

Cox After Irish Votes, View of London Papers

Globe Suggests Democratic Nominee Occupy Himself With Affairs of America and Let the British Alone

His 'Meddling' Protested

Asquith Dominion Plan for Erin Creates Stir; Opinion Divided on Party Lines

LONDON, Oct. 5.—To-day's papers continue to comment on Governor Cox's Kansas City speech, in which he expressed the belief that Ireland would soon be able to gain its independence. The Globe heads its editorial "Hands Off," and says:

"No doubt it is true that the people of this country are perplexed by the Irish problem, but that is their business. It is in no way concern of Americans. We in this country do not seek to meddle in American politics and should be obliged if our good cousins would exercise a similar restraint with regard to ours. That point of view is well understood by Mr. Harding, and with great good sense he has declined to commit himself on Irish affairs. His Democratic rival, Mr. Cox, is less restrained or perhaps more eager to bid for the Irish vote.

"It is very kind of Governor Cox to take so much interest in our affairs, but we wonder whether in the course of his eminent career as a vote catcher he has ever been told with emphasis to mind his own business. He has never, so far as we are aware, shown himself to be an authority on Irish affairs, and it would surprise us to learn that he had ever given serious study to the Irish problem. There is plenty in the affairs of his own country—social conditions in New Orleans or the purity of municipal life in Philadelphia—to occupy his mind usefully and completely. It would be more satisfactory and much better altogether if he would keep his fingers in his own pie and out of ours.

Two Don't Take Cox Seriously

Among other papers, The Express and The Manchester Guardian, representing diametrically opposite points of view, point out that Cox's speech is merely designed to catch the Irish vote in America and should not be taken seriously.

Former Premier Asquith's new Irish plan, outlined in a letter to The Times today, was the chief topic of conversation in political circles and was commented upon by evening newspapers. Opinion on its merits is divided along party lines, the Liberals supporting their former leader's advocacy of dominion home rule, while the Conservatives attack it as a "step to the Sinn Féin."

Chief Points in Asquith's Plan

The chief points in Asquith's proposals are: Autonomous dominion in the fullest and widest sense; equal terms with the dominions with regard to external relations; separate army and navy; local magistrates.

Sanchez Brings Diaz a Captive To Vera Cruz

General Is Held in Hotel and an Effort Is Being Made to Induce Him to Depart From the Country

Presence Causes Unrest

Prisoner Refuses to Go Voluntarily, but He Will Not Resist Expulsion

VERA CRUZ, Oct. 4.—General Felix Diaz arrived here to-night from Tlapacoyan virtually the prisoner of General Guadalupe Sanchez, Chief of Operations in the State of Vera Cruz. It is said an effort will be made to convince General Diaz that he should leave the country, as Provisional President de la Huerta declares that public opinion will not permit him to remain as a free citizen because of distrust of his attitude toward the government. General Diaz, it is understood, will not refuse to leave the country of his own volition, but will resist expulsion.

General Diaz, who is a nephew of former President Porfirio Diaz, is in custody in the hotel occupied by General Sanchez. Generals Luis Acosta and Silvino Diaz, with thirty men of General Diaz's following, accompanied their chief to Vera Cruz, but they are not prisoners.

General Diaz was arrested by General Mireles. Apparently there was some agreement by which Diaz was to surrender, for when General Mireles, accompanied by Colonel Vasquez Milano, presented himself at the Hacienda Jobo, where Diaz was staying, he was received without surprise. General Mireles informed Diaz that General Sanchez desired him to go to Vera Cruz to continue the negotiations, as it was impossible to permit Diaz to stay longer in his hacienda.

Diaz replied that he could not go to Vera Cruz because of pending business transactions. He was told General Mireles had an order for his arrest, the government having decided it could not allow him to remain in the zone, as his presence encouraged the leaders of the Diaz troops to refuse to obey the orders of the government, which already pays the salaries of these troops, but finds it impossible to organize them into a government force because of the attitude of their leaders. Peace in the region could not be guaranteed with Diaz there, General Mireles added.

General Diaz said he would not offer

Mexican Peacemaker Finds Task Too Great; Quits U. S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Unable to accomplish his mission to the United States, that of settling all differences between this country and Mexico, Fernando Iglesias Calderon, Mexican high commissioner to Washington, has resigned and plans to return to Mexico City within a week. He will be accompanied by the entire mission staff of experts who came here with him.

Calderon has been elected to the Mexican Senate and will take his seat in that body immediately.

Pittsburgh Suspect No Factor in Bomb Plot

Florian Zelenko, the suspect arrested in Pittsburgh Sunday night with dynamite in his possession, was eliminated as a factor in the investigation of the Wall Street bomb disaster last night by Chief William J. Flynn of the United States Secret Service. He will not be brought to this city for questioning.

Chief Flynn said the examination to which the man has been subjected by operatives in Pittsburgh convinced him he was in no way connected with the horror which cost the lives of thirty-seven persons on September 16. His activities prior to the time he left his room at 470 Cleveland Avenue, Brooklyn, more than two weeks ago, are still the subject of inquiry, however.

Zelenko is still a prisoner in Pittsburgh. Authorities there said it would take some days to check his movements.

Advices from Cleveland say Zelenko is wanted there for the alleged theft of dynamite from a construction firm on September 21.

Although Chief Flynn no longer is concerned with the suspect in Pittsburgh, he said the department was conducting a vigorous investigation along other lines that may bring results soon.

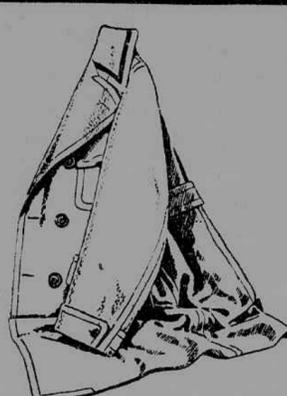

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 5.—A formal complaint charging violation of the Federal criminal code by unlawfully transporting, carrying and conveying an explosive in interstate travel, was made to-day against Florian Zelenko, arrested Sunday night with a quantity of dynamite in his suit case.

The complaint was made by an agent of the Department of Justice. Other department agents confirmed that part of Zelenko's story relative to the manner in which he obtained the explosive. They said they had been informed by the Island Creek Coal Company, of Whitman, W. Va., that Zelenko had been employed there as a miner and that he had been furnished with dynamite for use in his work.

Like an Old Sweet Song

JENNY LIND was born one hundred years ago today. She came to New York seventy years ago, and as much as $625 was paid for a seat in Castle Garden—now the Aquarium—in Battery Park to hear her sing . . . She died thirty-three years ago, yet the memory of her wonderful voice and her sweet womanliness is enshrined deep in the hearts of Americans.

"For Song has a home in the hearts of the Free!"

But one cannot think of Jenny Lind without thinking, also, of the piano to whose accompaniment she sang—the piano she loved so well that she had her autograph engraved on it, and upon which, at most of her concerts, she played her own accompaniment—*

Jenny Lind's own Chickering Piano will be shown in the Wanamaker Auditorium This Afternoon at 2 and at 3 P. M.

Hazel Lee, as Jenny Lind, in mid-nineteenth century costume, will sing songs that Jenny Lind sang seventy years ago, accompanying herself on the same CHICKERING piano used by Jenny Lind. Afterwards, you will be shown the newest CHICKERING—with the AMPICO—which occupies a similarly proud position in the pianoforte field of today to that which Jenny Lind occupied in the vocal field at the height of her power. First Gallery, New Building

Be proud, America! . . . The CHICKERING is an all-the-way-through American piano. It is the oldest of all pianos made in America today . . . Its founder—Jonas Chickering—is the only builder of pianos whose bust is in the National Hall of Fame at Washington.
