the general public discontent and for the manner of government by the party in power that has produced that discontent," said Mr. Livingston.

"The Democratic party charged the high cost of living on the Republican party and its tariff policy in 1912, and boasted that it had reduced that cost by its own policy in 1916. In the summer of the present year the great Democratic newspapers conducted a publicity campaign against the cost of living, and sought to reduce prices of living by flaring headlines and hysterical appeals. To-day the prices are higher than ever."

"The distress to which the country is reduced by the extravagance and incompetence of the government can only find vent in a wave of crime, but in a general feeling against law and order among persons ordinarily peaceful and law abiding. For example, witness the throwing of eggs by an Oklahoma mob at a United States Senator, the attempted lynching of the Mayor of Omaha, the succession of race riots in Chicago, Washington and other cities, the outbreak of lawlessness when police protection was, for a single day, removed in Boston, and the strikes innumerable throughout the country."

"All this indicates that a stabilizing power is needed in our government. That power is a characteristic of the Republican party, which, ever since it came into existence, has stood for law and order, and at the same time has been ready and eager to make progress along sane lines."

"I confidently believe that the party is about to be restored to power by the people of this country, and that the control of government, from top to bottom, is to be placed in its hands by the voters who are flocking to the registration booths this fall, silently preparing to express in November their verdict on the issues of the hour."

Secretary Daniels to Speak

Three hundred men and women interested in procuring assistance to relieve distress in Armenia and Syria will attend a conference of the Near East Relief, which was incorporated recently by Congress. There will be a banquet Wednesday evening at the Commodore, with Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, as the principal speaker. Other speakers will be Cleveland H. Dodge, who will preside; Abram H. Likus, Howard Heinz of Pittsburgh, and Walter George Smith, of Philadelphia.

Air Mail Here From Canada

Special aerial mail from Halifax, Nova Scotia, was delivered in New York yesterday. Included in the bundle, which was brought by the liner, were a number of "Boast Nova Scotia" booklets, prepared by the publishers of "The Halifax Herald." W. H. Dennis, vice-president of The Herald Company, was a passenger in the plane.

Citizenship Papers Of Many Soldiers Are Being Held Up

They Are Refused Registration, Though They Fought for Country, Says Representative F. H. La Guardia

Representative F. H. La Guardia, Republican candidate for President of the Board of Aldermen, says thousands of undelivered registration certificates are being held up at 5 Beekman Street, resulting in the disfranchisement of voters entitled to vote this fall.

"Thousands of American citizens who have earned their citizenship by the most severe test ever applied and who have proved their loyalty in the cause of freedom have been denied the rights of citizenship during the past few days of registration," said the Congressman. Continuing on the same line, Mr. La Guardia said:

"There are thousands of our boys who were drafted in the army, or who voluntarily enlisted, who received naturalization while at camp, before going overseas. Many of these boys registered and voted last year at one place or another. They are now out of the army. They have gone to various places to register, and have been refused the right of registration because they did not have their citizenship papers with them. The fact that they voted last year would not be considered by some of the election boards."

"It is well known that the board is divided two and two, the objecting side prevailing, as it requires a majority to overrule the board. So that the Democrats have even resorted to this way of preventing citizens, who have stood the supreme test, from obtaining their naturalization."

"Thousands of papers, I understand, are being held up—why I am going to find out. I have taken the matter up with the Judge Advocate General of the Army, General Enoch Crowder, and have received the following telegram from him:

"Thousands of undelivered naturalization certificates now in the hands of naturalization examiners, Department of Labor, in twelve naturalization districts. Suggest you get in touch with Mr. Sturgis, 5 Beekman Street, New York City, who can furnish full and I think satisfactory information."

"What is the matter with 5 Beekman Street? Why should they hold these certificates of naturalization? I know of many instances where boys have gone down to ask for their papers, and were told the matter is being investigated. What investigation is necessary after the man has been finally naturalized?"

"How many of the men at 5 Beekman Street have stood the test that these men have undergone? I know one man down there, who, when war was declared, took a lucrative position with one of the big hotels, and when he did not make good there, he went begging for his job. Is he now paying the price for the return of his job?"

"I am going to see this thing through. I have taken the matter up with the legal department of the Republican County Committee, and any soldier who was naturalized during the war and has a right to vote, if he will apply at Room 123, Hotel Imperial, papers will be made out for mandamus proceedings to compel his registration. At the local board meeting, at Public School 21, in Mott Street, twelve boys at one time who went there to register were turned down. Papers are now being prepared for them."

Omsk Council Investigates Flogging of U. S. Soldiers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Investigation of the arrest of Captain L. Johns and Corporal Benjamin Sperling, American soldiers in Siberia, and the mistreatment of Sperling by Cossacks has been ordered by the Omsk government.

A dispatch to the State Department today from Consul General Harris said the incident was reported to the Kolchak government for the first time in a cablegram from Boris Bakmeteff the Russian Ambassador here, and that the affair caused unanimous indignation in the council of ministers. The council was said to have taken steps to express profound regret and to condemn the action if the facts prove to be as reported.

World Needs Idealism, Says Miss Marbury

Graft and Selfishness Dominate Government Abroad, She Tells Democratic Club

Miss Elizabeth Marbury and seven Democratic candidates for political office were guests of the Women's Democratic Club at the Hotel Commodore yesterday.

Miss Marbury said she had heard a great deal of lamenting among Democrats because the Republican women were so much better organized than the Democrats, but it did not worry her. "The world has had too much organization," she said. "The Germans were organized. What the world needs is not organization, but idealism. I have just come from Europe, and I say it is a pity the women of the European countries are not enfranchised, so they could contribute a measure of their idealism to the affairs of state, which are at present a mass of selfishness, avarice and graft."

Mrs. Mary M. Lilly, member of the Assembly from the 7th District, asked for the support of the clubwomen in her coming campaign for reelection and was promised it with rousing cheers.

Jersey Sure to Go Republican, Bugbee Assures Voters

Subserviency of Opponent to Mayor Hague Charged by Candidate for Governor Before a Mass Meeting

ATLANTIC CITY, Oct. 11.—State Controller Newton A. K. Bugbee, Republican candidate for Governor, at a rousing mass meeting here this afternoon predicted the success at the polls of the Republican state ticket.

Controller Bugbee arrived in Atlantic City shortly after 1 o'clock, and until midnight was kept busy with handshaking and mass meetings. Prominent in the activities of the afternoon and evening was the recently organized Bugbee Marching Club, which includes virtually all the prominent young Republicans of the county.

Whatever differences may have existed in Atlantic County during the primary campaign have been eliminated, judging by the harmony evident in the welcome accorded the Republican standard bearer. Controller Bugbee made his principal address before a mass meeting arranged under auspices of the Marching Club. He said:

"I bring a message of encouragement and the hope of certain victory to you to-night, based upon my experience in campaigning this week in the counties of Essex and Hudson. In these counties there is a determination on the part of the citizens, regardless of political affiliation, not to permit the administration of the affairs of state to be placed in the hands of Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, who has won so much notoriety as the Democratic leader of Hudson County and the chief to which my Democratic opponent pays unswerving and unquestioning homage."

"The counties of Essex and Hudson will do their full share in electing a Republican Governor and giving the state a decent and honest administration."

Balfour Heads Cambridge U.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Arthur J. Balfour, the Secretary for Foreign Affairs, has been elected chancellor of Cambridge University. His election was unopposed. Mr. Balfour succeeds Lord Rayleigh, who died last July.

Presidential Boom Grows in Illinois For Gov. Lowden

Republican Leaders Assert It Will Come East and Gain Strength Steadily; Executive Is Receptive

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 11.—Genevieve rumblings of a Republican Presidential boom which will be heard in the country soon are to-day unmistakable here in Illinois. The movement to make Governor Frank O. Lowden President thus far has been comparatively inconspicuous. Though reluctant to declare himself in absolute agreement with the hopes of his supporters, powerful friends of the Governor assured The Tribune correspondent to-day that Governor Lowden is in the race, and that he will have the solid backing of the Illinois delegation.

Under the leadership of State Chairman Smith, the Governor's friends are preparing for the fray. Sentiment throughout Illinois backs Governor Lowden almost to a man. The rank and file of the party is satisfied with his administration record, and it is reinforced by a sentimental regard on the part of those who believe in a man who has risen from poverty and obscurity to a post of responsibility.

The boyhood story of how Lowden, walked behind his father's plow, chosen to the State of Iowa, where like Abraham Lincoln, he struggled for an education, taught school, eventually worked his way through two universities, and began his career as a young Chicago lawyer with nothing but his brains and character, finally reaching the governorship, is now being told around the state by the Governor's friends.

Illinois farmers, business men and Republican county leaders here and there are declaring themselves every day for Lowden. As for the Governor himself, it is said he is letting his friends do the booming.

The Governor has assured his friends that his ambition is to retire to his farm after his term as Governor expires. The Governor's supporters say he is more than a favorite son candidate and that they are receiving assurances from outside that indicate he will be one of the leading candidates on the first ballot, with an excellent chance of being the choice of the convention.

FRANKLIN SIMON & CO

INSTEAD OF REDUCING LACES TO MONOTONY, CENTURIES HAVE BUT ENDEARED THEM TO FASHION THE MORE. IN STATELY ERAS THEY STOOD OUT IN IMPREGNABLE RUFFS ABOUT THE THROATS OF KINGS, IN INSoucIANT DAYS THEY FELL LIKE VEILS OVER THE WHITE RINGED FINGERS OF PRINCES. AND NOW, TO COURT DEMOCRACY, THEY ARE DYED A DIFFERENT COLOR FOR EVERY BLOUSE.

FROM COLORS THAT STARTLE WITH PLEASURE, LIKE THE DROPS OF RED ON A TIGER LILY, OR THE POIGNANT LAKE BLUE OF CHINA, THESE LACES RANGE TO MERE SHADOWS OF SHADES THAT MAKE EACH BLOUSE SOMETHING RARELY BEAUTIFUL

THE DEBUT OF THE DYED LACE BLOUSE

Constant in Its Fickleness, Lace "Dyes" to Do Something Different for Each Different Blouse and Each Different Occasion

DYED LACE IN THE COSTUME BLOUSES

"THIS is my latest, and therefore my best," says the costume blouse, and presents the most bewilderingly lovely lace trimmings, some of them dyed in delicate shades, some gorgeously deep with color, some of them ecru or white, and among them one to match any and every shade of suit. Many of these blouses are of all lace—Chantilly, or antique lace, exquisite and fragile. Costume blouses of great distinction, and elaborate enough for informal evening wear. 18.50 to 98.50

DYED LACE IN IMPORTED FRENCH BLOUSES

HERE is nothing new under the sun, but there are new ways of using old things, and the French have found new ways of using laces. The Franklin Simon collection of French blouses is a revelation in what can be done with laces—colored laces, white laces, black laces, laces real and laces in clever copies. Some are of Spanish lace, or of chiffon trimmed with Calais lace. And perhaps most exquisite of all are those with gold or silver threads. 69.50 to 185.00

DYED LACE IN DEMI-TAILORED BLOUSES

BE not the last to leave the old, nor the first to try the new, is the motto of the demi-tailored blouse. It clings to some of the severity of the tailored waist, but tempers it with some of the softness of the elaborate blouses. In the Franklin Simon & Co. collection it earns its clever French title of "Demi" by a soupeon of filet, Valenciennes, or shadow lace, but still upholds its tailored traditions. 10.00 to 39.50

DYED LACE BLOUSES FROM OUR OWN WORKROOMS

THESE blouses are made in our own Fifth Avenue workrooms, and are made as well as a blouse can be made. They are of lace and lace trimmed. Some models are of ecru filet with old gold or copper lace showing through, of cinnamon brown lace trimmed with burnt orange ribbon, or of navy blue embroidered net and metal lace. Still others are fashioned of French blue and silver lace over navy blue net. 39.50 to 150.00
