

American Amateur Golfers Add Five Singles Victories and Capture the Walker Cup, 8 to 4

Guilford, Jones and Hooman Win in Three Great Matches

Tolley and Wethered Succumb to Fine Putting of Home Players; Sweetser, One of Three U. S. Linksmen to Lose, Is Beaten in Third Big Battle

By Grantland Rice
SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 29.—There were no silver threads of rain in the golden sunshine above the National Links to-day, and under these ideal conditions the United States of bunkered America once more reigned supreme over the golfing talent of Great Britain.

The Walker Cup in its first year of competitive existence stays at home, with your Uncle Samuel predominating over John Bull by the margin of eight matches to four. On Monday the American team in foursome play won three matches to one. To-day, before eight widely scattered galleries, they won five out of the eight singles, but only after desperate opposition on the part of more than one British star.

A year ago at Hoylake the Americans triumphed by 9 to 3. On this festive occasion, classic in the annals of golf, the Brits did better than they did at Hoylake. They won the American team in foursome play three matches to one. To-day, before eight widely scattered galleries, they won five out of the eight singles, but only after desperate opposition on the part of more than one British star.

United States, 5; Great Britain, 3

Jesse Guilford, United States, defeated Cyril Tolley, England, and 3. Robert Jones, United States, defeated Frank Marshall, England, and 3. Charles Evans, United States, defeated John Caven, England, and 4. Francis Sweetser, United States, defeated C. C. Aymer, England, 8 and 7. W. W. MacKenzie, England, defeated W. L. Hooman, England, defeated W. C. Fownes, United States, 3 and 1.

The putting blade has made America's supremacy in golf and just as it helped Guilford by troubles, so this afternoon it helped Jones.

Bobby Jones Has Big Day on Grand Circuit

Three Horses Sired by Dillon Axworthy Score Victories at Readville, Mass.

READVILLE, Mass., Aug. 29.—Horses sired by Dillon Axworthy held the center of the stage at the opening of the annual Grand Circuit meeting at Readville Park this afternoon, when Thompson Dillon, Pilot Dillon and Margaret Dillon captured three of the four events on the program. Each of the trio was bred by A. B. Cox, of Paoli, Pa., and the first two still are his property.

Thompson Dillon captured the two-year-old division of the American Horse Breeders' Futurity, Pilot Dillon won the Fair Oaks Farm Stakes, for three-year-olds, while Margaret Dillon, owned by Charles H. Traiser, of Boston, topped over the free-for-all pacers.

The great Voie, another Boston-owned steed, won first money in the Beaumont Farm Stakes for 2:08 trotters, although a break cost him the last heat, which went to the Minnesota trotter, Herbylyn.

While scoring for the second heat of the 2:08 trot, J. L. Dodge, of Lexington, Ky., drove Legal J., which he purchased last week at a track harrow, to a victory in the 2:08 trot.

Three-year-old horses, by Dillon Axworthy, sired by Dillon Axworthy, won the 2:08 trot, J. L. Dodge, of Lexington, Ky., drove Legal J., which he purchased last week at a track harrow, to a victory in the 2:08 trot.

Final Saratoga Auction Sale Brings $111,450
SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 29.—Auction sales of horses at the Spa ended to-night for the 1922 season when the remaining offerings from the Blue Ridge Stud went under the hammer.

The top price of the evening was $13,000, paid by R. J. Waldron for the bay mare imported Ariette, foaled in 1911, by Robert Le Diable, out of Quintessen. The next best price was $12,000, for which P. W. Armstrong bought the chestnut mare Mill Maid.

Golf Victors at Bretton Woods
BRETTON WOODS, N. H., Aug. 29.—The invitation two-ball mixed foursome for prizes presented by Dr. E. S. Robinson, of New York, was played this morning at Bretton Woods, Albert B. Ashforth, jr., of New York, took the men's prize by pair play, scoring 46 and 46, and Miss Katharine Clark, of New York, won the women's prize, a silver creamer and bowl, with a score of 53.

The Battle of Brookline

By Grantland Rice
The names of Roger Wethered and Cyril Jones Hasting Tolley have been coupled so often in print that we see weighing 160 pounds. He is twenty-two years old. If any man can lay claim to being the lustiest clouter of the field, Wethered is first choice. He can, beyond all argument, hammer the ender's mis of a golf ball. And his iron play is equally good.

Wethered, after flirting with fame, suddenly took the final leap a year ago at St. Andrews in the British open. Starting the last thirty-six holes the Oxford star was six strokes back of Jack Hutchison.

He then finished with a 72-71, losing a penalty stroke by inadvertently touching his ball with his foot. This was the hardest break that ever overtook any man in any championship. As it was he tied Hutchison at 296, losing the play-off.

This last spring at Prestwick he took to the semi-final round by magnificent golf. He has the game to make a fine showing for bravery in action and almost any one there a hard battle. If his short game is properly adjusted for the day of contest he will be fully as dangerous as Willie Hunter and one of the main hopes of the invading force.

Wethered has a fine style to watch and his long range, attained with such no reason for separating them at this late date.

Shelburne Polo Team Wins in 3d Cup Match

Defeats All Ireland Quartet, 16 to 5, in Herbert Memorial Trophy Tourney

RUMSON, N. J., Aug. 29.—A gallant fight by the Irish team failed to stop the fast Shelburne House four this afternoon in the third match of the Herbert Memorial Cup polo tournament here, and the All-Ireland Polo Club quartet went down to defeat before the Americans by the score of 16 to 5.

The Shelburne combination, with its two internationalists, Stoddard and Webb, gave the best exhibition of polo yet seen on these fields. Their teamwork was superb, and they kept the game fast and open all the while.

Bright weather prevailed, and for the first time a really colorful crowd attended the match. The field was filled, and a larger sprinkling of the general public dotted the stands than heretofore. The going was very good, the turf in places being very soft.

The match was marred a little for all lovers of good horsemanship by the death of the Irish horse, Egan, at the end of the fourth chukker. The horse was just lining up after a goal when Egan keeled over, pinning Webb under a crowd of spectators.

Clarence Carman won the other feature, the one-hour motor-paced race, covering 39 miles 5 1/2 laps. Victor Linard was second. The summaries:

That La Palina is the standby of uncouthed hundreds of thousands of smokers who know good cigars, is best evidenced by the stupendous demand of over 150 Million a year.

The costly Java wrapper, the Vuelta Abajo Havana filler furnish a smoke enjoyment you can never imitate. Don't forget it.

The best way to tell is to smoke one.

Only One New Yorker Remains In Public Links Tournament

Richard Walsh Reaches Third Round at Toledo, While Harry Scharff and Joe Ford Are Eliminated in Matches Which Go to Twenty Holes

By Ray McCarthy
TOLEDO, Aug. 29.—The first two rounds of match play in the National Public Links golf championship to-day produced a series of hard-fought struggles. These public links golfers are very serious about this tournament, and are battling with might and main for honors. What is more, they know how to fight, for public links play certainly teaches one the spirit of strife.

New York boys appeared in two of these extra hole matches in the second round. One was seen in the second round, while Harry Scharff and Joe Ford were seen at the Toledo links. Scharff and Ford were seen at the Toledo links. Scharff and Ford were seen at the Toledo links.

Richard Walsh, who won both his matches, remains as the sole survivor from Manhattan, although Curtin's presence leaves the metropolitan section two representatives for the third round.

Of the brilliant performances turned in to-day that of Eddie Held, the nineteen-year-old, slenderly built St. Louis lad, stands out as being the most notable. He built along the lines of a greynound, romped over the tricky course here in 71 strokes. A heavy rain early to-day made the links very slippery, and it was yesterday, and Held's performance was a record of sound, steady-going golf.

Showing that his morning round was no flash, Held reeled off another 71 in the afternoon while eliminating several strokes from his score. He won by a score of 5 and 3. Lomas had little chance with his still younger opponent. After winning his match Held played out the hole for his score of 139.

That was far and away the best golf of the day. Aulbach, who won the medal yesterday with a score of 139, in the afternoon while eliminating several strokes from his score. He won by a score of 5 and 3. Lomas had little chance with his still younger opponent.

Following are the results in the first round of match play in the national public links tournament:
Richard Walsh, New York, defeated Francis Murphy, San Francisco, 5 and 1.
Harry Scharff, New York, defeated L. O'Leary, Toledo, 5 and 5.
George Aulbach, Boston, defeated Joe Kurek, Toledo, 5 and 1.
William Wallace, Detroit, defeated W. H. Herrick, New York, 1 up.Mike Tobin jr., Philadelphia, defeated W. Mather, Baltimore, 1 up.Joe Malley, St. Louis, defeated Brad Smith, Chicago, 2 and 1.
Eddie Held, St. Louis, defeated William Lomas, Detroit, 3 and 2.
J. P. Christie, Toronto, Canada, defeated Charles Sommer, New York, 3 and 2.
William Gannon, Boston, defeated J. H. Decker, Kansas City, defeated James Francis, St. Louis, 3 and 2.
Harry Scharff, New York, defeated O. G. Howe, Newark, N. J., 3 and 2.
Sam Eastman, Bayville, defeated Gregg Bailey, Chicago, 3 and 1.
E. J. Lomas, New York, defeated Charles Andrew, Washington, D. C., up.
Charles Jones, Chicago, defeated Anthony Vitt, Cleveland, up.
Ted Lloyd, Chicago, defeated James Peck, Chicago, 2 up.
Henry Scharff, Toledo, defeated A. B. Hadden, Toledo, 1 up (twenty-four holes).SECOND ROUND
Thomas Malley, St. Louis, defeated Matt Jano, Chicago, 3 and 2.
George Aulbach, Boston, defeated Ted Lloyd, Chicago, 1 up.
Eddie Held, St. Louis, defeated T. K. Lomas, New York, 5 and 3.
Ed Curtin, Newark, N. J., defeated Joe Ford, New York, 1 up (twenty holes).
J. P. Christie, Toronto, defeated Harry Scharff, New York, up in 19 holes.
Mike Tobin, Philadelphia, defeated John Quinn, of Boston, defeated William Wallace, of Detroit, 3 and 1.
Henry Decker, of Kansas City, defeated William Winner, of Toledo, 4 and 1.
Ford appeared to have the advantage in his match with Curtin. But the Newark player is of the hard-fighting type. He never let down. Ford was up at New York, but Curtin went at his task harder than ever on the incoming round. His stick-to-itiveness brought its reward, for he won the eleventh and twelfth holes, where Ford was in trouble on his second shot.

Ford squared the match on the sixteenth hole, and he had a chance for the lead at the seventeenth, but missed a putt of about three feet. They halved the eighteenth and the nineteenth, but at the twentieth hole Ford caught a trap on his third shot, failed to get on in his first attempt, and lost the hole with a 7.

The cards were:
Curtin, out... 3 7 3 4 4 5 5 4 39
Ford, out... 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 42-51
Extra holes... 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 42-51

In the third round to-morrow Aulbach will meet Thomas Malley, an exceptionally fine little golfer from St. Louis. Held will meet Christie and is figured to win this match. Quinn and Walsh should have a merry struggle and Curtin and Harry Decker, Kansas City, should provide a match that will carry all of the thrills anybody could wish for.

Wethered, with his great left arm and his equally great left leg braced to extend the impact of the blow, went out in 35 in the afternoon. This brilliant match against the role was closed by Wethered grimly determined to find out the match.
