

Mayor Wants Schools Exempt From Tax Limit

Wild Scramble for Money Will Raise Budget Above Legal Figure by Millions, Says Hyman Statement

Blames Pay-as-You-Go Law

Declares "Wall St. Crowd" Is Responsible for It and Will Ask Governor to Act

Mayor Hyman predicted that "with the wild scramble for money from all sorts of activities" the city budget for next year "will go millions beyond the debt limit."

The Mayor calls particular attention to the request for $46,000,000 for new school buildings, which, he says, cannot be paid for under the present law.

"These requesting more and more millions for the different activities of the city have little conception of the burden that is continually being placed upon the backs of the taxpayers."

Taxpayers Burdened "The Legislature, through mandatory legislation, has placed a burden upon the city of between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000, for which burden on the taxpayers the city administration is in no way responsible, nor the greatly increased taxes which will result."

"The Legislature, through mandatory legislation, has placed a burden upon the city of between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000, for which burden on the taxpayers the city administration is in no way responsible, nor the greatly increased taxes which will result."

"The Legislature, through mandatory legislation, has placed a burden upon the city of between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000, for which burden on the taxpayers the city administration is in no way responsible, nor the greatly increased taxes which will result."

"The Legislature, through mandatory legislation, has placed a burden upon the city of between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000, for which burden on the taxpayers the city administration is in no way responsible, nor the greatly increased taxes which will result."

"The Legislature, through mandatory legislation, has placed a burden upon the city of between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000, for which burden on the taxpayers the city administration is in no way responsible, nor the greatly increased taxes which will result."

"The Legislature, through mandatory legislation, has placed a burden upon the city of between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000, for which burden on the taxpayers the city administration is in no way responsible, nor the greatly increased taxes which will result."

"The Legislature, through mandatory legislation, has placed a burden upon the city of between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000, for which burden on the taxpayers the city administration is in no way responsible, nor the greatly increased taxes which will result."

"The Legislature, through mandatory legislation, has placed a burden upon the city of between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000, for which burden on the taxpayers the city administration is in no way responsible, nor the greatly increased taxes which will result."

"The Legislature, through mandatory legislation, has placed a burden upon the city of between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000, for which burden on the taxpayers the city administration is in no way responsible, nor the greatly increased taxes which will result."

"The Legislature, through mandatory legislation, has placed a burden upon the city of between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000, for which burden on the taxpayers the city administration is in no way responsible, nor the greatly increased taxes which will result."

"The Legislature, through mandatory legislation, has placed a burden upon the city of between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000, for which burden on the taxpayers the city administration is in no way responsible, nor the greatly increased taxes which will result."

"The Legislature, through mandatory legislation, has placed a burden upon the city of between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000, for which burden on the taxpayers the city administration is in no way responsible, nor the greatly increased taxes which will result."

"The Legislature, through mandatory legislation, has placed a burden upon the city of between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000, for which burden on the taxpayers the city administration is in no way responsible, nor the greatly increased taxes which will result."

"The Legislature, through mandatory legislation, has placed a burden upon the city of between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000, for which burden on the taxpayers the city administration is in no way responsible, nor the greatly increased taxes which will result."

"The Legislature, through mandatory legislation, has placed a burden upon the city of between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000, for which burden on the taxpayers the city administration is in no way responsible, nor the greatly increased taxes which will result."

"The Legislature, through mandatory legislation, has placed a burden upon the city of between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000, for which burden on the taxpayers the city administration is in no way responsible, nor the greatly increased taxes which will result."

Photographed leaving her car at Bailey's Beach, Newport. She will return soon to the city for the winter.

Richest Cargo of Animals Completes 7,800 Mile Trip

Bronx Zoo Draws One of First Three Rhodesian Baboons to Reach America; Deer, Monkeys and Many Bird Specimens Arrive From Africa

A veritable Noah's Ark, the steamer Chinese Prince, has arrived in Philadelphia from South Africa with the richest zoological cargo brought to this country in years.

The largest and most valuable specimen was the Nubian giraffe, which stands ten feet high. This animal remains in Philadelphia. Three new species of Rhodesian baboons, never before seen in America, enrich each of the collections.

Gasoline Trolley Given Test at Narragansett

System May Be Adopted on Eight-Mile Line From Kingston to the Pier

The car was purchased three months ago by Nathaniel T. Bacon, president of the Narragansett Pier and Sea View roads were relinquished by the Rhode Island Company several weeks ago.

New York University Alumni To Publish Monthly Magazine

The New York University Alumni, the first regular monthly alumni magazine of New York University, will make its appearance next month.

What E. V. Lucas Thinks of America

Was so sparkling and delightful a criticism of our traits ever written? No English visitor has told us of ourselves with more genial yet piercing perception. Begins in the next issue of

MacLeod Gone 2 Days Before Body Is Found

Son of New York Clergyman Believed to Have Suffered From Amnesia in Canada, Where He Was Drowned

Few Details of Tragedy

Youth, Who Disappeared From Camp Merritt in '18, Alone at Time of Death

Henry Blakely MacLeod, son of the Rev. Dr. Malcolm James MacLeod, pastor of the Collegiate Reformed Church of St. Nicholas, Fifth Avenue, had been missing more than two days when his body was found in the waters about Eldon, Prince Edward Island, off the mainland of Nova Scotia, a relative said yesterday.

The meager telegraphic details of the drowning last week sent by his grandmother, Mrs. Donald MacLeod, with whom he had been spending the summer, members of the family believed met death during one of his frequent spells of mental derangement.

The first news of the tragedy was received by Dr. MacLeod Friday night. The telegram from his grandmother simply stated that Blakely had been drowned and would be buried in the family cemetery there.

Subsequent messages, the first of which was received yesterday, informed the father and mother that their son, who had been a victim of amnesia for two years, "had wandered off" two days before his body was discovered. The message said his grandmother had not been worried, as she had thought he would turn up alive somewhere on the island.

A telegram said the details of the tragedy were being forwarded by letter, which is expected here to-day. Henry Blakely MacLeod gained wide publicity during the twenty months he was missing and counted as dead by his family after disappearing from Camp Merritt, N. J., June 27, 1918.

During all of that time he is believed to have been suffering from amnesia and unable to recall his name or identity. A reward of $1,000 was offered some time after his disappearance by his father for any information of his whereabouts, dead or alive.

Blakely remembered his name last March in a cell in the city jail at Richmond, Va., where he was arrested while loitering on a railroad. He was shocked to find that he had been in the city for so long.

The clergyman went to Richmond and brought his son to Washington, where he was treated in an army hospital for several weeks. He was given an honorable discharge and was taken to the family home at 151 Central Park West.

In June Dr. MacLeod took his son and daughter, Jean, to Prince Edward Island, where their grandmother lived to spend the summer. Dr. MacLeod returned September 1 and Blakely was in the city a week, as the family tried to determine whether they are loyal.

Demanding a thorough investigation of the housing situation and legislation relieving the crisis. The Albany convention has passed resolutions in order. Universal satisfaction has been expressed with the new officials and the delegates selected for the national convention.

The Albany convention has passed resolutions in order. Universal satisfaction has been expressed with the new officials and the delegates selected for the national convention.

The Albany convention has passed resolutions in order. Universal satisfaction has been expressed with the new officials and the delegates selected for the national convention.

The Albany convention has passed resolutions in order. Universal satisfaction has been expressed with the new officials and the delegates selected for the national convention.

The Albany convention has passed resolutions in order. Universal satisfaction has been expressed with the new officials and the delegates selected for the national convention.

The Albany convention has passed resolutions in order. Universal satisfaction has been expressed with the new officials and the delegates selected for the national convention.

The Albany convention has passed resolutions in order. Universal satisfaction has been expressed with the new officials and the delegates selected for the national convention.

The Albany convention has passed resolutions in order. Universal satisfaction has been expressed with the new officials and the delegates selected for the national convention.

The American Legion News: Local, State, National

New State Officers Begin Work on Plan for a New Headquarters; Cities to Bid for It

Results of the Albany Convention Praised; New Legislation Meets With Hearty Approval

The new state officers of the American Legion have lost little time in starting their administrative machinery for the past year.

At a meeting in the Hotel Ten Eyck, Albany, on Saturday night just after the adjournment of the state convention, the new officers met with the Department Commander Charles G. Blakeley and First Vice-Commander William F. Deegan, of the Bronx, discussed several important issues with the members of the executive committee, which is composed of the other state officers and the nine district chairmen.

The chief subject considered was the question of permanent state headquarters. The plan was formulated which promises to give the Legion a magnificent building of its own as well as to install it permanently in a city worthy of the honor. The project was proposed by the executive committee and met with unanimous approval.

It is proposed that all cities in the state, outside of New York, be notified that the American Legion will locate its permanent department headquarters in the municipality offering the most attractive inducement in the way of a Legion building. It is pointed out that the American Legion will locate its permanent department headquarters in the municipality offering the most attractive inducement in the way of a Legion building.

A block party, festival and dance, will be held on Wednesday evening by the American Legion Post, the occasion being the formal opening of the new clubhouse, at 183d Street, between Audubon and St. Nicholas avenues.

A near-civil war is threatened in the Bronx, Legionnaires there say, by the contest for the most popular young woman in the Fordham section, being conducted by the John Fraser and the Red Cross.

Employers Carry $400,000 on Life Of Olive Thomas

Four Policies of $100,000 Each Obtained 2 Years Ago by Movie Firm as Surety Under Contracts

Olive Thomas, the motion picture actress who died of mercurial poisoning in Paris a few days ago, was insured for about $400,000. The policies were obtained about two years ago by the motion picture firm by which Miss Thomas was employed, to protect it against long-term contracts which they had made with the actress and under which large sums of money had been laid out in advance.

It was also said that a policy for $200,000 had been taken out with the New York Life Insurance Company, 346 Broadway, and that policies for $146,000 were obtained from three other companies.

The documents, it was asserted, covered every contingency which there could be no doubt as to their validity in case of death by suicide.

It was reported that John C. McCall, vice-president of the New York Life Insurance Company, had called to the French authorities for full particulars of Miss Thomas's death. Mr. McCall declared yesterday that he personally had not been informed of the possible that another official of the company used his name in a message in connection with the case.

He was sure that the policy was a legitimate one, and that the company was awaiting official reports before acting.

The family of Miss Thomas, staying at the actress's apartments at 116 Central Park West, was informed yesterday that an autopsy on the body would be performed to-day, despite the fact that a verdict of accidental death had been returned by the coroner's jury.

Jack Pickford, husband of the dead screen star, is reported to be on the verge of a nervous breakdown. He insists to his friends that he did not know which could have prompted his wife purposely to drink poison. He asserts she simply grasped the wrong bottle and went to the bathroom for medicine.

Woman Friend of Olive Thomas Swallows Poison by Mistake

Mrs. Dames Easton, of 149 East Fortieth Street, who was taken to Bellevue Hospital last night suffering from the effects of creosote which she said she had swallowed by mistake, has been discharged from the hospital.

Members of Washington Heights Post will elect new officers at a meeting in the 22d Regiment Armory, next Friday night.

The Willard A. Balcom Post and its auxiliary will meet next Wednesday evening in the 2d Field Artillery Armory, 157th Street and Franklin Avenue, the Bronx.

All the auxiliaries of the Bronx will meet at the 22d Regiment Armory, 157th Street and Franklin Avenue, the Bronx.

Air Service Post has called a meeting for Thursday, September 23, at the Aero Club, 11 East Thirty-eighth Street.

At the second annual ball of the Lexington Casino, held on October 11 at Yorkville Casino, the grand prize in a drawing will be a baseball autographed by "Babe" Ruth.

A block party, festival and dance, will be held on Wednesday evening by the American Legion Post, the occasion being the formal opening of the new clubhouse, at 183d Street, between Audubon and St. Nicholas avenues.

A near-civil war is threatened in the Bronx, Legionnaires there say, by the contest for the most popular young woman in the Fordham section, being conducted by the John Fraser and the Red Cross.

Employers Carry $400,000 on Life Of Olive Thomas

Four Policies of $100,000 Each Obtained 2 Years Ago by Movie Firm as Surety Under Contracts

Olive Thomas, the motion picture actress who died of mercurial poisoning in Paris a few days ago, was insured for about $400,000. The policies were obtained about two years ago by the motion picture firm by which Miss Thomas was employed, to protect it against long-term contracts which they had made with the actress and under which large sums of money had been laid out in advance.

It was also said that a policy for $200,000 had been taken out with the New York Life Insurance Company, 346 Broadway, and that policies for $146,000 were obtained from three other companies.

The documents, it was asserted, covered every contingency which there could be no doubt as to their validity in case of death by suicide.

It was reported that John C. McCall, vice-president of the New York Life Insurance Company, had called to the French authorities for full particulars of Miss Thomas's death. Mr. McCall declared yesterday that he personally had not been informed of the possible that another official of the company used his name in a message in connection with the case.

He was sure that the policy was a legitimate one, and that the company was awaiting official reports before acting.

The family of Miss Thomas, staying at the actress's apartments at 116 Central Park West, was informed yesterday that an autopsy on the body would be performed to-day, despite the fact that a verdict of accidental death had been returned by the coroner's jury.

Jack Pickford, husband of the dead screen star, is reported to be on the verge of a nervous breakdown. He insists to his friends that he did not know which could have prompted his wife purposely to drink poison. He asserts she simply grasped the wrong bottle and went to the bathroom for medicine.

Woman Friend of Olive Thomas Swallows Poison by Mistake

Mrs. Dames Easton, of 149 East Fortieth Street, who was taken to Bellevue Hospital last night suffering from the effects of creosote which she said she had swallowed by mistake, has been discharged from the hospital.

F. D. Roosevelt at Funeral Services For Warren Delano

Relatives and Employees Only at Simple Ritual Read at Barrytown Home; Burial at Fairhaven, Mass.

FOULKEEPSIE, N. Y., Sept. 12.—Funeral services for Warren Delano Roosevelt, president of the Delano Coal Company of New York, who was killed on Thursday at the railroad station at Barrytown, at the age of 43, were held at the home of his parents in Barrytown, at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning.

The funeral was private and was attended only by members of the family and by employees of the company. The service, which consisted simply of the Episcopal ritual, was read by Rev. Francis K. Little, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Rhinebeck, of which Mr. Delano was a communicant. The coffin was covered with floral tributes from neighbors and friends.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mr. Delano's nephew, who came from Portland, Maine, to attend the services, arrived at the home early yesterday morning. The body was carried to the hearse by employees of the company, and the train for New York, to be taken from there to Fairhaven, Mass., where burial will take place on Monday.

MISS EVA ALICE LINCOLN

Miss Eva Alice Lincoln, whose grandfather was a cousin of Abraham Lincoln, died on Saturday in the Alston Sanatorium in this city. Miss Lincoln made her home in the Standish Arms Hotel in Brooklyn. She was forty-four years old.

MRS. CAROLINE E. SIDWAY

Mrs. Caroline E. Sidway, 85 years old, widow of Jonathan Sidway, of 606 West 110th Street, died yesterday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. H. Mulford, of Greenway South, Westchester County.

LORENZO MINOR GILLET

Lorenzo Minor Gillet, 70 years old, a veteran of the Civil War, and a sugar merchant in this city, died on Saturday in the Presbyterian Hospital.

PERU-CHILE AGREEMENT DENIED

LIMA, Peru, Sept. 12.—Dispatches from Buenos Ayres reporting an agreement between Chile and Peru in the Tacna-Arica controversy are repudiated both by the opposition and government organs, which unite in branding the report as a "Chilean canard designed to sound Peruvian opinion."

DEATHS

Widow of John Hamilton Lyon, aged 77, died at her late residence, 110 West 182d St., on September 12, 1920.

Mrs. Mary Annica, aged 82, died at her late residence, 110 West 182d St., on September 12, 1920.

Mrs. Mary Annica, aged 82, died at her late residence, 110 West 182d St., on September 12, 1920.

Mrs. Mary Annica, aged 82, died at her late residence, 110 West 182d St., on September 12, 1920.

Mrs. Mary Annica, aged 82, died at her late residence, 110 West 182d St., on September 12, 1920.

Mrs. Mary Annica, aged 82, died at her late residence, 110 West 182d St., on September 12, 1920.

Special Dispatch to The Tribune

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Captain Joseph F. Bernard, Arctic explorer and former resident of Los Angeles, has located and made excavations in two prehistoric Esquimaux villages at Cape Kuparuk, according to a letter from him received to-day by the museum of the University of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Captain Bernard recently gave up an attempt he started about three years ago to pass in his schooner Teddy through the Northwest Passage.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Former Senator W. Murray Crane had a comfortable day and continues to improve. While he cannot definitely be said that he is on the road to recovery, his physician, Dr. Bruce W. Paddock, feels that his continued improvement for three days is very encouraging unless there is a setback, he probably will remain in his health. Dr. Paddock said to-night that while Mr. Crane would not be off the danger list for another week, he is making progress.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Former Senator W. Murray Crane had a comfortable day and continues to improve. While he cannot definitely be said that he is on the road to recovery, his physician, Dr. Bruce W. Paddock, feels that his continued improvement for three days is very encouraging unless there is a setback, he probably will remain in his health. Dr. Paddock said to-night that while Mr. Crane would not be off the danger list for another week, he is making progress.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Former Senator W. Murray Crane had a comfortable day and continues to improve. While he cannot definitely be said that he is on the road to recovery, his physician, Dr. Bruce W. Paddock, feels that his continued improvement for three days is very encouraging unless there is a setback, he probably will remain in his health. Dr. Paddock said to-night that while Mr. Crane would not be off the danger list for another week, he is making progress.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Former Senator W. Murray Crane had a comfortable day and continues to improve. While he cannot definitely be said that he is on the road to recovery, his physician, Dr. Bruce W. Paddock, feels that his continued improvement for three days is very encouraging unless there is a setback, he probably will remain in his health. Dr. Paddock said to-night that while Mr. Crane would not be off the danger list for another week, he is making progress.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Former Senator W. Murray Crane had a comfortable day and continues to improve. While he cannot definitely be said that he is on the road to recovery, his physician, Dr. Bruce W. Paddock, feels that his continued improvement for three days is very encouraging unless there is a setback, he probably will remain in his health. Dr. Paddock said to-night that while Mr. Crane would not be off the danger list for another week, he is making progress.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Former Senator W. Murray Crane had a comfortable day and continues to improve. While he cannot definitely be said that he is on the road to recovery, his physician, Dr. Bruce W. Paddock, feels that his continued improvement for three days is very encouraging unless there is a setback, he probably will remain in his health. Dr. Paddock said to-night that while Mr. Crane would not be off the danger list for another week, he is making progress.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Former Senator W. Murray Crane had a comfortable day and continues to improve. While he cannot definitely be said that he is on the road to recovery, his physician, Dr. Bruce W. Paddock, feels that his continued improvement for three days is very encouraging unless there is a setback, he probably will remain in his health. Dr. Paddock said to-night that while Mr. Crane would not be off the danger list for another week, he is making progress.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Former Senator W. Murray Crane had a comfortable day and continues to improve. While he cannot definitely be said that he is on the road to recovery, his physician, Dr. Bruce W. Paddock, feels that his continued improvement for three days is very encouraging unless there is a setback, he probably will remain in his health. Dr. Paddock said to-night that while Mr. Crane would not be off the danger list for another week, he is making progress.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Former Senator W. Murray Crane had a comfortable day and continues to improve. While he cannot definitely be said that he is on the road to recovery, his physician, Dr. Bruce W. Paddock, feels that his continued improvement for three days is very encouraging unless there is a setback, he probably will remain in his health. Dr. Paddock said to-night that while Mr. Crane would not be off the danger list for another week, he is making progress.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Former Senator W. Murray Crane had a comfortable day and continues to improve. While he cannot definitely be said that he is on the road to recovery, his physician, Dr. Bruce W. Paddock, feels that his continued improvement for three days is very encouraging unless there is a setback, he probably will remain in his health. Dr. Paddock said to-night that while Mr. Crane would not be off the danger list for another week, he is making progress.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Former Senator W. Murray Crane had a comfortable day and continues to improve. While he cannot definitely be said that he is on the road to recovery, his physician, Dr. Bruce W. Paddock, feels that his continued improvement for three days is very encouraging unless there is a setback, he probably will remain in his health. Dr. Paddock said to-night that while Mr. Crane would not be off the danger list for another week, he is making progress.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Former Senator W. Murray Crane had a comfortable day and continues to improve. While he cannot definitely be said that he is on the road to recovery, his physician, Dr. Bruce W. Paddock, feels that his continued improvement for three days is very encouraging unless there is a setback, he probably will remain in his health. Dr. Paddock said to-night that while Mr. Crane would not be off the danger list for another week, he is making progress.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Former Senator W. Murray Crane had a comfortable day and continues to improve. While he cannot definitely be said that he is on the road to recovery, his physician, Dr. Bruce W. Paddock, feels that his continued improvement for three days is very encouraging unless there is a setback, he probably will remain in his health. Dr. Paddock said to-night that while Mr. Crane would not be off the danger list for another week, he is making progress.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Former Senator W. Murray Crane had a comfortable day and continues to improve. While he cannot definitely be said that he is on the road to recovery, his physician, Dr. Bruce W. Paddock, feels that his continued improvement for three days is very encouraging unless there is a setback, he probably will remain in his health. Dr. Paddock said to-night that while Mr. Crane would not be off the danger list for another week, he is making progress.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Former Senator W. Murray Crane had a comfortable day and continues to improve. While he cannot definitely be said that he is on the road to recovery, his physician, Dr. Bruce W. Paddock, feels that his continued improvement for three days is very encouraging unless there is a setback, he probably will remain in his health. Dr. Paddock said to-night that while Mr. Crane would not be off the danger list for another week, he is making progress.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Former Senator W. Murray Crane had a comfortable day and continues to improve. While he cannot definitely be said that he is on the road to recovery, his physician, Dr. Bruce W. Paddock, feels that his continued improvement for three days is very encouraging unless there is a setback, he probably will remain in his health. Dr. Paddock said to-night that while Mr. Crane would not be off the danger list for another week, he is making progress.