

The Sun

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1870.

Advertisements - Terms of Sale - The Sun - Published daily except on Sundays and public holidays.

The Isolation of France.

France, in her hour of distress, looks in vain for allies against Germany. The prevailing indifference of the European powers to the overthrow of a great nation like France is one of the saddest phenomena of history.

One of the President's Pets.

Capt. THOMAS H. STEVENS, the officer in command of the United States mace-of-war Guerrier, who lately ran his ship ashore off the coast of Massachusetts at noonday, while bringing the remains of Admiral FARRAGUT to this port, has seen fit to prohibit the reading of THE SUN by his subordinate officers and men, because it exposed his incompetency and tyranny.

Another Usurpation by the President.

President GRANT has given orders, through the Department of the Interior, to have a new census taken immediately after the election of the inhabitants of the city and county of New York. This supplementary census is to extend only to an enumeration of the population, with the particulars of age, sex, and color, and will not include the remaining statistics, which the regular census was instituted to ascertain.

The Man with a Passport.

Mr. Tolson, who dropped in in his shirt sleeves, had evidently availed himself of a few leisure moments in his working hours to devote to this important matter. Upon being asked to produce his passport, he drew from his pocket a mammoth certificate, signed by James H. Smith, the registrar, and which was held by the inspectors that a passport was not satisfactory proof of American citizenship.

The Effect of One of O'Hall's Circulars.

Many foreign-born citizens exhibited their ignorance of the provisions of the Registry law. Some of them had received the circulars, but they believed that it was their duty to call and register again. Upon being told that repeating had already been done, they were very much surprised.

How is it with citizens of Irish birth and of Irish origin in the Fourth Congressional District?

They are for McMAHON, the noble-hearted young American of their own kindred, or are they for ROBERT B. ROOSEVELT? Mr. Roosevelt has said that in some parts of the city the Irish are superabundant. We should not wonder if they are in the Fourth District, and decide by their votes that MARTIN T. McMAHON shall represent that district in Congress.

Will the Germans of the Fourth District vote for ROBERT B. ROOSEVELT?

He has a great contempt for Germans of the lower order, and can "select the most thoroughly Teutonic by the superior pugnacity of the odor." After that let any German vote for him, and say that he knows the feeling of his respect if he can.

The King of the Belgians is subjected to considerable embarrassment by the plots of the Princess METTENICHI in Brussels, and it is probable that the Princess MATRITA, and the other ladies of the defunct Emperor will soon be politely requested to stand upon the order of their going, but to go at once.

Gen. MARTIN T. McMAHON was yesterday absent from the city fulfilling an old engagement to address the citizens of Orange county in behalf of Col. W. C. W. SHERMAN, the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Eleventh District.

Mr. Roosevelt's Sneers at the Germans, Irish, and Jews.

We are not surprised to learn that the publication in THE SUN yesterday of Mr. Roosevelt's sentiments respecting the Germans, Jews, and "superabundant Irish," of the lower orders, has produced a deep impression upon the voters of the Fourth District.

The New York, London, and Hartford Publishing Company are about to produce a very handsome work to be called "Men of Progress."

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

caped being shot. DE MEULEN was, however, cashiered, and left Alaska and the army at the same time.

Lieut. ERWIN SEELYE, Fourth Artillery, born in Pennsylvania and appointed from the army, became so hopelessly involved financially while acting as commissary and quartermaster at Fort Washington, Maryland, that his affairs could only be straightened out by trying him for making false returns and statements, cashiering him, and publishing his crime in the newspapers of Ohio and the District of Columbia.

These are a few samples, taken at random; but they prove the earnestness with which the authorities are at work purifying the army. The public must not hastily and adversely judge of the service that has so long held these men unpunished, but rather rest assured that those who are left are worthy of confidence; nor is the time now far distant when the uniform of the officer will be, as of old, the unmistakable proof that its wearer is a gentleman.

One of the President's Pets.

Capt. THOMAS H. STEVENS, the officer in command of the United States mace-of-war Guerrier, who lately ran his ship ashore off the coast of Massachusetts at noonday, while bringing the remains of Admiral FARRAGUT to this port, has seen fit to prohibit the reading of THE SUN by his subordinate officers and men, because it exposed his incompetency and tyranny.

Another Usurpation by the President.

President GRANT has given orders, through the Department of the Interior, to have a new census taken immediately after the election of the inhabitants of the city and county of New York. This supplementary census is to extend only to an enumeration of the population, with the particulars of age, sex, and color, and will not include the remaining statistics, which the regular census was instituted to ascertain.

The Man with a Passport.

Mr. Tolson, who dropped in in his shirt sleeves, had evidently availed himself of a few leisure moments in his working hours to devote to this important matter. Upon being asked to produce his passport, he drew from his pocket a mammoth certificate, signed by James H. Smith, the registrar, and which was held by the inspectors that a passport was not satisfactory proof of American citizenship.

The Effect of One of O'Hall's Circulars.

Many foreign-born citizens exhibited their ignorance of the provisions of the Registry law. Some of them had received the circulars, but they believed that it was their duty to call and register again. Upon being told that repeating had already been done, they were very much surprised.

How is it with citizens of Irish birth and of Irish origin in the Fourth Congressional District?

They are for McMAHON, the noble-hearted young American of their own kindred, or are they for ROBERT B. ROOSEVELT? Mr. Roosevelt has said that in some parts of the city the Irish are superabundant. We should not wonder if they are in the Fourth District, and decide by their votes that MARTIN T. McMAHON shall represent that district in Congress.

Will the Germans of the Fourth District vote for ROBERT B. ROOSEVELT?

He has a great contempt for Germans of the lower order, and can "select the most thoroughly Teutonic by the superior pugnacity of the odor." After that let any German vote for him, and say that he knows the feeling of his respect if he can.

The King of the Belgians is subjected to considerable embarrassment by the plots of the Princess METTENICHI in Brussels, and it is probable that the Princess MATRITA, and the other ladies of the defunct Emperor will soon be politely requested to stand upon the order of their going, but to go at once.

Gen. MARTIN T. McMAHON was yesterday absent from the city fulfilling an old engagement to address the citizens of Orange county in behalf of Col. W. C. W. SHERMAN, the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Eleventh District.

Mr. Roosevelt's Sneers at the Germans, Irish, and Jews.

We are not surprised to learn that the publication in THE SUN yesterday of Mr. Roosevelt's sentiments respecting the Germans, Jews, and "superabundant Irish," of the lower orders, has produced a deep impression upon the voters of the Fourth District.

The New York, London, and Hartford Publishing Company are about to produce a very handsome work to be called "Men of Progress."

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

dumb cattle, to give their suffrages to one who degrades their race with such foul impudences. No Irishman can be other than indignant at a candidate pretending to be a Democrat who attributes to the Irish "a cross of the Jewish and Teutonic reptiles."

Seriously, do the managers of Tammany suppose that the people of the Fourth District—the hard-working, manly Germans, Irishmen, and Hebrews—men endowed with all the rights of American citizens, and entitled to the respect due to honesty, integrity, and a faithful performance of every duty—will go to the polls at their order, and deposit ballots bearing the name of ROBERT B. ROOSEVELT? It is true that Mr. ROOSEVELT is a member of the ancient aristocracy of New York. He has been born here. He was born rich. He has long controlled one of the factions of the Democratic party hostile to Tammany; and now he has made his peace with Tammany; and he is a candidate for Congress. But if, after he has thus insulted the working Democrats of this city by uttering his high-born sneers against the Irish, the Germans, and the Jews—if, after that, any member of either of these classes, or any workman of any class, shall give him his vote, that man will himself merit all the scorn, all the contempt, and all the contumely that any aristocrat can feel or express for those who live by their labor, and are not descended from old families.

Another Usurpation by the President.

President GRANT has given orders, through the Department of the Interior, to have a new census taken immediately after the election of the inhabitants of the city and county of New York. This supplementary census is to extend only to an enumeration of the population, with the particulars of age, sex, and color, and will not include the remaining statistics, which the regular census was instituted to ascertain.

The Man with a Passport.

Mr. Tolson, who dropped in in his shirt sleeves, had evidently availed himself of a few leisure moments in his working hours to devote to this important matter. Upon being asked to produce his passport, he drew from his pocket a mammoth certificate, signed by James H. Smith, the registrar, and which was held by the inspectors that a passport was not satisfactory proof of American citizenship.

The Effect of One of O'Hall's Circulars.

Many foreign-born citizens exhibited their ignorance of the provisions of the Registry law. Some of them had received the circulars, but they believed that it was their duty to call and register again. Upon being told that repeating had already been done, they were very much surprised.

How is it with citizens of Irish birth and of Irish origin in the Fourth Congressional District?

They are for McMAHON, the noble-hearted young American of their own kindred, or are they for ROBERT B. ROOSEVELT? Mr. Roosevelt has said that in some parts of the city the Irish are superabundant. We should not wonder if they are in the Fourth District, and decide by their votes that MARTIN T. McMAHON shall represent that district in Congress.

Will the Germans of the Fourth District vote for ROBERT B. ROOSEVELT?

He has a great contempt for Germans of the lower order, and can "select the most thoroughly Teutonic by the superior pugnacity of the odor." After that let any German vote for him, and say that he knows the feeling of his respect if he can.

The King of the Belgians is subjected to considerable embarrassment by the plots of the Princess METTENICHI in Brussels, and it is probable that the Princess MATRITA, and the other ladies of the defunct Emperor will soon be politely requested to stand upon the order of their going, but to go at once.

Gen. MARTIN T. McMAHON was yesterday absent from the city fulfilling an old engagement to address the citizens of Orange county in behalf of Col. W. C. W. SHERMAN, the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Eleventh District.

Mr. Roosevelt's Sneers at the Germans, Irish, and Jews.

We are not surprised to learn that the publication in THE SUN yesterday of Mr. Roosevelt's sentiments respecting the Germans, Jews, and "superabundant Irish," of the lower orders, has produced a deep impression upon the voters of the Fourth District.

The New York, London, and Hartford Publishing Company are about to produce a very handsome work to be called "Men of Progress."

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

great felicity and wide experience. For a long time he was one of the most brilliant ornaments of the newspaper press in the western part of this State. More recently he has been residing in Connecticut. But if the Democratic party of New York were wise, they would invite him to return here, and put him in charge of some one of their leading journals.

The most popular man running for office on the Tammany county ticket is CHARLES E. LOWE. He is an able and efficient County Clerk, and will receive the support of many Republicans. It is believed that he will lead the Tammany ticket in this city thousands of votes.

Another Usurpation by the President.

President GRANT has given orders, through the Department of the Interior, to have a new census taken immediately after the election of the inhabitants of the city and county of New York. This supplementary census is to extend only to an enumeration of the population, with the particulars of age, sex, and color, and will not include the remaining statistics, which the regular census was instituted to ascertain.

The Man with a Passport.

Mr. Tolson, who dropped in in his shirt sleeves, had evidently availed himself of a few leisure moments in his working hours to devote to this important matter. Upon being asked to produce his passport, he drew from his pocket a mammoth certificate, signed by James H. Smith, the registrar, and which was held by the inspectors that a passport was not satisfactory proof of American citizenship.

The Effect of One of O'Hall's Circulars.

Many foreign-born citizens exhibited their ignorance of the provisions of the Registry law. Some of them had received the circulars, but they believed that it was their duty to call and register again. Upon being told that repeating had already been done, they were very much surprised.

How is it with citizens of Irish birth and of Irish origin in the Fourth Congressional District?

They are for McMAHON, the noble-hearted young American of their own kindred, or are they for ROBERT B. ROOSEVELT? Mr. Roosevelt has said that in some parts of the city the Irish are superabundant. We should not wonder if they are in the Fourth District, and decide by their votes that MARTIN T. McMAHON shall represent that district in Congress.

Will the Germans of the Fourth District vote for ROBERT B. ROOSEVELT?

He has a great contempt for Germans of the lower order, and can "select the most thoroughly Teutonic by the superior pugnacity of the odor." After that let any German vote for him, and say that he knows the feeling of his respect if he can.

The King of the Belgians is subjected to considerable embarrassment by the plots of the Princess METTENICHI in Brussels, and it is probable that the Princess MATRITA, and the other ladies of the defunct Emperor will soon be politely requested to stand upon the order of their going, but to go at once.

Gen. MARTIN T. McMAHON was yesterday absent from the city fulfilling an old engagement to address the citizens of Orange county in behalf of Col. W. C. W. SHERMAN, the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Eleventh District.

Mr. Roosevelt's Sneers at the Germans, Irish, and Jews.

We are not surprised to learn that the publication in THE SUN yesterday of Mr. Roosevelt's sentiments respecting the Germans, Jews, and "superabundant Irish," of the lower orders, has produced a deep impression upon the voters of the Fourth District.

The New York, London, and Hartford Publishing Company are about to produce a very handsome work to be called "Men of Progress."

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

PREPARING FOR ELECTION.

A DAX IN A SIXTH WARD REGISTRATION OFFICE. A Rally as a Republican Supervisor—An Inventor's Treatise—Hamilton Fish's Order—Effect of the Mayor's Circular—A Veteran Registerer.

The place designated for the registration of the legal voters of the Second Election District of the Sixth Ward is at 429 Pearl street. Of the twenty-five districts into which the ward has been divided, this district is the most populous. Over 500 votes were cast here at the election for Aldermen and Assistant Aldermen last May. Its boundaries are the north side of Chambers street, the east side of Centre street, the south side of Pearl street, and the west side of Chatham street, taking all of the blocks between each portion of Duane, Bond, and Park streets as lie within the above boundaries. The inspectors of election are Messrs. Joseph H. Connolly, Peter H. Keelan, and William H. Connolly. The first named are Democrats, and Mr. Keelan is a Republican. Judge Woodruff's supervisors are Messrs. Michael Costello and John J. McLaughlin. The Republican party is represented by the latter the Young Democracy. The registry was opened on Oct. 18, when 245 electors had their names duly recorded. At 9 o'clock yesterday morning the registration was again resumed, and continued until 9 o'clock last evening.

THE REGISTERER'S DUTY.

During the registration yesterday, Costello's interrogations to the voters were for the most part preferred in a ruffianly spirit, and savored of the bully. His insulting demeanor toward many adopted citizens, well known as old residents in the district, was everywhere remarked. He frequently asked, and proved conclusively his utter unfitness for his position. The three inspectors performed their duty in a gentlemanly manner, and whenever a complicated question came up, neither attempted to bully nor to brow beat the voter, but referred the matter to the real seal of Judge Woodruff's Court. In many instances, in the expressive language of a well known Republican, the registerer was "knocked in the head" by the swag and insolence of this man.

A REPUBLICAN BULLY.

Early in the day among those who presented themselves for registration was one upon whose brow was stamped the unmistakable features of the bully. He was a man of middle age, and of the fifth, and his dress indicated anything but the respectability of a citizen. He was asked to produce his passport, and he drew from his pocket a mammoth certificate, signed by James H. Smith, the registrar, and which was held by the inspectors that a passport was not satisfactory proof of American citizenship.

THE EFFECT OF ONE OF O'HALL'S CIRCULARS.

Many foreign-born citizens exhibited their ignorance of the provisions of the Registry law. Some of them had received the circulars, but they believed that it was their duty to call and register again. Upon being told that repeating had already been done, they were very much surprised.

How is it with citizens of Irish birth and of Irish origin in the Fourth Congressional District?

They are for McMAHON, the noble-hearted young American of their own kindred, or are they for ROBERT B. ROOSEVELT? Mr. Roosevelt has said that in some parts of the city the Irish are superabundant. We should not wonder if they are in the Fourth District, and decide by their votes that MARTIN T. McMAHON shall represent that district in Congress.

Will the Germans of the Fourth District vote for ROBERT B. ROOSEVELT?

He has a great contempt for Germans of the lower order, and can "select the most thoroughly Teutonic by the superior pugnacity of the odor." After that let any German vote for him, and say that he knows the feeling of his respect if he can.

The King of the Belgians is subjected to considerable embarrassment by the plots of the Princess METTENICHI in Brussels, and it is probable that the Princess MATRITA, and the other ladies of the defunct Emperor will soon be politely requested to stand upon the order of their going, but to go at once.

Gen. MARTIN T. McMAHON was yesterday absent from the city fulfilling an old engagement to address the citizens of Orange county in behalf of Col. W. C. W. SHERMAN, the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Eleventh District.

Mr. Roosevelt's Sneers at the Germans, Irish, and Jews.

We are not surprised to learn that the publication in THE SUN yesterday of Mr. Roosevelt's sentiments respecting the Germans, Jews, and "superabundant Irish," of the lower orders, has produced a deep impression upon the voters of the Fourth District.

The New York, London, and Hartford Publishing Company are about to produce a very handsome work to be called "Men of Progress."

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.

There may be those who are foolish enough to imagine that because Mr. Roosevelt has spoken with the greatest contempt of Germans, Irishmen, and Jews, he may congratulate himself with some Americans who are foolish enough to share his absurd and aristocratic prejudices.