

CHARLES H. SABIN, BALLPLAYER. The President of the Guaranty Trust Company, one of the four pitchers for the New York Bond Club against the Bond Club of Chicago a week ago Friday, the occasion being the annual field day of the Wall Street men held at the Sleepy Hollow Country Club. Despite the heroic work of the golfing banker — he struck out two Chicago batsmen and lined out a clean single—New York managed to lose 17 to 8. Mr. Sabin is pictured here biting his tongue in chagrin at the poor support he received.

NO, HE'S NOT ABOUT TO COMMIT SUICIDE by hurling himself into the Central Park lake. He's a champion fly-caster, one A. J. Marsh, competing in the recent Anglers' Club casting tourney in Central Park and all set for a record throw with a quarter ounce bait. Mr. Marsh holds the casting record for this weight bait at 184 feet. How far could you hurl it?

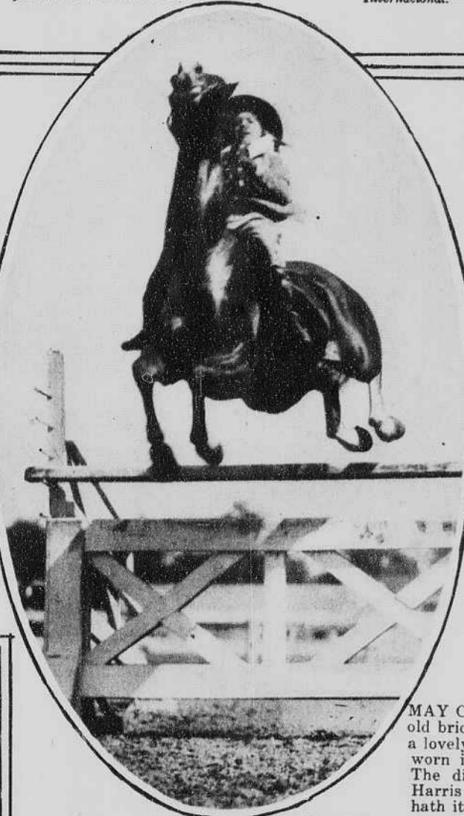

WHAT ARE THEY QUARRYING? Looks like granite, doesn't it, or perhaps marble? Or maybe it's a drilling scene down under the Hudson for the new vehicular tunnel. Since you'd never guess, we'll tell you. Drilling with compressed air 700 feet below ground preparatory to blasting a pinch of salt in one of Louisiana's most profitable salt cellars.

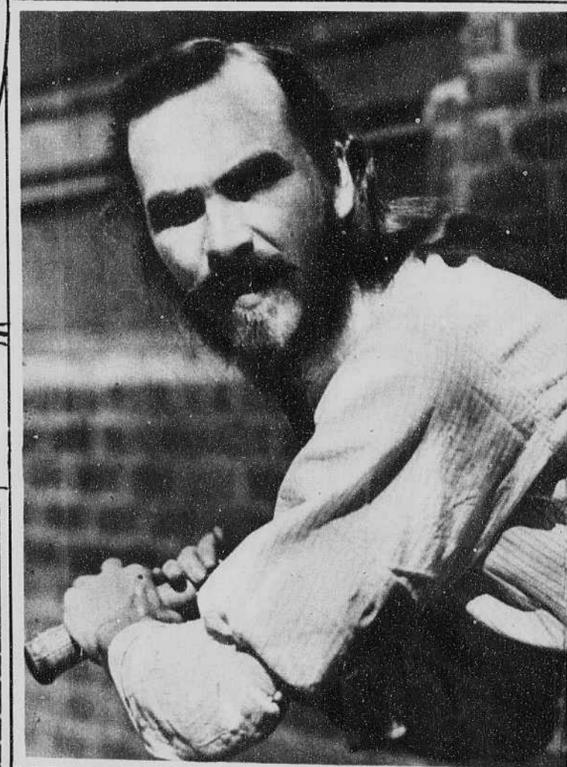

CANINE CUSTODIAN ON THE OLYMPIC. Talk about your odd jobs! Here's a queer one—kennel keeper for aristocratic purps traveling first-class across the Atlantic. All this steward has to do is play with these lovable little pets of the Olympic's fashionable passenger list all the way over, get their meals and keep them fit and happy.

THE "MONK" DISPLACES THE "PEKE." Caught by the camera at the spring meeting of the United Hunts Racing Association at Belmont Park Terminal a week ago yesterday when the local steeplechasing season was inaugurated—among the socially prominent, Mrs. J. Kernan and Fifi, her pet monkey. You may add your own comment.

MAY COLLINS, of the movies, the reported seventeen-year-old bride-to-be of Charlie Chaplin. May is pictured here in a lovely Della Robbia blue creation trimmed with chinchilla, worn in her latest Goldwyn picture, "All's Fair in Love." The divorce decree that separated Charlie from Mildred Harris will not become final until next January, so rumor hath it the wedding date is still somewhat in the future.

HARRIET MITCHELL, the daring daughter of Brigadier General Mitchell, assistant chief of your Uncle Sam's Air Service, taking a hurdle on Home Again, her entry in the recent National Capital Horse Show in Washington, where the charming youngster's wonderful riding received much applause. Below at the right, her proud daddy looks on, while Brigadier General Sawyer, the President's personal physician, presents her with a trophy. I. F. S.

Left—STAR FIRST SACKER of the fast House of David nine, popularly known as "Cookie" Hanneford, who had an offer from the Yanks last year. "Cookie's" brother, Horace, is also a member of this picturesque crew of long haired, be-whiskered ballplayers.

Left—CANNIBALISTIC "LIZZIE" is remonstratingly dragged to solitary confinement as a result of the brutal way she gobbled up half a dozen young alligators when she awoke from her long winter fast with an oversize appetite the other day in the Cincinnati Zoo. Lizzie is 132 years old and should have known better. The huge alligator is pictured here at one end of a heavy hawser en route to more exclusive quarters. U. & U.
