

THURSDAY, MARCH 29, 1883.

- Announcements Today.
Big Bed on Wisconsin—Crom.
North's the 1st—Kerr to take to work.

How to Clear the Way for an Early Adjournment.

The Democrats in the Legislature have for some time had the subject of final adjournment under consideration. Those members who are possessed of any wisdom perceive that an early adjournment is not desirable for its own sake, but only after all the questions upon which legislative action is demanded by the public interests have been adequately discussed and correctly decided.

They should check the further introduction of bad bills on their side, and they should at once take up and defeat the bad bills already introduced. It is only in this way that the Legislature can clear the way for an early adjournment.

Incitements to Conspiracy and Murder. The vast majority of the American people regard with loathing and horror the encouragement given to the commission of crime in Ireland by the newspaper conducted by O'Donovan Rossa in the most detestable manner.

Instead of detestation, and neither the British Government nor the American people can afford to have the organizers or the enablers of conspiracy and murder regarded with any other sentiments than the abhorrence which they deserve.

The Spoils of Office. A few days since, Major THOMAS C. II. SMITH, paymaster in the army, was by operation of law placed on the retired list and ordered to proceed to his home.

Major SMITH was appointed to his position less than five years ago, from Ohio, by HATHORP & HAYES, the fraudulent President. He was not then connected with the army, but was selected from civil life.

It is only just to say that Major SMITH had greater claims, so far as his military record was concerned, upon the place that was offered to him, than several of the later appointees of the pay corps. Early in the civil war he served as Lieutenant-Colonel of an Ohio cavalry regiment, and was afterward made a Brigadier-General of volunteers.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

Possibly in the course of time it will occur to the Fire Commission that the wide distribution of fire alarm keys has proved a costly thing to the city. Keys are being distributed with frequency here, and it is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Who will Lead the Minority? It is worth noting that the list of Republicans elected to the Forty-eighth House includes few names well known to the country. Where will the minority find the strong leader that it needs? In KASSON of Iowa, in TOM REED of Maine, in HISCOCK of New York, in WILLIAM PITT KELLOGG of Louisiana, or in WILLIAM WALTER PERKINS of New Jersey, lately Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to Austria-Hungary?

What an interesting event was the sudden and unexpected disappearance on the floor of the House of the Hon. JAMES G. BLAINE, his visor down, and his white plumes dancing in the breeze! Stranger things have happened in politics. It is true that Brother BLAINE has no seat in the present House. But the Representatives from Maine were all elected at large, and who can doubt that either SETH L. MITCHELL or CHARLES A. BISHOP would cheerfully resign in favor of him, who for the chief and vice of her party in the House a bold, aloft, and experienced leader?

A Miserable Outcast. Many people may think that DUKES, the murderer of Capt. NUTT and the seducer of his daughter, finds himself worse off after his acquittal for murder than if the jury had brought in a verdict of guilty.

At the next session of the Senate the motion to reconsider the rejected convention will be the first business in order. It is probable that the motion will be immediately considered in a full Senate, and with the new accessions to that body. It is probable that the influence which operated at the close of the recent session will be as powerful next December as they were a few weeks ago.

The Happy Democrats in Ohio. In eleven years I have never seen the Ohio Democracy more hopeful, more united, more harmonious. There are no factions. There is a good natured rivalry between Judge Hoag, Judge Geddes, and Gen. Durbin for Governor, but there is no bitterness. The feeling is that whoever is nominated can be elected.

A Young Woman to Be an Editor. Miss Annie Dawes, daughter of the Massachusetts Senator, will, it is said, accept a position in the editorial staff of the Boston Herald. She is a young woman of unusual talents, and her presence on the staff will be a great acquisition.

To Become an Episcopalian. The Rev. Lincoln Parker, pastor of the Sixty-third Street Church, New York, has been elected to the New York State Conference of the approaching year. He is a young man of great promise, and his election is a great honor to the Episcopal Church.

and sink into obscurity. But this man, in his defence against the charge of murder, attempted to shift the responsibility of the original crime upon the shoulders of the unfortunate woman. This is what has roused the minds of his fellow citizens to a rage against his crimes somewhat commensurate with his hideousness. Such a man can have no sympathy, nor does he deserve any, although many another man equally villainous escapes such a fate.

The Vacancy in the Cabinet. Somebody at Washington has conceived the idea that GEORGE M. ROBINSON of New Jersey may be appointed Postmaster-General.

There is reason to believe that President ARTHUR has views in regard to that office which render the appointment of Mr. ROBINSON impossible. His selection of Senator HOWE for the place, at the outset of his administration, indicates that the President regards it as essential that the Postmaster-General should be a man of high personal integrity.

Mr. BENJAMIN BUTTERWORTH of Cincinnati, lately one of the ornaments of the Bobsonian majority in the Forty-seventh Congress, but now removed to another sphere of usefulness by the vote of his constituents, is named as one of the two dozen or more candidates for the vacant place in the Cabinet.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

Business men claim that a reduction of 43.3 per cent in the tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

use or misuse. The auction scheme seems to have been hit upon as the fairest method of settling the difficulty, although this has the disadvantage of sometimes being a very unprofitable one. The decision of the auctioneer's fee and the expense of carting and storage.

The present year marks the four hundredth anniversary of the birth of at least two renowned men. That of BARNABE's birth was commemorated yesterday at Rome, a bronze bust of him being unveiled at his tomb. Later in the year, Nov. 10, comes the quadri-centenary of MARTIN LUTHER's birth; and it is already certain that this event will be celebrated in several cities of America, a leading ceremonial being the erection at Washington of a bronze statue of that great theologian, which is to be an exact counterpart of the one at Worms. Centennial celebrations of the birthdays of great men will also not be wanting this year, WASHINGTON IRVING's occurring next Tuesday.

The Malagasy envoys have found practical employment in this country, even though the treaty was ratified before their arrival. They are now engaged in the various enterprises stirring up sympathy for their island on account of its threatened invasion by France. In Washington the pastors of various denominations gave them a vote of friendly feeling, with protests against French interference. Plymouth Church in Brooklyn has done the same. No doubt Madagascar excites the pity that is usually felt for a weak country measuring itself against a strong one. There is a missionary feature, too, in the matter that appeals to many. The foreign tongue in which the ambassadors speak is also, as usual, a great attraction for the church-goers, though the effect may perhaps be estimated more as a victory attained than as a triumph.

Mr. BENJAMIN BUTTERWORTH of Cincinnati, lately one of the ornaments of the Bobsonian majority in the Forty-seventh Congress, but now removed to another sphere of usefulness by the vote of his constituents, is named as one of the two dozen or more candidates for the vacant place in the Cabinet.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

Business men claim that a reduction of 43.3 per cent in the tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

use or misuse. The auction scheme seems to have been hit upon as the fairest method of settling the difficulty, although this has the disadvantage of sometimes being a very unprofitable one. The decision of the auctioneer's fee and the expense of carting and storage.

The present year marks the four hundredth anniversary of the birth of at least two renowned men. That of BARNABE's birth was commemorated yesterday at Rome, a bronze bust of him being unveiled at his tomb. Later in the year, Nov. 10, comes the quadri-centenary of MARTIN LUTHER's birth; and it is already certain that this event will be celebrated in several cities of America, a leading ceremonial being the erection at Washington of a bronze statue of that great theologian, which is to be an exact counterpart of the one at Worms. Centennial celebrations of the birthdays of great men will also not be wanting this year, WASHINGTON IRVING's occurring next Tuesday.

The Malagasy envoys have found practical employment in this country, even though the treaty was ratified before their arrival. They are now engaged in the various enterprises stirring up sympathy for their island on account of its threatened invasion by France. In Washington the pastors of various denominations gave them a vote of friendly feeling, with protests against French interference. Plymouth Church in Brooklyn has done the same. No doubt Madagascar excites the pity that is usually felt for a weak country measuring itself against a strong one. There is a missionary feature, too, in the matter that appeals to many. The foreign tongue in which the ambassadors speak is also, as usual, a great attraction for the church-goers, though the effect may perhaps be estimated more as a victory attained than as a triumph.

Mr. BENJAMIN BUTTERWORTH of Cincinnati, lately one of the ornaments of the Bobsonian majority in the Forty-seventh Congress, but now removed to another sphere of usefulness by the vote of his constituents, is named as one of the two dozen or more candidates for the vacant place in the Cabinet.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

Business men claim that a reduction of 43.3 per cent in the tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

use or misuse. The auction scheme seems to have been hit upon as the fairest method of settling the difficulty, although this has the disadvantage of sometimes being a very unprofitable one. The decision of the auctioneer's fee and the expense of carting and storage.

The present year marks the four hundredth anniversary of the birth of at least two renowned men. That of BARNABE's birth was commemorated yesterday at Rome, a bronze bust of him being unveiled at his tomb. Later in the year, Nov. 10, comes the quadri-centenary of MARTIN LUTHER's birth; and it is already certain that this event will be celebrated in several cities of America, a leading ceremonial being the erection at Washington of a bronze statue of that great theologian, which is to be an exact counterpart of the one at Worms. Centennial celebrations of the birthdays of great men will also not be wanting this year, WASHINGTON IRVING's occurring next Tuesday.

The Malagasy envoys have found practical employment in this country, even though the treaty was ratified before their arrival. They are now engaged in the various enterprises stirring up sympathy for their island on account of its threatened invasion by France. In Washington the pastors of various denominations gave them a vote of friendly feeling, with protests against French interference. Plymouth Church in Brooklyn has done the same. No doubt Madagascar excites the pity that is usually felt for a weak country measuring itself against a strong one. There is a missionary feature, too, in the matter that appeals to many. The foreign tongue in which the ambassadors speak is also, as usual, a great attraction for the church-goers, though the effect may perhaps be estimated more as a victory attained than as a triumph.

Mr. BENJAMIN BUTTERWORTH of Cincinnati, lately one of the ornaments of the Bobsonian majority in the Forty-seventh Congress, but now removed to another sphere of usefulness by the vote of his constituents, is named as one of the two dozen or more candidates for the vacant place in the Cabinet.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

Business men claim that a reduction of 43.3 per cent in the tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

use or misuse. The auction scheme seems to have been hit upon as the fairest method of settling the difficulty, although this has the disadvantage of sometimes being a very unprofitable one. The decision of the auctioneer's fee and the expense of carting and storage.

The present year marks the four hundredth anniversary of the birth of at least two renowned men. That of BARNABE's birth was commemorated yesterday at Rome, a bronze bust of him being unveiled at his tomb. Later in the year, Nov. 10, comes the quadri-centenary of MARTIN LUTHER's birth; and it is already certain that this event will be celebrated in several cities of America, a leading ceremonial being the erection at Washington of a bronze statue of that great theologian, which is to be an exact counterpart of the one at Worms. Centennial celebrations of the birthdays of great men will also not be wanting this year, WASHINGTON IRVING's occurring next Tuesday.

The Malagasy envoys have found practical employment in this country, even though the treaty was ratified before their arrival. They are now engaged in the various enterprises stirring up sympathy for their island on account of its threatened invasion by France. In Washington the pastors of various denominations gave them a vote of friendly feeling, with protests against French interference. Plymouth Church in Brooklyn has done the same. No doubt Madagascar excites the pity that is usually felt for a weak country measuring itself against a strong one. There is a missionary feature, too, in the matter that appeals to many. The foreign tongue in which the ambassadors speak is also, as usual, a great attraction for the church-goers, though the effect may perhaps be estimated more as a victory attained than as a triumph.

Mr. BENJAMIN BUTTERWORTH of Cincinnati, lately one of the ornaments of the Bobsonian majority in the Forty-seventh Congress, but now removed to another sphere of usefulness by the vote of his constituents, is named as one of the two dozen or more candidates for the vacant place in the Cabinet.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

Business men claim that a reduction of 43.3 per cent in the tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost. The tariff on raw cotton will be a great benefit to the country. It is not unlikely that many of them will be lost.

Mr. LESLIE, the manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, says he will advise that all the wires that company be laid under ground in cities. It will cost more at the start, he avers, but in the end will prove more economical, as well as more convenient.

use or misuse. The auction scheme seems to have been hit upon as the fairest method of settling the difficulty, although this has the disadvantage of sometimes being a very unprofitable one. The decision of the auctioneer's fee and the expense of carting and storage.

The present year marks the four hundredth anniversary of the birth of at least two renowned men. That of BARNABE's birth was commemorated yesterday at Rome, a bronze bust of him being unveiled at his tomb. Later in the year, Nov. 10, comes the quadri-centenary of MARTIN LUTHER's birth; and it is already certain that this event will be celebrated in several cities of America, a leading ceremonial being the erection at Washington of a bronze statue of that great theologian, which is to be an exact counterpart of the one at Worms. Centennial celebrations of the birthdays of