

Post Praises Bellevue for Anthrax Cure

Dr. Symmers Best Posted Authority on the Disease in U.S.; Given Every Care at Hospital, He Asserts

All Cost Was Room Rent Only Inconvenience Occasioned by Many Doctors Calling to Study Malady

Frederick H. Post, the polo player, who was discharged from Bellevue Hospital Friday, cured of anthrax, a disease which has a high mortality rate, was enthusiastic in his praise of the hospital yesterday as he sat on his maple-shaded front porch at Williston, L. I.

Found Room Rent Cheap

But if he ever suspects that anthrax is attacking him again, Mr. Post is going to leave his cozy home, his front porch, his stables and his maples and start for Bellevue without a qualm.

Caused By Bite of Fly

"It wasn't very pleasant to be waked up every four hours to be jabbed. At first it wasn't so bad, but after a while it got on my nerves, and I was mighty happy on Monday morning when Dr. Symmers took a culture and said that I was all right and didn't need any more."

Local Headquarters Gets Praise of Work for French Children

Indorsement of the operations of the Preventorium of the French Heroes Lafayette Memorial Fund has been received from some of the most prominent citizens in France, it was announced yesterday at the local headquarters of the fund, 2 West Forty-fifth Street, Mrs. William Astor Chanler is president.

Industrial Engineering Course for Columbia

A three-year course in industrial engineering intended to equip college men to become executives of large business enterprises has been adopted by Columbia University and will be added to the regular scientific course in the fall. The new degree of master of science in industrial engineering

Former Sub Chaser, Assigned to Whalen, Veiled in Mystery

The city owns the tug John F. Hyland. Every one knows that, because the Mayor has spoken of it, saying it was no pleasure yacht, and that it belongs to the people. But what is the strange craft, discovered yesterday morning by ship news reporters, which has the outline and numerals of a submarine chaser and the trimmings of a houseboat?

Aquitania Arrives After First Voyage As an Oil Burner

The Cunard liner Aquitania came to New York yesterday for the first time since September 18, 1919. She has been refitted and is now an oil burner. She brought 2,443 passengers from Liverpool.

Cunard Liner on First Trip to This Port Since Sept. 1919, Brings 2,443 Passengers From Liverpool

It was originally intended to start the ship from Southampton, but labor troubles decided the Cunard Line to make the change. The ship was in the hands of her old commander, Captain T. N. W. Charles, who was knighted by the British government for his war work.

Inspector Hallock Would Not Say Much About the Boat Except that it was a Good One. It Belonged to the Navy

Inspector Hallock was asked by the press for information about the Aquitania, but he would not say much about the boat except that it was a good one. It belonged to the navy, he said. But inquiry by the Third Naval District elicited the information that on June 18 S. C. 329 was sold to the City of New York and delivered to the Department of Plant and Structures.

Guests Are Disappointed

At the harbor police station it was said that Inspector Hallock was away for the day on duty, and at the office of Mr. Whalen it was said that he was on his way to the North River to board a launch.

50 Firemen to Convention Dr. Archer Heads Delegation Going to Toronto Today

Fifty members of the New York Fire Department will depart this morning for the forty-eighth convention of the International Association of Fire Engineers at Toronto, where they will bloom the candidacy of Chief John Kenlon, head of the association, for reelection.

East Paterson Is Denied Reduction in Trolley Fare

TRENTON, N. J., July 24.—A petition to extend the trolley fare zone of East Paterson to include the village of East Paterson was denied by the Public Utility Commission today. The residents of East Paterson declared that their being just over the zone boundary was unjust.

No Cussing From Outsiders

RALEIGH, N. C., July 24.—I do not propose to let any of you from outside the North Carolina investigate any of our institutions," Governor Bickett declared today, after reading that the Prisoners' Relief Society of Washington was contemplating making Brooklyn Justice House a subject of its investigations.

Manhattan Hotel Guests Buy Furniture in Rooms Intact

The furniture sale at the Manhattan Hotel will continue for the next two weeks. The lists filled three catalogues and the objects contained in the first of these, numbering some 4,000 lots, sold for $102,000. The sentiment was in the favor of the hotel, which has held over the sale, several of the guests having purchased the furniture of their rooms intact.

Marine Police Review Today

The division of the police reserve will be reviewed today at 10 o'clock by Special Deputy Police Commissioner Rodman Wanamaker and his staff. The flag ship will be the police boat John F. Hyland, which will be stationed in Gravesend Bay just south of Fort Hamilton.

Tenants Incorporate To End Rent Troubles Brooklyn Organization Plans to Perpetuate Friendships With Landlords

An incorporated body organized to mediate between tenants and landlords, believed to be the first of its kind, applied to Justice Rauceau in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn yesterday for a certificate of incorporation for the "Tenants' Organization of Brooklyn."

Strange Craft, With Trimmings of Houseboat, Takes On Peculiar Cargo While Chief Is Said to Hunt It

The city owns the tug John F. Hyland. Every one knows that, because the Mayor has spoken of it, saying it was no pleasure yacht, and that it belongs to the people. But what is the strange craft, discovered yesterday morning by ship news reporters, which has the outline and numerals of a submarine chaser and the trimmings of a houseboat?

Hoover Urges Interior Waterway Development

DETROIT, July 24.—Importance of opening the interior waterways to ocean going vessels as a means of enhancing the world's food supply was pointed out in a telegram from Herbert Hoover, former food administrator, to the American Congress today.

U. S. Is After Slackers Of Bergdoll's Caliber

Francis G. Caffey, United States District Attorney, made it clear yesterday that the department's slacker drive is being directed against those who registered for military service and failed to report when called for physical examination.

East Paterson Is Denied Reduction in Trolley Fare

TRENTON, N. J., July 24.—A petition to extend the trolley fare zone of East Paterson to include the village of East Paterson was denied by the Public Utility Commission today.

Knights of Columbus Gives $47,380 for Camp Work

The Knights of Columbus has given $47,380 to the War Department to aid in financing the department's educational and recreational work in the army camps, it was announced yesterday by William J. McGinley, supreme secretary.

Going On Today

AMERICAN MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY; admission free. METROPOLITAN MUSEUM OF ART; admission free. ZOOLOGICAL PARK; admission free. AQUARIUM; admission free. VAN CORTLANDT PARK MUSEUM; admission free.

Marine Police Review Today

The division of the police reserve will be reviewed today at 10 o'clock by Special Deputy Police Commissioner Rodman Wanamaker and his staff. The flag ship will be the police boat John F. Hyland, which will be stationed in Gravesend Bay just south of Fort Hamilton.

Big Exhibition of Pilgrim Relics Being Arranged

Exhibitions of relics which have come down from the Pilgrim and Puritan settlements in Massachusetts and Rhode Island are being arranged by museums, it was announced yesterday, in connection with the tercentenary celebration this summer and fall of the landing of the Pilgrims and the founding of free institutions in America.

War Veteran's Funeral Today

The funeral of Dr. Samuel Solei, twenty-eight, who died as a first lieutenant in the American army at the base hospital in Brest, France, October 1918, will take place at the home of his parents, 103 Third Avenue, Brooklyn, this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Funeral of A. E. F. Veteran

Military services will be held this afternoon for Sergeant Charles A. Simpson, formerly of Battery A, 105th F. A., who died in Brest, France, February 1919, at his residence, 123 West 123rd Street, Brooklyn, this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Gorgas Burial in Arlington

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The body of Major General Gorgas, former surgeon general of the army, who died recently in London, will be buried in Arlington National Cemetery at the request of Mrs. Gorgas, it was announced today at the War Department.

Englishmen Celebrate Pilgrim Tercentenary

SOUTHAMPTON, England, July 24.—Scenes attending the departure three hundred years ago of that little band of adventurers known to history as the Pilgrim Fathers were reenacted today in a pageant inaugurating a four-day celebration of the tercentenary of the sailing of the Mayflower.

Knights of Columbus Gives $47,380 for Camp Work

The Knights of Columbus has given $47,380 to the War Department to aid in financing the department's educational and recreational work in the army camps, it was announced yesterday by William J. McGinley, supreme secretary.

Going On Today

AMERICAN MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY; admission free. METROPOLITAN MUSEUM OF ART; admission free. ZOOLOGICAL PARK; admission free. AQUARIUM; admission free. VAN CORTLANDT PARK MUSEUM; admission free.

Marine Police Review Today

The division of the police reserve will be reviewed today at 10 o'clock by Special Deputy Police Commissioner Rodman Wanamaker and his staff. The flag ship will be the police boat John F. Hyland, which will be stationed in Gravesend Bay just south of Fort Hamilton.

Captain Graham Dies; Was Former Fire Chief

Captain Patrick J. Graham, U. S. A., fifty-two, died yesterday at his home, 9 West 102d Street, from an affection of the throat contracted during the war.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will of Mrs. Julia Wilkins, of 164 West Sixty-fifth Street, Manhattan, who was murdered by her husband, Dr. Walker K. Wilkins, on February 27, while the couple lived at Long Beach, was admitted to probate by Surrogate Howell, at Mineola, yesterday. His will disposes of eight lots in Harrison, N. J., valued at $8,000, and jewelry and other personal effects.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will of Mrs. Julia Wilkins, of 164 West Sixty-fifth Street, Manhattan, who was murdered by her husband, Dr. Walker K. Wilkins, on February 27, while the couple lived at Long Beach, was admitted to probate by Surrogate Howell, at Mineola, yesterday. His will disposes of eight lots in Harrison, N. J., valued at $8,000, and jewelry and other personal effects.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will of Mrs. Julia Wilkins, of 164 West Sixty-fifth Street, Manhattan, who was murdered by her husband, Dr. Walker K. Wilkins, on February 27, while the couple lived at Long Beach, was admitted to probate by Surrogate Howell, at Mineola, yesterday. His will disposes of eight lots in Harrison, N. J., valued at $8,000, and jewelry and other personal effects.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate

The will was contested by Edgar J. Wilkins, a son of the late Dr. Wilkins, and Evelyn A. Pitchek, a nephew of the late Dr. Wilkins, living at 284 West 118th Street, Manhattan. They asserted that the will was made during the period that was made a decree divorcing Mrs. Wilkins from her first husband, Otto Kraus, was in effect, and that Mrs. Wilkins was considered insane at the time.

Will of Mrs. Wilkins Admitted to Probate