

Onetime Polo Star's Daughter Engaged to Wed

Miss Emilie P. Kennedy's Parents Announce Her Betrothal to Julian T. Bishop, of Bridgeport

Many Weddings in Week Special Train to Be Run for Another Marriage in Middletown, N. J., Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Kennedy, of 2203 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Emilie Posey Kennedy, to Julian Tomlinson Bishop, son of Mrs. Bishop and the late Russell T. Bishop, of Bridgeport, Conn. Miss Kennedy and Mr. Bishop have known each other for several years, and both are well known in Philadelphia and New York.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Dorothy Treat Arnold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Walworth Arnold, of Albany, N. Y., to Edward J. Goss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Goss, of New York City.

Another wedding today will be that of Miss Kathryn Louise Jackson, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Jackson, of Brooklyn, L. I., to Captain George Ernest Fahys Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Fahys, of New York City.

The marriage of Miss Marion L. Sadler, daughter of George B. Sadler, of Hartford, N. J., to the Rev. James Earl Lamb Jr., son of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. James H. Lamb, of Wayne, Pa., took place yesterday in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Enclowood, N. J.

What did Susan do? Book of Susan

Probably the greatest American novel published this season. E. P. Dutton & Co., 681 5th Ave., N. Y.

WANAMAKER BOOK SHELF

- "Steepjack" By James Gibbons Huneker; "Memoirs of Life and Literature" By W. H. Mallock; "The Dragon" By Lady Gregory; "History of the World War" By Frank H. Simonds; "The Steel Strike of 1919"; "With Greenfell on the Labrador" By Fullerton W. Waldo; "China" By Victor Murdock

Betrothed to Philadelphian

Miss Emilie Posey Kennedy Her engagement to Julian Tomlinson Bishop has been announced. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Kennedy, of Philadelphia.

Episcopal Church, Enclowood, N. J. The bride was attended by Mrs. Richard R. Ellsworth, of Enclowood, N. J., as matron of honor, and Miss Alice H. Sadler, of Brooklyn, as maid of honor.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Lamb, father of the bridegroom, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Fleming James, rector of the church. Mr. and Mrs. Lamb will live in Germantown, Pa.

Miss Frances Townsend Riker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Riker Jr., will be married to William Shippen Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Davis, Saturday afternoon at Overlook Park, in Rockland County.

A special car attached to the train leaving the Pennsylvania station at 11:16, will carry the New York guests. If the weather permits the ceremony will be performed on the lawn.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Wickersham Akin, of 50 East Seventeenth Street and Cedarhurst, Long Island, will be married to Henry Ives Cobb Jr., of this city, on Saturday, in All Souls' Church, Fourth Avenue and Twentieth Street, Mrs. Akin is a daughter of George W. Wickersham, Attorney General of the United States in the Cabinet of President Taft, and Mrs. Wickersham. Her first husband was Albert J. Akin, of New York, from whom she obtained a divorce December, 1917, in Rockland County.

Shortly afterward she went to France where she served for two years of the war in Dr. Blake's hospital in the Lorraine sector. Mr. Cobb's first wife, formerly Miss Carolyn S. Postlewhite, of Washington, obtained a divorce from him in Ada County, Idaho, a few years ago. Mr. Cobb and his four brothers served with distinction in the army and navy during the war.

Mr. and Mrs. William Trumbull, of New York, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Margaret Huntington Trumbull, to Edward Beach Jennings, son of Mrs. Frederic Beach Jennings, of 86 Park Avenue and Fairview, North Bennington, Vt. Miss

Trumbull is a sister of Mrs. Miles Standish Jr. She is taking a special course in kindergarten work at the Wheelock School, in Boston. Mr. Jennings is a grandson of the late Trevor W. Park, of North Bennington. He is a brother of Percy Hall Jennings, who married Miss Elizabeth Auchincloss; Frederic Beach Jennings, who married Miss Elizabeth Holt, and Mrs. George Small Franklin.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald L. Hutchinson have returned from Loon Lake, in the Adirondacks, and are at their country place, at Locust Valley, Long Island. Mrs. Hutchinson was Miss Vera McNair.

Trumbull is a sister of Mrs. Miles Standish Jr. She is taking a special course in kindergarten work at the Wheelock School, in Boston. Mr. Jennings is a grandson of the late Trevor W. Park, of North Bennington. He is a brother of Percy Hall Jennings, who married Miss Elizabeth Auchincloss; Frederic Beach Jennings, who married Miss Elizabeth Holt, and Mrs. George Small Franklin.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald L. Hutchinson have returned from Loon Lake, in the Adirondacks, and are at their country place, at Locust Valley, Long Island. Mrs. Hutchinson was Miss Vera McNair.

Trumbull is a sister of Mrs. Miles Standish Jr. She is taking a special course in kindergarten work at the Wheelock School, in Boston. Mr. Jennings is a grandson of the late Trevor W. Park, of North Bennington. He is a brother of Percy Hall Jennings, who married Miss Elizabeth Auchincloss; Frederic Beach Jennings, who married Miss Elizabeth Holt, and Mrs. George Small Franklin.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald L. Hutchinson have returned from Loon Lake, in the Adirondacks, and are at their country place, at Locust Valley, Long Island. Mrs. Hutchinson was Miss Vera McNair.

Trumbull is a sister of Mrs. Miles Standish Jr. She is taking a special course in kindergarten work at the Wheelock School, in Boston. Mr. Jennings is a grandson of the late Trevor W. Park, of North Bennington. He is a brother of Percy Hall Jennings, who married Miss Elizabeth Auchincloss; Frederic Beach Jennings, who married Miss Elizabeth Holt, and Mrs. George Small Franklin.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald L. Hutchinson have returned from Loon Lake, in the Adirondacks, and are at their country place, at Locust Valley, Long Island. Mrs. Hutchinson was Miss Vera McNair.

Trumbull is a sister of Mrs. Miles Standish Jr. She is taking a special course in kindergarten work at the Wheelock School, in Boston. Mr. Jennings is a grandson of the late Trevor W. Park, of North Bennington. He is a brother of Percy Hall Jennings, who married Miss Elizabeth Auchincloss; Frederic Beach Jennings, who married Miss Elizabeth Holt, and Mrs. George Small Franklin.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald L. Hutchinson have returned from Loon Lake, in the Adirondacks, and are at their country place, at Locust Valley, Long Island. Mrs. Hutchinson was Miss Vera McNair.

Trumbull is a sister of Mrs. Miles Standish Jr. She is taking a special course in kindergarten work at the Wheelock School, in Boston. Mr. Jennings is a grandson of the late Trevor W. Park, of North Bennington. He is a brother of Percy Hall Jennings, who married Miss Elizabeth Auchincloss; Frederic Beach Jennings, who married Miss Elizabeth Holt, and Mrs. George Small Franklin.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald L. Hutchinson have returned from Loon Lake, in the Adirondacks, and are at their country place, at Locust Valley, Long Island. Mrs. Hutchinson was Miss Vera McNair.

Child Spurns Parents to Stay With Foster Mother She Loves

Dabbling at a tear with her sleeve, Kathleen Delaney, thirteen years old, faced Vice-Chancellor James F. Fielder and a crowded courtroom in the Court of Chancery at Newark, yesterday, and told just why she loved her foster mother and wanted to go to her, and why she didn't love her own parents, never had and never could.

Kathleen's story was all that was needed to win a victory for the foster mother, Mrs. Lilah Delaney, of Newark. The Vice-Chancellor awarded the girl to Mrs. Delaney, who lives at 442 Orange Street, Newark, and issued an injunction restraining Mr. and Mrs. William J. O'Brien, of Moncton, New Brunswick, Canada, her real parents, from attempting to gain possession of her.

Just before announcing his decision the Vice-Chancellor asked: "Would you be happy if the court lets you stay with your foster mother?" "Would I?" Kathleen's eyes opened wide and she smiled. "My mother and father are perfect until three weeks ago. I would rather die than go to them. I would, I would. You might as well give me to a perfect stranger as to me. When the Vice-Chancellor told her that she might remain with her foster mother, Kathleen was overjoyed. She rushed to the Vice-Chancellor and caught him by the hands and then darted into an adjoining room to join Mrs. Delaney, who was stretched out on a couch. Mrs. Delaney's joy had been so great that she had fainted and had to be carried from the courtroom.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien heard the details of Kathleen's story. "Mamma, Mamma, I'm yours!" she cried. The girl had been the subject of bitter litigation in the Court of Chancery. Mrs. Delaney testified before the Vice-Chancellor that thirteen years ago she received a letter from Mrs. O'Brien telling of the expected birth of a child. Being childless, Mrs. Delaney wrote to Mrs. O'Brien, who is her husband's sister, saying that if the baby was a girl she would be glad to take it and care for it as her own. This plan appealed to Mrs. O'Brien. Mrs. Delaney declared, and some months later the infant Kathleen was born. Mrs. O'Brien promised never to reveal to the child that the Delaneys were not her real parents.

Three weeks ago trouble arose between Mrs. Delaney and her husband and he went away. She testified that her husband, aware of her devotion to little Kathleen, went to Canada and succeeded in getting Mrs. O'Brien to go to Newark and make a fight for the possession of her daughter.

All His Troubles In "Love Packages," Edstrom Told Wife

"Hell of His Life" Arrived in Disguise. Sculptor Wrote; He Earns $1,000 a Year; She Asks $1,000 a Month Justice Wagner reserved decision yesterday on the application of Mrs. Cora D. Edstrom for $1,000 a month alimony pending her suit for a separation from David Edstrom, sculptor. Mrs. Edstrom, former teacher in the Science teacher, charges abandonment, non-support and cruelty. She expressed her willingness to accept an allowance of $200 a month, and finally left the amount of temporary support to the judgment of the court.

Benjamin Reas, attorney for Mrs. Edstrom, submitted to the court copies of several letters which he said Mrs. Edstrom wrote his wife. "All hell, all trouble, that has come to me in life," said the sculptor in one of the letters, "has come wrapped up as a love package." In a letter written to his wife while she was in the Fletcher Sanatorium, in California, Edstrom said: "You just let it when you mentioned freedom. I long for it. I am jeopardizing my work, my prosperity, my success, in the money I am spending in keeping you at the sanatorium in the hope of getting an honorable freedom sometime. The grind of so-called love and enforced responsibility is hell."

Mr. Edstrom, who had a varied career, said his earning capacity is only $1,000 a year. He is alleged to have had received as much as $3,500 for a single commission for sculptures. Mr. Edstrom's attorney told Justice Wagner that the sculptor lives in the hope of some day being able to provide financially to such an extent that he can provide for his wife in the manner she desires to live.

Mr. Edstrom said he had a varied career, said his earning capacity is only $1,000 a year. He is alleged to have had received as much as $3,500 for a single commission for sculptures. Mr. Edstrom's attorney told Justice Wagner that the sculptor lives in the hope of some day being able to provide financially to such an extent that he can provide for his wife in the manner she desires to live.

Mr. Edstrom said he had a varied career, said his earning capacity is only $1,000 a year. He is alleged to have had received as much as $3,500 for a single commission for sculptures. Mr. Edstrom's attorney told Justice Wagner that the sculptor lives in the hope of some day being able to provide financially to such an extent that he can provide for his wife in the manner she desires to live.

Mr. Edstrom said he had a varied career, said his earning capacity is only $1,000 a year. He is alleged to have had received as much as $3,500 for a single commission for sculptures. Mr. Edstrom's attorney told Justice Wagner that the sculptor lives in the hope of some day being able to provide financially to such an extent that he can provide for his wife in the manner she desires to live.

Mr. Edstrom said he had a varied career, said his earning capacity is only $1,000 a year. He is alleged to have had received as much as $3,500 for a single commission for sculptures. Mr. Edstrom's attorney told Justice Wagner that the sculptor lives in the hope of some day being able to provide financially to such an extent that he can provide for his wife in the manner she desires to live.

Mr. Edstrom said he had a varied career, said his earning capacity is only $1,000 a year. He is alleged to have had received as much as $3,500 for a single commission for sculptures. Mr. Edstrom's attorney told Justice Wagner that the sculptor lives in the hope of some day being able to provide financially to such an extent that he can provide for his wife in the manner she desires to live.

Mr. Edstrom said he had a varied career, said his earning capacity is only $1,000 a year. He is alleged to have had received as much as $3,500 for a single commission for sculptures. Mr. Edstrom's attorney told Justice Wagner that the sculptor lives in the hope of some day being able to provide financially to such an extent that he can provide for his wife in the manner she desires to live.

Mr. Edstrom said he had a varied career, said his earning capacity is only $1,000 a year. He is alleged to have had received as much as $3,500 for a single commission for sculptures. Mr. Edstrom's attorney told Justice Wagner that the sculptor lives in the hope of some day being able to provide financially to such an extent that he can provide for his wife in the manner she desires to live.

Mr. Edstrom said he had a varied career, said his earning capacity is only $1,000 a year. He is alleged to have had received as much as $3,500 for a single commission for sculptures. Mr. Edstrom's attorney told Justice Wagner that the sculptor lives in the hope of some day being able to provide financially to such an extent that he can provide for his wife in the manner she desires to live.

Mr. Edstrom said he had a varied career, said his earning capacity is only $1,000 a year. He is alleged to have had received as much as $3,500 for a single commission for sculptures. Mr. Edstrom's attorney told Justice Wagner that the sculptor lives in the hope of some day being able to provide financially to such an extent that he can provide for his wife in the manner she desires to live.

Mr. Edstrom said he had a varied career, said his earning capacity is only $1,000 a year. He is alleged to have had received as much as $3,500 for a single commission for sculptures. Mr. Edstrom's attorney told Justice Wagner that the sculptor lives in the hope of some day being able to provide financially to such an extent that he can provide for his wife in the manner she desires to live.

Mr. Edstrom said he had a varied career, said his earning capacity is only $1,000 a year. He is alleged to have had received as much as $3,500 for a single commission for sculptures. Mr. Edstrom's attorney told Justice Wagner that the sculptor lives in the hope of some day being able to provide financially to such an extent that he can provide for his wife in the manner she desires to live.

Mr. Edstrom said he had a varied career, said his earning capacity is only $1,000 a year. He is alleged to have had received as much as $3,500 for a single commission for sculptures. Mr. Edstrom's attorney told Justice Wagner that the sculptor lives in the hope of some day being able to provide financially to such an extent that he can provide for his wife in the manner she desires to live.

Mr. Edstrom said he had a varied career, said his earning capacity is only $1,000 a year. He is alleged to have had received as much as $3,500 for a single commission for sculptures. Mr. Edstrom's attorney told Justice Wagner that the sculptor lives in the hope of some day being able to provide financially to such an extent that he can provide for his wife in the manner she desires to live.

Mr. Edstrom said he had a varied career, said his earning capacity is only $1,000 a year. He is alleged to have had received as much as $3,500 for a single commission for sculptures. Mr. Edstrom's attorney told Justice Wagner that the sculptor lives in the hope of some day being able to provide financially to such an extent that he can provide for his wife in the manner she desires to live.

Mrs. Troup, Pioneer Suffragist Leader And Author, Dead

Newspaper Founder's Widow Had Notable Career as Women's Rights Champion

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 14.—Mrs. Augusta Lewis Troup, widow of Alexander Troup, the founder of The New Haven Union, died at her home here today after an illness of several months. She was one of the suffrage and educational leaders of the East.

She also was a pioneer among women who do journalistic work in this country. Until a short time before her death she visited The New Haven Union's offices daily and wrote on various subjects of interest to women.

Mrs. Troup was born in New York City and most of her girlhood days were spent on Brooklyn Heights, where she lived with her guardian, the late Isaac Baldwin Gager. She was educated by private tutors and in the Brooklyn Heights Seminary. Through her own resources, after the Civil War, she contributed to many newspapers and periodicals, among them The New York Tribune.

She learned typewriting a few years later, serving as an apprentice on The New York Era and The New York World. She formed the first union of women typographical workers in this country. Her sister, Susan B. Anthony, and Elizabeth Cady Stanton had been discharged as compositors on The New York World at the demand of the men's union, which frowned upon women operators.

She is survived by two sons, Alexander Troup, editor of The New Haven Union, and Postmaster Philip Troup, of New Haven. Her husband was an intimate friend of William J. Bryan.

C. G. Lutz, Police Hero, 32 Years on Force, Dies

Former Lieutenant Rescued Woman Who Tried to End Life in Sheephead Bay

Charles G. Lutz, sixty-six years old, retired police lieutenant and honor medal man, died Sunday at his home, 2019 Avenue U, Sheephead Bay, Brooklyn.

Lieutenant Lutz had been a policeman thirty-two years when he retired October 13, 1916. On January 27, 1902, he rescued a woman who had plunged into Sheephead Bay in an effort to commit suicide. The Brooklyn Citizen, Medical and United States Life Saving Corps medal were awarded to him for this heroic act.

He was a member of the Honor Legion of the Police Department, the Police Veterans' Association, the Police Lieutenants Benevolent Association and a Mason. He is survived by a wife, a daughter and two sons. Burial will be at Fultonville, N. Y., Tuesday.

British Army Surgeon Of Heroic Record Dead

Sir William Babtie, V. C., Served in South Africa and at Gallipoli

LONDON, Sept. 14.—The death is announced of Sir William Babtie, V. C., of the British Medical Service, while spending a holiday in Belgium.

Sir William Babtie served as principal director of medical services in the Mediterranean during the operations in Gallipoli, Egypt and Salonika, in 1915-16. He was later in command of the medical services in the operations in Natal and Eastern Transvaal. He was awarded the Victoria Cross in the South African war in 1900. He was born in 1850.

Hubert W. Adams, fifty years old, a coal operator of Oklahoma, with others at the hotel, died yesterday at the Hotel Baltimore after a brief illness. The body was removed to the Campbell Funeral Church, Broadway and Sixty-third Street, where services will be conducted Thursday. He was born in Woodstock, Vt., and had a country home at Easthampton, L. I. He is survived by his wife and a daughter.

Body of Olive Thomas Will Be Sent Here

Probably Will Be Put on the Mauretania Saturday; Pick-up to Accompany It

PARIS, Sept. 14.—It is probable the body of the late Olive Thomas, American motion picture actress, who died here last week, will be shipped to New York on Saturday on board the liner Mauretania. Jack Pickford, husband of the actress, is expected to accompany it to America.

Acute nephritis set up by the absorption of bichloride of mercury by the kidneys, was given as the cause of death, as the result of an autopsy performed yesterday.

27th Association Will Meet Every Two Years

Famous Division Closes First Reunion With Carnival in Saratoga Convention Hall

SARATOGA SPRING, N. Y., Sept. 14.—Major General John E. O'Ryan, who commanded the 27th Division during its overseas campaign in the World War, was elected last night president of the division's association formed at the first reunion here. Other officers elected were: First vice-president, Colonel Edgar S. Jennings, 108th Infantry, Second Division; Second vice-president, General George A. Wingate, 52d Artillery; third vice-president, Colonel William A. Taylor, 108th Infantry.

It was decided to hold meetings every two years. The reunion was concluded with a carnival in Convention Hall.

'Lord Barrington's' Heir Dead, Searcher Departs

English Major Said He Had a Fortune for Daughter of Notorious Paroled Convict

Major J. E. Hastings-Seymour, of London, who came to New York with the alleged intention of finding Elaine Barrington, daughter of the notorious 'Lord Barrington' convict, had a fortune for her, he left this city, it was learned yesterday.

Major Hastings-Seymour had been staying at the Manhattan Hotel. He said that when a relative of the girl, who had the hotel with the intention of demanding credentials from the major, he learned that the major had left the hotel, saying that he was going out of town.

It has been learned from the St. Joseph, Mo., penitentiary, where George Frederick Barton, the bogus Lord Barrington, was confined, that he was released in 1905 for the murder of James McCann and where he was released on parole on December 24, 1914. It is said that he was received at that prison. The statement that "Lord Barrington" died seven or eight years ago was made by Major Hastings-Seymour.

'Lord Barrington' succeeded under various names, among them Barrington, Hastings-Seymour and George Frederick Barton. He married Celeste Elizabeth Miller, a Brooklyn girl, under the name of Elaine Barrington. Major Hastings-Seymour said he was seeking the girl in America.

Roy Kuehling Is Released

Grand Jury Refuses to Indict for Wife's Death

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Roy H. Kuehling, held by the police for investigation in connection with the drowning of his wife, Gertrude A. Kuehling, in the Detroit river, yesterday was released today after the grand jury had voted not to indict him. Kuehling was exonerated by a coroner's jury yesterday.

Kuehling, who was part heir to a $100,000 estate in Detroit, was attempted to escape last night from a witness station. He was detained in a witness room and had removed a panel from the door when the police discovered his attempt.

ALEXANDER DUNNETTE

ST. JOHNSURY, Vt., Sept. 14.—Alexander Dunnette, an attorney long prominent in civic and political affairs in this state, died today at his summer residence in Vermont.

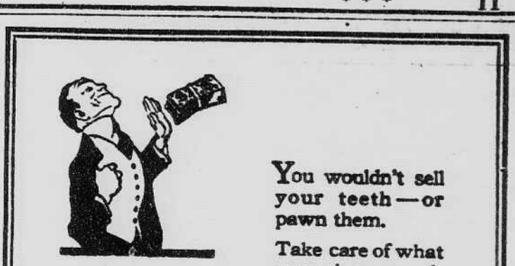

He was taken ill soon after his return from the Republican National Convention, where he succeeded the nomination of Governor Coolidge for Vice-President. He had been State Senator, Federal Attorney for the District of Vermont, chairman of the Commission to Settle the Boundary Line With New Hampshire, and president of the Vermont Bar Association.

SAKUE TAKAHASHI

TOKIO, Sept. 14.—Sakue Takahashi, former president of the bureau of legislation and professor of international law at the Imperial University here, is dead. He was born in October, 1862, and received an international law and kindred subjects have received world-wide recognition.

PATRICK CREAMER

Patrick Creamer, a retired member of the police force, died Monday at home, 75 Thirteenth Street, Brooklyn. He was born in Ireland and had been a resident of Brooklyn for half a century.

You wouldn't sell your teeth—or pawn them. Take care of what you value so much as that. Clean your teeth pleasantly, thoroughly and safely with NEWARK EVENING NEWS and The Plainfield Courier-Journal as a linotype operator. He is survived by his wife and three sons.

JOSEPH B. DUNN

Joseph B. Dunn, fifty-eight years old, an actor, who appeared with Mrs. Minnie Madden Fiske and Douglas Fairbanks, died Sunday morning after an operation. He lived at 11 Berkeley Place with his wife, who survives him. Mr. Dunn was a member of the Catholic Actors' Guild and the Actors' Fund of America.

FERDINAND ENSINGER

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., Sept. 14.—Ferdinand Ensinger, sixty-nine years old, a highway contractor in Westchester County and a resident of New Rochelle for many years, died today at the Lenox Hill Hospital, Manhattan. Mr. Ensinger built most of the roads in New Rochelle and in many other towns of the county for a quarter of a century. His father, who manufactured pickles, was known as the "pickle king" of New Rochelle. He is survived by his wife and one son, who inherit the estate.

BIRTH, Engagement, Marriage, Death and In Memoriam Notices may be telephoned to The Tribune any time up to midnight for insertion in the next day's paper. Telephone Beckman 3000.

BIRTHS

BERLER—To Mr. and Mrs. Al Berler, of 30 West Washington ave., a son, Sept. 11, 1920.

MARRIED

COFFIN—BUTTERFIELD—On Sept. 14, Funeral at 10:30 a. m. at St. Ann's Church, 100 West 11th St., New York City.

DEATHS

AKERS—Sunday, September 13, at her home, 40 West 11th St., New York City, Mrs. Akers, widow of Abraham S. Akers, and formerly a member of the Board of Directors of the American Red Cross.

BELLS—In Passaic, Conn., Sept. 14, Funeral at 10:30 a. m. at St. Ann's Church, 100 West 11th St., New York City.

BOWNE—Elderly lady, died at her home, 100 West 11th St., New York City, on Sept. 13, 1920.

BLOODGOOD—On September 13, Sarah Elizabeth Bloodgood, widow of Samuel Bloodgood, died at her home, 100 West 11th St., New York City.

DEATHS

DEATHS

METROPOLITAN TRUST COMPANY OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK 60 WALL STREET 716 FIFTH AVENUE "A little learning is a dangerous thing"—POPE Never is a little learning more dangerous than when it applies to the writing of a will—that most intricate of all legal documents. The safety of the inheritance you leave your children depends upon your will and your choice of executor. The knowledge of your lawyer will assure you a properly drawn and witnessed will and that of the trust company the competent administration of your estate. Consult our officers about the appointment of this company as your executor.

Brentano's NEW YORK 5 Ave at 27 St Booksellers to the World ALL BOOKS ALL LANGUAGES $2.00 for Health A small sum indeed for life's greatest gift—superior health! Yet that is the price of Pyle's Personal Hygiene—a book that tells you how to keep well by following physiologic laws. Good health is your greatest asset—safeguard it! $2.00 AT BOOKSTORES OR W. B. SAUNDERS CO. PHILADELPHIA

Read The Tribune's Employment Agency columns if you want to get work with most rapidity—Advt.