

Churchill, in Invalid's Chair, Seeks Victory

Speaks While Seated in His Constituents in Dundee; Warns Nation That Turk Crisis Is Still Ominous Campaign Nears Close

With Election Two Days Off, Speakers Devote Time to Clinching Arguments

Finish of the campaign at Lenbigh and Dundee. Completing the third stage of his campaign in Wales, the former Premier left Swansea early this morning and proceeded homeward. But he made numerous halts on the way and, in an extremely jovial mood, addressed crowds energetically at numerous stations along the route. A tumultuous welcome was given Mr. Lloyd George here. Referring in his speech to the statement of John R. Clynes, the labor leader, that as Premier he gave the working class nothing but words, Mr. Lloyd George said: "I claim in the face of England, Scotland and Wales, in the face of the world and in the face of history, there is no British Minister who has ever devoted so much energy to or made more liberal provision for the misfortunes of the wage earning classes than I have."

Derby Calls for Unity
MANCHESTER, England, Nov. 11 (By The Associated Press).—The present moment, when the country had to stand solid in complete agreement with its Allies, was no time for recriminations, declared the Earl of Derby, Secretary for War, campaigning for the Conservatives and speaking here this afternoon. He was glad to say that the government was acting in complete accord with the French, and wanted that accord to continue not only in the present crisis, but also regarding reparations. Any failure by either nation would mean disaster. Lord Derby denied that Prime Minister Bonar Law was trying to introduce protection into the country. "You know I would not remain in the government if a protectionist policy were introduced," he declared. Later he said: "I am sure the time will come, and is not far distant, when Austen Chamberlain will again find a place in the government of this country."

Asquith Denies New Pact
NORTHAMPTON, England, Nov. 11 (By The Associated Press).—Former Premier Herbert Asquith, addressing a meeting of Liberals here to-day, categorically denied the current report that his wing of the Liberal party was flirting with the Conservatives with a view to co-operating with the adherents of Bonar Law in the next Commons if the Premier were to resign outside support. This report originated mainly in the fact that the Conservative party manager, Sir George Younger, recently lunched at Mr. Asquith's home. The former Premier, in making the rumor, said the desire of the Liberals of the country was to send Liberals to Parliament and not to co-operate with the Tories, but to oppose them.

Defends Ex-Premier
BIRMINGHAM, Eng., Nov. 11 (By The Associated Press).—Lord Birkenhead, the Lord Chancellor in the recent Cabinet, speaking at a Unionist rally here to-day, declared that Lloyd George was not an "extinct volcano," as some people supposed. Lord Birkenhead added that Austen Chamberlain could have been Prime Minister if his congeniality denied the current report that he had taken the view that the interests of the country and the Empire were best served by the close association of all the forces that stood against extreme counsels.

Turkish Crisis Less Tense
With the slackening in the political situation has come also an apparent relaxation in the tension over Turkey, although the latter phenomenon may be due to the dearth of news from Constantinople.

DUNDEE, Scotland, Nov. 11 (By The Associated Press).—Winston Churchill, who was operated on for appendicitis less than a month ago, to-day addressed his constituents here where his wife has been campaigning in his behalf. Mr. Churchill was able to take the field.

Mr. Churchill claimed that the Coalition government had effectively prevented war with the Turks. He agreed that risks were run, but pointed out that risks were run every day.

Danger Still Grave
"The danger is not yet over," he continued. "I approve the declarations made by the new government and hope they will adhere to them with firmness. There is no doubt that the Turk has been encouraged by the belief that Great Britain is paralyzed by party divisions."

Referring to Ireland during the course of his administration he declared: "I attribute the fall of the government more than anything else to the movement and fury of the so-called 'Ulster' party against the men who made the Irish treaty."

As a further reference to Irish affairs, Mr. Chamberlain said: "This is no moment for exultation about Irish affairs, but neither is it a moment for despair." He had no doubt, he said, "that the Irishman will become master in his own house," and he added: "May I say with what satisfaction I read that the mischievous, murderous ruffian, Erskine Childers, that Englishman who is inspired by an equal measure of hatred for this island and for the one in which he now has taken his abode, has been captured by the forces of the Irish Free State."

Lloyd George Welcomed Home
GRIGGIETH, Wales, Nov. 11 (By The Associated Press).—After a strenuous week of campaigning, former Premier Lloyd George was welcomed to his home town to-night by a great torchlight procession. He will spend a quiet week end here and depart Monday morning to begin a whirlwind more than 25,000 persons charged with crimes. They found 12,000 of these in Smyrna, added Mr. Prentiss, and killed them, and are waiting to get 8,000 "spotted" in Constantinople. LONDON, Nov. 11 (By The Associated Press).—The Eastern Telegraph Company's cable to Constantinople, which was cut recently by the Turkish Nationalists in the vicinity of Lhanak, has been restored and is working smoothly, says an announcement by the company. Situation Still Is Critical The situation at Constantinople, where the Turkish Nationalists are determined to sit tight, still is very critical, all the morning papers agree. The government itself is declared in some quarters to be largely in the dark, owing to the difficulty of communicating with the Near East as a result of the cutting of the cable line near Chanak. Absolutely nothing can be learned regarding the present attitude of the Ankara government, and it is equally unknown whether the Allied Commissioners have carried out their threat to establish martial law in Constantinople. "The British government knows the Near Eastern position to-day is as perilous as war," "The London Times" declares. "Even in the terms of the Mudania armistice, which brought the conflict between the Entente and Turkey to an end, it is not known whether France is prepared to stand with Britain, and, in case of need, act with her. French failure to stand by England in word and deed at Constantinople might be the signal for a disaster of immeasurable dimensions. There may yet be time to avert it, but the sands are running out. Swift and complete accord between London and Paris alone can preclude it, or should the worst befall, keep it within manageable limits."

Mussolini Won't be at Parley
ROME, Nov. 11 (By The Associated Press).—Premier Mussolini has decided that, owing to the urgent need of settling Italy's internal affairs, he will be unable to participate in a meeting of the Allied Premiers or Foreign Ministers before the Lausanne Peace Conference, or go to Lausanne himself. Meanwhile he has ordered the cruiser Premuda to Near Eastern waters and has directed that the Italian contingent in Constantinople be reinforced by 250 men and ten machine guns. The "Messaggero" to-day says that the situation in the Near East "is not only grave, but alarming, and must be earnestly and energetically considered."

Blazing Oil Sweeps Bay Of Naples, Menacing Fleet
LONDON, Nov. 11.—A fire which started at the Port of Naples at 4 o'clock this afternoon, when blazing naphtha spread over the harbor, caused $10,000,000 lire damage, according to the Naples correspondent of the Central News. The correspondent reported that the fire was still burning when he forwarded his dispatch, that many warships in the harbor were enveloped and that two gunboats had been destroyed and four torpedo boats were on fire. Two destroyers were in danger and one cruiser and one destroyer had been sunk, he reported. The Stefani semi-official bureau reports from Naples that accounts of the harbor fire have been greatly exaggerated and that no material damage was done. It adds that the conflagration was without any military significance.

'Wedding Gift' Fund for Blind Richer by $5,000

Miss Holt Receives Anonymous Contribution for Relief of French Veterans

The plea of Miss Winifred Holt, social service worker, for gifts of money to apply to a fund for blind French soldiers, instead of the customary wedding gifts she might expect on the occasion her marriage on November 16 to Rufus Graves Mather, resulted in the receipt yesterday of an anonymous contribution of $5,000. Miss Holt, daughter of Henry Holt, of 44 East Seventy-eighth Street, is the dominant figure in the drive for $500,000 to enable the Paris Lighthouse, founded during the war by Miss Holt for France's blinded soldiers, to continue its work. Unless money is raised for the purchase of the building it must be vacated by December 15. Miss Holt returned from Washington yesterday, where she saw President Harding and received his pledge of patronage. Friends of Miss Holt who are conducting the movement as a tribute to her efforts in behalf of the blind include Mrs. Cooper Hewitt, of New York, and Mrs. William Wood Bliss, of Washington.

Annapolis Hazing Trial In Hands of Judges

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 11.—Arguments in the court martial of Midshipmen John P. Gilmer, of San Diego, Cal., a member of the first class, on charges of hazing, were completed at the Naval Academy to-day and the case was taken under consideration by the court. Six incidents were specified. Judge Advocate Murphy urged a verdict of guilty on all six specifications. Three of these alleged improper questioning of Midshipman James G. Bonifant, one that Gilmer had compelled Bonifant and three other "plebes" to take part in a "pie race," and two others that he had obliged Carl Biederman and Grant Ethelredge, of the fourth class, to perform physical exercises. The judge advocates declared all the allegations were established by the evidence. Counsel for Gilmer, Major Henry Leonard, argued that the evidence had failed to establish material points as to all the specifications.
