

Newport Tennis Yielding Stage to Horse Show

With Tourney Nearing End Preparations are Beginning for Next Big Event at Casino; Many Boxes Sold Will Be for Charity

Special Dispatch to The Tribune NEWPORT, Aug. 17.—With the tennis tournament practically completed, society is turning its attention towards the next big event at the Casino, the annual Newport Horse Show, to be held August 28, 29 and 30 at a benefit for the Newport Community Center.

Those who have purchased boxes include Mrs. Robert Golet, Mr. William Fahnstock, Mr. James W. Gerard, Admiral Cameron M. Winslow, Mr. B. L. Bell, Mr. Thomas B. Wanmaker, Mr. Roland Dickson, Mrs. Thomas Reed, Mrs. Walter S. Andrews, Mr. John Thompson Spencer, Mrs. Gibson Fahnstock, Mrs. Sylvanus Stokes Jr., Mrs. Vanderbilt, Mrs. Henry Clews, Mr. Reginald C. Vanderbilt, Mr. William Watts Sherman, Mr. R. Livingston Beckman, Mr. Harry D. Halloway, Mr. Moses Taylor, Mr. T. Sufferin Tailor, Mr. Forsyth Wickes and Dr. Henry Barton Jacobs.

Also Commodore Arthur Curtis James Mr. E. J. Berwind, Mr. William Woodard, Mrs. H. A. C. Taylor, Miss Martha C. C. Johnson, Mrs. Lawrence Lewis Gillespie, Mrs. George L. Rivers, Mrs. G. T. Bliss, Miss Anna Sands, Mr. John Aspegren, Miss Helen Brice, Mr. E. H. Woodward, Mr. G. R. Freestone, Mrs. T. Shaw and Mrs. M. A. Robinson, Dr. G. A. Simpson, General and Mrs. Wilbur Elliott Wilder, Mr. E. H. Woodward, Mrs. Hugh Auchincloss, Mrs. Charles H. Duell and Mrs. Robert O'Keefe.

Several luncheons and dinners featured the round of entertainment given by guests in Newport for the tennis week. Mr. and Mrs. William Goadby Low gave a large luncheon at Stone Arch Dr. and Mrs. Henry Barton Jacobs entertained at White Holme, Mrs. T. Shaw Safe at Ocean Lawn and Mr. and Mrs. T. Sufferin Tailor at Honey Suckle Lodge.

Mr. R. Livingston Beckman gave a dinner this evening for Mrs. Marsden Burke, Mr. Elliott Rogers, Mr. James W. Barney and Mr. Edgar Leonard, who were Mr. Fred E. Lund Jr., Mrs. Charles E. Ames, Mrs. Lawrence M. Lombard, Mr. Maurice H. Richardson and Mr. Frederick P. Cabot, who will be head usher.

Mr. Richardson is a graduate of Harvard, class of '17. After a honeymoon trip the couple will reside at 60 Chestnut Street, Boston. The engagement was announced last April.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer P. Kennard are receiving congratulations over the birth of a son, William White Kennard.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Stewart Ellsworth gave a luncheon yesterday at Pier 66 for Mrs. J. Mager Ellsworth. Others who entertained at luncheon yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, Mr. and Mrs. William Crawford, Mrs. Harry Horton Benckard and Mr. Whitney Warren Jr.

Miss Lucille Baldwin entertained at dinner last night in the Roof Garden at the Ritz-Carlton.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Fraser entertained at dinner last night in the Roof Garden at Delmonico's.

Mrs. John Aspegren and her children, Master John Bacon and Miss Aimee. Mrs. Aspegren has issued several hundred invitations for her ball which will be given at the close of the Newport horse show on September 2.

Schurman is a graduate of Cornell, class of '17. He served in France as a captain in the 39th Infantry. He is also a graduate of the Harvard Law School. The wedding will take place on Miss Cushman's return from China.

Miss Charlotte B. Richardson, daughter of Mrs. John Richardson, of Chestnut Hill, Boston, will be married to Mr. Wyman Richardson, son of Mrs. Maurice Howe Richardson, of 224 Beacon Street, Boston, in the Unitarian Church in Cohasset. A reception will be held following the wedding at the home of the bride's mother at Lotthrop's Point, Cohasset.

Mr. Richardson will have as her bridesmaids Miss Amy Lee, Miss Katherine Thompson, Miss Mary L. Barton and Miss Sylvia P. Benson. Miss Susan M. Lee will be maid of honor and the Misses Hope, Louisa G. and Betty L. Richardson will be flower girls. Dr. Edward P. Richardson will be best man. The ushers will include Mr. Howard M. Peck, Mr. Henry R. Child, Mr. Fred E. Lund Jr., Mr. Charles E. Ames, Mrs. Lawrence M. Lombard, Mr. Maurice H. Richardson and Mr. Frederick P. Cabot, who will be head usher.

Mr. Richardson is a graduate of Harvard, class of '17. After a honeymoon trip the couple will reside at 60 Chestnut Street, Boston. The engagement was announced last April.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer P. Kennard are receiving congratulations over the birth of a son, William White Kennard.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Stewart Ellsworth gave a luncheon yesterday at Pier 66 for Mrs. J. Mager Ellsworth. Others who entertained at luncheon yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, Mr. and Mrs. William Crawford, Mrs. Harry Horton Benckard and Mr. Whitney Warren Jr.

Miss Lucille Baldwin entertained at dinner last night in the Roof Garden at the Ritz-Carlton.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Fraser entertained at dinner last night in the Roof Garden at Delmonico's.

Press Tribute Marks Funeral Of Northcliffe

Publisher Is Buried From Westminster Abbey, With Throng Overflowing and Lining Streets for Blocks

Harvey Represents U. S. Widow Deeply Touched by Messages of Sympathy and Condolence from America

From The Tribune's European Bureau LONDON, Aug. 15.—With journalists filling the choir stalls usually reserved for distinguished statesmen on ceremonial occasions the tribute of the press was the predominant note struck at the funeral services for Viscount Northcliffe to-day in Westminster Abbey. Forming in Fleet Street, the procession of journalists marched to the Abbey this morning and made up the greater part of the congregation, which included Ambassador Harvey, the United States Ambassador, Sir Edouard de Selve, representing Premier Lloyd George.

Lady Northcliffe, Lord Rothermere and other relatives were the chief mourners, followed by the editorial staffs of the Northcliffe publications. Hundreds were unable to enter the crowded Abbey, where a full choir of the artists, Mr. Frederick Martin and the Misses Hope, Louisa G. and Betty L. Richardson will be flower girls. Dr. Edward P. Richardson will be best man. The ushers will include Mr. Howard M. Peck, Mr. Henry R. Child, Mr. Fred E. Lund Jr., Mr. Charles E. Ames, Mrs. Lawrence M. Lombard, Mr. Maurice H. Richardson and Mr. Frederick P. Cabot, who will be head usher.

Mr. Richardson is a graduate of Harvard, class of '17. After a honeymoon trip the couple will reside at 60 Chestnut Street, Boston. The engagement was announced last April.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer P. Kennard are receiving congratulations over the birth of a son, William White Kennard.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Stewart Ellsworth gave a luncheon yesterday at Pier 66 for Mrs. J. Mager Ellsworth. Others who entertained at luncheon yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, Mr. and Mrs. William Crawford, Mrs. Harry Horton Benckard and Mr. Whitney Warren Jr.

Miss Lucille Baldwin entertained at dinner last night in the Roof Garden at the Ritz-Carlton.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Fraser entertained at dinner last night in the Roof Garden at Delmonico's.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer P. Kennard are receiving congratulations over the birth of a son, William White Kennard.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Stewart Ellsworth gave a luncheon yesterday at Pier 66 for Mrs. J. Mager Ellsworth. Others who entertained at luncheon yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, Mr. and Mrs. William Crawford, Mrs. Harry Horton Benckard and Mr. Whitney Warren Jr.

The Tribune Fresh Air Fund

Another "Daddy" Sends 34 Children to the Country, but Ten More Parties of Youngsters Are Eagerly Awaiting Their "Daddies"

The children invited to Conway, Mass., and Brainbridge, N. Y., had their vacation tickets paid for and their vacation tickets salvaged yesterday, thirty-four of them altogether. Still another "daddy" did it! There are lots of Fresh Air "daddies." They keep disclosing themselves day after day. But they are very modest. The man who did yesterday's rescue work refuses to permit the use of his initials. But he's an old friend, he can't object to that much being told about him. Last year he sent the Fund $200 to establish his U. S. Vacations in Perpetuity endowment.

This year he gives $100 to save the vacations of the children invited to Conway and Brainbridge. They have so far provided the special funds necessary to make possible the sending of nine parties, including 250 boys and girls, which must have been cancelled if their help had not been forthcoming.

The Fund wants some more such friends as these "daddies," some more kind hearts who will volunteer to save the party who are still in the balance. There are still ten parties to be rescued. They are listed here again with the price of rescue shown for each one.

Perhaps you can take as your party the most expensive one perhaps you will have to take the smallest and least expensive in order to keep within your means. Do what you can—do it all anybody can do. If you take one of the parties the children happy to do you grow tired of seeing these appeals day after day for these special party contributions? Well, the kiddies whose happiness depends upon the going of the party are tired, too, of the hot city, of the dirty tenement streets where they have spent the whole summer. Since the first of July they have been waiting and pleading for their return to the Fresh Air Fund vacation. To their weariness anxiety is now added. They know that the summer is getting near the end and that their chances of vacations are rapidly passing.

Friends Are Wanted What is there for the Fund to do but keep on passing their plea on to their friends? Will you hear their pleading, and if you can, will you do it? You would if you were one of the welfare workers to whom the children make their pleas directly. Yesterday the worker from the social service department of the New York Hospital came to the Fund office to tell about the need of places for boys. This is what she has to face every day: "I have 250 boys who come to the rooms every day, the same 250 day after day, and they are nervous, they are tired. They won't take no for an answer. They can't seem to see why they can't all be sent away."

The worker from the American parish of the Holy Trinity is tired, too. "I just hate to walk down the street from the church. As I pass by every boy I meet turns mournful eyes upon me. They don't say anything, but I know they are waiting for me. 'Which way do you go to send us to the country?'"

"Is There Any Chance for Me?" The worker at Olivet Memorial Church is on the point of fleeing until the summer is over. She says: "I simply can't stand it to stay here. I don't know how long I can stand it. I just hate to walk down the street from the church. As I pass by every boy I meet turns mournful eyes upon me. They don't say anything, but I know they are waiting for me. 'Which way do you go to send us to the country?'"

These are not exaggerations, but statements of fact. If you ever were a boy and liked to swim and play ball in the summertime you know why the workers about with anxious eyes and pleading voices. And most of them need more than the chance to play. They are the undernourished little sons of poverty. They need fresh air and good food, as well as the opportunity to work off boyhood's excesses.

Be a "daddy" to some of them today. These held-up parties can't be held in abeyance much longer. The workers must know whether their invited guests are coming or not. The arrangements are all made—only the railroad tickets have to be bought. That's your part—just to pay for the tickets. Send your check or telephone the Fund that you are going to send it. Contributions to the Tribune Fresh Air Fund:

Table listing names and amounts of contributions to the Tribune Fresh Air Fund, including Mrs. O'Connell, Mrs. G. E. G., Mrs. M. H. G., etc.

John G. O'Keefe, Retired Stock Broker, Is Dead

Trustee of Bellevue, Known for Years in Wall Street; Active in Catholic Work

John G. O'Keefe, a retired stock broker and director of several financial concerns, died yesterday of heart disease at Bellevue Hospital. He had been ill less than a week. Mr. O'Keefe, who was a trustee of Bellevue, lived at 10 West 123rd Street.

Mr. O'Keefe was prominent in Catholic circles. He was treasurer of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick and a trustee of the New York State Industrial Farm Colony and of the Catholic Home Bureau. He also was treasurer of the O'Keefe Savings Bank, a director of the New York and Long Branch Steamboat Company.

Mr. O'Keefe long was prominent in the financial district in 1867, and gradually rose to a position of prominence in Wall Street. When he retired in 1907 he was a member of the firm of H. L. Horton & Co., a member of the Stock Exchange, of the executive committee of the Emigrants Industrial Savings Bank, and a director of the New York and Long Branch Steamboat Company.

His clubs included the Catholic Club, Harlem and Columbia Yacht clubs. From 1900 to 1905 he was a city school commissioner. Unceasing attention to his work at Bellevue Hospital, despite ill health, is said to have hastened his death. Funeral arrangements have not yet been determined, but burial probably will be in St. Patrick's Cathedral on Monday.

Services for James Kennedy Funeral services for James Kennedy, engineer, poet and editor, who died Monday afternoon, were held last night at the Second Presbyterian Church, Ninety-sixth Street and Central Park West. Burial will take place to-day in Woodlawn Cemetery.

JOHN W. RAPP John W. Rapp, sixty-one years old, of College Point, Queens, died Wednesday night in Philadelphia from apoplexy, according to word received here yesterday. Mr. Rapp was head of the Central Metal Products Company. He was born in the Ninth Ward, Manhattan. He was a member of the Queens Chamber of Commerce and the Engineering Society of Manhattan. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Corinne Rapp, three sisters, Miss Lottie Pinnegar, of Flushing, and Mrs. Eva Norman, of Whitestone, Queens, and a brother, Charles, of Manhattan.

WILLIAM H. BURGESS William H. Burgess, deputy clerk of the Sixth District Municipal Court, Brooklyn, and active in Republican politics, died at his home, 370th Street, at his home, 370 Thirteenth Street, after an illness of three weeks. He was sixty-seven years old. He was born in Brooklyn, and had served in the offices of the Sheriff and Register. He is survived by his wife and a daughter, Margaret. He was a member of several fraternal orders.

CHARLES A. RIZZO Charles A. Rizzo, a lieutenant of the New Haven Railroad police, died yesterday at his home in New Rochelle from a wound received when he accidentally shot himself with a revolver. He had been on the railroad police force for fourteen years and figured in many prominent cases. Six years ago he was instrumental in rounding up a gang of train wrechers who derailed a train at Maromas, Conn., causing several deaths.

MRS. EUGENE MARA RENO, Nev., Aug. 17.—Mrs. Eugene Mara said to have been the first white child to arrive in Carson City, Nev., and reputed to have been the sweetest heart of Samuel L. Clemens when he was in Nevada, died in Carson City last night. She was seventy-seven years old.

DAVID WADSWORTH SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 17.—David Wadsworth, former Mayor of Auburn and one of the pioneer manufacturers of the city, is dead at his home in Auburn. He had been ill for six years.

Birth, Engagement, Marriage, Death and In Memoriam Notices may be telephoned to The Tribune any time up to midnight for insertion in the next day's paper. Telephone Beekman 3000.

DEATHS CAMMERER—At Connetquotville, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., on August 17, 1922, Cecilia, widow of William H. Cammerer, of Brookline, N. Y., in her 82nd year. Burial at Greenwood Chapel, Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y., Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

DART—Thursday, August 17, 1922, at her late residence, 47 West 48th st., Marie Therese Dart, widow of William M. Dart, daughter of the late John Dewey, died. Funeral services Grace Church, Broadway and 11th St., New York, Saturday afternoon, 2 o'clock.

DOBLIN—Louis CAMPBELL FUNERAL CHURCH, Friday, 11 a. m. KESNER—Anna J. CAMPBELL FUNERAL CHURCH, Broadway, 46th st., Friday, 11 a. m.

GREEN—Suddenly, at Chappaqua, N. Y., August 16, 1922, Charles Green, husband of Mrs. H. B. Green, son of Mrs. H. B. Green, died. Burial at Chappaqua, N. Y., Saturday, August 19, at 11 a. m.

JENNINGS—On August 15, Patrick J., beloved husband of the late Mary (nee Davis), father of William J. Mary J. and Charles J. Jennings, died. Burial at St. Patrick's Church, Saturday, August 19, at 11 a. m.

KESLER—On Wednesday, August 16, 1922, Louise A. Kesler, beloved daughter of the late Louis and Rosa Kesler, died. Burial at the LaSalle Place Chapel, Broadway and 11th St., near Grand Ave., Brooklyn, Saturday, August 19, at 11 a. m.

KNOX—On Tuesday, August 15, 1922, at her residence, Rumson, N. J., Caroline E. T. Knox, widow of John W. Knox, died in her 76th year. Services on Friday morning at 10 a. m., at St. George's Church, Rumson, N. J.

KREBS—On Wednesday, August 16, at the age of 27 years, after a short illness, Phoebe Krebs (nee Dwyer), wife of John C. Krebs, of 422 Chaucery st., Brooklyn, died. Burial at the LaSalle Place Chapel, Broadway and 11th St., near Grand Ave., Brooklyn, Saturday, August 19, at 11 a. m.

LEVITT—On August 15, 1922, at her late residence, 244 Riverside Drive, Notice of funeral later.

LEWIS—In Amsterdam, N. Y., August 16, 1922, at the age of 80 years, died Mrs. Lewis. In 1913 Mr. Lewis was president of the New York State Sunday School Association and at the time of his death a member of the executive committee of the same organization. He was also served on the business committee of the association. Mr. Lewis was much interested in the Episcopalian Church, and was serving his 35th year as superintendent of the First Episcopal Church in Amsterdam. He is survived by his wife, Miss Priscilla A. Lewis, and a daughter, Miss Margaret Lewis, of New York City.

LINCOLN—Isabel, daughter of the late George Lincoln, died at her home, 111 West 11th St., New York City, on August 15, 1922. Burial at Union Hill, N. J., Saturday, August 19, at 11 a. m.

Miss Mary Bedford to Wed Mr. Jacob C. Schurman Jr.

Going On To-day

You know that a silk shirt is both comfortable and durable—but do you know how much more so the

August Fur Sale

Miss Mary Bedford to Wed Mr. Jacob C. Schurman Jr.

Going On To-day

You know that a silk shirt is both comfortable and durable—but do you know how much more so the

August Fur Sale