German Socialists Refuse To Resist Peace Treaty

Generals' Proposal for Conflict Rejected; Russian Soviet Planned War on France HALLE, Germany, Oct. 13.—Proposals have been made to the Independent Socialists by some German generals that enforcement of the peace treaty be resisted, but the party leaders refused the offer, Herr Crispian, leader of the party's right wing, declared in a speech at the conference today in opposition to a union with Moscow.

The Russian Soviet government intended to make war on France if the Polish campaign had been successful, he said, and England also would have been attacked. The socialists were counting on the aid of the German communists.

The independent socialists were not yet ready for a conflict with England or France, he continued, but desired to foster German-Soviet relations, and strong proletarian organizations both in England and France before undertaking to overthrow the capitalist class in those countries.

The Bolsheviks are reported to be co-operating with the Lithuanians.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—A Rovno dispatch to The Times says that the League of Nations Commission left Wednesday morning for Swatki in connection with the Vilna episode. It is expected to advise the appointment of a control to prevent communication between General Zeligowski's division, occupying the Vilna, and Warsaw, in order to force the capitulation of the outlaw troops.

The Lithuanian delegation in London has received an official dispatch from Rovno to the effect that France, the Polish Foreign Minister, Sapieha, the Polish Foreign Minister, has sent a note to Lithuania agreeing to the Poles ceasing hostilities on their present line and proposing to resume peace negotiations at Orany.

Lithuania, the dispatch adds, agrees to reopen the negotiations, but demands that the Polish troops immediately evacuate Vilna and that the Polish government declare its attitude toward the so-called government of General Zeligowski.

Testimony of Wife No. 1 Gives No. 2 Annulment Special Dispatch to The Tribune MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., Oct. 13.—After the testimony of Mrs. Jeannette Mayone, known as wife No. 1, was submitted Supreme Court Justice J. Addison Young, at White Plains, today granted a decree of annulment of the marriage of Mrs. Alice K. J. Mayone, known as wife No. 2, of Pelham, from Mrs. Jeannette Mayone, a wealthy contractor. During the war he was head of a munitions plant at a $10,000-a-month salary.

Mrs. Jeannette Mayone was brought to court by Harry P. Anderson, representing Mrs. Mayone No. 2, to testify in the latter's behalf. This is the first time in the history of Westchester County that one wife has assisted another in gaining a judgment of annulment.

The first wife said she married Mayone in Jersey City on April 23, 1908. The ceremony was performed by Mayor Wiltippen. She said her husband gave her the name of Mayone the next day. He told her his right name was Mayone. She said she is now living with Mayone on Fifth Avenue, Edgewater, N. J. The plaintiff in the action said she was married to the defendant husband in October, 1919, and that last March wife No. 1 unexpectedly appeared at her home in Pelham and told her Mayone was her lawful husband. Mayone did not appear in court and was not represented by an attorney.

Bar Declares Swann Unfit To Be Judge

"Nor has the management of the office of District Attorney during the past five years been satisfactory.

"The office of District Attorney is very inefficient in the administration of criminal justice and constantly calls upon its occupant to exercise judicial functions. He is a state officer and represents, as the Court of Appeals has declared, the majesty of the law.

It is a part of his duty to be scrupulously impartial and to respect the constitutional rights of accused persons, to protect the innocent as well as to punish the guilty and not to seek victims through the aid of passion, sympathy or resentment.

Attorney who lays aside the impartiality and decorum that should characterize his official action ceases properly to represent the public interest and to uphold the due administration of the law.

Terrorizing Charged "Judge Swann has not administered his duty in conformity with long-established standards, but, on the contrary, has resorted to the practice of terrorizing defendants in criminal cases and of seeking to obtain incriminating evidence from them by oppressive methods.

"Moreover, he has departed from the proper and orderly methods of administering criminal justice by frequently making public for sensational purposes evidence procured by him, professedly to be submitted to the grand jury. Although the statutes make him the legal adviser of the grand jury, one grand jury still in session has refused to accept his counsel and applied to the Governor for a substitute.

"Charges were preferred against Judge Swann as District Attorney in 1917 and referred by the Governor to ex-Judge Ingraham as commissioner for investigation. The findings of fact then made showed the administration of the office to have been blameworthy and properly to have invited severe criticism, although Judge Ingraham certified in his report, filed in August, 1917, that notwithstanding his finding of fact and criticism the public interest would justify the Governor in the exercise of his discretion in refraining from removing District Attorney Swann. Nevertheless, the findings of fact would have fully supported such removal."

Swann Charges Conspiracy When Judge Swann was told of the Judiciary Committee's action he issued a statement bristling with inaccuracies in which he charged the committee and its members generally with plots and counter plots to ruin him in public life. He said he felt complimented at their action, and added in part:

"The Judiciary Committee of the New York County Lawyers' Association last week unanimously approved me as a candidate for justice of the Supreme Court. That committee is composed of red-blooded, independent thinking American lawyers.

"I am just informed that the Judiciary Committee of the City Bar Association has paid me the special compliment of disapproving of my candidacy. I am pleased that they disapprove of me personally and as a candidate, but I regret they have gone to such lengths in their abusive statement. If they had not disapproved me I would not feel satisfied with my past official record.

Fifty Republicans Storm Police Barracks in Cork With Firearms and Bombs; Battle Rages for an Hour Constable Is Wounded

Several Hurt in Londonderry as Rival Factions Clash; New Raid in Drumcondra

CORK, Oct. 13.—A hot battle was waged early this morning at Dunmanway, County Cork, when fifty armed Republicans made a determined attack on the police barracks, which were defended by twenty-eight Black and Tans and three members of the police force. The attacking party used firearms and bombs. The fight continued an hour, at the end of which time the assaults of the barracks had been driven off.

One of the defending constables was wounded. The casualties of the attacking force, if any, are not known. Reinforcements were rushed up for the police as the result of a wireless call, but the attacking party had already left when the fresh contingent arrived.

Lord Robert Cecil Joins In Call for Irish Inquiry

Acts With Grey and Morley in Demand for Impartial Investigation of Cause of Turmoil LONDON, Oct. 13.—Denunciation of the government's Irish policy by the Liberal forces of the country, represented by the recent statements of Viscount Grey, former Premier Asquith and Viscount Morley, seems likely to give impetus to a formidable movement for a letter to the press calling for an investigation by a constitutional tribunal as to whether the government is responsible for the reprisals.

BELFAST, Oct. 13.—Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, in a speech in this city today, said: "We won't tolerate an independent Ireland, but Ireland being independent. The real bar to peace in Ireland is the campaign of deliberate and callous murder, arson and intimidation. No civilized government could tolerate that. It makes no difference what costs in men, money or time, the government will go forward unflinchingly to treat criminals like the criminals they are. We are breaking the terror."

Sir Hamar believed that the government would succeed in ending the campaign of murder, and then the way would open and Ireland would be handed over to the Irish.

Possession of Three Cities Allocated in Peace Treaty Is Other Objective WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Turkish armies operating toward Olti, Bardus and Karakurt have started a drive on Kars after crossing into Armenian territory in force, according to advices reaching the State Department today through official channels. They have occupied Sari Kamish, in Armenia, the first important railway point.

The first object of the movement was said to be possession of Kars, Batoum and Ardahan, which were allocated to Turkey under the Brest-Litovsk Treaty. The second objective is to prepare for a possible junction with Bolshevik supplies and troops should the latter start an expedition from the north.

All Armenians of military age have been called to the colors and the government has taken over the railways.

Broker and Wife Taken In $5,000 Drug Seizure

Narcotic Was Stored in Deposit Vault and Was Being Withdrawn, Say Police

Rufus Clarke, twenty-five years old, of 250 East Eighty-fifth Street, said to be a broker, with offices in lower Broadway, and his wife, May Clarke, were arrested yesterday, charged with having narcotics in their possession.

According to Lieutenant Henry Scherb, head of the narcotic squad, Clarke admitted that he had stored morphine in the safety deposit vaults in the Garfield Trust Company and the Lincoln Trust Company, but that it had been purchased, according to Clarke, for his wife. According to the broker, said that his wife had been cured of the drug habit and they were preparing to destroy the stock of morphine yesterday.

Scherb says the morphine confiscated by his men was being $5,000 if sold for medicinal use, and if peddled illegally it could be sold for $50,000.

Robbed of $7,000 in Hotel

BALTIMORE, Oct. 13.—Confronted by armed men who gagged and bound him with a sashweight rope, Harry Kern, thirty years old, of 1208 Vyas Avenue, New York City, was robbed of $7,000 in this city to-night, according to a report he made to Police Headquarters.

Kern was lying on his bed when the door opened and two men armed with pistols entered. Kern declared they seized him and threw him to the floor, kicked him on the head and then bound and gagged him. A third man then entered and a systematic search of the room was made.

U. S. Will Keep Her Hands Off Allied Dispute

Attitude of the Government Is to Discourage Further Rupture Between Britain and France Over Germany Officials Await Outcome

It was recalled today that France and England were near a break over the Russian situation, but the impression has been created that the failure of Great Britain to deal with the Soviet authorities has tended somewhat to remove this rift between the French and British.

Nowhere is doubt expressed that Germany would welcome an agreement with Great Britain along commercial lines. Official intelligence reaching Washington from the enemy nation discloses that the German authorities are striving in every way possible to rehabilitate the commerce of that nation.

While officially the United States government is endeavoring to maintain a neutral attitude in the negotiations now under way between Paris and London with reference to future relations with Germany, officials here have been watching with intense interest the various moves that are being made by the leaders in each nation on the question of German reparations.

While it has been definitely decided by the Wilson Administration that no American representative or observer will be present at the contemplated financial conference between the powers at Geneva, there nevertheless is a desire on the part of this government to discourage any further rupture between the Allies.

Justice in Claims of Both

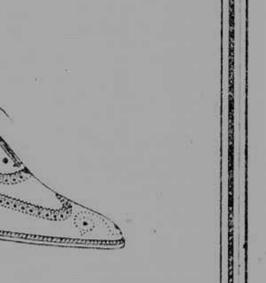

It is realized here that there is justice in the claims of both France and Great Britain as to the commercial future of all western European nations, but it likewise is realized that the United States has trade troubles of her own to compose. The feeling here is that President Wilson's "watchful waiting" policy shall be in order until some amicable agreement has been reached between the French and British authorities.

Information has reached this government that France desires not only to compel Germany to carry out the terms of the peace treaty with regard to reparations and indemnities, but she also expects that obligations entered into before the war with Russia shall be met. On the other hand, the desire of Great Britain to protect herself commercially is well understood here, and in some circles is deemed entirely justified. Doubt, however, is entertained officially that Great Britain's hope of trade with Russia will ever materialize. This doubt, in fact, is so pronounced that the report that a
