

BACK AGAIN FROM BUFFALO

1,400 HOARSE AND SLEEPY DEMOCRATS IN TOWN AGAIN.

Delegate Oliver brings a Black Eye-Delegated... 1,400 Democrats who went to the Buffalo Convention have returned.

The County Democracy train reached the Grand Central at 1:30 A. M. yesterday. The 425 shouters were hoarse than the men who had spent three days cheering for Irving Hall.

Alderman Tom Carroll denied, as soon as he stepped from the train, that he took the boxes of cigars to John C. Hoffman.

Mr. Lawrence DeLanoy, the County Democracy delegate from the Eleventh Assembly district, whose hat fell off as he was coming down the train, was seen to be looking at the boxes.

Mr. DeLanoy's hat was a stovepipe hat, new and glossy. He does not, however, regret its loss, as he has a new one.

Mr. DeLanoy's hat was a stovepipe hat, new and glossy. He does not, however, regret its loss, as he has a new one.

Mr. DeLanoy's hat was a stovepipe hat, new and glossy. He does not, however, regret its loss, as he has a new one.

Mr. DeLanoy's hat was a stovepipe hat, new and glossy. He does not, however, regret its loss, as he has a new one.

Mr. DeLanoy's hat was a stovepipe hat, new and glossy. He does not, however, regret its loss, as he has a new one.

Mr. DeLanoy's hat was a stovepipe hat, new and glossy. He does not, however, regret its loss, as he has a new one.

Mr. DeLanoy's hat was a stovepipe hat, new and glossy. He does not, however, regret its loss, as he has a new one.

TRAIN ROBBERS PUT TO FLIGHT

Killing the Engineer and Wounding the Fireman and Express Messenger.

St. Louis, Sept. 29.—The regular Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe train that left Pueblo, Col., at 2 P. M. on Friday for the East, known as the "Thunderbolt," reached Coolidge, just this side the Colorado line and 470 miles west of Kansas City, at about 1:45 this morning.

After a stop of a shabby five minutes, it pulled out, but before it had got under way again it was stopped by a gang of robbers, who attempted to throw the train. They were cowboys, and totally unfit for the work which they had undertaken.

The first sign of their presence was the sudden appearance of the engine of a man, who brought their revolver to bear on John Hilton, the engineer, and Tom Fogle, the fireman, at the same moment ordered the train to stop.

The robbers, who were about a dozen in number, were dressed in the ordinary clothing of the day, but were armed with revolvers and shotguns.

The robbers, who were about a dozen in number, were dressed in the ordinary clothing of the day, but were armed with revolvers and shotguns.

The robbers, who were about a dozen in number, were dressed in the ordinary clothing of the day, but were armed with revolvers and shotguns.

The robbers, who were about a dozen in number, were dressed in the ordinary clothing of the day, but were armed with revolvers and shotguns.

The robbers, who were about a dozen in number, were dressed in the ordinary clothing of the day, but were armed with revolvers and shotguns.

The robbers, who were about a dozen in number, were dressed in the ordinary clothing of the day, but were armed with revolvers and shotguns.

The robbers, who were about a dozen in number, were dressed in the ordinary clothing of the day, but were armed with revolvers and shotguns.

The robbers, who were about a dozen in number, were dressed in the ordinary clothing of the day, but were armed with revolvers and shotguns.

CAN THE LAW BE ENFORCED?

Shop Cigarmakers to Work Vigorously Against the Tenement Factories.

The new law which prohibits the manufacture of cigars in tenement houses goes into effect to-day, and a meeting of cigarmakers was held last night in Irving Hall to prepare for seeing that it is enforced.

The meeting was called by the Cigarmakers' Progressive Union, and was attended by several thousand men and women who make cigars in shops. There are about 28 tenement house factories in this city employing about 3,800 persons, who make cigars in their homes.

The new law which prohibits the manufacture of cigars in tenement houses goes into effect to-day, and a meeting of cigarmakers was held last night in Irving Hall to prepare for seeing that it is enforced.

The new law which prohibits the manufacture of cigars in tenement houses goes into effect to-day, and a meeting of cigarmakers was held last night in Irving Hall to prepare for seeing that it is enforced.

The new law which prohibits the manufacture of cigars in tenement houses goes into effect to-day, and a meeting of cigarmakers was held last night in Irving Hall to prepare for seeing that it is enforced.

The new law which prohibits the manufacture of cigars in tenement houses goes into effect to-day, and a meeting of cigarmakers was held last night in Irving Hall to prepare for seeing that it is enforced.

The new law which prohibits the manufacture of cigars in tenement houses goes into effect to-day, and a meeting of cigarmakers was held last night in Irving Hall to prepare for seeing that it is enforced.

The new law which prohibits the manufacture of cigars in tenement houses goes into effect to-day, and a meeting of cigarmakers was held last night in Irving Hall to prepare for seeing that it is enforced.

The new law which prohibits the manufacture of cigars in tenement houses goes into effect to-day, and a meeting of cigarmakers was held last night in Irving Hall to prepare for seeing that it is enforced.

The new law which prohibits the manufacture of cigars in tenement houses goes into effect to-day, and a meeting of cigarmakers was held last night in Irving Hall to prepare for seeing that it is enforced.

The new law which prohibits the manufacture of cigars in tenement houses goes into effect to-day, and a meeting of cigarmakers was held last night in Irving Hall to prepare for seeing that it is enforced.

THE ROSE AMBLER VERDICT

A FINDING THAT DRIPPINGTON THE COOKER AND THE DETECTIVE.

Decided that the Girl was Cheated to Death by Some Person Unknown to the Jury, but Suspected to be William Lewis.

STRAFFORD, Sept. 29.—A verdict has been rendered in the Rose Ambler murder case that is heartily condemned by every man in Fairfield county, except William Lewis and the jurymen who signed it. It was made public last afternoon, and it reads as follows:

The jury found that the girl was cheated to death by some person unknown to the jury, but suspected to be William Lewis.

The jury found that the girl was cheated to death by some person unknown to the jury, but suspected to be William Lewis.

The jury found that the girl was cheated to death by some person unknown to the jury, but suspected to be William Lewis.

The jury found that the girl was cheated to death by some person unknown to the jury, but suspected to be William Lewis.

The jury found that the girl was cheated to death by some person unknown to the jury, but suspected to be William Lewis.

The jury found that the girl was cheated to death by some person unknown to the jury, but suspected to be William Lewis.

The jury found that the girl was cheated to death by some person unknown to the jury, but suspected to be William Lewis.

The jury found that the girl was cheated to death by some person unknown to the jury, but suspected to be William Lewis.

The jury found that the girl was cheated to death by some person unknown to the jury, but suspected to be William Lewis.

GOV. BUTLER'S PLAIN TALK

A Rousing Caustic Letter to the Gov. "Don't Let Your Tail Wag the Dog."

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—Some time ago Gov. Butler sent a note to Henry B. Wheelwright, a member of the Board of Health, Lundy and Charity, and Superintendent of Indoor Poor, requesting him to transmit to the Governor certain books and vouchers of his department.

The Governor's reply was made public. He says that the constitution requires that all public Boards shall, once in three months, and at other times when requested by the Governor, deliver to him an account of all goods, stores, and provisions, and of all other things which are under their respective control.

The Governor's reply was made public. He says that the constitution requires that all public Boards shall, once in three months, and at other times when requested by the Governor, deliver to him an account of all goods, stores, and provisions, and of all other things which are under their respective control.

The Governor's reply was made public. He says that the constitution requires that all public Boards shall, once in three months, and at other times when requested by the Governor, deliver to him an account of all goods, stores, and provisions, and of all other things which are under their respective control.

The Governor's reply was made public. He says that the constitution requires that all public Boards shall, once in three months, and at other times when requested by the Governor, deliver to him an account of all goods, stores, and provisions, and of all other things which are under their respective control.

The Governor's reply was made public. He says that the constitution requires that all public Boards shall, once in three months, and at other times when requested by the Governor, deliver to him an account of all goods, stores, and provisions, and of all other things which are under their respective control.

The Governor's reply was made public. He says that the constitution requires that all public Boards shall, once in three months, and at other times when requested by the Governor, deliver to him an account of all goods, stores, and provisions, and of all other things which are under their respective control.

The Governor's reply was made public. He says that the constitution requires that all public Boards shall, once in three months, and at other times when requested by the Governor, deliver to him an account of all goods, stores, and provisions, and of all other things which are under their respective control.

The Governor's reply was made public. He says that the constitution requires that all public Boards shall, once in three months, and at other times when requested by the Governor, deliver to him an account of all goods, stores, and provisions, and of all other things which are under their respective control.

The Governor's reply was made public. He says that the constitution requires that all public Boards shall, once in three months, and at other times when requested by the Governor, deliver to him an account of all goods, stores, and provisions, and of all other things which are under their respective control.

The Governor's reply was made public. He says that the constitution requires that all public Boards shall, once in three months, and at other times when requested by the Governor, deliver to him an account of all goods, stores, and provisions, and of all other things which are under their respective control.

LIEUT. GARLINGTON'S ORDERS

Not Told to Land Crews on Littleton Island—Greely's Charges.

The United States steamer Yantic arrived in port from St. Johns, Newfoundland, yesterday noon. She had on board Lieut. E. A. Garlington, Lieut. J. C. Colwell, Surgeon J. S. Harrison, eight enlisted men, and Rover, a large Newfoundland dog, all from the wreck of the Greatly reduced steamer Proteus.

Lieut. Garlington, when asked why he did not land on Littleton Island and prepare quarters for the crew of the Proteus, replied: "My orders were all published before I left the United States. I don't know what is meant by the statement that I was ordered to land on Littleton Island. I must wait till I see the department before I express my views."

Lieut. Garlington added that he should go to Littleton Island with his party to-night, and that his report would be ready in two or three days. He is ready to shoulder all the responsibility that belongs to him, and that he is sure he did not make any mistake.

Lieut. Garlington's statement concerning the mistake of the Captain of the Proteus, who was ordered to land on Littleton Island, was a very interesting one. He said that he thought Lieut. Greely's charges were unfounded, and that he was sure he did not make any mistake.

Lieut. Garlington's statement concerning the mistake of the Captain of the Proteus, who was ordered to land on Littleton Island, was a very interesting one. He said that he thought Lieut. Greely's charges were unfounded, and that he was sure he did not make any mistake.

Lieut. Garlington's statement concerning the mistake of the Captain of the Proteus, who was ordered to land on Littleton Island, was a very interesting one. He said that he thought Lieut. Greely's charges were unfounded, and that he was sure he did not make any mistake.

Lieut. Garlington's statement concerning the mistake of the Captain of the Proteus, who was ordered to land on Littleton Island, was a very interesting one. He said that he thought Lieut. Greely's charges were unfounded, and that he was sure he did not make any mistake.

Lieut. Garlington's statement concerning the mistake of the Captain of the Proteus, who was ordered to land on Littleton Island, was a very interesting one. He said that he thought Lieut. Greely's charges were unfounded, and that he was sure he did not make any mistake.

Lieut. Garlington's statement concerning the mistake of the Captain of the Proteus, who was ordered to land on Littleton Island, was a very interesting one. He said that he thought Lieut. Greely's charges were unfounded, and that he was sure he did not make any mistake.

Lieut. Garlington's statement concerning the mistake of the Captain of the Proteus, who was ordered to land on Littleton Island, was a very interesting one. He said that he thought Lieut. Greely's charges were unfounded, and that he was sure he did not make any mistake.

Lieut. Garlington's statement concerning the mistake of the Captain of the Proteus, who was ordered to land on Littleton Island, was a very interesting one. He said that he thought Lieut. Greely's charges were unfounded, and that he was sure he did not make any mistake.

MURDERED BY ONE BLOW

A BRIEF STRUGGLE IN A GREENWICH STREET CELLAR.

Longing Refused to a Stranger, Who Answered with a Knife Throat—A Man in a Moment Was Dead.

A man known as Henry, who was a porter and man of all work in Joseph Block & Co.'s employment, was murdered at 8 o'clock last night by a man who escaped arrest. Henry came to this country from Scotland about five years ago, and worked on a farm. Four months ago he got a job in the employ of Joseph Block & Co.

A man known as Henry, who was a porter and man of all work in Joseph Block & Co.'s employment, was murdered at 8 o'clock last night by a man who escaped arrest. Henry came to this country from Scotland about five years ago, and worked on a farm. Four months ago he got a job in the employ of Joseph Block & Co.

A man known as Henry, who was a porter and man of all work in Joseph Block & Co.'s employment, was murdered at 8 o'clock last night by a man who escaped arrest. Henry came to this country from Scotland about five years ago, and worked on a farm. Four months ago he got a job in the employ of Joseph Block & Co.

A man known as Henry, who was a porter and man of all work in Joseph Block & Co.'s employment, was murdered at 8 o'clock last night by a man who escaped arrest. Henry came to this country from Scotland about five years ago, and worked on a farm. Four months ago he got a job in the employ of Joseph Block & Co.

A man known as Henry, who was a porter and man of all work in Joseph Block & Co.'s employment, was murdered at 8 o'clock last night by a man who escaped arrest. Henry came to this country from Scotland about five years ago, and worked on a farm. Four months ago he got a job in the employ of Joseph Block & Co.

A man known as Henry, who was a porter and man of all work in Joseph Block & Co.'s employment, was murdered at 8 o'clock last night by a man who escaped arrest. Henry came to this country from Scotland about five years ago, and worked on a farm. Four months ago he got a job in the employ of Joseph Block & Co.

A man known as Henry, who was a porter and man of all work in Joseph Block & Co.'s employment, was murdered at 8 o'clock last night by a man who escaped arrest. Henry came to this country from Scotland about five years ago, and worked on a farm. Four months ago he got a job in the employ of Joseph Block & Co.

A man known as Henry, who was a porter and man of all work in Joseph Block & Co.'s employment, was murdered at 8 o'clock last night by a man who escaped arrest. Henry came to this country from Scotland about five years ago, and worked on a farm. Four months ago he got a job in the employ of Joseph Block & Co.

A man known as Henry, who was a porter and man of all work in Joseph Block & Co.'s employment, was murdered at 8 o'clock last night by a man who escaped arrest. Henry came to this country from Scotland about five years ago, and worked on a farm. Four months ago he got a job in the employ of Joseph Block & Co.

A man known as Henry, who was a porter and man of all work in Joseph Block & Co.'s employment, was murdered at 8 o'clock last night by a man who escaped arrest. Henry came to this country from Scotland about five years ago, and worked on a farm. Four months ago he got a job in the employ of Joseph Block & Co.