

Red Cross and Army Rush Aid To Coloradans

$50,000 Fund Is Placed at Disposal of Stricken People and Officials Are Now on Way to Scene

WASHINGTON, June 4.—All the resources of the American Red Cross and the army were placed at the disposal of the flood victims in Colorado today immediately after word of the disaster was received here by W. Frank Parsons, vice-chairman of the national headquarters, who is in charge of the department of disaster relief.

James L. Fieser, manager of the southwestern division of the Red Cross, and his staff at St. Louis were ordered to go immediately to the stricken territory and take direct charge of all relief work there. Division Manager Fieser has authority from the national headquarters to place at the disposal of the sufferers all the facilities of the numerous local chapters of the Red Cross in Colorado and neighboring States.

The division manager was authorized to draw upon the National Disaster Relief Fund for $50,000. The fund will be to be forthcoming from national headquarters, it was officially announced.

At the same time cooperate in the relief work. Major Joseph Dickman, commander of the 8th Army Corps at San Antonio, Tex., in which Colorado is included, to cooperate with the Red Cross officials in the relief work. General Dickman has authority to dispatch troops, rations, sanitary engineers and medical officers to assist in the relief work if the Red Cross supplies prove inadequate.

We have had only meager information from the stricken territory," Vice-Chairman Parsons said, "but instructions have been issued to devote the entire emergency fund to the relief of the flood sufferers. Division Manager Fieser and staff, of St. Louis, are now en route to Pueblo with instructions to take direct charge of the relief work and all the local chapters in Colorado and neighboring States will assist in the work.

All the local chapters of the Red Cross are alerted to have their headquarters open to receive the instructions from the national Red Cross to go immediately to the relief of any stricken territory, and it is expected that the chapters of Colorado are already on the job.

Stores in Every State

In every state the Red Cross maintains stores of emergency food and other supplies, which can immediately be utilized in relieving the distress. The stores also have chapters of the Red Cross units of doctors and nurses, with adequate stores of medicines and supplies to meet any emergency. The Colorado flood and the other disasters have increased the capacity of the local chapters, and national headquarters will see that additional relief workers and supplies are dispatched to the scene.

Major General P. C. Harris, adjutant general of the army, said that the War Department has complete authority to assist the Red Cross in the work of relieving the flood sufferers.

Army Has No Report

The War Department has no report as yet, but some aid might have been required had the situation been as serious as it is now. "There are standard orders to every corps commander to cooperate with the Red Cross in any disaster," General Harris said. "The War Department has complete authority to assist the Red Cross in the work of relieving the flood sufferers."

Meyer Says City Government Is At Lowest Level in 20 Years

Will Determine Why World's Richest Municipality Can't Pay Its Way, and Spare None Guilty of Waste, Declares Joint Committee Head

Senator Schuyler M. Meyer, chairman of the joint legislative committee investigating the Hyman administration, in an official statement in The Metropolitan, a political publication, says that if only a portion of the charges lodged with his committee are true, the Hyman administration has sunk to the lowest level in twenty years.

"We do not propose to tolerate obstruction to our work, and we shall be merciless toward any offenders against the laws," says Senator Meyer. His statement follows:

"The joint legislative committee appointed to investigate the city government, of which I am chairman, are not approaching their arduous task in a spirit of hostility to the city, its governors or its interests. We intend to try to help the city and especially to determine why it is that the richest city in the world is unable to pay its way. If we find evidence of dishonesty in office or waste of public funds, we shall endeavor to expose the culprits, but the object of the committee is much more than a hunt for graft and grafters.

"Not Satisfactory" Too Mild

"I think that sensible men of all parties will admit that the city government, irrespective of personalities, is not satisfactory. In fact the phrase 'not satisfactory' is too mild to describe the situation adequately. The city government, as it is formed and conducted, is extravagant and inefficient. Nobody seems to know why this should be so, but most competent critics agree that it is. We are going to make an effort to find out why it is so and the factors which bring it about. It may be that personalities of officials are the dominant factor. In my opinion, I suppose, you could not hope for a satisfactory government if you elected an inefficient administration.

On the other hand, it may be that the structure of the government is so distorted and clumsy that generally efficient government is next to impossible. Or, what is more likely, it may be that the situation is a product of both factors. I mean that the organization of the city government is inefficient or overtopping and that the extravagance resulting is made more pronounced by the individual inefficiency of members of the administration or perhaps by the inefficiency of the general policy of the administration.

Not Seeking to Persecute

"It is an involved subject, especially if you wish to treat it fairly, as we do. And in this connection I should like to emphasize the point that the committee intend to be absolutely fair. We do not propose to tolerate obstruction of our work, and we shall be merciless toward any offenders against the laws and the principles of civic honor. But we are working for the good of the city and not for the persecution of any man or group of men. The committee is typically representative of the city. Of its total members nine are residents of the city.

"The Legislature was moved to authorize the committee's appointment because of the reports of irregularities in certain municipal departments, because of the alleged breakdown of the Police Department last winter, and because of the tremendous increase in the city administration made in the city budget. Personally, I regard the financial phase of our investigation as fundamentally the most important. I do not intend to minimize the gravity of the other causes which combined to bring about this investigation. If only a portion of the charges made are true, the city government has sunk to the lowest level in twenty years. But dishonesty or inefficiency are only contributing causes to the most serious shortcoming in the city's affairs, the steadily mounting tax rate."

Bankers Face Building Loan Investigation

Denial of Gouging Charge by Several Expected to Result in Summons to Tell Facts at Inquiry

There is a possibility that the heads of some of the largest savings banks, insurance companies and other financial institutions in the state will be examined on the witness stand before the Lockwood committee this week in connection with the sensational disclosures respecting exorbitant demands made upon builders who sought loans for house building operations.

The subpoenaing of several of these financial leaders to appear before the committee is expected to result from the denials issued by some of them of the testimony of witnesses last Thursday. It was declared that many of the largest savings banks and insurance companies in the city had compelled borrowers to take "cat and dog" lots, property of dubious value, and Liberty and Victory bonds at par as part of loans, in addition to forcing the borrowers to give back a substantial portion of the loan as a bonus.

Edward D. Duffield, vice-president and general manager for the Prudential Life Insurance Company, denied that his company had ever made the purchases of property by the borrower as a condition of loans by his company, as was testified before the Lockwood committee by Sidney W. Hughes, of Hughes & Hammond, mortgage loan brokers.

Hughes, on the other hand, said in his testimony repeatedly that "he was not able to interest the insurance company in making the loan" unless the purchase of company property was included in the deal. Hughes further replied to direct questions by Samuel Untermyer, chief counsel to the Lockwood committee, that he had never sought out institutions for the loans which he knew wanted to unload undesirable properties.

It was further learned that, coming in the nature of a reply to these denials, the committee is being deluged with the stories of builders from all over the city who tell of being held up at every point by exacting mortgage loan brokers and others when they sought loans for building purposes.

It is known that the committee has the loan transactions of about 483 firms, in which, it was declared, more than 1,000 instances of so-called extortion are included.

The conditions imposed by the financial people on the builders, it was testified, not only sent the cost of building sky high, but practically paralyzed the industry. Members of the committee assert it was the prime reason for the housing shortage.

Pending the resumption of this phase of the inquiry on Tuesday morning in City Hall, the problem of builders from all over the city is being considered. It is understood that conferences are to be held between the representatives of the mortgage firms and members of the Lockwood committee and that a conclusion will be reached in the near future.

American Arms Entered War in October, 1917

War Department Corrects Erroneous Belief That U. S. Was Not Engaged Until 1918

WASHINGTON, June 4.—American forces first entered the actual battle line the night of October 21, 1917, and the first American battle casualties occurred November 3, 1917, the War Department disclosed today in a statement authorized by Secretary of War Weeks, correcting an erroneous impression that American arms were not effective against the enemy until 1918.

According to War Department records of the World War, the first Americans killed in battle were Corporal James B. Gresham, of Evansville, Ind.; Private Thomas F. Enright, of Pittsburgh, Pa.; and Private Merle D. Hay, of Glidden, Iowa, all of Company 181, Infantry of the 1st Division, who lost their lives November 3, 1917.

The War Department records show that the troops of the 1st Division entered the line in the Sommeville sector in Lorraine the night of October 21, 1917.

Father Advises Mrs. Stillman To Fight to End

Urges Daughter to Make No Settlement of Divorce Action With Banker; Confers With Counsel

James Brown Potter, father of Mrs. Anne Urquhart Stillman, who arrived here last Wednesday from Paris, has urged his daughter to make no settlement with James A. Stillman and has expressed himself as being in favor of her fighting to the last ditch the divorce action brought by the former president of the National City Bank.

Mr. Potter appeared actively in his daughter's behalf yesterday when he conferred with John F. Brennan, of Yonkers, new chief counsel for Mrs. Stillman, and with John F. Mack, of Poughkeepsie, guardian ad litem for Guy Stillman, the thirty-month-old child whose legitimacy is questioned by Mr. Stillman. After discussing legal phases of the case, he said he believed Mrs. Stillman would be victorious. He declared no settlement should be considered.

"I am squarely behind my daughter and will see this matter through," Mr. Potter is said to have told the lawyer.

The father of Mrs. Stillman visited Mr. Brennan at Yonkers and accompanied him to Tarrytown, where the order substituting Mr. Brennan's firm for the New York firm of Cadwalader, Wickersham & Taft as lawyers of record was signed by Supreme Court Justice Morschauser. The order will be filed in Putnam County tomorrow.

Mr. Potter later called on Mr. Mack at Arlington and returned last night to his country place at Tuxedo.

Mr. Potter is prepared, it is said, to give his daughter both moral and legal support. According to a reliable source, he will make an affidavit setting forth that he was living at the St. Regis Hotel in New York City at the time of the birth of Guy Stillman and that then Mr. Stillman raised no question concerning the legitimacy of the child. It is also possible that Mr. Potter will take the witness stand to testify that the Stillmans lived in marital relations before and after the birth of Guy.

Withdrawal of Cadwalader, Wickersham & Taft and the substitution of Mr. Brennan for John B. Stanchfield, of this city, in the capacity of chief counsel, caused speculation yesterday

Stillman's Mother Leads Quiet Life at Home Here

Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Rumrill Stillman, mother of James A. Stillman, who is suing his wife, Anne Urquhart Potter Stillman, for divorce, has been living for the last two months at 102 East Thirty-fifth Street. Miss Tucker, a lifelong friend, and a housekeeper are the other members of the household.

Besides the quiet, narrow house in Thirty-fifth Street Mrs. Stillman has a country home in Cornwall. She and her husband, John, were married in 1880. Mrs. Stillman has five children, James Alexander, Isabel (now Mrs. Percy Rockefeller), Charles Chauncey, Ernest and Elsie, who is Mrs. William G. Rockefeller. It is said that Mrs. Stillman sees little of her children and has never met Anne Urquhart Stillman. The older Mrs. Stillman leads a quiet life and is the object of devoted attention from those nearest her.

For many years Mrs. Stillman and Miss Tucker lived in Paris and traveled in all parts of the world except America. She returned to the United States in 1919, more than a year after the death of her husband, James Stillman, senior.

According to the housekeeper, Mrs. Stillman and Miss Tucker motored to the country yesterday morning.

City Probers Hint Graft in $15,000 Deal

Committee Returned After Examining Him on May 24

The order is reportable Monday morning. This will disclose the purposes of the impounding of the books and documents in question. Goldberg is an affidavit sworn to by the city bearing upon city affairs of the investigation of the city officials and departments. The answer of the committee promises to be startling.

That the committee intended to go hot-foot after the Queens County contracts was evident from the number of individual subpoenas specifying certain contracts. One subpoena calls for the production of all papers and documents relating to the contracts let to the Anoroc Construction and Engineering Company, of which John Connolly is a brother of Borough President Connolly, is said to be largely owned by the city.

Other subpoenas call for papers and documents relating to:

- The grading of Park Lane, by Frank Tinker.
- The contracts let to the Holding Realty Company.
- The Linden Street sewer contract let to the O'Rourke Construction Company.
- The Corona and Woodway sewer contracts let to Angelo Paine.

Many Awards To Be Probed

The Genesee Street sewer contract let to the Joseph Rotti Company.- All contracts let to Sigretti & O'Rourke.
- The filling in of private property in Abree Park.
- The Laurel Hill sewer contract let to Frank L. Paine.
- The Genesee Street sewer contract let to James Paine.
- The Flushing Avenue sewer contract let to Angelo Paine.

There was also served on the Comptroller a subpoena calling for the production of all papers in the purchase by the city of 200 White automobile trucks by the Street Cleaning Department. The Comptroller some time ago issued a statement announcing that he had held up the final payments on these trucks on the ground that the price at which they were sold to the city was excessive. Upward of $1,500,000 is involved in the purchase of these trucks, which was approved by Mayor Hyman's Board of Purchase and Supply.

Wallis Would Bar Unfit Aliens From Leaving Home Ports

Advocates Establishment of Inspection Stations in European Cities to Prevent Sailing of Undesirables

Frederick A. Wallis, Commissioner of Immigration, told the Teachers' International Organization at the Hotel Pennsylvania yesterday that the greatest necessity in immigration service today was the examination of immigrants in the European ports before they were permitted to sail for this country. He said this country should station inspectors at every port, and so spare the anguish to the unfit and undesirable who reach Ellis Island, only to be turned back, penniless, to the land from which they sought escape.

"I remember a ship which sailed recently with 102 deportees," he said. "I can hear their wailing and shrieking now. It took six doctors to keep them from throwing themselves overboard."

The Commissioner also spoke of the menace to immigration of deserting seamen from foreign ships. In less than ninety days 2,000 seamen have deserted their posts, he said. Another ship's crew, made up of Arabs, Turks and Armenians, lost seventy-three of its number while here, all of whom probably would have been refused admission if subjected to the immigration tests. Desertion has become so heavy that immigration inspectors recently have begun to examine the seamen between quarantine and the piers in Manhattan. A similar menace exists in stowaways, who are coming in greater numbers than ever before, one ship recently holding fifty-four, mostly convicts and other undesirables.

Lieutenant Iwanicki, Health Commissioner, praised the work of the new administration at Ellis Island, and then told the school teachers that next to the Department of Health they were the most important civil servants. Theodore F. Risley, Acting Secretary of Labor, was the next speaker, followed by Senator Charles C. Lockwood and Mrs. Elizabeth Smith Edwards.

Polish Flyer Executed As a Spy for British

Lieut. Iwanicki One of Several Accused of Stealing Secrets of Mobilization

CHESTER, Pa., June 4.—Captain L. D. Hutson, U. S. A., speaking today before students of the Pennsylvania Military College, described new weapons of war devised by the United States. He came here to perfect plans for a night gas attack, to be staged in connection with the college's centennial commencement exercises on June 13.

"One new invention is the toxic smoke candle," he said, "which when burned sets loose clouds of dust particles, temporarily incapacitating those who breathe the dust. The infantry will be equipped with these candles, and they will be used in advance to smother the personnel of machine gun nests and the enemy huddled in trenches and dugouts."

He told, also, of a new warfare gas, three drops of which will kill, within thirty seconds, the person whose skin it touches.

WARSAW, June 4. (By The Associated Press).—Lieutenant Henry Iwanicki, of the Polish Flying Corps, convicted by a court martial of high treason for disposing of military secrets to British agents, was executed Friday by a firing squad at the famous Warsaw citadel.

Lieutenant Iwanicki, who was employed at the War Office, was accused of stealing mobilization and other military plans for English representatives. The court martial lasted three days.

Soon after the speech delivered in the House of Commons by Mr. Lloyd George, the British Prime Minister, in which he criticized Poland for not preventing the Upper Silesian insurrection, several Poles accused of being employed by British intelligence agents were arrested by the Polish military authorities, Lieutenant Iwanicki being one of these. The others are now being held for trial.

Several of Children Said a Couple of Men Had Trained and Advised them in Theft

DUBLIN, June 4.—Three bombs were thrown at a motor car in which soldiers were crossing Newcomen Bridge here this evening. A boy was killed and eight civilians and two policemen were wounded. None of the occupants of the car was injured.

CORK, June 4.—A workhouse in Mill Street, until recently occupied by an auxiliary division of the Royal Irish Constabulary, was destroyed by fire last night.

A party of armed men took possession of the building and can it be said in possession of arms and of having taken part in an attack on the police at Singland, was shot by a firing squad in the barracks square here this morning. Keane met his fate without a groan. As the execution was being carried out large crowds outside the barracks offered prayers and sang hymns.

Bombs Thrown at Auto in Dublin; Boy Killed

Eight Other Civilians Wounded, but Soldiers, Object of Attack, Are Unhurt

Some of them had photographs of themselves in full regalia. They said that little danger attended dropping into a sewer in that part of town because there seldom was much water in any of them, and all of them emerged at the river within a few blocks. The only precaution necessary was to give the sewer one or two drops of kerosene. Several of the children said a couple of men had trained and advised them in theft. Weber said he hoped to discover the identity of the Pagine and the others. He said he would call upon the juvenile police, organized in every school from chief to patrolman, to harry the Moon Riders and Black Riders, he said, giving them no rest until both gangs were broken up.

As there was no specific charge against any of the prisoners taken yesterday, Police Justice Costello warned them that they would be let with severely if brought before him again and let them go.

Use of Rod Forbidden in Pittsfield's Schools

Pittsfield, Mass., June 4.—The use by school teachers of lengths of rubber hose, straps and whips to discipline school children is ordered discontinued by Superintendent of Schools John G. Cannon. The bulletin says that a "light rattan applied on the palm of the hand should suffice."

Complaints concerning the form of corporal punishment used by some teachers was given as the reason for the issuance of the order. "If a pupil refuses to take his whipping send him home and report the case," was a further instruction.
