New Yorker, Threatened With Jail in Chicago Inquiry, Gives Agent's Name on Promise of Secrecy

Fears Personal Violence Declares He Never Had to Pay Tribute Here Except to Sidewalk Inspectors

Special Dispatch to The Tribune CHICAGO, May 14.—Faced with a prison sentence for contempt unless he revealed the name of the business agent to whom he paid $54,850 in graft money in connection with the construction of theaters in Chicago, George A. Thomas, of New York, general manager of the Longacre Engineering and Construction Company, late today gave in and told the man's identity to the Dailey committee.

Troops Patrol Morelia; 20 Riot Victims Buried

MEXICO CITY, May 14.—Peace was restored in Morelia, capital of Michoacan, today, and the score of victims of Thursday's fighting between the Catholics and police and radicals were buried without untoward incidents, according to advices reaching here. Federal troops, however, continue to patrol the city, and the utmost precautions have been taken to prevent new outbreaks.

Defense Scores in Saratoga Gambling Case

Prosecutor Fails to Establish Identity of Voice in Phone Call BALLSTON SPA, N. Y., May 14.—Wynn S. Bascom, Deputy Attorney General, attempted unsuccessfully today in the trial of District Attorney Charles B. Andrus, who is charged with failure to suppress gambling at Saratoga in 1919, to show that Andrus telephoned Jules Formel, who is serving a prison term for gambling, while a raid was in progress at Formel's gambling house. Bascom failed when George Mason, a detective, who was testifying, said he could not be sure whose voice he represented on the telephone.

Had to Find Right People

Senator Dailey suggested that Mr. Thomas tell the story in his own way. Mr. Thomas said: I was a newcomer in Chicago at the time I took the contract, and I was not much wiser before I found that the only way I could erect a building in Chicago was to pay more money and get in touch with the right people.

Attell Case Adjournd

When the case of Abe Attell, former featherweight champion, now involved in the baseball gambling scandal, was called yesterday in the West Side Court, the case was taken by Magistrate Ten Eyck, until May 20, pending the arrival of extradition papers from Chicago. Bail of $1,000 was continued.

Mob Beats Negro Detective Who Hunts Liquor in Saloon

Detective Oliver S. Williams, a negro, attached to the staff of Inspector Cornelius F. Cahalane, was badly beaten late yesterday afternoon by a crowd that cornered him in a grocery store at 118th Street and Eighth Avenue. The attack followed his arrest of Michael Donovan, a bartender, in a saloon at 2452 Eighth Avenue.

Chronic Criminals Must Report to Parole Board

Released Convicts Can Be Recalled to Prison by State Commission OSSINING, May 14.—The chronic and professional criminals in Sing Sing were disappointed when informed today that Governor Miller has just signed the bill which will compel them, like first offenders, to be released "on parole." This means that the old-timers will be watched over as carefully by the State Board of Parole in the future as the first-termers have been in the past.

Police Arrest 25 and Seize Liquor in Lunch Basket

Ten women and fifteen men were arrested early yesterday morning on the top floor of a house at 111 West Forty-ninth Street, where the police said an anniversary was being celebrated. Detectives Levine and Sheehan, who interrupted the party, reported they found three bottles of liquor in a lunch basket under a table. The women became hysterical, while the men declared they had not observed the lunch basket until their attention was called to it by the liquor sleuths. Nevertheless the revelers were taken to the West Forty-seventh Street station and charged with disorderly conduct.
