Harding Lawn a Vast Omelette When Egg-Rolling Battle Ends

From The Tribune's Washington Bureau. WASHINGTON, April 17.—Easter egg rolling on the White House grounds today was a complete success, despite the constant threat of rain.

The children and parents kept coming in a steady stream all morning and throughout the afternoon. From rabbits, balloons, woolly dogs and eggs were the favorite playthings of the children.

Some of the hard boiled eggs with distressing results, but there were no real casualties. The White House tennis court was roped off and so was the big pool in which the fountain plays.

A few of the youngsters parked outside the gates and "sold" themselves to tourists who entered the grounds for a sum above 10 cents. Laddie Boy during the morning was permitted to the front porch and dished happily out among the children.

Next to the thousands of bright colored eggs which played the main part in a glorious day, Laddie Boy, the President's pet dog, was the star of the show.

Children of members of the Cabinet and other officials, notably the Roosevelt youngsters, indulged in egg rolling, some of them for the first time.

A few precocious ones who came with out any eggs contrived to get hold of some from those who came prepared. When an egg would roll under a tree or a bush it oftentimes was lost "for keeps" as the result of the activities of the profiteers.

Shows threatened all day, but the youngsters had on old clothes and came prepared to roll eggs regardless of weather. No one was injured. A year was admitted in the early hours.

Miss Abbott had a distinguished group of attendants, including as her maid of honor, Miss Margaret Ramsey, Miss Ellen Curtis, Miss Marion Valliant, all of Boston; Miss Mary De Forest, of New York; Miss Marion Emerson, of England; and Miss Horace H. Warren, of Boston, the sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

Samuel K. Lothrop was his brother's best man. The ushers were Edward L. Bigelow, Edward Bangs, Henry G. Crosby, Paul C. Cabot, Robert M. Sedgwick, Laurence Foster, Henry Swallow and Gordon Abbott, all of Boston, with J. Nelson Roland, C. F. Havemeyer, J. Hampden Robb and Gilbert L. Stewart, of New York. Most of these ushers were classmates of the bridegroom at Harvard.

Land to Find Mothers Dead. Two Women's Race Against Death Across Atlantic Fails. The French liner La Touraine, in yesterday from Havre, brought to port two women who were fastening here for a brief visit at White Sulphur Springs.

Miss Matilde McCormick finished her visit of six weeks last night and departed for Chicago with her brother, Fowler McCormick; Miss Julia Manner, of Switzerland, and Howard A. Colby, of New York. Miss McCormick has postponed her departure for Europe until the summer. Mr. and Mrs. James T. Breese and Miss Frances Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Thompson and their daughter, Mrs. Theodore Schultz, Mrs. Richard N. Dyer and Henry A. Wise Wood, of New York, departed today for their homes.
