Ryan Wants Action. In a communication presented by Mr. Ryan, he said that as a result of an investigation carried on by himself conditions revealed in the administration of the elementary schools which seem to him to warrant immediate action by the Board of Education. He charges that the schools are not obtaining the maximum use of available facilities as shown by the fact that in a number of schools which have a smaller registration this year than last there is an increase in the number of part time pupils. He also declares that during the fall of a number of new buildings has seemed to fail in reducing part time.

Resolutions were passed giving power to the president of the board and the Board of Superintendents to continue the investigation and make plans to adjust the difficulties. A wordy clash took place between Dr. Ettinger and Mr. Ryan when a resolution was presented to transfer the use of an automobile from Dr. Ettinger, who has been using it, to Mr. Ryan and to such use as he may see fit. Dr. Ettinger said that the car had been given to him by the Board of Education for his use. Mr. Ryan retorted that the commissioners of the board also had used it. The resolution was passed.

Police Parade Marks 4th Day Of Safety Week

March to Central Park, Where Enright Presents Medal to Winner of the Heroic Rescue Prize

Only One Fatality in Day There Were Eleven Deaths Due to Carelessness on Same Date Last Year

Police Day, the fourth in the week's campaign of the Safety Institute of America to cut accidents to the unavoidable point, was observed yesterday not only by the police but by two of the city's most important business groups and by the elementary schools. The police paraded up Fifth Avenue and switched on the lights of the Street into the park where, on the sheep meadow, Police Commissioner Enright presented the Safety Institute medal to the patrolman who had performed most notably during the last year, that of saving the life of a child under exceptional circumstances, to Patrolman Albert Granzer, of the Glendale police station, Ridgewood.

Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United States Steel Corporation, in addressing the annual luncheon meeting of the New York Board of Trade and Transportation at its rooms, 41 Park Row, said that the United States Steel Corporation was now spending annually for accident prevention $1,000,000, while general welfare disbursements—totalled between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000 a year. Irving T. Bush, president of the New York Chamber of Commerce, also addressed the board on accident prevention. The same subject was discussed by Marcus A. Dow, general safety agent for the United States Central lines, and by Charles J. Conroy, who presided at a luncheon of the Kiwanis Club at the Hotel McAlpin.

Only One Fatal Accident. Gratification was expressed by the leaders of the Safety Week drive that up to late yesterday afternoon only one fatal accident had been reported, as against the eleven for the same day last year. This makes a total of twelve accidents for the first four days of the campaign, as compared with the total of forty-four for the corresponding days in 1921.

Before awarding the medal given by Arthur Williams, president of the Safety Institute of America, to patrolman Granzer, Police Commissioner Enright read the police record of Granzer's heroic act. He awoke a household of tenants when he discovered a fire at the three-story tenement at 1740 Myrtle Avenue, Ridgewood, on June 26, 1922. He carried down to the street a Mrs. Rosenbaum, who had fainted and returned to the aid of Patrolman Frank Beck, who had noticed lying unconscious on his way down with Mrs. Rosenbaum. When he reached the street carrying Beck with the aid of another patrolman, he returned to the house for Mrs. Rosenbaum's six-year-old daughter, whom he found in a room on the second floor. He brought her out of the fire. He then made a tourniquet and saved the life of Mrs. Rosenbaum, who had been hurt.

Gary Tells of U. S. Steel Work. Judge Gary, in discussing accident prevention, told the members of the Safety Institute of America, that in some sixteen years ago the number of accidents in the various plants of the United States Steel Corporation increased so rapidly that "safety department" was organized and since then it had grown to be so large that five thousand men employed in general welfare work 150 are employed only on safety work.

Teachers in the elementary schools paid particular attention yesterday to warning children against "hitching." They told them that "hitching on a moving trolley car, automobile or wagon is dangerous. You may lose your footing and be thrown under the wheels, or you may fall on the pavement and fracture your skull or break an arm or leg.

"Jumping off is also apt to cause you injury or death. Not only are you apt to fall and be run over, but also of your own free will you may run in front of an automobile."
