

Bolshevism Grips More German Cities

Continued from page one. Full settlement of the prevailing situation, the workers yesterday rejected the agreement, and fighting was resumed there.

Workmen General Barricades Major General Pilsch, commanding the city, brigade into the city to Reichswald, the hard-pressed volunteers, and proclaimed a reinforced state of siege. Fighting continued throughout the day and late into the night, workmen everywhere building up barricades. In the afternoon a military airplane dropped bombs on Johannplatz. Another airplane was shot down by the workmen.

The general postoffice, railroad station, the general and other public buildings are still in the hands of the volunteer forces. Losses in the fighting are said to be extremely heavy, and rumors of hundreds killed and wounded in various parts of the city are met on every hand.

A general strike has been put into effect in all parts of Erzgebirge, Vogtland and North Saxony. Collisions and accidents at Gera and Plauen, in Vogtland, and at Auerbach and Borna, in Saxony.

Work has been resumed at Geritz, Chemnitz, Barmen and Duisburg according to advices received today. According to advices, dated Thursday, the Communist and Communist groups, ten miles south of Erfurt, formed an executive committee under whose jurisdiction the burgo-master placed himself. Quiet is reported in the city.

At Kottbus, Prussia, an agreement is reported to have been reached between the senior garrison officer and the leaders of a so-called Red Guard. The agreement provides for the Red Guard to remain in the city, while the garrison troops were to be withdrawn, while at the same time the troops would release about one hundred workmen who had been made prisoners.

A general strike was called in Düsseldorf, under the leadership of the Communist party, which is summing up the workers to resume their employment to-morrow morning. The Communist party is also working for the establishment of a soviet dictatorship.

Three Officers Shot Dead Berlin has not yet succeeded in emerging from the chaos into which it has fallen since the Communist party and its associates by a coup d'etat took over the government a week ago. Although most all, if not all, of the troops which formed the backbone of the revolution have been disbanded, disorders continued unabated during Thursday night and Friday. Many additional casualties, both in killed and wounded, occurred during this period.

In addition to further shooting, in which a number of persons were killed or maimed in front of the Hotel Adlon, three officers were shot dead. One officer was mortally wounded at 1 o'clock today by members of the Security Police, stationed at the guard house, in the vicinity of the Reichstag. Thereupon a crowd surrounded the car and the officers opened fire with revolvers on civilians. An armored motor car appeared upon the scene and the officers were taken to the hospital. The officers' car and simultaneously the police fired with their rifles upon it. The three officers fell and were shot dead. One was wounded. Under-Linden was crowded at the time, and the explosion of the grenades caused a panic. Six civilians were wounded by the falling missiles and were taken for medical aid into the Hotel Adlon.

Street Fighting Continues In the early morning two persons were killed and seven were wounded in disorders which ended in street fighting. There was much disorder last night in the outlying sections of Berlin in the workmen's districts east and north of the city, and even in the semi-fashionable Schoenberg section, where it is reported that several hundred army officers, leaving the city on a truck, were dragged off the vehicle by a mob and severely beaten and several were killed.

According to the same authority, Russian Bolshevik forces are advancing from the Russian frontier. Two weeks before the revolt in Berlin, says a wireless dispatch from Moscow, a secret conference was held in Wolfgang Kapp and representatives of the Russian "Black Hundreds," the latter including Alexander J. Guchkoff and Prince Volconski.

Private advices from Paris say that the Ebert government has asked the Allies to permit it to proclaim martial law in order to put down German troops to put down Bolshevism in parts of the neutral zone which was established by the peace treaty and in which the Germans were not to have troops. The correspondent of the "Politiker" reports that with the government's consent the Republican Officers' League has armed three battalions of Socialist workmen. The Socialist party, he adds, has been split into right and left wings.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

TIFFANY & Co.

FIFTH AVENUE & 37th STREET

PEARLS DIAMONDS JEWELRY SILVERWARE STATIONERY

that the guards posted about the offices of the newspaper be withdrawn.

The guards in the fashionable Unter den Linden hotels are doing their own laundering in bathtubs, making up beds, washing dishes and carrying many exchange of articles of food in order to vary the strike diet. The colony of American correspondents at the Hotel Adlon are pooling their foodstuffs, which were bought haphazardly in hurried raids on shops. The closing down of the American bar was the last copper rivet driven into the general strike.

A sudden and widespread revival of the anti-Semitic movement made itself felt today, when at intervals throughout the day leaflets were distributed in public office and attempting to inflame the public mind by cartoons picturing the German people as starving in a cage, while well-fed and prosperous Jewish merchants look on and are made to say: "Don't feed the animals." Prominent Jewish residents are outspoken in expressing their serious apprehension of the recurrence of the movement at this juncture.

The Baltic troops, which made such a sanguinary departure from the city, are accused of taking a leading part in the agitation and numerous inciting handbills are attributed to them. Among the anti-Semitic street speakers were Baltic officers and enlisted men. Since the first German revolution in November, 1918, it has been estimated that about 80,000 Jews from Russia, Poland, Galicia and East Prussia have come to Berlin. The Jewish population of the capital now is estimated at 200,000 persons. The great influx of Jews stirred up feeling because of the widespread circulation of reports that many of the Jews were speculating in foodstuffs and other necessities, and also operating as money lenders.

The Jews are generally keeping off the streets today. The recrudescence of the anti-Jewish movement is attributed by some to the attempts of the Conservatives to combat the growing strength of the radical elements, many leaders of which are Jews.

100 Killed, Many Wounded, in Berlin

LONDON, March 19 (By The Associated Press).—One hundred persons were killed and more than 200 others wounded in the capital today, according to advices from the German capital received by way of Copenhagen. Eyewitnesses of occurrences which took place outside the city walls reported that the police ordered an automobile bearing the officers, who were reported to have been members of the Baltic troops, to be stopped. Thereupon a crowd surrounded the car and the officers opened fire with revolvers on civilians. An armored motor car appeared upon the scene and the officers were taken to the hospital. The officers' car and simultaneously the police fired with their rifles upon it. The three officers fell and were shot dead. One was wounded. Under-Linden was crowded at the time, and the explosion of the grenades caused a panic. Six civilians were wounded by the falling missiles and were taken for medical aid into the Hotel Adlon.

Street Fighting Continues In the early morning two persons were killed and seven were wounded in disorders which ended in street fighting. There was much disorder last night in the outlying sections of Berlin in the workmen's districts east and north of the city, and even in the semi-fashionable Schoenberg section, where it is reported that several hundred army officers, leaving the city on a truck, were dragged off the vehicle by a mob and severely beaten and several were killed.

According to the same authority, Russian Bolshevik forces are advancing from the Russian frontier. Two weeks before the revolt in Berlin, says a wireless dispatch from Moscow, a secret conference was held in Wolfgang Kapp and representatives of the Russian "Black Hundreds," the latter including Alexander J. Guchkoff and Prince Volconski.

Private advices from Paris say that the Ebert government has asked the Allies to permit it to proclaim martial law in order to put down German troops to put down Bolshevism in parts of the neutral zone which was established by the peace treaty and in which the Germans were not to have troops. The correspondent of the "Politiker" reports that with the government's consent the Republican Officers' League has armed three battalions of Socialist workmen. The Socialist party, he adds, has been split into right and left wings.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

ary action is necessary to save this section of the country from the "Reds."

All Germany, with the exception of the southern states, is rebellious, and Berlin is a "barrel of gunpowder which may be ignited at any time," says a Berlin dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company, filed at the German capital yesterday.

Other dispatches received by way of Copenhagen state that hundreds of persons have been killed in the mining districts of Germany at Kiel yesterday. A sudden and widespread revival of the anti-Semitic movement made itself felt today, when at intervals throughout the day leaflets were distributed in public office and attempting to inflame the public mind by cartoons picturing the German people as starving in a cage, while well-fed and prosperous Jewish merchants look on and are made to say: "Don't feed the animals." Prominent Jewish residents are outspoken in expressing their serious apprehension of the recurrence of the movement at this juncture.

The Baltic troops, which made such a sanguinary departure from the city, are accused of taking a leading part in the agitation and numerous inciting handbills are attributed to them. Among the anti-Semitic street speakers were Baltic officers and enlisted men. Since the first German revolution in November, 1918, it has been estimated that about 80,000 Jews from Russia, Poland, Galicia and East Prussia have come to Berlin. The Jewish population of the capital now is estimated at 200,000 persons. The great influx of Jews stirred up feeling because of the widespread circulation of reports that many of the Jews were speculating in foodstuffs and other necessities, and also operating as money lenders.

The Jews are generally keeping off the streets today. The recrudescence of the anti-Jewish movement is attributed by some to the attempts of the Conservatives to combat the growing strength of the radical elements, many leaders of which are Jews.

100 Killed, Many Wounded, in Berlin

LONDON, March 19 (By The Associated Press).—One hundred persons were killed and more than 200 others wounded in the capital today, according to advices from the German capital received by way of Copenhagen. Eyewitnesses of occurrences which took place outside the city walls reported that the police ordered an automobile bearing the officers, who were reported to have been members of the Baltic troops, to be stopped. Thereupon a crowd surrounded the car and the officers opened fire with revolvers on civilians. An armored motor car appeared upon the scene and the officers were taken to the hospital. The officers' car and simultaneously the police fired with their rifles upon it. The three officers fell and were shot dead. One was wounded. Under-Linden was crowded at the time, and the explosion of the grenades caused a panic. Six civilians were wounded by the falling missiles and were taken for medical aid into the Hotel Adlon.

Street Fighting Continues In the early morning two persons were killed and seven were wounded in disorders which ended in street fighting. There was much disorder last night in the outlying sections of Berlin in the workmen's districts east and north of the city, and even in the semi-fashionable Schoenberg section, where it is reported that several hundred army officers, leaving the city on a truck, were dragged off the vehicle by a mob and severely beaten and several were killed.

According to the same authority, Russian Bolshevik forces are advancing from the Russian frontier. Two weeks before the revolt in Berlin, says a wireless dispatch from Moscow, a secret conference was held in Wolfgang Kapp and representatives of the Russian "Black Hundreds," the latter including Alexander J. Guchkoff and Prince Volconski.

Private advices from Paris say that the Ebert government has asked the Allies to permit it to proclaim martial law in order to put down German troops to put down Bolshevism in parts of the neutral zone which was established by the peace treaty and in which the Germans were not to have troops. The correspondent of the "Politiker" reports that with the government's consent the Republican Officers' League has armed three battalions of Socialist workmen. The Socialist party, he adds, has been split into right and left wings.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

Woman, Waving at Rebels, Caused Mob Attack in Berlin

The accompanying description of the attack upon the Hotel Adlon and the firing by troops on the crowds was written by a correspondent who was on the scene during the incident.

Noske Resigns as Defense Minister

STUTTGART, March 19.—The National Assembly, which met in extraordinary session here yesterday afternoon, was last night declared adjourned by its president, Konstantin Fehrenbach, to meet in Berlin on Tuesday.

The Majority Socialist leaders here have demanded that Gustav Noske, Minister of Defense, resign his post. Herr Noske has complied by tendering his resignation to President Ebert, but his resignation will be accepted only in case it is to its acceptance and will not do so until the Cabinet has considered the question. Should Noske retire it seems probable he will be succeeded by General von Seeckt, now in command of the troops in Berlin. Dr. Schiffer, Minister of Justice, is being mentioned for the premiership in the population of the southern states, is rebellious, and Berlin is a "barrel of gunpowder which may be ignited at any time," says a Berlin dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company, filed at the German capital yesterday.

Other dispatches received by way of Copenhagen state that hundreds of persons have been killed in the mining districts of Germany at Kiel yesterday. A sudden and widespread revival of the anti-Semitic movement made itself felt today, when at intervals throughout the day leaflets were distributed in public office and attempting to inflame the public mind by cartoons picturing the German people as starving in a cage, while well-fed and prosperous Jewish merchants look on and are made to say: "Don't feed the animals." Prominent Jewish residents are outspoken in expressing their serious apprehension of the recurrence of the movement at this juncture.

The Baltic troops, which made such a sanguinary departure from the city, are accused of taking a leading part in the agitation and numerous inciting handbills are attributed to them. Among the anti-Semitic street speakers were Baltic officers and enlisted men. Since the first German revolution in November, 1918, it has been estimated that about 80,000 Jews from Russia, Poland, Galicia and East Prussia have come to Berlin. The Jewish population of the capital now is estimated at 200,000 persons. The great influx of Jews stirred up feeling because of the widespread circulation of reports that many of the Jews were speculating in foodstuffs and other necessities, and also operating as money lenders.

The Jews are generally keeping off the streets today. The recrudescence of the anti-Jewish movement is attributed by some to the attempts of the Conservatives to combat the growing strength of the radical elements, many leaders of which are Jews.

100 Killed, Many Wounded, in Berlin

LONDON, March 19 (By The Associated Press).—One hundred persons were killed and more than 200 others wounded in the capital today, according to advices from the German capital received by way of Copenhagen. Eyewitnesses of occurrences which took place outside the city walls reported that the police ordered an automobile bearing the officers, who were reported to have been members of the Baltic troops, to be stopped. Thereupon a crowd surrounded the car and the officers opened fire with revolvers on civilians. An armored motor car appeared upon the scene and the officers were taken to the hospital. The officers' car and simultaneously the police fired with their rifles upon it. The three officers fell and were shot dead. One was wounded. Under-Linden was crowded at the time, and the explosion of the grenades caused a panic. Six civilians were wounded by the falling missiles and were taken for medical aid into the Hotel Adlon.

Street Fighting Continues In the early morning two persons were killed and seven were wounded in disorders which ended in street fighting. There was much disorder last night in the outlying sections of Berlin in the workmen's districts east and north of the city, and even in the semi-fashionable Schoenberg section, where it is reported that several hundred army officers, leaving the city on a truck, were dragged off the vehicle by a mob and severely beaten and several were killed.

According to the same authority, Russian Bolshevik forces are advancing from the Russian frontier. Two weeks before the revolt in Berlin, says a wireless dispatch from Moscow, a secret conference was held in Wolfgang Kapp and representatives of the Russian "Black Hundreds," the latter including Alexander J. Guchkoff and Prince Volconski.

Private advices from Paris say that the Ebert government has asked the Allies to permit it to proclaim martial law in order to put down German troops to put down Bolshevism in parts of the neutral zone which was established by the peace treaty and in which the Germans were not to have troops. The correspondent of the "Politiker" reports that with the government's consent the Republican Officers' League has armed three battalions of Socialist workmen. The Socialist party, he adds, has been split into right and left wings.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

Woman, Waving at Rebels, Caused Mob Attack in Berlin

The accompanying description of the attack upon the Hotel Adlon and the firing by troops on the crowds was written by a correspondent who was on the scene during the incident.

Noske Resigns as Defense Minister

STUTTGART, March 19.—The National Assembly, which met in extraordinary session here yesterday afternoon, was last night declared adjourned by its president, Konstantin Fehrenbach, to meet in Berlin on Tuesday.

The Majority Socialist leaders here have demanded that Gustav Noske, Minister of Defense, resign his post. Herr Noske has complied by tendering his resignation to President Ebert, but his resignation will be accepted only in case it is to its acceptance and will not do so until the Cabinet has considered the question. Should Noske retire it seems probable he will be succeeded by General von Seeckt, now in command of the troops in Berlin. Dr. Schiffer, Minister of Justice, is being mentioned for the premiership in the population of the southern states, is rebellious, and Berlin is a "barrel of gunpowder which may be ignited at any time," says a Berlin dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company, filed at the German capital yesterday.

Other dispatches received by way of Copenhagen state that hundreds of persons have been killed in the mining districts of Germany at Kiel yesterday. A sudden and widespread revival of the anti-Semitic movement made itself felt today, when at intervals throughout the day leaflets were distributed in public office and attempting to inflame the public mind by cartoons picturing the German people as starving in a cage, while well-fed and prosperous Jewish merchants look on and are made to say: "Don't feed the animals." Prominent Jewish residents are outspoken in expressing their serious apprehension of the recurrence of the movement at this juncture.

The Baltic troops, which made such a sanguinary departure from the city, are accused of taking a leading part in the agitation and numerous inciting handbills are attributed to them. Among the anti-Semitic street speakers were Baltic officers and enlisted men. Since the first German revolution in November, 1918, it has been estimated that about 80,000 Jews from Russia, Poland, Galicia and East Prussia have come to Berlin. The Jewish population of the capital now is estimated at 200,000 persons. The great influx of Jews stirred up feeling because of the widespread circulation of reports that many of the Jews were speculating in foodstuffs and other necessities, and also operating as money lenders.

The Jews are generally keeping off the streets today. The recrudescence of the anti-Jewish movement is attributed by some to the attempts of the Conservatives to combat the growing strength of the radical elements, many leaders of which are Jews.

100 Killed, Many Wounded, in Berlin

LONDON, March 19 (By The Associated Press).—One hundred persons were killed and more than 200 others wounded in the capital today, according to advices from the German capital received by way of Copenhagen. Eyewitnesses of occurrences which took place outside the city walls reported that the police ordered an automobile bearing the officers, who were reported to have been members of the Baltic troops, to be stopped. Thereupon a crowd surrounded the car and the officers opened fire with revolvers on civilians. An armored motor car appeared upon the scene and the officers were taken to the hospital. The officers' car and simultaneously the police fired with their rifles upon it. The three officers fell and were shot dead. One was wounded. Under-Linden was crowded at the time, and the explosion of the grenades caused a panic. Six civilians were wounded by the falling missiles and were taken for medical aid into the Hotel Adlon.

Street Fighting Continues In the early morning two persons were killed and seven were wounded in disorders which ended in street fighting. There was much disorder last night in the outlying sections of Berlin in the workmen's districts east and north of the city, and even in the semi-fashionable Schoenberg section, where it is reported that several hundred army officers, leaving the city on a truck, were dragged off the vehicle by a mob and severely beaten and several were killed.

According to the same authority, Russian Bolshevik forces are advancing from the Russian frontier. Two weeks before the revolt in Berlin, says a wireless dispatch from Moscow, a secret conference was held in Wolfgang Kapp and representatives of the Russian "Black Hundreds," the latter including Alexander J. Guchkoff and Prince Volconski.

Private advices from Paris say that the Ebert government has asked the Allies to permit it to proclaim martial law in order to put down German troops to put down Bolshevism in parts of the neutral zone which was established by the peace treaty and in which the Germans were not to have troops. The correspondent of the "Politiker" reports that with the government's consent the Republican Officers' League has armed three battalions of Socialist workmen. The Socialist party, he adds, has been split into right and left wings.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

Woman, Waving at Rebels, Caused Mob Attack in Berlin

The accompanying description of the attack upon the Hotel Adlon and the firing by troops on the crowds was written by a correspondent who was on the scene during the incident.

Noske Resigns as Defense Minister

STUTTGART, March 19.—The National Assembly, which met in extraordinary session here yesterday afternoon, was last night declared adjourned by its president, Konstantin Fehrenbach, to meet in Berlin on Tuesday.

The Majority Socialist leaders here have demanded that Gustav Noske, Minister of Defense, resign his post. Herr Noske has complied by tendering his resignation to President Ebert, but his resignation will be accepted only in case it is to its acceptance and will not do so until the Cabinet has considered the question. Should Noske retire it seems probable he will be succeeded by General von Seeckt, now in command of the troops in Berlin. Dr. Schiffer, Minister of Justice, is being mentioned for the premiership in the population of the southern states, is rebellious, and Berlin is a "barrel of gunpowder which may be ignited at any time," says a Berlin dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company, filed at the German capital yesterday.

Other dispatches received by way of Copenhagen state that hundreds of persons have been killed in the mining districts of Germany at Kiel yesterday. A sudden and widespread revival of the anti-Semitic movement made itself felt today, when at intervals throughout the day leaflets were distributed in public office and attempting to inflame the public mind by cartoons picturing the German people as starving in a cage, while well-fed and prosperous Jewish merchants look on and are made to say: "Don't feed the animals." Prominent Jewish residents are outspoken in expressing their serious apprehension of the recurrence of the movement at this juncture.

The Baltic troops, which made such a sanguinary departure from the city, are accused of taking a leading part in the agitation and numerous inciting handbills are attributed to them. Among the anti-Semitic street speakers were Baltic officers and enlisted men. Since the first German revolution in November, 1918, it has been estimated that about 80,000 Jews from Russia, Poland, Galicia and East Prussia have come to Berlin. The Jewish population of the capital now is estimated at 200,000 persons. The great influx of Jews stirred up feeling because of the widespread circulation of reports that many of the Jews were speculating in foodstuffs and other necessities, and also operating as money lenders.

The Jews are generally keeping off the streets today. The recrudescence of the anti-Jewish movement is attributed by some to the attempts of the Conservatives to combat the growing strength of the radical elements, many leaders of which are Jews.

100 Killed, Many Wounded, in Berlin

LONDON, March 19 (By The Associated Press).—One hundred persons were killed and more than 200 others wounded in the capital today, according to advices from the German capital received by way of Copenhagen. Eyewitnesses of occurrences which took place outside the city walls reported that the police ordered an automobile bearing the officers, who were reported to have been members of the Baltic troops, to be stopped. Thereupon a crowd surrounded the car and the officers opened fire with revolvers on civilians. An armored motor car appeared upon the scene and the officers were taken to the hospital. The officers' car and simultaneously the police fired with their rifles upon it. The three officers fell and were shot dead. One was wounded. Under-Linden was crowded at the time, and the explosion of the grenades caused a panic. Six civilians were wounded by the falling missiles and were taken for medical aid into the Hotel Adlon.

Street Fighting Continues In the early morning two persons were killed and seven were wounded in disorders which ended in street fighting. There was much disorder last night in the outlying sections of Berlin in the workmen's districts east and north of the city, and even in the semi-fashionable Schoenberg section, where it is reported that several hundred army officers, leaving the city on a truck, were dragged off the vehicle by a mob and severely beaten and several were killed.

According to the same authority, Russian Bolshevik forces are advancing from the Russian frontier. Two weeks before the revolt in Berlin, says a wireless dispatch from Moscow, a secret conference was held in Wolfgang Kapp and representatives of the Russian "Black Hundreds," the latter including Alexander J. Guchkoff and Prince Volconski.

Private advices from Paris say that the Ebert government has asked the Allies to permit it to proclaim martial law in order to put down German troops to put down Bolshevism in parts of the neutral zone which was established by the peace treaty and in which the Germans were not to have troops. The correspondent of the "Politiker" reports that with the government's consent the Republican Officers' League has armed three battalions of Socialist workmen. The Socialist party, he adds, has been split into right and left wings.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.

A Berlin dispatch to the "Berliner Tageblatt" says the position of the government has been not reached a decision because the trade union leaders are going over to the independents.