Elaborate headresses and double length sleeves are the vogue with Friend Wife over Mongolia way. Even among the poorer classes $200 or more will be invested in one of these unique millinery creations. Underwood

Right—Mme. Lydia Lipkowska, famous operatic soprano, returns after several years in Russia, where she endured many hardships at the hands of the Bolsheviks. She wears her famous gold thread wig valued at $50,000. Keystone View

On sunny days in February a very young man's fancy is apt to turn to kiddiecars. Master Morrison Marshall, adopted son of the Vice-President, is no exception to the rule. Here is the youthful chauffeur burning up the asphalt before the Treasury Building. Underwood

Left—No wonder she bawls! Born with two teeth and hollering for beefsteak and yet the proud parents of little Florence Haase, of Chicago, insist that she remain on a strictly milk diet. International

Left—Kay Laurell is in again. Not hot water this time, though, but instead the cool, salt breakers at Miami, Fla., where the w. k. star of the screen and stage is mingling with a number of other celebrities who are spending the winter months at this popular resort. International

Trying out the flivver of the air—the world's smallest successful plane which recently made 75 miles an hour over College Point, L. I. It is powered with a 2-cylinder 70 h. p. motor and will sell for around $2,500. The "infant" will be exhibited at the Aero Show. International

Right—In a fog, with waves dashing on the rocks a hundred feet below and with a lighthouse crew for witnesses, was the way Gaynel Dresser and Cyril J. MacMeekin promised to "love, honor and obey"—all because the San Francisco lady wanted a "different kind" of wedding. Here's the nervy bride-to-be scaling the rope ladder to the impromptu altar of the Mile Rock Lighthouse in the Golden Gate. International
