

Left—"The Days of Real Sport." What boy hasn't wanted to be a fireman when he grew up? This nine-year-old is the mascot of a sure enough city fire company, and members of the outfit have equipped him with uniform, badge, rubber boots and helmet. His combination wagon carries a ladder and axe. The young "buff" shows his appreciation by helping round the engine house after school is out.

Right—A Tome School student goes looking for polar bears in the great ice jam of the Susquehanna at Port Deposit, Md. For two days army aviators rained bombs of TNT upon the ice gorge in an effort to loosen it and save the towns along the river bank from disastrous floods. It was only when four heavy bombing planes carrying 500-pound torpedoes went into action that the ice began to move.

Meet Hugh Walpole, famous British novelist, who has been making a lecture tour of the United States. Mr. Walpole is young and decidedly interesting despite his dignified literary reputation and has been extensively entertained in all parts of the country.

Mrs. Ray Chapman Andrews, wife of the well known explorer for the Museum of Natural History, who with her husband has just returned with 1,800 specimens of animal life gathered on an extensive expedition into the heart of Mongolia.

Two million miles of ocean travel. His last and 233d round trip between New York and Copenhagen. Such is the remarkable record of Captain A. G. Thomsen, of the Scandinavian-American Line, who retires this month. Here is the seventy-one-year-old sea dog on the bridge of the Frederik VIII.

CAMMEYER

Stamped on a Shoe Means Standard of Merit

34th St. New York

Fair weather footwear for the Fair Sex

Spring is more gladly welcomed this year than ever before.

What does this mean? A greater zest in the replenishing of clothes—with shoes playing the leading role. Cammeyer originations are an array of such splendor and appeal as has never been seen before.

We are offering a hundred new kinds of Pumps, Slippers, Sandals and Oxfords, in alluring beauty, embracing every style from the chic French Model Sandal for American Feet to the low heel Oxford.

The Cammeyer "Standard of Merit" which has been maintained for the past 60 years, has an additional significance in times like these when our prices are no greater than asked elsewhere for inferior qualities.

These Shoes are also on sale at our Newark Branch. —649 Broad St.—
