Long List of Weddings Keeps Society Folk Busy

Crowded Calendar Promises to Prevent Summer Exodus From City to Seashore and Mountain Resorts for Next Ten Days or Two Weeks at Least

Last week was one of the busiest New York society has had in the month of June since pre-war times, and every day there were a dozen or more marriages of interest celebrated in the city and country. This condition will keep up for the next ten days or two weeks, but soon after the middle of June there will be little going on hereabouts to keep society in the city, and there will be a scattering to Newport, Southampton, the Jersey coast, Massachusetts, the Berkshires, Thousand Islands, Adirondacks and other resorts, where the seasons promise to be record breakers.

A wedding in which much interest will be celebrated in St. Mark's Church, Westminster, London, tomorrow when Miss Melita Keppel, youngest daughter of Admiral Sir John Keppel and Lady Keppel, will be married to Maurice Robert Hely-Hutchinson, M. C. of the Special Reserve Irish Guards and son of the late Hon. Sir Walter Hely-Hutchinson and the Hon. Lady Hely-Hutchinson.
