

Greenwich Society Devotes Its Time to Outdoor Pageants

"Isle of Rose" Spectacle for Y. W. C. A. To Be Followed by "Venetian Fete" to Aid Greenwich Hospital

Special Dispatch to The Tribune
GREENWICH, Conn., June 18.—Outdoor society pageants seem to be more popular than ever this season. "The Isle of Rose" was given on the grounds of Mrs. E. W. Packard yesterday and to-day for the benefit of the Y. W. C. A. and Greenwich society now is interested in a big "Venetian fete" to be held on the picturesque estate of the late Commodore E. C. Benedict on June 24, both afternoon and evening. The proceeds will go to Greenwich Hospital, which was a gift to the town from Commodore Benedict in memory of his wife.

A more ideal spot for holding a fete of this kind cannot be imagined. One of the features will be a circus from Luna Park. Other events will include water sports, dancing, teas, portrait sketches by Joseph Cummings Chase, fortune-telling by J. E. Borggrafe and Mme. Zenobia, children's events and moving pictures, including "The Fatal Gem," staged and produced by young Greenwich society people here several years ago. There also will be many gaily decorated booths presided over by men and women of prominence in the town. Mrs. Allen B. Forbes, chairman of the executive committee, and her assistants are Mrs. William A. Evans, Theodore E. Blake, Mrs. Luke Vincent Lockwood, Archer Brown, E. Dimon Bird, Miss Mary Wain, Stephen W. Pratt, Edgar D. Pouch, Richard A. Monks, Mrs. William H. Busk, Marshall C. Bacon, Mrs. Frederick S. Armstrong, Mrs. Allen B. Forbes, Mrs. Edgar T. Mead, Mrs. Walter S. Brewster, Mrs. Frederick K. Forbes Office Force Enjoys Field Day at Broadhurst

Members of the office force of the Harris Allen B. Forbes company, New York, which Mrs. Allen B. Forbes is at the head, enjoyed a field day at Broadhurst, the country estate of Mr. Forbes on Old Church Road, here to-day. They were conveyed to and from New York by a special train and were taken from the local railroad station in automobiles to the Forbes place, where all sorts of athletic events were indulged in.

Miss Harriet Baldwin Bruce, of Greenwich, was the bride of George Reid, of New York, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Leslie C. Bruce, Fairfield Place, here last Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The ceremony took place in the presence of many guests from Greenwich, New York and other places.

The Rev. Dr. M. George Thompson, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, Greenwich, officiated. Miss Mary Curt, of Winchester, Pa., was maid of honor and Irving Eldredge, of New York, was best man. A large reception followed the ceremony. Miss Curt, who is a granddaughter of Chauncey H. Andrews, of Youngtown, Ohio, one of the oldest iron merchants in Ohio, attended the Miss Mary C. Wheeler school. She has been active in society circles here and in New York for some time past. Mr. Reid is foreign exchange trader for the Chase National Bank.

Another pretty but quiet wedding last Saturday at noon, which was witnessed by members of the immediate families of the couple, was that of Miss Julia M. Budlong, daughter of the late Maurice M. and Julia M. Budlong, of New York, and Dewitt E. Orvis, son of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Ford C. Otman, of Stamford, Conn., which took place at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. James H. Williams, the Rev. Dr. Otman, formerly pastor of the Stamford Presbyterian Church and now president of the Presbyterian Board of Church Extension, officiated. Elizabeth Renwick Brown and George Crosby Brown, aged three and five years, respectively, niece and nephew of the bride, were flower girl and page. A Miss Budlong attended the Miss Mastor's School at Dobbs Ferry. Mr. Otman is second lieutenant in the aviation section of the Signal Corps during the World War. He is now with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, of New York.

Summer Travel to Catskill Resorts Shows Big Increase

Arrivals Set a Record for Corresponding Period of Any Other Year; Many Noted Cottagers on Hand

Special Dispatch to The Tribune
SAUGERTIES, N. Y., June 18.—Summer travel to the Catskill Mountains through the Saugerties gateway has been heavy during the last week, and through the Kingston gateway to the Catskills and the Shawangunks has exceeded all records for the corresponding period of any previous year. Ulster and Delaware counties are proving their growing popularity.

Vacationists to the Saugerties section of the Catskill-Shawangunk region are interested in the announcement from Woodstock that the Market Fair will become a regular institution, and also that the Market week of concerts will commence to-morrow. The Market week will include among this year's members Mario Laurenti, barytone with the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Flag Day was observed in most of the larger communities in Ulster and Delaware counties with appropriate exercises. At Kingston the exercises were conducted by the local lodge of Elks, and at the other several towns lived by Judge William D. Cunningham, of the Court of Claims. Celebrations of the old-fashioned sort are again coming into favor in the region, and July 4 will find many of them among the mountain and valley villages the principal celebration being at Stamford. Saugerties' celebration will be a part of its Old Home Week, which opens on July 1.

Catskills Baseball Teams Are Making Good Shows

Motoring, golf and tennis continue in unabated popularity while the popularity of baseball shows no signs of diminishing in this region any more than it does elsewhere in America. The Saugerties ties has been giving a good account of itself, while the Lake Mohonk aggregation of players has been playing fast and snappy ball since its first game in May. Stamford's team is being organized.

To the delights of trout fishing, which has as many followers as at the beginning of the season in April, have now been added those which are season for fishing for black bass, the season for which opened on Thursday. The State Conservation Commission has announced that the black bass is a true American fish—that it is American born and American bred. And to this description has been added the comment of fishermen in this vicinity that the bass fights like a true American and is so fair in his engagement that he arouses the admiration and wins the friendship of his opponent.

Maud Adams, who comes to Saugerties each year on her way to her summer home at Ontario Park, is expected soon and will find along her route that her friends are more numerous than ever since Union College at Schenectady has conferred on the degree of Master of Arts. The summer cottages of Mrs. Gail Curd and Julia Marlow at Highmount are expected also to shelter their owners in the near future.

Ulster and Delaware Take Care of Disabled Soldiers

Both Ulster and Delaware counties are devoting much attention to the care of disabled soldiers who are regaining their health under the delightful conditions to be found in the mountainous regions of both counties throughout the year. At Willow and Woodstock several large farmhouses have been converted into homes for the disabled soldiers who receive much attention from the people of the entire region. Mrs. Elsie Knight, of Kingston, after remodeling her home on Albany Avenue, offered it for the use of soldiers during the summer months, and the society folks of Kingston and vicinity have raised $2,000 for its maintenance during the months of July and August. Mrs. Knight's residence for many years contained the finest private observatory in eastern New York, but it has now been dismantled.

Many local charities will benefit under the will of Miss Sarah B. Reynolds, of Kingston, which has just been probated. Two-thirds of an estate of more than $150,000 is given to religious and charitable enterprises. The historic First Dutch Church of that city is a beneficiary to a large extent. This church, whose history and records date back uninterruptedly to 1659, is visited annually by tourists from many parts of the country who are charmed with its architectural beauty. It was designed after the cathedrals of Southern France. Of equal interest to visitors is the old Senate House, now owned by the State of New York, where the first constitution of the state was adopted; the court house, built in 1818, on the site of the old court house where George Clinton was inaugurated as first Governor of New York, and Clinton's grave and monument in the historic churchyard across the street.

Rain Aids Vermont Links—Manchester in Mountains Is Being Filled With Visitors

Special Dispatch to The Tribune
MANCHESTER-IN-THE-MOUNTAINS, Vt., June 18.—The eighty-ninth commencement exercises of Burr and Burton Seminary were among the affairs of interest for the summer visitors this week. An address was made by the Rev. Arthur M. Hewitt, of Plainfield, Vt., Tuesday afternoon. Tuesday evening the exercises closed with the annual commencement ball at the gymnasium.

The recent rain has done much to relieve concern for the dry condition of the course at the Equinox Country Club and the number of players increases daily. The first competition of the season comes on July 4, when the annual Independence Day handicaps will be played.

Mrs. H. H. Porter, of Chicago, has leased the Smith house, at the corner of Seminary Avenue, for a term of five years from Mrs. George Orvis.

Mrs. George Orvis went to Lakeville, Conn., this week to attend the graduation exercises of Hotchkiss School, where her son, Franklin Orvis, was one of the graduating class.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Palmer, of Rye, were here recently arranging for the opening of their new summer home on Taconic Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Lancaster, of Boston, are at the Equinox House for the season. Among the early arrivals also were Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Schenck and F. F. Vanderhoof, of New York and Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Neill, of Melrose Park, Pa.

It became known early this week that Mrs. V. H. P. Brown, of New York City, has purchased a controlling interest in the property of the Equinox Company, which owns and operates the Equinox House. The management will continue the same, with Mrs. George Orvis as president of the company and A. E. Martin as manager. Mrs. Brown has previously managed The Grandden at Sunapee, the Aspinwall at Lenox and the Rock Lodge in Florida.

While the black slippers prefer a single strap and a French heel, and come in black satin, black kid or patent leather. $9.95.

The Equinox House had been owned and operated by members of the family of the late Franklin H. Orvis for sixty-nine years. Many of the major changes in the property were made after the property was controlled by George Orvis in 1909, and since his death in 1917 his policies have been carried forward by Mrs. Orvis.
