

The Sun

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 18, 1883.

- Announcements To-Day. Academy of Music... Boston Opera House... Madison Square Garden...

Harmonious Principles. I. Let the tariff be for revenue. It will then be protective also. II. Let the revenue tariff be the only source of revenue.

A Perpetual Census. Gen. WALKER writes to a Boston newspaper that he fully nine-tenths of the work on the census of 1880 will be finished by the first of next July.

The Last Winning Issue. At the banquet of the Iroquois Club at Chicago last week, Mr. EVERETT P. WHEELER of this city made the remarkable statement that the Democratic party must definitely commit itself to the policy of free trade if it wishes to carry the State of New York in the next Presidential election.

The Program of English Radicals. In the last number of the Fortnightly Review the immediate intentions and ultimate aims of the English Radicals are discussed by Mr. HENRY LABOUCHERE, who may himself be described as a thorough-going Democrat.

The Troubles in Hayti. Although the Haytian legation in Paris has just denied the truth of the report that Mirango has succumbed to the insurgents, this report has been repeated by the press.

Calvin Not a Candidate. TO THE EDITOR OF THIS SUN.—Sir: In this morning's Sun I read a notice of a candidate for the office of Mayor of New York.

The Great-Souled Villain. CHICAGO, April 15.—Regarding a possible candidate for the Vice Presidency, it is heard that a certain gentleman has been named.

Let Us Have It at Once. From the Kansas City Times. Who, then, is the man for the Democrats to put in for President next year, and with whose name can they win? The Times will mention it hereafter.

candidate, with the assurance that every Radical elector will vote against him unless the answers are satisfactory. Among the important reforms whose accomplishment the English Democracy will demand from the next House of Commons are said to be the following:—It being taken for granted that the present Parliament will keep its promise to give votes to agricultural laborers.

Putting Off Pay Day. In 1882 the Legislature passed an act to improve the condition of the streets and avenues in the city of Brooklyn. It authorized the Commissioner of City Works to spend $200,000 in repairing and repaving streets.

The President has now set his face northward. It was evident, when he began his tour of the United States, that he was not to be a man of the people, but a man of the State.

Queen VICTORIA left Windsor for Osborne yesterday, and though an invalid and cripple, there was so much fear that some attack might be made on her that her route was thickly lined with police and troops.

The brutal and perhaps fatal poisoning of a female school teacher by a boy 15 years old—a case which has excited the public mind in the city of Washington—was the result of a quarrel between the two parties.

The HAGERTY Receivership bill, which was passed by the State Senate yesterday, is based upon the suggestions originally made by this Sun last year, when the laws relating to winding up insolvent corporations first attracted such general attention.

According to the Glago-Democrat, Capt. Eads says that his Tenthante ship railway has not been abandoned, but on the contrary, will be pushed vigorously. Capt. Eads's withdrawal from the project was a mere tactical move.

Police-men who have rough customers to handle, and who are often called upon to deal with unruly and disorderly persons, are not to be despised.

Chicago seems determined to settle the telegraph pole nuisance with Western celerity. The City Council on Monday night directed the Mayor to enforce the ordinance requiring wires to be put under ground by May 1.

TO THE EDITOR OF THIS SUN.—Sir: In this morning's Sun I read a notice of a candidate for the office of Mayor of New York.

The Great-Souled Villain. CHICAGO, April 15.—Regarding a possible candidate for the Vice Presidency, it is heard that a certain gentleman has been named.

Let Us Have It at Once. From the Kansas City Times. Who, then, is the man for the Democrats to put in for President next year, and with whose name can they win? The Times will mention it hereafter.

race animosities. Bazzaz is a mulatto, and it is alleged that there is bad blood between the mulattoes and the negroes, arising out of SALOMON's discrimination against the former. It is to be hoped that this assertion may prove ill founded, since wars springing from such causes are apt to be fierce and sanguinary.

It depends very much upon what sort of rapid transit follows the proposed opening of the East River Bridge. It is not to be expected that the expenditure will enhance the benefit of the East River Bridge to our sister city.

The President has now set his face northward. It was evident, when he began his tour of the United States, that he was not to be a man of the people, but a man of the State.

Queen VICTORIA left Windsor for Osborne yesterday, and though an invalid and cripple, there was so much fear that some attack might be made on her that her route was thickly lined with police and troops.

The brutal and perhaps fatal poisoning of a female school teacher by a boy 15 years old—a case which has excited the public mind in the city of Washington—was the result of a quarrel between the two parties.

The HAGERTY Receivership bill, which was passed by the State Senate yesterday, is based upon the suggestions originally made by this Sun last year, when the laws relating to winding up insolvent corporations first attracted such general attention.

According to the Glago-Democrat, Capt. Eads says that his Tenthante ship railway has not been abandoned, but on the contrary, will be pushed vigorously. Capt. Eads's withdrawal from the project was a mere tactical move.

Police-men who have rough customers to handle, and who are often called upon to deal with unruly and disorderly persons, are not to be despised.

Chicago seems determined to settle the telegraph pole nuisance with Western celerity. The City Council on Monday night directed the Mayor to enforce the ordinance requiring wires to be put under ground by May 1.

TO THE EDITOR OF THIS SUN.—Sir: In this morning's Sun I read a notice of a candidate for the office of Mayor of New York.

The Great-Souled Villain. CHICAGO, April 15.—Regarding a possible candidate for the Vice Presidency, it is heard that a certain gentleman has been named.

Let Us Have It at Once. From the Kansas City Times. Who, then, is the man for the Democrats to put in for President next year, and with whose name can they win? The Times will mention it hereafter.

THE EGYPTIAN PROBLEM. The difficulties of the Egyptian Lord Dufferin's Staff. CAIRO, March 18.—The phase through which Egypt is just now passing is so bewildering, and the view entertained by those supposed to know the country, in regard to its present condition and future destiny, are so far apart, that the subject hardly bears discussion.

There would be no difficulty in arriving at a satisfactory solution of the Egyptian problem were it not for the British Government. Ever since the British Government has been in power, it has been the policy of the British Government to support the Egyptian Government under the leadership of Arabi, the English Government have used their utmost ingenuity to mismanage it.

The President has now set his face northward. It was evident, when he began his tour of the United States, that he was not to be a man of the people, but a man of the State.

Queen VICTORIA left Windsor for Osborne yesterday, and though an invalid and cripple, there was so much fear that some attack might be made on her that her route was thickly lined with police and troops.

The brutal and perhaps fatal poisoning of a female school teacher by a boy 15 years old—a case which has excited the public mind in the city of Washington—was the result of a quarrel between the two parties.

The HAGERTY Receivership bill, which was passed by the State Senate yesterday, is based upon the suggestions originally made by this Sun last year, when the laws relating to winding up insolvent corporations first attracted such general attention.

According to the Glago-Democrat, Capt. Eads says that his Tenthante ship railway has not been abandoned, but on the contrary, will be pushed vigorously. Capt. Eads's withdrawal from the project was a mere tactical move.

Police-men who have rough customers to handle, and who are often called upon to deal with unruly and disorderly persons, are not to be despised.

Chicago seems determined to settle the telegraph pole nuisance with Western celerity. The City Council on Monday night directed the Mayor to enforce the ordinance requiring wires to be put under ground by May 1.

TO THE EDITOR OF THIS SUN.—Sir: In this morning's Sun I read a notice of a candidate for the office of Mayor of New York.

The Great-Souled Villain. CHICAGO, April 15.—Regarding a possible candidate for the Vice Presidency, it is heard that a certain gentleman has been named.

Let Us Have It at Once. From the Kansas City Times. Who, then, is the man for the Democrats to put in for President next year, and with whose name can they win? The Times will mention it hereafter.

of so much labor and responsibility in a climate which is so trying for many months in the year; and when the touch of the master is no longer felt, it is impossible to say what would be the result. The Government, however, have landed themselves in this difficulty, that the more chaotic they are the more necessary becomes the army of SEVENTEEN CHARGES AGAINST HILL.

A King in his Office Held to Exist for the Purpose of Hurling the Government. WASHINGTON, April 17.—The committee appointed to investigate the charges against Superintendent Hill will hold public sessions beginning on Monday. Assistant Secretary New, who is Chairman of the committee, says they propose making a very thorough investigation. The charges preferred by ex-Representative Mureh are substantially: First—General charges of corruption, fraud, and extravagance against a King in the Architect's office, and against the Treasury of French, British, and other countries.

There would be no difficulty in arriving at a satisfactory solution of the Egyptian problem were it not for the British Government. Ever since the British Government has been in power, it has been the policy of the British Government to support the Egyptian Government under the leadership of Arabi, the English Government have used their utmost ingenuity to mismanage it.

The President has now set his face northward. It was evident, when he began his tour of the United States, that he was not to be a man of the people, but a man of the State.

Queen VICTORIA left Windsor for Osborne yesterday, and though an invalid and cripple, there was so much fear that some attack might be made on her that her route was thickly lined with police and troops.

The brutal and perhaps fatal poisoning of a female school teacher by a boy 15 years old—a case which has excited the public mind in the city of Washington—was the result of a quarrel between the two parties.

The HAGERTY Receivership bill, which was passed by the State Senate yesterday, is based upon the suggestions originally made by this Sun last year, when the laws relating to winding up insolvent corporations first attracted such general attention.

According to the Glago-Democrat, Capt. Eads says that his Tenthante ship railway has not been abandoned, but on the contrary, will be pushed vigorously. Capt. Eads's withdrawal from the project was a mere tactical move.

Police-men who have rough customers to handle, and who are often called upon to deal with unruly and disorderly persons, are not to be despised.

Chicago seems determined to settle the telegraph pole nuisance with Western celerity. The City Council on Monday night directed the Mayor to enforce the ordinance requiring wires to be put under ground by May 1.

TO THE EDITOR OF THIS SUN.—Sir: In this morning's Sun I read a notice of a candidate for the office of Mayor of New York.

The Great-Souled Villain. CHICAGO, April 15.—Regarding a possible candidate for the Vice Presidency, it is heard that a certain gentleman has been named.

Let Us Have It at Once. From the Kansas City Times. Who, then, is the man for the Democrats to put in for President next year, and with whose name can they win? The Times will mention it hereafter.

THE IRISH PORTION OF THE ASHBURHAM LIBRARY is one of the richest collections of books in existence, and the Royal Irish Academy is striving to obtain it. It comprises portions of the original annals of the Four Masters, and the original works which are to the Irish, historically as well as artistically speaking, priceless.

The Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria will this summer take the waters of Carlsbad, and the new spa of Carlsbad will be opened in the month of July. It is expected that he will alter his entire mode of life. The Emperor's plans, however, do not appear any serious result from the Emperor's Palace.

In consequence of the dynamite scare, the Guards have been placed, for the first time in centuries, in protection of the courts of justice. There are two sentries at the entrance to the great hall, and a sentry at the entrance to the court. The Emperor is posted at the corner of Carey Street and Ball's Court, while a third is placed at the door of the guard room at Somerset House.

The death of poor Brown reminds me of a story I saw lately in a London periodical. A landlady, who was a widow, and a landlady in high spirits, was spotted by the street boys, who, as the carriage drove into the street, crying, "Oscar! Oscar!"

M. Martini, the renowned embroiderer, has finished the coronation mantle of the Queen on her nuptial Majesty. It is of gold tissue, strong though delicate, and is of a most beautiful design. The mantle is of the color of the sun, and is embroidered with the arms of the Kingdom over which the Queen reigns.

The military commission now sitting at Versailles is inclined to report favorably on the subject of the Wetterli repeating rifle for a large section of the French army. In the event of this being adopted, a considerable number of rifles will be converted to the system. It is claimed for the Wetterli rifle that it has been tried in twenty seasons.

The Widow of Hummel, the celebrated contralto, who has been blind for many years, is said to have refused Beethoven's offer of a heart seven years ago. Her maiden name was Miss Betty Buckle; she was once a famous actress and singer at Vienna, and among her friends were Goethe, Beethoven, and the Emperor Napoleon.

John Bright, Nonconformist, Quaker, and Radical, attended on the 29th inst. the marriage of his son, Mr. John Bright, with Miss Mary Ann, as pronounced as his father—to a Quaker lady, and the ceremony was celebrated in an Anglican church with a liturgy, by a Broad Church canon of Westminster.

More than one-half of 45,000 children lately examined in Germany were found to be suffering from rickets, and the proportion of the short-sighted was as high as 70 and 80 per cent. In the Heidelberg gymnasium it was 100 per cent, every lad in the school had eye-sight. According to Prof. Hering, the prevalence of rickets arises from insufficiently lighted school-rooms, and from the use of a method of writing in vogue, and ill-contrived desks.

The Prince of Wales's new railway carriage is a marvel of aesthetic design. It is fifty feet long, and contains a saloon, study, two bedrooms, two dressing-rooms, and a bathroom. The carriage is lined with blue and gold silk, and the furniture is upholstered to match. Mirrors are let into the door panels, and the whole suite can be lighted either by candles or by electricity.

A wedding at a village church near Stafford, in England, the officiating clergyman was about to perform the ceremony when, chancing to glance upward, he noticed in the gallery several persons wearing black hats. He immediately addressed them, saying: "Gentlemen, remove your hats. There was no response. The request was repeated again and again, and not being complied with, the clergyman in a great degree ordered the clerk of the church to remove the hats of the offenders. Before he got there a lady in the congregation rose and informed the minister, and laughter, that the persons were ladies wearing gentlemen's hats.

A lady who enjoyed the unique distinction of being the oldest Australian native died at Parramatta on the 30th of January, in the 95th year of her age. When she was born the colony of New South Wales had a population of 100,000, and she was the only one of the first settlers who had remained in the colony. She was established by Gov. Arthur Phillip, and she was the only one of the first settlers who had remained in the colony.

A good deal is said about the probable marriage of Princess Clementine of Belgium and Prince Albert Victor of Wales. The talked-of union, says the London Truth, would have its advantages and its disadvantages. The Princess is a French girl, and the Prince is an Englishman. The Princess is a French girl, and the Prince is an Englishman.

Millions of expectant hearts have throbbled with anxiety for the life of the young Prince of Wales, who was born on the 21st of June, 1864. The Prince was born on the 21st of June, 1864. The Prince was born on the 21st of June, 1864.

The flowering trees and the roses are the glory of the southern springtime. The atmosphere is green, and golden, and pink, and rosy, with the varying bloom of the flowers. The flowers are the glory of the southern springtime.

The roses of Chateaux cannot surpass those of the rose country of the South. Roses white, pink, crimson, yellow, peach, crushed strawberries, red, roses in the garden, roses in the garden, roses in the garden.

My feet cross the large blue and white violets of every spot, while far above the great white caps of the snow-clad mountains, the snow-clad mountains, the snow-clad mountains.

Ex-Gov. Hendricks on the Tariff Question. "I am of the opinion that if the new tariff in the country continues, the tariff will not be a very large item in politics for some time to come. In Indiana there is a strong feeling in favor of a tariff for revenue only.

Let Us Have It at Once. From the Kansas City Times. Who, then, is the man for the Democrats to put in for President next year, and with whose name can they win? The Times will mention it hereafter.

THE IRISH PORTION OF THE ASHBURHAM LIBRARY is one of the richest collections of books in existence, and the Royal Irish Academy is striving to obtain it. It comprises portions of the original annals of the Four Masters, and the original works which are to the Irish, historically as well as artistically speaking, priceless.

The Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria will this summer take the waters of Carlsbad, and the new spa of Carlsbad will be opened in the month of July. It is expected that he will alter his entire mode of life. The Emperor's plans, however, do not appear any serious result from the Emperor's Palace.

In consequence of the dynamite scare, the Guards have been placed, for the first time in centuries, in protection of the courts of justice. There are two sentries at the entrance to the great hall, and a sentry at the entrance to the court. The Emperor is posted at the corner of Carey Street and Ball's Court, while a third is placed at the door of the guard room at Somerset House.

The death of poor Brown reminds me of a story I saw lately in a London periodical. A landlady, who was a widow, and a landlady in high spirits, was spotted by the street boys, who, as the carriage drove into the street, crying, "Oscar! Oscar!"

M. Martini, the renowned embroiderer, has finished the coronation mantle of the Queen on her nuptial Majesty. It is of gold tissue, strong though delicate, and is of a most beautiful design. The mantle is of the color of the sun, and is embroidered with the arms of the Kingdom over which the Queen reigns.

The military commission now sitting at Versailles is inclined to report favorably on the subject of the Wetterli repeating rifle for a large section of the French army. In the event of this being adopted, a considerable number of rifles will be converted to the system. It is claimed for the Wetterli rifle that it has been tried in twenty seasons.

The Widow of Hummel, the celebrated contralto, who has been blind for many years, is said to have refused Beethoven's offer of a heart seven years ago. Her maiden name was Miss Betty Buckle; she was once a famous actress and singer at Vienna, and among her friends were Goethe, Beethoven, and the Emperor Napoleon.

John Bright, Nonconformist, Quaker, and Radical, attended on the 29th inst. the marriage of his son, Mr. John Bright, with Miss Mary Ann, as pronounced as his father—to a Quaker lady, and the ceremony was celebrated in an Anglican church with a liturgy, by a Broad Church canon of Westminster.

More than one-half of 45,000 children lately examined in Germany were found to be suffering from rickets, and the proportion of the short-sighted was as high as 70 and 80 per cent. In the Heidelberg gymnasium it was 100 per cent, every lad in the school had eye-sight. According to Prof. Hering, the prevalence of rickets arises from insufficiently lighted school-rooms, and from the use of a method of writing in vogue, and ill-contrived desks.

The Prince of Wales's new railway carriage is a marvel of aesthetic design. It is fifty feet long, and contains a saloon, study, two bedrooms, two dressing-rooms, and a bathroom. The carriage is lined with blue and gold silk, and the furniture is upholstered to match. Mirrors are let into the door panels, and the whole suite can be lighted either by candles or by electricity.

A wedding at a village church near Stafford, in England, the officiating clergyman was about to perform the ceremony when, chancing to glance upward, he noticed in the gallery several persons wearing black hats. He immediately addressed them, saying: "Gentlemen, remove your hats. There was no response. The request was repeated again and again, and not being complied with, the clergyman in a great degree ordered the clerk of the church to remove the hats of the offenders. Before he got there a lady in the congregation rose and informed the minister, and laughter, that the persons were ladies wearing gentlemen's hats.

A lady who enjoyed the unique distinction of being the oldest Australian native died at Parramatta on the 30th of January, in the 95th year of her age. When she was born the colony of New South Wales had a population of 100,000, and she was the only one of the first settlers who had remained in the colony. She was established by Gov. Arthur Phillip, and she was the only one of the first settlers who had remained in the colony.

A good deal is said about the probable marriage of Princess Clementine of Belgium and Prince Albert Victor of Wales. The talked-of union, says the London Truth, would have its advantages and its disadvantages. The Princess is a French girl, and the Prince is an Englishman. The Princess is a French girl, and the Prince is an Englishman.

Millions of expectant hearts have throbbled with anxiety for the life of the young Prince of Wales, who was born on the 21st of June, 1864. The Prince was born on the 21st of June, 1864. The Prince was born on the 21st of June, 1864.

The flowering trees and the roses are the glory of the southern springtime. The atmosphere is green, and golden, and pink, and rosy, with the varying bloom of the flowers. The flowers are the glory of the southern springtime.

The roses of Chateaux cannot surpass those of the rose country of the South. Roses white, pink, crimson, yellow, peach, crushed strawberries, red, roses in the garden, roses in the garden, roses in the garden.

My feet cross the large blue and white violets of every spot, while far above the great white caps of the snow-clad mountains, the snow-clad mountains, the snow-clad mountains.

Ex-Gov. Hendricks on the Tariff Question. "I am of the opinion that if the new tariff in the country continues, the tariff will not be a very large item in politics for some time to come. In Indiana there is a strong feeling in favor of a tariff for revenue only.

Let Us Have It at Once. From the Kansas City Times. Who, then, is the man for the Democrats to put in for President next year, and with whose name can they win? The Times will mention it hereafter.